Madison College Opens for 54th Year

G. H. Byers, Dean

Welcome, On Course

The pilot glances at his instrument panel. One of the dials looks like a taximeter. "108," it reads. That means 108 miles to Dallas, and a pointer shows the direction to Dallas.

Now it reads 100 miles—90—80. A little right rudder. That's it. And now 70 miles away, and right on course—straight as an arrow to the airport. The pilot knows exactly where he is.

When we consider the question, "What is Christian education?" there are two thoughts to be emphasized. First, that God stands ready to save our youth; and second, that a training in harmony with God's plan will help save them—Education, on course.

Martin Luther said that "humanity is like a drunken peasant who is always ready to fall from his horse on one side or the other."

Youth today are facing one of the most critical times in all history; and amid the confusion and uncertainty of our present world, they must make decisions that will last throughout the ages—decisions in which God must not be forgotten—decisions that will keep them on course.

My fondest hopes and best wishes are extended to the young men and women who are coming to this campus for the first time and to those who are continuing to seek here to learn the way and the truth of life. May God bless you as we welcome you, on course.

Nashville Area to See "It Is Written"

At five o'clock Sabbath afternoon, September 27, the Nashville area will have opportunity to begin listening to the TV presentation, "It Is Written," by Elder George Vandeman, which carries the messages of Seventh-day Adventists.

This opening presentation climaxes a period of diligent preparation on the part of the church. Members have been organized into visiting teams, which will send out thousands of personal invitations and announcements, and deliver from door to door 25,000 folders directing the readers to the first four telecasts. This series of TV programs, to continue forty weeks, will be presented over Station WSIX, Channel 8.

This Is Your Year

W. C. Sandborn, President

On behalf of the faculty of Madison College I wish to extend to you a most hearty welcome to the Southland — to the land of friendliness, to the land of T.V.A. with its beautiful lakes and mountains, to the land of opportunity.

We welcome you to Madison, the school of opportunity. Here you will find a precious heritage, a heritage built on love, sacrifice, blood, sweat, and tears, but nevertheless a glorious heritage.

If this were the year 1954, I would say this is the year of golden anniversary, but I cannot say that, for this is now 1958. Fifty-four years ago this school was established, established under the direction of God by courageous, self-sacrificing, faithful men and women. They were men and women of vision, a vision that was to become a reality and a great and lasting influence upon the cultural, social, economic, and spiritual values of the entire Southland.

Yes! This may not be the year of golden anniversary, but it is your year of golden opportunity. You are coming from far and near, and yes, from the ends of the earth. For every student who is willing to put his shoulder to the wheel, there is an opportunity not only to receive an education from books but to develop spiritually, and to learn a trade or vocation. Yes!

Opportunity is here at Madison. That God may grant each of you a successful and profitable school year is my prayer and the prayer of the Madison College faculty.

A Welcome from the Registrar's Office

I wish to take this opportunity to welcome each one of you to Madison College. We are very happy to have you here with us and hope that you receive the education that you came here to receive.

Madison College has been founded here by the Word of God through His servant, Mrs. E. G. White. It has a special function to perform as a college. Its blueprint is the Spirit of Prophecy.

Within the faculty and staff at Madison College are men and women who have dedicated their lives to educate students as outlined by the Servant of the Lord.

As you begin this school year, remember that the record you make becomes an integral part of you. It follows you here upon this earth; it follows you to the courts above. May you so strive that you will not be ashamed and found wanting as your record is reviewed in Heaven.

The office of the registrar is always open to you. If you have any questions about your records, feel free to visit us at any time. May God bless you in your endeavor to obtain a Christian education.

Former Dean Tells of Work in West Africa

Elder H. J. Welch, former Madison College dean and now president of the West African Union, showed pictures of native life and of mission work in Ghana at vespers on Friday night, September 13.

Of particular interest to the Madison group were the greetings he brought from Althea and Gerald Turnbull, graduate nurses from here, who are at the Jengre Mission Hospital in West Africa, and from Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Collins, in the educational work in West Africa. Mr. Collins was librarian here before going to the mission field.

Campus School Enrolls Eighty-seven

The campus school has an enrollment of 87, according to John Crowder, editor of the C.E.S. Reporter, campus school periodical.

Mr. John Baker, who taught last year at Bowling Green, Kentucky, is the new teacher for grades one and two. Other teachers are Miss Elsie Peterson, Mrs. Dixie Wilcox, and Mr. Winston Ferris, principal.

Welcome to A.S.M.C.

BY BRENTON BULLOCK
President, A.S.M.C.

The officers of your Student Association wish to take this opportunity to welcome you into the student organization—The Associated Students of Madison College.

Perhaps many of you are wondering just what the A.S.M.C. is. Who are members? What is the object of the organization? Who are the officers?

The A.S.M.C. is an organization set up to promote the principles of Christian education, to instill a spirit of self-government and cooperation, to promote school spirit, to work for all that is within the best interests of Madison College, and at the same time to provide experience which will assist in better fitting you for the Master's service.

All persons duly accepted by the faculty of Madison College for classwork on the college or secondary level, or as special students, are considered members of the A.S.M.C.

The object of this organization is to further the interests of Christian education by:

1. Developing a spirit of Christian cooperation and fellowship among all the students of the college.
2. Endeavoring to maintain a cooperative and happy relationship between the students and the faculty of the college.
3. Promoting such programs and campaigns as are deemed desirable for the best interests of the college.
4. Participating with the faculty in the enactment and enforcement of proper legislation concerning student conduct, all final authority resting with the faculty and the Board of the college.
5. Serving as a laboratory where students may learn government and parliamentary procedure.

We are happy to introduce to you your officers of the Student Association for the school year 1958-59.

President _____ Brenton Bullock
Vice-President _____ Bob Tetz
Secretary _____ Ruth Coulter
Treasurer _____ Ed Zollinger

Delta Nu Zeta

An efficient worship committee is working with Mrs. Temples to provide interesting and profitable evening worships. On Sunday and Monday evenings guest speakers are invited to speak. Recently Mr. Ralph Martin, Dr. Bottsford, and Professor Cossentine were guest speakers. The girls composing the committee are Esther Edmonson, Mary Lou Ward, and Juanita Mercado.

The Magan house (east of Williams Hall) is the newest dormitory annex. When enrollment is completed Williams Hall will have 100 girls, Assembly Hall 20, the Magan House 20, and Senior Home 8, making a total of 148 girls.

The girls thank the finance committee for the nice cooling fans they have enjoyed all summer and now for the two lovely automatic washing machines they possess.

Mr. Mason's painting crew includes Rebecca Perillo, Jannette Werner, and Linda Doll, who have been helping with the redecorating of Williams Hall rooms, and Judy Lahde and Beverly Meekins, who have been painting Mr. Coon's cottage at the Poultry Department.

"O Sole Mio!" And so the academy girls have enjoyed their first serenade. They gave it to the boys' dorms the other night.

Marie King's roommates were startled by a scream at 11 p.m. the other night when Marie came in from work. Marie had found a frog in her bed!

Wasiota Whispers

Men's Court and Gotzian Home have been greeting newcomers at a rate that has just about filled every bed.

You'll read about Mr. Fragola, new Gotzian dean, in the next column. Mr. Robert Eaton, who is in charge of Men's Court, came to the Southland about six years ago and has been connected with the self-supporting work since then. He is at Madison this year to continue his school work and be assistant to the dean.

Let's get acquainted with a few of our interesting new arrivals:

Ronald Boyd, who has been farm manager at the Wildwood Medical Institution, is here to take special training in farm machinery and to obtain further training in the finer arts, especially voice. Some night, if you are a good listener, you will hear him practicing with the Madison College quartet down in the music department.

Victorio Rivera comes to us from the Philippines. He arrived here in the States August 18. He graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of the Philippines in 1952. For six years since then he has worked as a professional commercial landscape and potrait painter. He was asked to paint the portraits of the President of the Philippines. We are fortunate to have such talent in our college.

Allan Ching is from Hawaii. He has crossed the Pacific four times and has seen much of the United States. He is here to take special work in the sciences. You will find him interesting to talk to.

Watch this column for more introductions.

We miss Albert Isom, David Hernandez, and Eddie Zollinger, who have left the campus for a few weeks. Albert is in Chicago doing special nursing duty. David is at his home in El Salvador. Eddie has taken a little trip to Washington to help move his brother's family down to Madison.

When you have a chance, come to see our remodeled Men's Court. You'll like its renovated appearance, especially if you will spend a night with us sleeping on our new foam rubber mattresses now in most of the rooms. Our laboring men are enjoying extra sweet sleep.

New Dean of Men Takes Up Work

Vito Fragola

Mr. Vito Fragola, new dean of men, comes to Madison from Potomac University, where he received his M.A. degree, with a major in education in August, 1958.

Mr. Fragola served four years in the United States Navy before he entered Atlantic Union College, from which he graduated in 1956.

His special interest is personnel and guidance work, which was his field of concentration in his graduate work. He feels that dean's work will give him valuable background experience for this field.

Besides being dean of men, Mr. Fragola teaches history in the academy.

Tropical fish hobbyists will be interested to know that Mr. Fragola's chief hobby is tropical fish.

The new dean is a native of New York state. Mrs. Fragola, the former Mary Watson, is from Maine and was also a student at Atlantic Union College. The Fragolas have one small son, Glen, eleven months old.

Nursing Notes

Miss Edith Munn and Mrs. Doris Thomson, nursing instructors at Madison, are spending the week down town at Mid-State Baptist Hospital, teaching in a four-week refresher course being given for graduate nurses in this area.

The instructors from the six schools of nursing in the Nashville area take turns conducting the course being given for the special benefit of nurses who have been out of service for some time or who have not had opportunity to keep up with the latest trends in nursing.

It is hoped that many of these nurses who have been out of nursing for a number of years will be motivated to return to their profession.

Martha Norris, Maureen Drake, Jean Openshaw, and Pat Rosenthal will leave Sunday, September 28, for Cincinnati, where they will spend three months affiliating in Pediatrics at the Children's Hospital. Returning from Cincinnati are Margaret Dixon and Alyce Williams.

New Instructors Join Staff Of Fine Arts Division

Mrs. Betty Klotz Harter joins the Division of Fine Arts as piano and art teacher.

A native of Ohio, Mrs. Harter attended Western College, Oxford, Ohio, and graduated from Wittenburg College, Springfield, Ohio, with a B.S. in music education. She has done graduate work at Peabody in art.

Mrs. Betty Klotz Harter

Her teaching experience includes 12 years at Southern Missionary College, 3 years as principal of Louisville Junior Academy, 5 years teaching music at Central High School, Nashville, and 3 years teaching music and art at Litton High School, Nashville.

Mrs. Harter's name appears in the publication, Music International. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, state sponsor of the high school club Modern Music Masters, and a member of the Music Education National Council.

Mrs. Harter is a teacher whose interesting personality has already made itself felt on the campus.

Mrs. Bob W. Silver

Although a new member of the Music Department, Mrs. Bob W. Silver is no stranger to the campus.

As Patricia Mitzelfelt, she was a student during the years 1950-52. After her marriage she was employed in the business office, where she worked for more than four years. She then spent one year in Germany with her husband, returning to the business office in December, 1957.

During her student days Mrs. Silver was editor of the 1952 Cumberland Echoes. She was also laboratory assistant in chemistry. She has always been active in the band, choir, and instrumental and vocal groups and is an accomplished cornetist and clarinetist. In fact, she is only one of a musical family known as the "Musical Mitzelfelts." Both her father and her mother have had years of experience teaching in Seventh-day Adventist schools, most recently here at Madison.

Mrs. Silver will be in charge of the instrumental activities of the Music Department, including the directing of the band.

Join the Band!

Dear Band-Member,

This is a personal invitation to all former members and all new students who play instruments to join our band this year.

Now is the time to be getting those trumpet valves and trombone slides oiled, stuck tuning slides pulled and greased, bad clarinet and saxophone pads replaced, and new reeds and other supplies bought. I want you ready for a good first rehearsal! (Time to be announced.)

For beginners a junior band will be organized soon after college opens and private lessons will also be available. Don't forget that you can get credit for band and private lessons as an elective.

An interesting year is being planned, and I want to urge you to arrange your program to include band. If you wish to contact me, I can be reached in the Music Department afternoons. Let's come out and have a wonderful time together in band. See you soon!

Sincerely,

Mrs. Bob W. Silver
Instrument & Band Instructor
Madison College

Stewart Children Come Home to See Parents Graduate

Elder and Mrs. R. E. Stewart receive congratulations from their children Evelyn, Ervin, Velma, Alvin, Violet.

The tables were turned in one instance at graduation time at Madison College. Instead of parents coming to see their children graduate, the five Stewart children came to see their parents graduate.

Elder and Mrs. R. E. Stewart, ages 69 and 65 respectively, received B.S. degrees, he in business administration and secretarial science and she in nursing, on August 29 at the annual commencement of Madison College.

It was a triple celebration for Elder and Mrs. Stewart—a family reunion, their forty-fifth wedding anniversary, and their college graduation.

Here for the three big events were the Stewarts' three daughters—Mrs. Evelyn Murray, Oneco, Florida; Mrs. Violet Lang, R.N. at McKeesport, Pennsylvania; and Mrs. Velma Mixon, R.N. in Daytona Beach, Florida. Both Violet and Velma are Madison graduates.

Hi-School Hi-Lites

Welcome, Students

All is quiet here in the academy office. Soon the bell will ring and 106 teen-agers will pour into the halls of Madison College Academy. You come from Pennsylvania and Puerto Rico, from Old Hickory and Honduras, and from dozens of places in between. And what do you come for?

In your homes, churches, and church schools, the challenge has been kept before you—the challenge to climb to the next rung of the ladder of education. And here you are, bright-faced and eager-hearted, ready to begin.

The academy faculty respects and accepts that challenge, promising, with God's help, to work with you, to laugh and play with you, to counsel and pray with you.

May your teachers help you realize your hopes and expectations for this school year.

BOWDEN—HENNE

Miss Virginia Henne and Mr. Harry Bowden were married at 7:30 on September 18, the bridegroom's birthday, in the Helen Funk Assembly Hall. Elder O. J. Mills, pastor of the college church, performed the ceremony.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Dayton, Tennessee, and then returned to the Cave Springs Home for Children, where they will work this year and continue their education at Madison College.

Stewarts—from p. 3

Their two sons are Alvin Stewart, president of the Dominican Mission of Seventh-day Adventists, and Ervin Stewart, also a Madison graduate, chief biochemist at the Veterans' Hospital in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Elder and Mrs. Stewart, who came to Madison in 1941, are former missionaries, having spent 21 years in the mission field. For seven years they were in the Philippines, and later they worked in Mexico, Cuba, and Columbia.

During these years they took college work—at least correspondence work—whenever possible. They enjoy studying, "for the sheer joy of learning and for better fitting themselves for service," they say.

Here at Madison Elder Stewart was chaplain of the Sanitarium for six years and of the Medical Cadet Corps for two years. He has also served as a supply teacher in the Commercial Department and has taught Spanish. He will continue to teach a class in Spanish.

Mrs. Stewart received her R.N. in 1946 and since then has served as historian in the sanitarium and also as a teacher. At present she is head nurse in the Emergency Room of the hospital.

The Stewarts' graduation was featured by the Associated Press, and their picture appeared in newspapers all over the United States.

The couple were two of the 106 graduates at Madison's recent commencement exercises held August 30 and 31.

Bible and History Teacher Joins Staff

Mr. Norman R. Gulley has joined the academy faculty as Bible teacher and will also teach history in the college.

Mr. Gulley is a native of Britain, coming from Hertfordshire, England. He graduated from Newbold

Norman R. Gulley

Missionary College, with a diploma in Theology.

Four years ago he came from Britain to Southern Missionary College, from which he received his B.A. degree in Theology. He then attended the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, receiving his M.A. degree with a major in Biblical languages (Greek and Hebrew). He continued his graduate work, receiving a B.D. degree with the first Potomac University class, having double majors in New Testament Greek and Applied Theology.

Teaching is Mr. Gulley's chosen field, and writing is his hobby. He writes for the Review and Herald, Ministry, and other religious periodicals.

Another hobby which he says is closely related to his writing is photography, for he takes pictures suitable for illustrating his articles.

Mrs. Gulley is the former Leona Minchen, the daughter of Elder E. L. Minchen of the General Conference. A graduate of W.M.C., with B.S. and R.N. degrees, she will be the medical and clinical instructor on General.

Mr. Gulley's experience with Missionary Volunteer activities makes him a valuable addition to the academy and college personnel.
