Nurses Receive Caps and Insignia

Evangelism Class Directs Campaign

A second medical-evangelistic campaign is being conducted at the Fatherland Church from July 19 to July 28, under the direction of Norman R. Gulley, Fatherland Church leader, and also teacher of the college evangelism class.

Professor Gulley reports that the summer campaign is the project of the evangelism class. Thirty have enrolled in this class for the summer quarter.

"From now on, each quarter that the class is offered, there will be a public evangelism campaign," says Mr. Gulley.

In preparation for the meetings, the 30 students in the class were formed into 15 teams of two persons, each team with the assignment to call on four homes, help the people, and bring them to the meetings. Committees covering music, advertising, public relations, and ushering were formed. Twenty-five hundred handbills and a permanent church sign were produced by the youth for promoting this class project.

Bible studies are being given to six families and other opportunities are presenting themselves. Class members are entering heartily into the responsibilities of the campaign.

In addition to this personal side of evangelism, every member of the class is having some platform experience during the campaign. In addition, there will be featured two medical doctors, Doctors Bowes and Johnson; a dietitian, Mrs. Lorenz; and a first-aid instructor, Mr. L. L. Dickman. Professor Gulley is the speaker. The entire programs are one hour in length—from 7:30 to 8:30.

As a result of the first campaign conducted in May by the MV's, another baptism has taken place, bringing the total number up to three, with others studying. A report of this first Fatherland campaign appeared in the Southern Tidings of July 8, page 13. This last baptism is the result of the faithful work of Dr. Jean Slate, who brought Mrs. V. Farley and

Seniors Announce Commencement

Dr. Floyd Rittenhouse, president of Potomac University, will be the speaker at the annual commencement of Madison College, to be held Saturday night, August 15, in Helen Funk Assembly Hall.

At the commencement exercise 81 will receive degrees, diplomas, and certificates.

Commencement weekend will begin with the consecration service on Friday night, at which time Elder Donald W. Hunter, president of the Ohio Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will speak. Elder Lawrence Scales, president of Southwestern Junior College, Keene, Texas, will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sabbath morning, August 15.

Workers Leave to Join New Enterprise

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mason, who have been workers at Madison, are leaving to join Mr. Ralph Martin in his new enterprise in Michigan. The Martins, who left for Michigan July 1, were detained a month because of the accident of their daughter Alice, who broke her hip.

Another class of nursing students have successfully passed their probation period and have been received into full membership as student nurses of Madison Sanitarium and Hospital.

Twenty young women received their caps and five young men received their insignia in an impressive capping service held Sunday night, July 12.

Elder H. D. Bennett, pastor of the Boulevard Seventh-day Adventist Church, delivered the address, which was a challenge to the nurses as they continue in their profession. Marjorie Lofton gave the response for the class.

Miss Virginia Davidson read the names of the student nurses as they were capped and given their insignia by senior nurses. Each nurse then lighted his or her lamp from the light of Florence Nightingale (represented by Mrs. Edith Thomas).

The nurses as a group repeated the Nightingale Pledge and then sang their class song, "Others," which was in keeping with their motto, "Others."

An unusual feature of the service was the reading, by Mrs. Zeigler, director of nurses, of statements previously written by the nurses in one of their classes giving their aims and their reasons for having chosen nursing as a profession. The statements were expressions of earnestness of purpose and consecration to their noble calling. Many expressed themselves as looking forward to mission service when they finish their courses. The students were not aware of this part of the program.

After the capping ceremony the new nurses were honored at a reception held for them in the cafeteria.

Seniors Entertained At Lawn Party

The college seniors were honored at a lawn party supper given by the faculty and workers at the home of President and Mrs. Sandborn on Thursday evening, July 16.

The lawn, colorfully lighted with Chinese lanterns, was the setting for the delicious supper and the program that followed.

Music was furnished by Pat Silver on her trumpet, a trio consisting of Betty and Norma Umali and Betty Guerra, and Mr. Kepingler, accompanied by his daughter Linda. Mrs. Simmons gave two readings.

President Sandborn climaxed the program with a talk congrat-

A Farewell from Mrs. Simmons

Dear Students:

Nothing which has been done for me in my four years at Madison College has moved me so deeply as your thoughtfulness in dedicating the Cumberland Echoes of '59 to me. It is an honor to be thus chosen, and I feel very unworthy. I can only pray to be true to the trust you have reposed in me.

It will always be a great satisfaction to know you made the choice before you had the knowledge I was leaving the college. It was not a last-minute decision to honor me. Thank you for the added happiness you have brought into my life.

May I insert here my thanks to the members of the elementary school board and to the Teachers of Tomorrow Club for the very practical and useful gifts they have given me? (A new type of brief case and a traveling case.)

My years here have been pleasant ones. I love teaching and you have been such receptive students. It has been a constant inspiration to work with you. Nearly every student on the campus has been in at least one of my classes.

A start has been made in the elementary field, and the "N.I." in the original school name (N.A. N.I.) has been replaced, as for a time it seemed to have been forgotten. Under wise leadership the department will continue to grow and expand.

My decision to take up new duties is due partly to Mr. Simmons' health, and I also feel I can be of greater service to more youth in the Southern Union in my new work. After August 15 my duties will consist of visiting academies, junior academies, church schools, workers' meetings, youth's congresses, teachers' conventions, churches, and other local and union meetings in behalf of Christian education.

This means we will be visiting in the Nashville area from time to time and will drop in to see our Madison friends. If you ever visit Little Creek, come by and see us, as we will be living just eight miles from that school. Our address is Route 3, Concord, Tennessee.

Mr. Simmons joins me in this prayer for you:

"God-bless you now and evermore.
 Your days with gladness crown,
 And from His own abundant store
 Send many a blessing down."

Sincerely your friend,
 Marion S. Simmons

News from the Anesthetists

Word from students who have recently finished the anesthesia course lets us know they are all busy in their respective hospitals. Those who finished in time to take the national exam in May all passed with good grades.

Anna Bogachoff is staying on at the Maury County Hospital in Columbia, Tennessee, for the present.

Glyen Haugen is working with Mrs. Stella Guier in Decatur, Alabama.

Annice Larsen writes from Fresno, California, that she has a new husband, John Linderman. Their address is 2308 N. First Avenue.

Gertrud Schramm is working in Illinois.

Three more students will be finishing the course this summer and fall. There is a big demand for our graduates.

Miss Hallie Thomas leaves us on July 6 for a short vacation and then sails for India, where she will be connected with the Seventh-day Adventist clinic at Simli, operated by the Doctors Bazliel.

Mrs. Elsie Stecker left us during the week of July 15. She has been on our staff as an instructor ever since she graduated in 1956. We will miss her very much, but we suspect that Dr. "Don" has been missing her more than we will. She goes to Dunkirk, New York, which is a bit nearer to Labrador, where her doctor husband is stationed.

Mr. Thomas Linville, who graduated last summer has returned from Sedalia, Missouri, to join our staff as an instructor. We welcome him and his good wife back with us.

More recent addition to the student anesthetist group is Miss Norma Umali, who is a sister to Dr. Umali and Miss Betty Umali. She had her nurse's training in our hospital in Bangkok, Thailand. If she can learn to give anesthesia as well as she sings and plays the piano, we have a real treat in store for us, just having her around.

Carolyn Hill is affiliating at the hospital in Crossville, Tennessee, and Hilda Byassee is at the Obion County Hospital in Union City, Tennessee. Both of the girls report that they have all the cases they want to do and sometimes more.

M. V. Flashes

A variety of programs are being presented at the weekly MV meetings this summer. On July 4 the meeting was held under the trees. On July 11 about 20 members of the Sunshine Band took the meeting, inspiring us with songs, poems, and readings. Rupert Ham-Ying, MV leader, will welcome suggestions concerning items that could be presented at the weekly meetings.

The faithful work of Rupert Ham-Ying and his associate, Ellen Kowalski, has been appreciated this year. This has been a good year. Already the next year's leaders are busy. Next year's leader, John Dovich, writes of a brain wave which he says he received while sitting on a Canadian log up there in one of those northern felling camps. More about this later.

At registration time in September each student will have an opportunity to meet the youth leaders in the Southern field. Elder L. M. Nelson, from the Union, and Elder Teddric Mohr, from the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, will be present on registration days.

MARY KATE GAFFORD

To members of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, the subjects of temperance and the use of tobacco should be of vital interest. Among the most recent accessions to the Madison College library, now on display, which deal with these problems are:

Stop Smoking, Live Longer! by Andrew Stephen Kushner, a "day-by-day account of his own struggle to overcome the habit [of smoking] offering all sorts of helpful hints to the person who really wants to stop." The call number is 178.7 K96s.

The Cup of Fury, by Upton Sinclair, containing the "intimate, personal, revealing stories of men and women like Jack London, Dylan Thomas, Sinclair Lewis, O. Henry, Stephen Crane, Isadora Duncan, Maxwell Bodenheim, William Seabrook, and others—many others, friends and colleagues whose 'moderate drinking' became uncontrollable alcoholism." The call number is 178.1 S16c.

Our Greatest Enemy, Beveraged Alcohol, by Aubrey Willis, an alcoholic who found salvation from despair and self-destruction by a complete surrender to Jesus Christ, to whom he has dedicated this book and his life. He is now one of the leading authorities on alcoholism, director of a rehabilitation home for alcoholics in Georgia, and executive secretary of Converted Alcoholics. Read how the alcoholic can be cured, as told by the author. The call number is 178.1 W67o.

The Christian Case for Abstinence, written by twenty clergymen from a number of religious denominations of the United States, summarizing the reasons why Christians must abstain from alcoholic beverages. The call number is 178.1 C46c.

Teachers Attend Meetings in West

President William C. Sandborn, Registrar Homer R. Lynd, Dean of Men Vito Fragola, and Dean of Women Lorene Temples will attend a College Administrators' Conference to be held at La Sierra College, Arlington, California, July 20-24. Attending this conference will be representatives from all Seventh-day Adventist colleges in North America.

Four other teachers will attend the Sectional Meeting for Department Heads, to be held August 19-25 at Walla Walla College, Washington. Mr. Alfred Wilhelmson will represent the Agriculture Department, Mr. Harold Keplinger the Industrial Arts Department, and Mrs. James Stearns the Secretarial and Business Departments. Mrs. Felix A. Lorenz will read a paper at the Home Economics section.

Up And Down The Campus

A new star twinkles in the flags flying over the campus and the College Post office. . . July is here. . . Vacations come and vacations go, so will the "tanning by the sun" come winter. . . Twenty-five nursing students were capped July 12, representatives of states across the country and two from Germany. Petra Sukau's smiling face added to the happiness of the occasion. This was Petra's last visit to the campus. Her thoughts are eastward to her homeland and her mission field at Rangoon. She recently completed her course in midwifery at two hospitals—one in New York and one in Baltimore. Already she has delivered 40 babies. . . A welcome back to the Paul Nettlands. Paul plans to resume his nursing career this fall. . . "Never too old to learn," so the saying goes. Mrs. Sandborn, Mrs. Silver, Mrs. Harter, Miss Cowdrick, Mrs. Stearns, and Mr. Cossentine are finding this out in summer classwork at Peabody. . . Some scents are pleasant, but not the recent ones floating on the evening breeze. The desire for a pet skunk has been the cause. . . Boys, young and old, have been skunking and de-skunking. . .

Resident Doctors Join Staff

A reception honoring four new resident doctors was held July 2 at the Sanitarium parlor, with staff doctors and hospital administrative personnel in attendance.

Dr. F. L. Umali was also honored. Dr. Umali, a resident at the hospital for the past two years, has taken a surgical residency at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Nashville.

Recently joining the medical staff of Madison Sanitarium and Hospital are four resident physicians—Doctors Filemon Cabansag, Benjamin Imperial, Ernesto Mendoza, and Leon Schmukler.

For the past two years Dr. Cabansag has been situated at Detroit, Michigan, where he has been interning at the Detroit Memorial Hospital. Dr. Cabansag completed his college work at Philippling Union College and then finished medical school at Manila Central University in 1954.

Dr. Imperial attended Philippine Union College from 1946-1948 to complete his pre-medical course, after which he went to Manila Central University to take medicine. Dr. Imperial, a single young man, has been interning in Youngstown, Ohio, at the St. Elizabeth Hospital. He was much surprised when, upon moving to the campus, he found an old friend from the Philippines, Sam- my Alabata.

Also joining the resident doctors from the Philippines is Dr. Mendoza. He too completed his medical course at Manila Central University. He interned at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Youngstown, Ohio, and then spent one year taking anesthesia. Dr. Mendoza was married June 27, 1959.

Dr. Schmukler comes from Israel, where he was in private practice as a surgeon gynecologist and also surgeon at Workers Sick Fund in Tel Aviv. He finished medicine at Pavlov Institute, Leningrad, in 1937 and then spe-

Mrs. Felix A. Lorenz, a member of the American Dietetics Association, has been asked to take the position of head dietitian at Madison Sanitarium and Hospital. She will be in charge of all diets and food service.

Mrs. Verle Sossong is now director of the college food service, the position formerly held by Mrs. Lorenz. Assisting Mrs. Sossong is Mrs. Robert Kunau.

Mrs. Lorenz will visit a number of Seventh-day Adventist sanitariums this summer to become acquainted with their food service plans.

New Pharmacist Takes Up Work

Mr. Wallace Slater is the new pharmacist at Madison Sanitarium and Hospital. Mr. Slater, a former Madison student, received his degree as Registered Pharmacist in 1956 from the Division of Pharmacy at Howard College, Birmingham, Alabama. Prior to coming here he was pharmacist at the U.S. Army Hospital at Ft. Hood, Texas, where he was stationed for two years.

Mrs. Slater, the former Thelma Holweger, graduated from the Madison College Nursing School in 1953.

Veteran Evangelist Conducts Studies

Elder J. H. N. Tindall, veteran minister, medical missionary worker, and Bible teacher, is conducting a series of studies on Wednesday nights and Sabbath afternoons that are being well attended by the college and campus family.

On Sabbath afternoons Elder Tindall presents the instruction given to Seventh-day Adventists concerning the operation of schools and sanitariums and the conditions these institutions will face in the near future.

On Wednesday nights, at the prayer meeting hour, the studies are on "Victory and Self-mastery Through an Understanding of the Humanity of Christ."

Elder Tindall taught Bible at Loma Linda in the early days and led out in medical evangelistic campaigns conducted by evangelists, physicians, nurses, and dietitians in many large cities in the United States during the Twenties.

Although retired now, Elder and Mrs. Tindall are still actively engaged in presenting the guiding principles for successful evangelism and personal living as laid down in the Bible and the Spirit of prophecy.

The Tindalls are now living on the Madison College campus.

Elementary Education News

Mrs. Lloyd Mauldin and twelve pupils in a multiple-grade situation are enjoying the Reading Clinic which opened June 29 in the Demonstration School. Two teachers, Mrs. Catherine Thrall and Mrs. Gaynell Craig, are doing directed teaching in the clinic also. This is to be Mrs. Craig's initial year to teach with her husband at Pine Hill in Alabama, and Mrs. Thrall will enter into her second year of teaching at Cross Plains, Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Simmons attended three camp meetings in the Southern Union Conference, namely Carolina, Georgia-Cumberland, and Florida, preparatory to taking up their new duties after August 15. Mrs. Simmons will be educational consultant for the Southern Union.

Word just received from Harry Bowden gives the information that he is to teach in a school for retarded children in Ohio. He writes most enthusiastically of his prospective position and asks for the prayers of his friends that he will be successful in this new venture. His wife (the former Virginia Henne) also sends greetings.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Smith conducted a two-day Art Workshop on the campus from eight to twelve each morning on July 20 and 21. This was primarily for the students in the Methods and Organization and Administration classes.

New Arrivals

Teena Joyce Roach, born June 17, weight 5 pounds, 13 ounces, to George and Joan (Perkins) Roach.

Kenneth Theodore Schwarz, Jr., born June 19, weight 8 pounds, 1 ounce, to Kenneth and Kay (Williams) Schwarz.

Jeffrey Eugene Anderson, born June 24, weight 8 pounds, 8 3/4 ounces, to Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson.

New Director for Elementary Education

Mrs. Betty Harter has been asked to become director of the Elementary Education program, to fill the vacancy created when Mrs. Marion S. Simmons accepted a call to do educational work for the Southern Union.

Mrs. Harter has had considerable training and experience in the field of elementary education as well as in fine arts. She has taught at Southern Missionary College, in the Public School System of Nashville, and at Madison College.

Miss Ruby Seibert, who has been Mrs. Simmons' secretary this past year, has added Florida to her ever-growing list of states to be visited. She and her friend Ruth Coulter Zollinger are enjoying Florida's sunshine and gulf breezes at the home of Ruth's parents.

Tony Rivera, elementary education major, Class of '57, is visiting friends on the campus. He has several calls to be librarian in Adventist schools, but has not finalized on where he will go. Last year he was librarian in a high school in Key West, Florida.

Mrs. Bertha Warner, also of the Class of '57, writes from British Columbia, where she has taught in the same academy for more than 20 years, saying that three of her children, all former Madisonites (David, Davina, and Virginia), are working in the Branson Memorial Hospital in Toronto, Canada. She is happy to have received a state certificate from Tennessee. At present she is visiting her other daughter, Chris, also a Madisonite, who married Clinton Johnson, now studying at Walla Walla.

Gardeners Reap Fruits of Labor

The members of the Practical Gardening class have finally reaped some of the products of their labor. Onions, Irish potatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, beets, and carrots have been harvested and served at the cafeteria and the sanitarium. Mr. Simmons is freezing and otherwise preserving the surplus. Already over 1000 pounds of kraut have been preserved and many gallons of carrots are in the freezer.

Some 60 students have played their part in producing these cool season crops. The summer students, some 21 of them, are helping in producing tomatoes, squash, pepper, eggplant, watermelon, okra, sweet corn, and other warm season crops and will soon be engaged in planting and caring for fall maturing crops such as more cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, beets, carrots, snap beans, lettuce, and the numerous greens.

Tomatoes are now maturing as are also yellow squash, zucchini squash, okra, and sweet corn and are making their appearance on the tables of the cafeteria and sanitarium as well as various homes of the community.

Many of the students are finding pleasure in this labor in the out-of-doors, although their only seeming rewards are the blisters raised on tender hands as they persistently battle prolific and stubborn weeds in an effort to give the crop plants an opportunity to grow and flourish.

Faithfully have many labored in the field and in their tasks have learned, it is hoped, patience, perseverance, industry, and honesty, as well as some of the details and problems concerned in planting, caring for, and harvesting garden crops.
