

The Madisonian

June 29, 1953

Madison College, Tennessee

Vol. 1, No. 14

Photo by Gene

LEFT TO RIGHT: Dr. Sutherland, Ali Kavlak, Cleo Boyer, Hideo Hamano, Eugene Allen, Mrs. Jeanette Segó, Marinell Burrill, Pat Justus, Mrs. Olga Lorenz, Mrs. Edna Thornton, Mrs. Sylvia Mitzelfelt, Charleene Riffel, and Mrs. Doris Thomson. Mrs. Josephine Clark, member of the class, and Mr. Ivan Peacock, class instructor, were not present when the picture was made.

Hydro Students Receive Certificates at Chapel; Dr. Sutherland Addresses Assembly

The first chapel service of the Summer Quarter was held on Wednesday evening, June 17, honoring a class of twelve who had successfully completed a short course in Hydrotherapy conducted during the recent vacation between quarters. This course was taught by Mr. Ivan Peacock, R.P.T., and Mrs. Jeanette Segó, R.N.

Dr. E. A. Sutherland, president-emeritus of Madison College and speaker of the evening, expressed his partiality to the short intensive type of training course, harking back to his early years at Madison when short courses were given four times a year. Turning to the Bible, he pointed to Moses' experience with Eldad and Medad as recorded in Numbers 11. Moses, himself a graduate of perhaps the longest recorded course in education, was able to recognize the value of what Dr. Sutherland was pleased to call "short course people."

Dr. Sutherland termed David's experience with Goliath "one of the best recommendations for the short course work." He opened new vistas of service to the class and to the assembly of students at large as he urged them to put into practice what they had learned, reminding his hearers that the finishing of God's work will be done largely through the humble worker filled with His Spirit, who puts into practice the knowledge he has gained.

President Jaspersen, with Dean Sandborn assisting, presented certificates bearing the Madison College seal to those finishing the course. They were Eugene Allen, Cleo Boyer, Marinell Burrill, Mrs. Josephine Clark, Hideo Hamano, Pat Justus, Ali Kavlak, Mrs. Olga Lorenz, Mrs. Sylvia Mitzelfelt, Charleene Riffel, Mrs. Doris Thomson, and Mrs. Edna Thornton.

Dean Sandborn promised more such courses for the future, tentatively scheduling a short course in Physical Therapy early in September. Short courses in other subjects will be taught if there is sufficient interest manifested, Dean Sandborn stated.

Dean Sandborn Heads New Sertoma Club

Dean William C. Sandborn was recently elected president of the newly organized Hermitage Sertoma Club of Madison. The club, composed of business men in Madison, Inglewood, and Old Hickory, is a civic organization dedicated to "service to mankind" from which phrase it derives its title Sertoma. Others of the Madison family belonging to this club include Mr. Bernard Bowen, Dr. Ernest D. Horsley, and Mr. John Dodd.

Three Student Weddings Solemnized During Between-Quarters Vacation

Coming in the month traditional for brides and weddings, the spring vacation brought with it the opportunity for three Madison couples to consummate their romances in marriage.

In an afternoon ceremony on the lawn of Laurelbrook Academy near Dayton, Tennessee, Miss Florence Hughes became the bride of Mr. Wilbur Reich on Wednesday, June 3. The young couple were united in marriage by Elder Wellman of the Graysville church. Solos were sung by Roland Parker, brother-in-law of the bride, and Miss Aquila Patterson. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Thomas Robinson, Laurelbrook faculty member, and Mrs. Mary Gammon attended the bride as matron of honor.

Guests attending the wedding included the bride's mother from Duluth, Minnesota, Mrs. Hollis Hughes; her sisters, Misses Hesper and Lucille Hughes, also from Duluth; and Mrs. Roland Parker, of Collegedale; the groom's mother, Mrs. A. H. Reich, of Hyattsville, Maryland; and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Zollinger, of Madison College.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Washington, D.C., before returning to the campus to resume their studies.

The Helen Funk Assembly Hall took on the appearance of a lovely trellised garden for the wedding of Miss Mary Leung, of Canton, China, to Mr. Kenneth Su, of Hongkong, China, on Thursday evening, June 4. The Chinese Christian wedding ceremony, with

(Continued on page 4)

Weekly Summer Appointments

MONDAY

Chapel—6:45 P.M.

College Band rehearsal—7:30 P.M.

THURSDAY

Swimming at David Lipscomb pools.

Truck leaves at 6:30 P.M.

Junior Band rehearsal—6:30 P.M.

FRIDAY

Vespers—8:00 P.M.

SABBATH

Sabbath School—9:30 A.M.

Church service—11:00 A.M.

M.V. Meeting—one hour before sundown.

M.C. Board Reports Future Plans

At the recent meeting of the board of directors of Madison College a number of the current problems of the institution were given consideration. Plans for providing additional office space for the medical department were discussed and a committee was appointed to give more detailed study to this problem.

Study was also given to the advisability of arranging for Social Security coverage to institutional workers. The board approved the local executive committee's giving further study to this and arranging for Old Age and Survivor Insurance.

Elder A. L. Ham, chairman of the board, was present. H. S. Hanson, educational secretary of the Southern Union Conference, was also present, as well as Professor Leland Straw from Concord, Tennessee.

The next meeting of the board will be held August 14, reports President Jaspersen.

Summer Quarter Registration Nears 200

Mr. Floyd Byers, registrar, reports that he expects registration for the summer quarter to reach 200. The quarter opened on June 17 with a third of this number registered for at least a 12-hour class load. The remaining registrants are taking a minimum of class work and are working toward the summer bonus, which plan was outlined in detail in a previous issue.

Evangelism Field School Conducts Series

The Southern Missionary College evangelistic group began on Sunday evening, June 14, a ten-week series of evangelistic meetings sponsored by Professor E. C. Banks, head of the Department of Religion at S.M.C. The first service was held, not in the large pavilion tent which had been pitched for that purpose on a lot adjoining the Isaac Litton High School, but instead in the school gymnasium. The change in the place of meeting was the result of a fierce wind and rain storm which raged through Nashville and vicinity a little over twenty-four hours before meeting time, ripping the huge tent to pieces and shattering the front entrance which had been completed only the day before. By

(Continued on page 4)

The Madisonian Staff

EDITOR Edna Thornton
ASSOCIATE EDITORS Roberta Null, Dorothy Aldrich
BUSINESS MANAGER Harry Mayden
CIRCULATION MANAGER Ernest Plata
EDITORIAL ADVISER Elizabeth Cowdrick

COLUMNISTS
Mary Ellen Eaves, Chris Milligan, Lillian Azevedo, Geraldine Dickman

REPORTERS
Nayade Cabrera, Laura Taylor, Dale Kendall, Wilma Gill, Members of the English Composition class.

TYPISTS Ruby Sykes, Wanda Thomas

Published bi-weekly during the fall, winter and spring quarters, and monthly during the summer quarter, by the Associated Students of Madison College, Madison College, Tennessee. Entered as second-class matter February 11, 1953, at the Post Office at Madison College, Tennessee, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, one dollar per year.

The Editor's Pen

And so a new quarter has begun, and perhaps you find yourself attending classes under teachers whose methods and approaches seem blunt and who present teachings hard to accept. Your first feelings are those of resentment, and you look forward to the day that will bring an end to your classes under those teachers. But wait awhile before you pass final judgment; first impressions are not always correct ones. After you get to know people, they seldom seem the same as at that first meeting. So give yourself a chance to see the high motives underlying your teachers' efforts to acquaint you with God's requirements.

Our teachers are laboring under a divine obligation "to prepare every youth . . . to be a blessing to the world." Vol. 5, p. 33. If they seem overzealous it is because "the true motive of service is to be kept before students. . . Every means that will uplift and ennoble them is to be employed. They are to be taught to use their powers in harmony with God's will." C.T., p. 499. "Let them see that the teachers in the school care for their souls, that they have a decided interest in their spiritual welfare." Ibid., p. 501.

Students have a part to play in nurturing the harmonious relationship that should exist among students, and between teachers and students. "Let every student realize that he is in the school to help his fellow students to cooperate with God. . . Students, cooperate with

Proudly We Hail

Geraldine Dickman

Here we are for another chat about our service men.

About two weeks ago Pvt. Joe Adams and his wife Amelia were with us. Joe was on furlough after finishing his basic training at Camp Pickett. He is now on his way to Nome, Alaska. We wish you luck, Joe.

Mrs. George Webster is now in San Antonio, Texas, with her husband. She is working in a hotel, doing the same kind of work she did for Mr. Saphiloff.

We were glad to see Pvt. Paul Blankenship and his wife Deahn recently. They were on their way to Ft. Jackson, South Carolina, where Paul was scheduled to report for reassignment.

Pvt. Elmo Lundy was a welcome guest on our campus not long ago. He came on emergency leave for his wife's recent surgery. Shirley is doing much better without that appendix.

Recently Pvt. Archie Weemes and wife Sue arrived on the campus after a stay at Camp Pickett. Archie is to report to Ft. Lewis, Washington, but Sue will be staying with us for awhile.

Mrs. Rosa Ramos left a week ago for Camp Pickett to stay with her husband till his basic training is up.

Pvts. Jack Hicks and Richard Brenley were visitors on our campus not long ago from Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Pvt. Rex Leatherwood, former Madison student, recently visited the campus. His wife, Betty, who took pre-nursing here, will begin nurses' training in the fall. Rex is stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Those airmail letters from Korea surely look good these days. Pvt. Dickman seems to be doing fine.

Keep those letters going to our boys; they really mean a lot over there.

CHARGE YOUR BATTERY

I have known no man of genius who had not to pay, in some affliction or defeat, for what the gods had given him.

-SIR MAX BEERBOHM.

No human can come into this world without increasing or diminishing the sum total of human happiness.

-ELIHU BURRITT.

Only the soul that knows the mighty grief can know the mighty rapture. Sorrows come to stretch out spaces in the heart for joy.

-EDWIN MARKHAM.

Blue Notes

Edna Thornton

During the vacation between quarters hardly a blue note was heard in the Music Department and for several good reasons. The head of the department, "Prof." Mitzelfelt, spent several of those precious vacation days in a hospital bed recovering from surgery. (He's feeling fine now.) His wife was recruited by yours truly to join the Hydrotherapy class which was offered between quarters. (We both enjoyed the class.) As for John Read he went to Texas for a week and then to the Youth's Congress as a member of the Trumpet Trio. Aquila Patterson headed south to her home in Florida; for how long we don't know, as her plans for the immediate future were rather uncertain when she left. However there is one thing she is planning on for sure—wedding bells are due to ring in August for her and John.

Can you imagine a boy of ten sitting down willingly to practice at the piano? Well, it's happening at our house—you see, there is a sink full of dishes waiting to be washed. At such a time he really misses his sister. Gayle is still visiting Grandma and Grandpa Thornton on their farm in Oklahoma and having a wonderful time, too, according to the letters we receive. She will have many interesting stories to tell about life on the farm when she comes home.

During vacation with many students away and with several choir members attending the Youth's Congress, the choir has been somewhat reduced in size, but is now back almost to its former proportions. The summer choir promises to be a successful one with new members joining the group. Well-

(Continued on page 4)

LEFT: A tree, broken during the storm, finds a resting place against the wall of one of the sanitarium wings.

RIGHT: Mr. William Patterson, public relations director, volunteers his services in clearing away the debris left by the high wind.

Storm Damage Necessitates Minor Building Repairs, Extensive Clean-up

The storm which struck Nashville and vicinity on Sabbath afternoon, June 13, reaching near-tornado proportions, broke down trees, limbs, and power lines, scattering debris over much of the campus. While not damaging the campus buildings to any great extent, it did rip off a third or more of the shingles from the west side of the roof of Gotzian

Home, necessitating the hasty application of a tarpaulin to that portion of the roof thus denuded until more permanent repairs can be made.

For several days after the storm the work of clearing up continued. Mr. Walker and his assistants were obliged to rake the entire Sanitarium grounds and campus lawns, which were strewn with leaves and broken branches. Several trees were so broken that they had to be cut down, their stumps remaining as mute evidence of the violence of the storm.

In the absence of electrical power, which went off at the height of the storm, the Sanitarium was obliged to switch over to the emergency power plant. However, homes in the vicinity were without power for several hours and some for several days.

your teachers. As you do this, you give them hope and courage, and at the same time you are helping yourselves to advance." Ibid., p. 533.

Let us heed the instruction given, letting the spirit of cooperation fill our hearts as we learn from consecrated teachers how to better serve the Master Teacher.

Mansion Quips

Ye olde manse was rather silent during the vacation between quarters, the reason being very obvious—the fellows had vacated! However, there were some who were lucky enough to remain and enjoy the "peace and quietness" which reigned in the absence of Emmanuel Cabrera and Carlos Reyes and their trumpet and violin respectively. Emmanuel is visiting his uncle in Chicago while Carlos is back home in Puerto Rico. (By the way Carlos seems to miss Madison very much according to reports from his sister Nydia.)

This week all the brethren returned from the Youth's Congress. These include Don Fisher, Henry Steinmuss, Ernest Plata, John Read, and possibly one or two others whom we haven't heard about. Harry Mayden almost went, too, but he decided against it at the last moment. Something kept him here, and he patiently awaited the return of his roommate and others.

Bill Graves has been a little more light hearted lately. What's cooking, fella?

Several fellows have moved in on us for the summer quarter—Eugene Watkins from Texas, Earl Mathewson from Florida, and several Collegedale boys who are working with the tent effort in Inglewood. Good luck, fellows.

The fellows have been doing everything but study the last few nights. One night Bill Graves, Harry Mayden, and Alfred Durham came home streaked with sweat and covered with dust from head to toe. What's up, boys?

Gwendyl Brown is enjoying life

Around The Campus

★ A bus load of delegates, returning to the Columbia Union from the Pan-American Youth's Congress, visited the Madison campus last Thursday morning. They were served breakfast in the college dining room.

★ Mr. Earl Barham, the college apiarist teacher, and family returned last week from Lawrenceburg after having drawn 20,000 pounds of honey from the bee colonies. Mr. Barham was recently chosen as state inspector of bees in Tennessee.

★ Two students have begun their training in the clinical laboratory of the sanitarium—Bill Grover and Wendall Ward. The X-ray department reports three new students—Mickey Rabuka, Purvis Orso, and Eugene Watkins.

★ The Madison College garage is gradually taking on the appearance of a modern service station. The new products being distributed are nationally-known Shell products. Plans are being laid to remodel the front of the quaint barn-like structure.

★ Perly Morales, new secretary of the Print Shop, reports that the printing crew is busily engaged in work on the annual.

lately because he knows it won't be long now. Gwen has a new job working for Uncle Sam at $65.00 a month with board and room. Go to it, boy!

They tell me that Bill Cook is back in the groove again. Go to it, fellow.

Say! We fellows who live in the manse want to know how to get enough pull to move upstairs in the Assembly Hall. They tell us Harry Mayden will be moving up there as soon as he can marry off his roommate. This will be the second one for him. Whatsamatter, boy, is that the best you can do?

Bill Graves says it's too hot to "dress up" in lab shirt and white trousers for work, so he has been wearing his Western jeans. They really look sharp.

They tell me Don Blewett will be leaving us soon. Stay with us, brother; you'll never regret it if you survive this heat.

Well, so much for this time. We'll see you all next month when we'll really have something to write about.

Delta News Eta

Roberta Null

Most popular project around Williams Hall nowadays is T.V.A., since it is that authority which fosters our supply of electricity which facilitates the turning of our fan blades, etc.

Radio reports tell us that Amrillo, Texas, is setting heat records. We have reason to believe that Williams Hall, third floor, has been cheated of that title.

Several newcomers have arrived at our hall. They include Laurie Brewer, Beverly Meekins, Jane Throckmorton, and Ingrid Gerling, the latter coming to us all the way from Germany. Also Madeline Rabuka, who has been a student here before, and Darla Wright and Beverly Britton, who heretofore have been village students, are taking up residence in our hall. We welcome these girls.

Also, last but certainly not least, is our new dean, Miss Marjorie Cates. Miss Cates spent the last school year in a teaching position in Georgia. She, too, has been at Madison before and many of the oldsters of the dorm are glad to see her back.

Space will not permit a recounting of all our girls' activities during vacation, but of special interest is a trip taken by LaZerne Weaver and Alva Cadenhead with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Otto, on which they visited several self-supporting units. Their four-day tour took them to Altamont, Wildwood, Collegedale, Little Creek, and Fletcher. They report they had a most interesting tour.

Miss Cadenhead is leaving us soon. We hate to see her leave, but since her destination is Texas, and that "nation" takes good care of its citizens, our minds are relieved of concern. We send our best wishes with Alva.

July Birthdays

- 2 Gwendyl Brown
- 4 Trannie Woodson
- 5 Josephine Boyer
- 10 Gad Noble
- 11 Albert Berger
- 15 Noble Russell
- 17 Opal Vega
- 18 R. V. Santini
- 26 Bettie Clark
- 28 Norabel Burk
- 28 Deloris Fast
- 29 Edgar Byrd

New Students

Gene Allen, Roy Allen, Maurice Culpepper, Mervin Ernst, Shirley Ernst, Ingrid Gerling, Earl Mathewson, Lucile Patterson, Elmon Roy, Pearl Schar, Wendell Ward, Eugene Watkins, John Williams.

Students who were here last year will be interested to know that the former Jeanie Prindle, who is now Mrs. Louis Foreman, is living in Miami, Florida.

Among Youth's Congress attendants from Williams Hall are Joyce Christensen and JoAnn Gibbons. The latter seems to have returned a bit early.

We have a new policy at Williams Hall. It is called the "Heads In-Flies Out Policy" . . . screens on all the windows.

Wilma Snider left Friday, June 26, to attend the wedding of her sister in Tell City, Indiana.

Your substitute reporter will close with a greeting to Lillian Azevedo, your vacationing columnist. Remember, we may question the sun's worth and ever-presence until we remember the thousands who will never see it again or what it can do to a barren maple tree in the spring time.

Starch and Stripes

Mary Ellen Eaves

The nurses' dormitory has been rather quiet the past two weeks with several of the (lucky) nurses gone away for vacation and to the Youth's Congress.

Tina Benson, nursing school delegate, is away attending the National Nurses League convention in Cleveland, Ohio. She was accompanied by Mrs. Doris Thomson, R.N., and the new director of nurses, Mrs. Doris Clapp, R.N.

Two of our senior nurses are moving out of the dormitory soon. We will miss them very much after they leave.

Time has been taken out from our busy program to help usher at the tent meetings on Gallatin Road. All of us have enjoyed giving our time and have gained a blessing from the meetings.

The new air conditioner has really been appreciated by the girls who have been working the 11-7 shift.

We are sorry that Martha Higgins, Nancy Carney, and Frances Sturgis had to spend a few days in the hospital recently.

Another new addition to the dormitory is the new Thor washing machine. It was really needed and we appreciate it very much.

Junior Nurses Fete Seniors At Banquet

The ballroom of Mrs. Brown's Coffee Shop in suburban Nashville was the scene of the annual junior-senior nurses banquet held on May 21 honoring the Senior Nursing Class of 1953.

Seated at tables decorated with trailing ivy, red roses, and candles, the sixty-six persons present were welcomed by Mr. Don Jennings, junior class president. There followed an enjoyable hour in which all were served a delicious dinner consisting of fruit cocktail, tossed spring salad, asparagus casserole, parsleyed potatoes, lima beans, spiced beets, Southern biscuits and butter, milk, and apple pie a la mode.

Mr. Bernard Bowen, who with Mrs. Bowen sponsors the junior class, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening. After-dinner speeches were made by Dale Kendall, senior class president, and Dr. Naomi Pitman, class sponsor. The class will be read by Norabel Burk. Then Henry Aldrich, who was willed Warren Cheevers' ability to sing, gave an impromptu rendition of "Why Don't We Do This More Often?" The mystery voice behind the curtain reading the senior class prophecy proved to belong to Charles Smith. To junior nurses Betty Clark, Velma Midghall, and Keo Weegar goes the credit for the drawings of a caduceus on the individual place cards. A moving picture concluded the evening's entertainment.

New Director of Nursing Now on Campus

We are happy to welcome Elder and Mrs. Norman Clapp to our college campus and family. Elder Clapp will be the new chaplain at the Sanitarium. He has been doing this same work at Paradise Valley Sanitarium and Hospital where they have been located for six years previous to attending Columbia University in New York City. Mrs. Clapp has just received her M.A. in Nursing Administration from there. She was Director of Nursing Education at Paradise Valley School of Nursing and while there acquired the reputation of being an understanding friend of the students. We know that she is well qualified for her new position as Director of Nursing here.

McClures' Stores, Inc.

MADISON, TENN.

Phones 7-3716-7-3662

Outfitters for the Home

STUDENT WEDDINGS

(Continued from page 1)

Elder A. L. Ham of Washington, D.C., officiating, was performed in English with the exception of the prayer, which was in Chinese. The bride's attendants were Misses Millie Wieland, Wanda Thomas, and Betty Concepcion, and the best man was Calvin Su, the groom's brother. Professor Felix A. Lorenz gave the bride in marriage. Vocal selections were presented by Mrs. Cyrus Kendall singing "Because," and Thelma Ing and Kanakola Orso singing in Hawaiian. Instrumental music included "Indian Love Call," a trombone solo by Vincent Mitzelfelt, and a violin-cello duet by Mrs. Edna Thornton and Professor Harold Mitzelfelt, whose wife played the processional and recessional.

A Chinese chop suey and rice dinner was served to the 200 guests attending the reception in the college dining room following the ceremony. The young couple spent a few days in the Smokies, returning to the campus in time for summer quarter classes.

The lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Felix A. Lorenz was the scene of a lovely outdoor wedding on Sunday morning, June 7, when Miss Delaiah Jordan and Mr. Ralph Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wheeler, were united in holy wedlock. The bride, given in marriage by W. R. Zollinger, was attended by Mrs. Lawrence Cheevers, matron of honor, and James Holliman acted as best man. Soloists were Miss Nayade Cabrera and Curtis R. Morton, with Miss Betty Concepcion at the piano. Following the ceremony, which was performed by Elder A. D. Burch of the Boulevard S.D.A. church, refreshments were served to the wedding guests. After a brief wedding trip to Missouri the newlyweds returned to the campus, where Mrs. Wheeler is continuing her nurses' training course while her husband does colporteur work.

EVANGELISM SCHOOL

(Continued from page 1)

Tuesday evening, however, a new tent had been pitched to accommodate the large crowd gathered to hear the second lecture.

Professor Banks is being assisted by a group of advanced students in the School of Theology. They include Koy Brown, Bill Brown, Elmon Roy, LeRoy Schreiner, Eldon Wilson, Obed Graham, Curtis Jennings, Bob East, David Mayers, Bob McCumber, Douglas Milliner, and Dennis McCoy; also the S.M.C. Male Quartet, Duane Stier, John Harris, Art Butterfield, and Jim McClintock. Two students from Emmanuel Missionary College, Bill Boykin and Larry Croxton, are also assisting in this "Crusade for Christ." Music is under the supervision of Professor Norman Krogstad, directing a thirty-six-voice choir made up of members from the S.D.A. churches in Nashville and vicinity.

DR. NAOMI PITMAN

Campus Personality Sketch

She sits at the desk in her office, her head resting on her hands. Her day's work should have been finished long ago, but there is still another patient to be seen.

Patients! Patients! The very word makes her feel more tired than she already is. But hers is a profession that demands time and effort—a profession that knows no end of work, but one that pays well. Her pay is not in money; it comes from the satisfaction of helping patients regain their health and strength and return to their homes.

As pediatrician, her work is mostly with children, but as school physician she cares for the students of the college. Many of these have become her close friends—close because of the interest she has shown in them, for physical healing she has brought, for the friendly smile that makes a dark world bright again.

She lives for those about her. Sleep becomes a minor consideration if a child's life is in danger. Her meals come at irregular hours, as her patients must have their care first. Sometimes meetings—important ones to her—have to be skipped to give her time with a parent whose child is ill. But her own interests she puts in the background. Her patients always come first.

It is late at night and a small child is tossing to and fro in his hospital crib. His temperature will not go down, despite the efforts of several nurses. His cries, now a pathetic little whine, can-

High School Graduates Class of Fifteen In Closing Exercises of School Year

The High School Senior Class of 1953 had its graduation exercises on the week end of May 29-30. The class numbered fifteen—the largest the academy has graduated for a number of years.

Class night preceded the weekend exercises. On Thursday evening, May 28, the seniors displayed their various talents as they presented their program of music, speeches, senior memories, class history, prophecy, and will. The class gift for the school was presented—an American flag for the main campus flag pole, which had been minus a banner for several months. The program ended as the entire class sang their class song.

The consecration service address was given on Friday evening by Elder R. E. Finney, Jr., of Southern Publishing Association. The class response was given by the individual members of the class. Elder R. H. Wentland, of the Southern Union Conference, gave the seniors an inspiring address at the baccalaureate service on Sabbath morning. The commencement exercises were held at 8:00 P.M., Saturday evening, in the Helen Funk Assembly Hall. After the processional, Dean Sandborn offered the invocation. Preceding the address given by Elder W. A. Howe, educational secretary of the Southwestern Union, the Trumpet Trio played "Aurora."

Following Principal William

not be quieted. The doctor is worried and will not leave the bedside. Her medical skill seems of no avail in this case. Then she lifts the child from his crib and, seating herself in a chair, rocks him until at last his cries are quieted.

But still she does not leave him. She stays with him throughout the night, using all her skills during his wakeful hours, and watching closely while he sleeps for any signs that point to favorable or unfavorable conditions.

Yes, hers is a profession that requires her time, her energy, her life. Her whole life is lived to help others. I know, for she has helped me, and that's why I wish to salute Dr. Naomi Pitman.

—FRANCES WOOLBRIGHT.

Wilson's presentation of the class, President A. A. Jasperson handed the seniors their long sought after diplomas. Dr. Clifford Ludington played a violin solo followed by the benediction by Professor W. H. Siemsen.

The seniors wore gray gowns with green tassels on their caps, their class colors being green and gray. The class flower was the gardenia; the aim and motto, "Never a gray sky, always a green shore." The class roll was as follows:

Anne Jensen, president and valedictorian

Roy Allen, vice president
Josephine Garrard, secretary
Patricia Ann Wilson, treasurer
Maurice Culpepper, pastor
Beulah Garrard, parliamentarian
Glen Quarnstrom, sergeant-at-arms and saluatorian

Donald Blewett
Carole Cantrell
JoAnn Gibbons
Ramona Kinsey
Sylvia Larsen
Frank Sanchez
Laura Taylor
Robert Witchey

BLUE NOTES

(Continued from page 1)

come to Deloris Fast, Nydia Reyes, Antonio Rivera, Ruben Perales, and other newcomers.

The College Band is again in full swing, meeting on Monday evenings immediately after chapel. The Junior Band is also having a summer session, meeting at 6:30 Thursday.

We can't think of a more appropriate subject to sing about on a hot summer day than "Deep River." It happened at choir rehearsal the other day.

Poll-Pro
SHOES
For Boys and Girls

MADISON
FAMILY BOOTERIE

"More For Your Money"

Sullivans

OLD HICKORY, TENN.
Phone 8-2362

Your Friendly Family
Saving Store

Eller Bros.

Electrical Appliances
& Supplies

Plumbing & Heating
Sales & Service

Phone 7-3357
MADISON, TENN.

FREMAR

VARIETY STORE

MADISON'S NEWEST
AND LARGEST