International Adventist Musicians Association Records (Collection 361)

Scope and Content

The International Adventist Musicians Association (IAMA) began in 19843 and ceased active operation in 2019. Dan Shultz from Walla Walla University was the driving force behind the association for most of its later years. The purpose of IAMA was as

- a forum where music-related issues and ideas can be discussed and presented,
- a source for news about what is happening in music in the Seventh-day Adventist church, and
- a reference for information about music and musicians in the Seventh-day Adventist church.

All who were interested in music in the Adventist church were invited to join. Members received two issues of IAMA's online newsletter, Notes. Additionally, IAMA provided a listing service for music positions, an IAMA Hotline, and a website. They had members in 17 countries. One major accomplishment was a fourteen-year project creating biographical listings at the IAMA website (www.iamaonline.com) of over 1,100 musicians associated with the SDA church. They also published the Seventh-day Adventist Musicians Biographical Dictionary in 2014.

Perhaps the most enduring contribution of IAMA is their periodical called, Notes, or, IAMA Online Notes. The periodical carried musical news, open music-related positions, and articles documenting the musical program at most Adventist colleges and universities in North America as well as some secondary schools and some international schools as information became available, and biographies of musicians.

In 2019, Dan Shultz determined he could not continue supporting IAMA on his own. When attempts to find someone willing to take it over failed, he terminated the association according to the constitution, and transferred the Association's records to the Andrews University Center for Adventist Research.

This collection constitutes the IAMA records as they existed in 2019 at dissolution of the organization. After dissolution, the IAMA website remains, but is probably not being updated.

The bulk of the collection are biographical files on Adventist musicians and extensive documentation and histories of the music program at Adventist schools. These two series are open to any accredited researcher. There is a small series of official papers from the Association.

Arrangement

The arrangement can readily be seen in the Table of Contents. While the Center for Adventist Research imposed the detailed final arrangement, the papers, as received, generally followed the current arrangement.

Provenance

Dan Shultz donated this collection under provisions of the dissolution clause of the IAMA constitution. The records came to the Center for Adventist Research at Andrews University in October 2019.

Extent

10 records center size boxes [15 linear feet]

Use

All users of this collection will complete the Application to Use Unpublished Records, and observe the regulation specified in the Patron's Agreement and Researcher's Code of Conduct. All records in this collection are open and available for research, except for the small group of Association official papers that are open upon permission from Dan Shultz. If Mr. Shultz is not available to extend permission, the administration of the Center for Adventist Research will evaluate the purpose for access, the one making the request, and will grant or deny access. III. Adventist Musicians Biographical Resource Research

The following is Dan Shultz's research materials for Adventist Musicians Biographical Resource originally filed in four drawers of a standard-sized file cabinet. There were over 400 interviews and conversations during the preparation of the book. There are 19 cassette tapes (at the end of this collection) which include interviews and conversations Shultz had with 33 of those persons. Shultz found that many persons were more willing to talk if the phone call was not being recorded.

Once the first draft of a biography was written, Shultz shared it with the person or his/her family. Copies of their responses are included as well as over 150 IAMA Biographical Information Sheets that were sent to Shultz. Those are included in the file for each person.

Each person's file includes a copy of the original and subsequent updated versions of the biographies, including those that were updated following publication of the book as well as the 240+ that were revised and forwarded for the Encyclopedia of Seventh-day Adventists project in 2017-2019.
