The Madisonian

Vol. 1, No. 5

Madison College, Tennessee

February 5, 1953

Freshman Capping Held January 25

The capping ceremony of Madison School of Nursing held in Helen Funk Assembly Hall, Sunday evening, January 25, was once again not just a symbol of the finish of the probation period and the beginning of a long, rigorous training period to those who took part, but to the passive spectator, a shining, inspirational, and unforgettable spectacle of ideals becoming tangible and dreams being made real.

The ceremony started with the processional of the freshmen, filing down the aisle, holding high their symbolic lamps and tiny candles to the strains of Mendelssohn's "War March of the Priests." They were preceded by the senior nurses, who marched to the front of the auditorium where they were seated in anticipation of their part on the program, that of the placing of the caps. Bobbie Gohl, Ramona Mitzelfelt, and Harry Mayden formed a trio which sang "Follow All The Way," after which Dean William Sandborn offered the invocation.

In the absence of Dr. J. C. Gant, the welcome was given by Mrs. Warren Oakes, Director of Nursing. Mrs. Oakes expressed the thought that the nurses "should be filled with all the virtues of good nurses, virtues which they can possess if they but walk with God."

Freshman class members Dorothy Aldrich, Betty Jo Allred, Tina Benson, Elsie Brown, Alex Brown, Evelyn Byrd, Mary Jo Carney, Nancy Jane Carney, Muriel Durham, Mary Ellen Eaves, Faye Egger, Mary Eads Gammon, Jessie Mae Gray, Joann Harvey, Florence Hughes, James Kaiser, Clara Lasseter, Thelma Muirhead, Gad Noble, Rose Norris, Ruben Perales, Opal Lawry Vega, and Pauline Williams then marched onto the platform in twos, where they kneeled to receive their caps, with the exception of the men, who remained standing to receive their insignia.

The beautiful and most impressive part of the ceremony then proceeded with the candle lighting and the repeating of the Nightingale Pledge by the freshmen. The consecration prayer, which was offered by Elder Felix Lorenz, concluded with

"God of light, look down tonight we pray, And bless each nurse as she goes on her way.

Help her to be willing, glad to do her part,

A Lighted Candle shining in her heart."

Front Row: Thelma Muirhead, Pauline Williams, Nancy Jane Carney, Faye Egger, Rose Norris, Florence Hughes, Mary Eads Gammon. Back Row: James Kaiser, Clara Lasseter, Opal Vega, Mary Jo Carney, Elsie Brown, Alex Brown, Evelyn Byrd, Dorothy Aldrich, Gad Noble, Muriel Durham, Tina Benson, Betty Jo Allred, Mary Ellen Eaves, Jessie Mae Gray, Ruben Perales. Center: Geraldine Dickman, R.N., Joann Harvey, in absentia.

An octette chosen from the freshman class sang the first verse of the consecration song, "Saviour Like A Shepherd Leads Us," followed by consecutive verses by soloist Rose Norris and the entire freshman class.

President Jasperson offered the benediction, after which the class then left the platform for the recessional, marching between rows of senior nurses, and out of the auditorium, thus having completed the first step in their chosen careers of angels of mercy.

A. T. S. Has First Meeting of New Year

The Madison College Chapter of the American Temperance Society held its first meeting of the new year on January 17 in the Helen Funk Assembly Hall.

President A. H. Face was in charge of the meeting, at which time Edgar Byrd was elected vice-president, and Pat Justus was elected secretary.

All interested in the work this club is carrying on are invited to attend the meetings on Sabbath afternoon at 3100er p.m.

Dr. Joers to Have Spring Week of Prayer

At a recent meeting of the Religious Life and Public Services Committee, plans were made to have Dr. Lawrence C. Joers, a Lieutenant-Commander in the Navy during the war and author of the book, God Is My Captain, as the Spring Week of Prayer speaker. The school looks forward with eager anticipation to an interesting and profitable week.

The Religious Life Committee is composed of faculty members, students, and the church pastor. It plans and directs the several religious activities and interests of the school, including chapel periods and Friday evening vespers.

Seminar Officers Chosen

Officers for the Seminar for the latter half of this school year were elected Friday evening, January 23, at the regular meeting. They are Gene Carris, president, Cad Nobles sixe president; Hilda Schneider, secretary; Ruby Sykes, publicity secretary; and Andrew Rimmer, treasurer.

The speaker last Friday evening was Clarence Quarnstrom. This coming Friday the speaker will be Whitcomb Zollinger.

(Continued on page 4)

Nurses Receive White Bibles at M.V.

Two representatives from the Gideon Society, were the main speakers at the Young People's Missionary Volunteer meeting January 24. They told of their work as Gideons and during the program presented each freshman, junior, and senior nurse with a white Bible. The practical nurses received Bibles bound in blue.

In closing, a short scene featuring Hazel Fast as the nurse was presented to show how the nurses would use their Bibles in reading to the patients.

The Gideon Society is an organization which supplies Bibles, free of charge, to the rooms in hotels and hospitals of the United States. The representatives stated that they had just finished presenting white Bibles to the student nurses in all the Nashville hospitals.

The Madisonian Staff

EDITOR ...... Dalline Colvin
ASSOCIATE EDITORS .... Roberta Null
Dorothy Aldrich

BUSINESS MANAGER Harry Mayden CIRCULATION MANAGER

Christian Milligan

EDITORIAL ADVISER

Elizabeth Cowdrick

PHOTOGRAPHER ....... Alvin Wolfe COLUMNISTS ...... Aquila Patterson, Mary Ellen Eaves, Chris Milligan, Edna Thornton

REPORTERS ............ Nayade Cabrera, Laura Taylor, Dale Kendall, Wilma Gill, Beulah Garrard

TYPISTS .... Ruby Sykes, Wanda Thomas

Published bi-weekly by the Associated Students of Madison College, Madison College, Tennessee.

The Editor's Pen

The day of hearts is approaching. Have you chosen one special Valentine, or do you plan to join the ranks of those who celebrate February 14 by burdening poor post-office letter-carriers with love missives?

Surely the good Bishop Valentine, whose death in the third century was a most cruel one—he was first beaten with heavy clubs and then beheaded—had certainly no pretensions of being commemorated thus in connection with Dan Cupid's wild pranks with the hearts of young people.

The custom of choosing valentines on the day of St. Valentine's death is quite ancient, going back even before the time of Henry IV of France, whose daughter built a palace which she called "The Valentine." At the first party she gave, she ordered that the ladies should receive their lovers for the year by lots, she herself having the privilege of choosing her own partner. At the various balls she gave, each lady was to receive a nosegay from her lover, and in return was to provide the knight's trappings for his horse at the tournaments, with the proviso that the prize would be hers. Because of this custom, the parties came to be called Valentines.

We learn from Pepys' Diary of the 1660's, that it was customary for the gentleman to give silk stockings, or jewels, or several pairs of gloves to his two valentines, he having chosen one lady, and another lady having chosen him. He complains that it "cost him some money."

One writer seems to think that "ere long specimens of those dainty missives [Valentines] will be found only in the cabinets of antiquaries." We hope not.

Popularity is a crime from the moment it is sought; it is only a virtue where men have it whether they will or no.

-SIR GEORGE SEVILE.

Speech was given to the ordinary soul of men whereby to communicate their mind; but to wise men, whereby to conceal it.

-Robert South.

College News Notes

Mrs. Shirley Lundy spent a recent week-end with her husband, Elmo, at Shreveport, Louisiana. She reports that Elmo will soon be transferred to Ft. Bragg, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Muirhead and son, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Allison and family, all relatives of Thelma Muirhead, were visitors on the campus for the recent freshman capping exercises.

According to Mr. Earl Barham, head of Madison College apiaries, the 1952 honey crop is moving to market at the rate of about one hundred cases a month, and at the present rate, will be gone long before the new crop is harvested. Believe it or not, the bees were bringing in honey last week, from real flowers.

Delbert Lawry, a former student, is now serving in the Engineer Corps of the U. S. Army at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri

Mrs. E. O. Eastham, from Poplar Bluff, Missouri, spent the two weeks from January 17 to January 31 with her daughters, Mrs. Norman E. Delaney and Mrs. Paul Lucas, both prenursing students here.

Students taking elementary teacher training are now observing in grades three, four, five, and six, preparatory to participating in teaching. The generous cooperation of the regular teacher, Mrs. Leon Gray, is much appreciated by these student teachers, who feel their breath tighten as they enter the school room, glad indeed for this preliminary introduction to teaching.

Williams Hall continues to be renovated. The dean's parlor and bedroom have been redecorated and painted in very attractive shades of green.

very attractive shades of green.

Prayer band leaders at Williams Hall are Ruby Sykes, Jo Garrard, Fern Ramesbotham, Pat Justus, Joyce Christensen, Ruby Alder, Roberta Null, Garnett Cooper, Wanda Thomas, Ramona Kinsey, and Nellie Green.

Ramona Kinsey, and Nellie Green.
Elder C. A. Boykin and Mrs.
Charlotte Mathis, from Paducah, Kentucky, visited Mrs. Grow, January 28-29.

Laura and Sonia Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Taylor, from Las Cruces, New Mexico, were recent visitors on the campus. Everyone will miss Sonia, who returned with them because of illness.

With the new year the Pre-nursing Club has taken on new life. The pre-nurses meet each second and fourth Thursday night of the month. On other Thursdays they go to the gym for basketball. At the last meeting they elected the following officers: Lorine Lucas, president; Wanda Thomas, vice-president; Hilda Schneider, secretary-treasurer; and Virginia Lewis, parliamentarian.

The Engineering Department has killed three birds with one stone. The moving of the woodworking shop to the basement of the Demonstration Building has left the old shop available for a plumbing shop. This move in turn has made room for the sanitarium kitchen's storeroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Karnatz are the proud parents of a boy, Robert Eugene, born January 27, 11:30 p.m., nine pounds, ten ounces.

will be going to Vanderbilt University the first of February, to begin her affiliation there. Mr. Walter Schultz is back at his own hospital in Sandwich, Illi-

Readers will be interested to know that this School of Anesthesia in Madison College is the only one of its kind in the United States. It is the only school where S. D. A. nurses may come and receive their Sabbath privileges and work under a Christian atmosphere. Within the past few days, the school has been able to make arrangements for the National Examination to be given here in Nashville. This is a special examination given on Friday for S. D. A. students. All others, all over the U. S., take the examination on Sabbath

Coming Events

The Music Department will present the college orchestra under the direction of Professor Harold E. Mitzelfelt on February 7 at 8 P.M. Among the numbers to be performed are Schubert's "Ave Maria"; Strauss's "Tales from Vienna Woods"; "The Elephant and the Fly", a piccolo and bassoon duet accompanied by the orchestra. For further information about this program, see Edna Thornton's column, "Blue Notes."

A week later, on February 14, the college senior class will show the film, "Pastor Hall." This film depicts the life of a minister in Germany during the Nazi regime. This is a benefit programmus Research

Blue Notes

Edna Thornton

The Madison College orchestra, although small, is an enthusiastic group of musicians. The orchestra will be featured in a program of classical music on Saturday evening, February 7. A number of musicians from Nashville have graciously accepted an invitation to swell the ranks of the small organization for the evening's performance. Don't miss it. We know you will hie it.

New faces appearing in the rousic department are the Sisson brothers, Donald and Johnny, taking saxap none and clarinet lessons; Johnny Guier and Timmy Johnson, cornet; and Pat Justus and Velma Midghall, accordion.

Two of our piano accompanists are branching out in the field of stringed instruments. They are Dalline Colvin and Joyce Christensen, who are now studying cello. Both girls are doing well.

The "Musical Mitzelfelts" were featured at a recent chapel service in a program which they later presented at a Rotary Club meeting in Nashville. Mr. William Patterson, head of the Public Relations Department, was in charge of the presentation, which is all a part of a plan to raise money among Nashville businessmen for a building program to be inaugurated here at Madison. Future musical programs using student talent are being planned for the various club meetings.

Elder Felix Lorenz brought in his entry for the school song-writing contest the other day. You'll soon be hearing the two entries received to date.

Musical instruments for Dr. Webber to take with him to Japan are collecting in the department. Violins are in the majority so far, Andrew Rimmer having brought in two recently. Sabbath school members, don't forget that you can have a part in this project by giving either an instrument or money to help buy one or more.

Laundry Does Thriving Business

Doing between $50,000 and $60,000 worth of business a year, the Madison College laundry, under the supervision of Mr. Miles R. Coon and his associates, Roy Hudson and Mrs. Rachel Quevedo, efficiently bears its share of the work connected with a self-supporting institution.

The thirteen students employed in the laundry, who are earning the major portion of their school expenses, are Verle Allen, mangle supervisor; her associates Marilyn Campbell, Sylvia Larsen, Perly Morales, Ann Noble, Jeannie Prindle, and Wilma Snider; Maria Alfonso, presser; Beverly Britton, clothing marker; Betty Concepcion, clothing repairs; Fern Ramesbotham, ironer; and Hilda Schneider, cashier.

A typical day's wash consists of the following number of articles: 760 bath and hand towels, 350 sheets, 288 wash-cloths, 177 pillow cases, 152 bed-spreads, and 150 patient gowns.

This represents laundry from both the sanitarium and college.

New Class Begins in Anesthesia

The School of Anesthesia began a new class this quarter with six new students. One of them became a casualty within the first two weeks, but there are still five here: Miss Gen Arellano, from Glendale Sanitarium; Mr. Donald Milburn, from Behrens Memorial Hospital in Glendale, California; Mr. Howard Porter, from Leland Memorial Hospital, Riverdale, Maryland; Mr. Larry Cheevers, who is one of Madison's own graduates; and Mrs. Ruth Carreno, from South America. Mrs. Carreno is the wife of Dr. Teofanes Carreno, who is a resident physician here.

All of the students are busy from early morning until late at night; some of them are busy all night long putting folks to sleep, waking them up, trying to keep them asleep, trying to learn to do intubations, learning to do spinals, putting dogs to sleep, and many other things that go with learning to be a good nurse anesthetist.

Of the older students, Miss Johanna Stouggard is still here. She will finish her training within the next few days, and will remain during the next two quarters as an assistant to Mr. Bowen. Mr. Blair Seifert is in Aurora, Illinois, and will finish his training the first of February. Miss Margy Wolfer is still at Nashville General Hospital. Mr. Robert Jansen will be going to the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital the first of February, and Mrs. Phyllis Riggenbach

Mansion Quips Christian Milligan

What better way to celebrate getting an Army deferment than to go on a vacation, and what better place to go for a vacation than to the Sanitarium? This reporter, after having been ill with a terrible disease known as an "upper respiratory infection, centering in the lungs, larynx, and sinuses," com-monly called a cold, feels sufficiently recovered to make a go at writing.

When Bully Campbell was asked how it felt to be deposed from his job as assistant dean, he replied nobly and gallantly, "I'm not talking on the grounds that it might incriminate me." Actually, Bully resigned so that he could devote more time to the X-ray course he is taking.

While yours truly was in the hospital, he acquired a new roommate. This roommate, feeling dissatisfied with the condition of the room, decided to paint it and make other repairs he deemed necessary. Much to our chagrin, however, he painted two of our white shirts along with the rest of the room. Explained Don, "White is such a dull color, and these gray spots make the shirts look so, uh, well, spotty!"

By the time you read this, we hope that this siege of flu will be over. Among Wasiotans who have been ill and in the sanitarium are Ernest Plata, Carlos Reyes, and Emmanuel Cabrera, to mention only a few.

San News Notes

Mrs. William Patterson was a sanitarium guest recently. She had her tonsils removed.

Miss Student Nurse, Martha Higgins, may not be "Miss" Student Nurse much longer!

All were glad to see the Cincinnati girls, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Orso, Mrs. Hill, and Mrs. Slater home for the week end. They say they stay homesick most of the time.

New students of anesthesia are Larry Cheever, Donald Milburn, and Howard Capping exercises brought many guests to the campus. Former M. C. students observed by your reporter were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Parker, Cecil Knott, and Carl Upton.

Mrs. Lois Cheever has been elected president of the Madison Nursing Alumni Association for the year 1953.

Our Heritage

Those who have, or have had, the privilege of attending school at Madison-and it is a privilege-become sharers in a "heritage" which involves more than meets the casual observation. As we give serious consideration to this heritage of ours, we feel that the following items merit thoughtful attention. We mention only a few.

First: This institution was established as a result of instruction of the Servant of the Lord, and under her direct supervision.

Second: It was established to train Christian teachers and workers who would go out in the spirit of the pioneers and establish similar schools, not only in the surrounding needy fields, but in many foreign countries as

Third: This institution was to be a demonstration project which was to reveal the success which will attend the consistent, combined efforts along medical, educational, agricultural, industrial, and evangelical lines.

Fourth: It was to be a marvel of selfsustenance as well as self-support.

Fifth: Above all, this institution was to emphasize, by precept and example, the necessity and dignity of useful

We might go on at length, but these items will serve to illustrate the grand heritage which comes as a sacred legacy to every student who is privileged to attend Madison.

The heritage is there for those who will dare and do-who will learn and work and pray. Shall we not determine to lay hold of our heritage and look hopefully to the future?

-W. R. ZOLLINGER.

Starch and Stripes

Mary Ellen Eaves

Deadlines are deadlines and must be met, so you'll get only the very briefest jottings.

It's on rare occasions that you find nurses sick in the hospital. When they do get in, however, they are quite difficult to take care of. Muriel Durham, for instance, kept her nurse running all the time.

After the capping exercises last Sunday, several of us freshman nurses pulled off our so-called dignity and had a party. Mrs. Hudson was our

It seems that Betty Clark is having a hard time growing up. She likes to take her play toys with her to the hos-

We were all glad that "Little Joe Lampe" came down from Illinois to see us. Elmer Fast was also a recent

The deadline is here so out we go wishing you girls a five-pound box of candy for Valentine's Day.

The Cumberland Echoes

. . . with the yells of the battle between the Braves and Squaws! May its end be as enthusiastic as its beginning on Tuesday, February 3, in chapel.

As campaign leader of the Squaws, Wanda Thomas gave a rousing speech directed to activate the fairer sex, but John Capitumini was not to be outdone as he declared that victory for the Brayes was in the bag. It will be interesting to watch the subs being chalked up on the various goal charts about the campus!

A steady stream of students found their way to the photography room in the science building last week where a photographic record was taken of their individual countenances. Found their way? We might better say of some that they were encouraged, entreated, or dragged! Really, though the coopera for Maventist Research. State .... State tion of the students was appreciated.

A very interesting snapshot section is being anticipated for the 1953 Cumberland Echoes. The snapshot box is located in the cafeteria, longing for an influx of pictures in the next few days. Are we going to let it down?

-JOHNNY READ.

Delta News Eta

Aquila Patterson

The soothing strains of beautiful music float softly out over the night when suddenly-FLASH!!-and the boys' reception to be given February 15 was announced. Music resumes amid thunderous applause.

Our dreams are coming true! The Williams Hall halls are being painted, and isn't it wonderful?

As we lie here dreaming about the February 15 reception, we are worrying about how we're going to get our promised subs for the Madisonian. Oh, well, one more charge on the statement won't mean too much, we hope! And now the Squaws are wanting subs here we go again! . . . Dear so-and-

One of our girls, Sonia Taylor, is leaving us. Sorry to see you go, Sonia, but bon voyage! and come back soon.

Dr. Webber took three of our lambs up to Altamont Sabbath, January 31. Sue and Jo Bragg went to provide the special music and yours truly accompanied them.

Here's hoping we don't gain too much on our Valentine candy to get into our formals the following evening.

News From The "Cold" Front

An unseen enemy recently invaded the Madison College campus, seriously impending the progress of work and study assignments and leaving many casualties among the student body, faculty, and workers. Many of the stricken ones were consigned to the hospital to recuperate from such wounds as runny noses, sore throats, aching bodies, and fevered brows.

A few students, not having Blue Cross and armed only with cough drops, nose drops, aspirin tablets, Kleenex, and cold tablets, carried on a valiant but losing battle with the invisible foe, in their rooms. Sad to say, some after having been smitten, unwittingly aided the enemy by continu-ing to mingle with their fellow-students and workers. Although there were no signs of panic, the students were uneasy, not knowing when the foe's fatal thrust would pierce their own tender mucous membranes, and they would fall helpless victims of the unseen

At first the invasion went almost unnoticed, but when more and more members of the community were afflicted, it became apparent that something must be done. A defense committee was organized which planned several strategic moves designed to drive the enemy back. These plans included the serving of pure fruit drinks and Vitamin C tablets instead of desserts in the cafeteria, the selling of no sweets such as candy, cakes, and ice cream to students, and the ruling that 9:00 P.M. was to be bedtime for all students for the duration of the emergency.

The enemy??? We almost forgot to say. It was that microscopic little fiend, the "flu" bug!!!

Madison Family Loses Friend

Shortly after sunset Sabbath, January 31, Miss Edna E. Larkin, aged forty-three, beloved friend of the workers and patients alike, passed peacefully to her rest after a sudden illness of just a few hours. Although engaged in part time work, and having made the campus her home for only a year and a half, she had in that short time endeared herself to all of the faculty, workers, and students who knew her. This she achieved by manifesting a spirit of joyful helpfulness and sisterly kindness, and giving unstintingly of her time and energies to make the burdens of others lighter.

Her last act, on the last day of her life, and one in which she engaged regularly, was escorting the patients from the various wards and rooms of the hospital to the Sabbath and evening services. It was here, too, where she faithfully gave of her talents as pianist-musician.

Miss Larkin had not officially accepted the message of the Third Angel, but she was living it the best she knew -by ministering to the sick in her own way, as Jesus had done. Her efficient work as secretary to one of the sanitar um officials is characterized by the following verse from the pen of one of her co-workers.

So faithful and true with a heart of love Filled with the spirit of God above; Bringing peace and joy to all within reach,

By each loving act a sermon preach; Faithful in work beyond duty's call, Light'ning the burdens for one and all. Her work is done; God laid her away To await the glad resurrection day When Jesus will call His Faithful Home,

And Edna will answer, "Yes, Lord, I come."

-M. E. KILLION.

PLEASE ENTER MY SUBSCRIPTION TO:

THE MADISONIAN for one year. Enclosed is $1.00.

Name .....

Street or P. O. Box .....

Hi-School Hi-Lites

EDITOR Maurice Culpepper
ASSOCIATE EDITOR Gwen Guier
ART EDITOR Bee Garrard
REPORTERS Vern Manzano, Jo Ann
Gibbons, Donald Blewett, Alma Morris
SPONSOR Mrs. Sandborn
TYPISTS Carole Cant.ell, Patsy Wilson

EDITORIAL

"If a man does only what is required of him, he is a slave. The moment he does more, he is a free man."—Selected

Have you ever noticed that the individual who is doing more than is required of him is the happiest, the most contented, and is contributing the most to society?

Take inventory of individual number one—you. Do you do only what is required of you? Must you be constantly reminded to do it? Are you afraid of doing more than you are being paid for? If the answer to these questions is YES, then you are a slave!

We must go the second mile even in our work. If Christ had restricted His work to what was required, dear reader, we would be without a Saviour today.

Letters to The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

Something that has long distressed me is the constant snapping of fingernail clips during chapel exercises and other meetings.

other meetings.

It is very disconcerting and sometimes rather surprising to be hit on the head by a flying fingernail shot from someone's "Colt 45" automatic fingernail clip.

To condemn the use of these handy and dandy little labor-saving gadgets would be unreasonable. However, as cultured young Christians we should act like ladies and gentlemen in meetings, realizing that there is a time and place for everything, even grooming fingernails.

-Barbara Houseman.

DEAR EDITOR:

I want to express my appreciation for the Madisonian. The news items about Williams Hall and Wasiota Hall residents are most interesting and at times very enlightening. Also, I always enjoy reading of the happenings at Gotzian. It seems that our dear nurses are not quite so stiff and stuffy out of uniform as when in them.

Thank you and your associates for the excellent paper you have been giving us.

-BILL GRAVES.

Seniors Show Benefit Film, "The Young Mr. Lincoln"

The academy Senior Class presented a benefit film entitled "The Young Mr. Lincoln," on Saturday evening, January 31.

The film pictured Abe as a young man studying law, and then, after Ann Rutledge's death, making his decision to become a lawyer. Finally, Abe was shown during his first case, which was victorious.

sweaters, ushered the people to their The senior girls, wearing their class seats. Before the film was shown, Mr. Wilson explained that the proceeds of the program would be used for the gave the seniors a hand.

There were two showings so that Senior Class. At this, the audience everyone was able to attend. The seat prize, a box of candy, was given to Pat Justus, who sat in the "lucky" seat.

DEAR EDITOR

I believe our school spirit is rising. The ones who are behind the swimming pool program should be commended for the splendid work they are doing and encouraging others to do. When we as students pitch in to help on a project like this, we have a feeling that the project belongs to us. In turn, we will do our best to keep it in tip-top shape and will also encourage others to do the same.

-BILL COOK.

Milk Plant Processes 1920 Glassfuls Daily

The most up-to-date equipment and methods of handling are responsible for the high quality of Grade A milk distributed by the Madison College milk plant. Here, every day, approximately 120 gallons of milk are double-strained, pasteurized, cooled, and distributed to the college cafeteria, college store, and the sanitarium kitchen by Bill Cook, a college student. The store serves as an outlet to the campus workers and other patrons of the store.

Mr. V. L. Brady manages the milk plant, assisted by Ronald Schmale, who operates the bottle-washing machine, and Laura Mae Egger, who is in charge of both the milk and fruit juice bottling machines.

Jo Garrard

Maurice Culpepper

Senior Sketches DON BLEWETT

Donald Blewett, senior class president, came to Madison College last September. Those of you who know Donald are well aware of the fact that he is from Texas.

He was born November 14, 1934, in Granite, Oklahoma, and moved to Jefferson, Texas, in 1944. He attended Pine Forest Academy at Chunky, Mississippi, two years before coming to Madison.

Besides being class president, he is a reporter for the Madisonian and serves on the Student Teacher Council and the Government Committee. Donald has always been active in the various missionary activities, such as Ingathering, singing bands, and literature bands.

His favorite hobby is handling a gun of any size, shape, or description. He also enjoys reading, making model airplanes, and eating (before and after meals).

At present, Donald is working in the press, but his ambition is to be a laboratory and X-ray technician. Regardless of what he will do or be, you can count on a cheery smile and a friendly hello almost anytime.

IO GARRARD

Jo Garrard was born August 10, 1933, in the far western state of New Mexico, to proud parents Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Garrard. She is the oldest of five children.

During her grade school years, she went both to public and church school. Her first year of academy was spent at Arizona Academy. Later she attended Sandia View Academy in New Mexico, after which she came to Madison, where she has been a student at Madison College Academy the past two years.

Jo has spent some time working at the sanitarium, but is now working for Mr. Layton at the college store.

Jo is academy representative for the Future Teachers of America, and secretary of the senior class. Her ambition is to become a teacher, and her hobbies are swimming, art, and hiking. Her pet peeve is hillbilly music. She hails from Las Cruces, New Mexico.

MAURICE CULPEPPER

The most important event in 1934 (this has not been confirmed by the gallup poll) was the birth of our class pastor, Maurice Culpepper. He was born April 18 in Union Grove, Alabama, to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Culpepper.

After living several years in Thomasville, Georgia, the Culpeppers moved to Madison College, bringing little Maurice with them. He has an older brother, James, and two younger sisters, Ela ne and Rebecca.

Maurice is very active in sports and his hobby is working on or with radios. Unofficially, his other hobby is walking. Aside from the usual minor distractions of life, his interest lies in the field of business.

At present, he is president of the Wasiota Club, editor of Hi-School Hi-Lites, and serves on the Government Committee and Student Teacher Council. He is also one of our faithful switchboard operators, and if he looks sleepy in church, it's because he worked Friday night from 7:00 p.m. until 7:00

SEMINAR OFFICERS

(Continued from page 1)

The entire personnel changes every week, even the pianist and song leader, so that as many persons as possible may have the practice and experience. Only the inevitable critic at the close of each meeting—Elder Lorenz—remains the same.

McClures' Stores, Inc.

MADISON, TENN.

Phones 7-3716-7-3662

Outfitters for the Home

Eller Bros.

Electrical Appliances
& Supplies
Plumbing & Heating

Phone 7-3357 MADISON, TENN.

Digitized by the Center

Lovely's Pharmacy

"Next to your doctor-

Your druggist"

Tel. 7-3132 MADISON, TENN.