

THE

Madisonian

Vol. 9

Madison College, Madison, Tennessee, April 19, 1961

No. 7

Madison Welcomes Academy Seniors

Marimbist to Give Concert

Douglas Williams, Marimbist

Douglas Williams, marimbist, will appear in concert on Saturday night, April 29, at Helen Funk Assembly Hall.

Mr. Williams is acclaimed a master of the marimba, an instrument which traces its origin to ancient Egypt and which has become a favorite in America in the Twentieth Century.

As a concert recitalist Mr. Williams has won fame in concert halls, on radio, and on television with both orchestral and piano accompaniments. He will present compositions from classical, romantic, and modern composers.

A native of Nashville, he graduated with a music degree from Tennessee State College and then studied at Northwestern University in preparation for the concert stage. In 1954 he toured Europe, playing in Salzburg, Bayreuth, Aix en Provence, Rome, London, Munich, Florence, and Vienna.

Students See Offices

The public got its first glimpse of the new ASMC and MV offices on Monday, April 10.

The inspection of the recently completed offices followed the ASMC meeting at chapel on Monday.

The event highlighted a remodeling project which has been in progress for a number of weeks. It also marked the latest accomplishment in a very successful year of achievements by the student association. The offices, located in the southwest corner of the second floor of Assembly Hall, have been completely remodeled and refurbished. They will serve as the future homes of the ASMC and the MV society.

Weekend to Feature Temperance Rally

The local American Temperance Society will present Elder James Scully, ATS youth activities director, and Elder Francis Soper, editor of Listen magazine, at a temperance rally to be held on the campus April 21-22.

Temperance orations, newly released temperance and travel films, and interviews with law officers and others interested in total abstinence are only a few of the features announced by Terry Troy, ATS president, and L. W. Watson, faculty sponsor.

"Time Pulls the Trigger," "Pay the Piper," "Nature's Filters," and "Strange Customs of the Far East" are new films, some never having been shown before, that will be presented.

Following is a tentative list of weekend features:

Friday night: Elder Scully shows a film.

Sabbath afternoon: Elder Soper speaks. Elder Foster interviews Bob Neal, principal of East High School. Elder Scully shows film.

Saturday night: Jingle, poster, and oration awards are made. "Time Pulls the Trigger" is shown.

Madison College extends a hearty welcome to the senior from Fletcher, Little Creek, Laurelbrook, Pine Forest, Echo Valley, and Madison College academics, who are guests of the college from April 14 to 16. They are becoming acquainted with what Madison College has to offer them as they choose their college careers.

Visits to classes, a band concert, a program by the ASMC, and a trip to historical spots in Nashville have filled their time since their arrival Tuesday afternoon.

Still to come are tours of the campus, visits with teachers, a choir program, and a program by the faculty.

ASMC Officers Attend Workshop at AUC

Three Madison students and their sponsor left Monday, April 17, for Atlantic Union College, South Lancaster, Massachusetts, where they will attend the Eleventh Annual Student Association Workshop, to be held April 19-22.

The Madison delegation will include Henry Scoggins, this year's ASMC president; Eugen Domke, president-elect for 1961-62; Robert Burks, editor of the MADISONIAN for next year; and Mr. Vito Fragola, ASMC sponsor.

The workshop, which is an inter-collegiate cooperation of student associations from Eastern SDA colleges, has as its purpose creating a spirit of unity among the colleges on student-association problems.

Lucy Courter, ASMC secretary, and Henry Scoggins, ASMC president, transact business in the new student association office.

Wilma Keller, MV leader, Verne Miller (left), next year's leader, and N. R. Gulley, sponsor, discuss plans in the new MV office.

Editor-in-chief—Wayne Hayes
Associate editors—Elaine Ferris, Malcolm Lowry
Columnists—Lucy Courter, Kenneth Moore, Bertha Way King, Paul Blankenship, Lillian Culpepper
Reporters—Jan Nations, Robert Burks, Charlotte Smith, Mary Traynor
Business and advertising manager—Edgar Aitken
Circulation—Sue Cuthbert, Martha Devine
Staff photographers—Henry and Lynn Bedford, Wm. Fujita
Adviser—Elizabeth Cowdrick

Official Publication of the
ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF MADISON COLLEGE
Published semi-monthly during the fall, winter, and spring quarters, and monthly during the summer quarter.
Entered as second class matter May 29, 1933, at the Post Office at Madison College, Tennessee. Subscription price—$1.50 per year.

April 19, 1961

Page 2

EDITORIAL

Keep the Banner High

Madison College is a Christian school of high standards. In many ways it is different from schools of the world. It also occupies a unique position among Seventh-day Adventist schools. First, it is a self-supporting college. Second, it is one of the two colleges of our denomination which the Lord directed Mrs. E. G. White in establishing.

With this holy heritage, we as students become a part of God's great plan for this part of His vineyard. And as individuals there is set before us by our teachers and predecessors a high standard. By lifting the standard of our conduct, we are in turn lifting the banner of Madison College. Our part is to examine our own ideals to see that they are above reproach. Madison's banner must not be lowered through any fault of yours or mine. W. H.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I want to commend Maggie Harms on her fine programs of Meditations which she has brought to us all year. Maggie has put a great deal of time and thought into the preparation of these lovely programs which are so appropriate to close the Sabbath day.

I am sure I am speaking for most of the students when I say that they have brought me closer to God. The poems she so beautifully reads visualize in my mind the scenes of Gethsemane, Calvary, and the resurrection. The quiet meditative music makes me thankful for the Sabbath day.

Edna Bryant

Starch and Stripes

Mrs. Naomi Vaughan, Miss Edith Munn, Mrs. Doris Thomson, Miss Mary Faye Draughton, and Mrs. Marilyn Gunderson recently attended the Annual Joint Dinner Meeting of the Nursing League, District No. 3, at Vanderbilt University School of Divinity. Mrs. Thomson was one of the hostesses.

Mrs. Freda Zeigler and Miss Maxine Page attended the National League Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, held April 10-14.

Misses Betty Brooks, Esther Perales, Elsie Arelano, Nita Lanham, Mr. Walter Bowen, and Mr. Marlow Coppage recently attended the National Student Nurses' Convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

Monday, April 17, 1961, will remain an important day to the Pre-clinical students. This was their first day working in the hospital. The past weeks have been spent in comprehensive study. We're so happy to have them in nursing.

On Thursday, April 27, 1961, at St. Catherine Hall, St. Thomas School of Nursing, the graduates of 1961 will be presented with courtesy membership cards from the Tennessee Nurses Association, District No. 3.

Our sincere sympathy goes out to Laura and Lorna Holly in the recent death of their mother.

Up Down Campus And The

By BERTHA WAY KING

Above the green grass carpet, dogwood, redbud, and flowering crab trees swayed in a symphony of beauty, attired in formal dress. . . . And pansy faces nodded approval at the spic and span look given the campus on Clean-up Day. . . . To Marie Sandborn the sound of a lawnmower is a happy sound and a sound of spring. . . . Terry Reilly spends spare time looking for four-leaf clovers. . . . Just why Ralph Meglemre carries baby oil around was answered in that "it helps to make good bacteria grow on hair." . . . The "remains" of Margaret Woodruff's starch and stripes found their way into a waste basket when Margaret's nursing time was up. Her sister, Mary Gill, and friends caught her unawares on Medical Wing. . . . Isabelle Altenbrun realized after three and a half years of a stiff collar, what collars in the "good old days" did to a man's neck. . . . Nelda Ackerman moaned, "There goes my dinner," when she discovered that her mother, Mrs. Vest, and friend, Geneva Owens, were spending a shopping day in town and letting her hunt another eating place. . . . Charles MacMillan was going to be very disastrous, so he said, as he left to go to the Disaster Nursing Course in Nashville. . . . A girl in blue, Mary Traynor, on temporary work in the Linen Room, along with other classmates will begin those shaky first days of a "Probie." . . . The nursing days and nursing hours will add up until at last their instructors will nod approval of their nursing care.

Alumni News

Shirley Hancock, Class of '59, writes of her interesting work in the 18-bed hospital at Okechobee, Florida, where she is night supervisor. She says she's glad for the good, thorough training she received at Madison. She also tells of the marriage of Pat Wells, Class of '59.

Elder and Mrs. R. E. Stewart, both Class of '58, have been spending a month with their daughter Violet, Class of '50, and family in McKeesport, Pennsylvania. While there they welcomed a new grandson, Gerald Thomas Lang, born April 1.

Future Events

- April 21, Vespers—Elder Francis Soper
- April 22, Sabbath—Elder Scully
- April 22, Sat. night—Temperance Orations. Awards for Orations, Jingles, Posters
- April 24, Chapel—Robert Morris, Hospital Administrator
- April 26, Chapel—Class Meetings
- April 28, Vespers—Elder Hillier, Highland Academy
- April 29, Sat. night—Douglas Williams, Marimbit
- May 1, Chapel—Charles Martin, El Reposo Sanitarium, Florence, Alabama
- May 3, Chapel—Dr. Gilbert Johnson, Radiologist, Madison Sanitarium and Hospital
- May 5, Vespers—President Davidson
- May 6, Sat. night—Senior Benefit
- May 8, Chapel—ASMC
- May 10, Chapel—Mrs. Eusey, Secretarial Department

Your Roving Reporter

By Elaine Ferris

In any institution or among any group of people there must be a governing or guiding body, working in harmony with the principles upheld by the institution. At Madison College the Student-Teacher Council is such a guiding body.

Oftentimes questions arise concerning the exact duties and powers vested in this group. Just exactly what are the legislative powers of the Student-Teacher Council in relation to the rest of the student body? I have asked the following students what they think the powers of this council should be.

Betty Miller: "I feel that all the students of the college are indirectly connected with this group and that when any issue of importance is voted upon, the entire student body should have a voice in it. This procedure would give the student body more of a part in it."

Becky Crittenden: "When problems arise on the campus, or there is a vacancy to be filled, this council is called upon to suggest a solution to the problem or to fill the vacancy. Really, what the council actually does is to suggest rather than decide among themselves. In this way the students have a part in it."

Glenda Sheffield: "If the students would attend, they could see that their best interests are in mind. The Student-Teacher Council is not just a select group, but is open for all who so desire to attend. When there is something in particular a student would like to see done, all he needs to do is go to the meeting and suggest his idea."

Sandra Johnson: "I feel that the Student-Teacher Council is a very good organization for the student. It is more of a suggesting body than a governing body and always has the students' best interests at heart. It promotes better student-faculty relationships. Also it helps inform the students of what is going on in the school and makes them feel they are a part of it too."

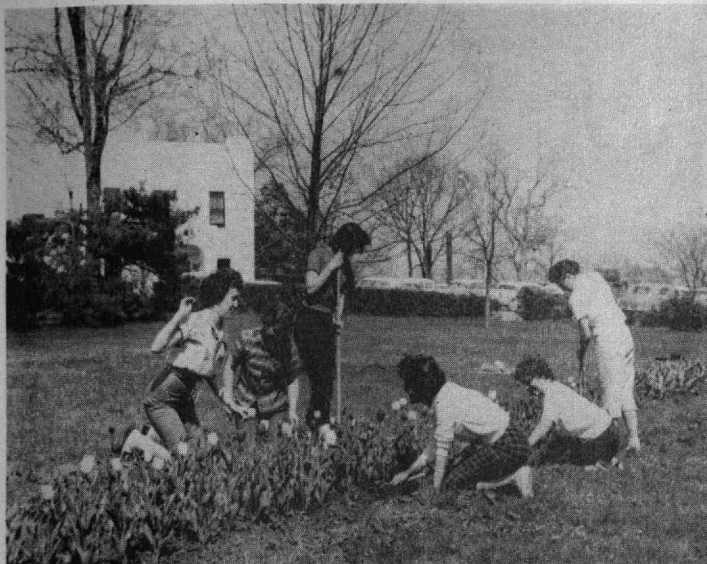

Eddie Barton: "I think the Student-Teacher Council is a very good thing. The students may make suggestions when they see fit, or if they disapprove of some suggestions, they have the right to reject them. This council is definitely a very good thing and more interest should be taken in it by the students."

Roger Bradley: "I think if recommendations or suggestions to the faculty are made by the students, then these suggestions should be carefully considered before they are rejected. The function of this council, if carried on properly, is very worthwhile."

The above opinions show that most of the students are in favor of this body and feel that its function is more of a guiding one

(Continued on page 3)

Campus Gets Spring Cleaning

Alice Sheffield, Esther Kowalski, Nancy Eusey, Margie Lofton, Carolyn Combs, and Mrs. Don Martin work in the tulip bed in front of the Sanitarium

Madison enjoyed a perfect spring day on Tuesday, April 11, for its annual "spring cleaning," more accurately known as Campus Beautification Day.

Teachers and students donned work clothes and trimmed lawns and hedges, planted flower gardens, graded rough spots on the campus, washed windows, and worked around the farm area, even to the cleaning of Mr. Coon's egg houses.

Student foremen were in charge of the work groups. Lorraine Fields was chairman of the activities of the day.

Supper was served outside, at the end of a successful day of hard work, and hungry workers ate their fill.

As a reward for the faithful toilers, a film was shown Thursday evening.

Group Attends Tri-State Youth Meeting

Six students and teachers from Madison College represented the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference at a Tri-Conference Youth Rally held April 14 and 15 at Huntington, West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob W. Silver, Wilma Keller, Lydia Zaft, Mary Lou Sullins, Sue Cuthbert, and Marilyn Sandborn participated in the rally. The trumpet trio—Mrs. Silver, Sue Cuthbert, and Marilyn Sandborn—played, Wilma Keller and Lydia Zaft told of Operation Bedside, and most of the group participated in a skit showing the influence of the Southern Union Youth Evangelism project, "Tell Ten."

New Arrivals

To Ruben and Pat (Gaulding) Perales, a boy, Kerry Dale, born March 16, weight, 6 pounds, 4½ ounces.

To Benjamin and Jacque (Kunau) Orso, a girl, Wisa Ahuena, born April 11, weight, 6 pounds, 6 ounces.

Vick & Ferguson Lumber Co.

Lumber—Hardware—Paint

Phone CO 2-6971

Students Take Part in Banquet Program

Three Madison students—Verne Miller, Elpedio Laurel, and Arthur Mabaquiao—participated in the program given at the Mother-Daughter Banquet of the Giles County High School in Pulaski, Tennessee, on Tuesday evening, April 4. The theme of the program was Hawaii.

In true Hawaiian fashion, leis were placed on the shoulders of the guests as they entered. Elpedio Laurel, from Hawaii, presented a short talk on the traditions and customs of Hawaii. A new student, Arthur Mabaquiao, from the Philippines, sang "My Country, the Philippines." Verne Miller told the group about Madison College.

Roving Reporter—from p. 2

rather than a "judiciously domineering" one with all our best interests and welfare in mind.

K FURNITURE COMPANY

THE BEST QUALITY
WITH THE LOWEST PRICES
EASY TERMS FOR EVERYONE
UPTOWN—MADISON

Phone TW-5-3193

Nashville Area Youth Join in Rally

Madison College students joined other youth from the Nashville area in a youth rally held at the Nashville First Church on Sabbath afternoon, April 8, and a social evening at the Field House in Centennial Park on Saturday night.

The theme of the rally was the Southern Union youth project—Tell Ten Evangelism. Elder Cummings, MV leader for the Southern Union, and Elder Ted Graves, Georgia-Cumberland youth leader, gave reports of the project in other parts of the Union.

Five Madison students were interviewed: Fred Hooberry, on his experience in deciding to be baptized; Juan Anglada, on his giving Bible studies to Pedro Perez, which resulted in his baptism a few weeks ago; and Lydia Zaft, Wilma Keller, and Kay Forrester, concerning Operation Bedside, the student nurse community project.

After the Sabbath the young people met at Centennial Park, where the College Band presented a program. Group games concluded the social evening.

Lecture Shows Work Of Roman Hierarchy

Elder C. A. Reeves, world traveler and evangelist, at present a teacher at Southern Missionary College, presented his lecture, "What I Saw in Rome," illustrated with colored slides, on Saturday night, April 15.

Elder Reeves held the interest of his large audience as he told of the workings of the Roman hierarchy and showed pictures illustrating historical events and places from the early days of Christianity to the present time.

The Bible Conference to be held at Asheville, North Carolina, is drawing nearer. Wednesday evening, April 19, Madison College and Academy students will be leaving, in time for the opening of the conference the next day. The theme of the conference is "Practical Godliness." Its purpose is to help the religious leaders among the students of our academies and colleges to become really acquainted with Christ.

The following students will go to the conference from Madison College: Wilma Keller, Grace Dow, Kay Forrester, Sue Vestal, Joe Fields, Prestley Lowery, Henry Scoggins, Terry Troy, Maggie Harms, and Angel Jimenez.

Representing the academy will be Joel Craw, Vaughn Jennings, Ronald Koury, Mabel Kowalski, Fred Schwarz, Janice Thomson, Loretta Courter, Eva Campbell, Evelyn Barham, and David Reams.

School of Appliance Service Graduates 10

Ten candidates for graduation from the Madison College School of Appliance Service were awarded certificates of graduation by President Davidson on March 16.

Those graduating from the course were Elmer W. Fast, Daniel Hoskinson, William E. Dunnivant (now at Pine Hill Sanitarium), Lloyd L. Fitch, Clarence Twombly, Ramey O. Good, Harold E. Durr, David C. Blankenhorn, A. H. Face, and Donald Thrall. Mr. Thrall has been hired by the Sanitarium to care for all their air-conditioning, refrigeration, and appliances.

This course is a one-quarter intensive course, consisting of 44 hours weekly spent in class instruction and laboratory work, or actual on-the-job training. This training consists of dismantling, reassembling, rewiring, readjusting certain parts, refinishing, cleaning, and testing the completed work.

Emphasis is given to the three major types of appliances—ranges, washers, and refrigerators. Understanding these will enable an appliance serviceman to repair the rest.

This course helps young people to become prepared quickly for their lifework. It has been pointed out that a man can move into the country with his family, have no difficulty concerning Sabbath work, and be engaged in a work that offers opportunity to witness for one's faith and win souls.

Any who are interested are asked to write to Mr. Homer R. Lynd, Madison College, Madison, Tennessee. The cost of the course is $300 for tuition, laundry, room, and board. Books, tools, and uniforms are extra. Most of the tools are those a handyman would already have.

The MV officers were happy to show their new offices to visitors at the ASMC Open House on April 10. The completely remodeled room is furnished with blond furniture so generously donated by Mr. J. W. Gepford, through Jim Reeves.

For the occasion the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference office sent lovely pink and white gladiolas to add to the beauty of the room.

The funds to pay for this office were partially raised when the film, "A Man Called Peter" was shown.

One of the main uses of the new room will be to furnish a place for the materials used in Operation Bedside.

COMING EVENTS

April 22—Temperance Weekend
April 29—Music Festival, Highland Academy
May 6—Reports from Bible Conference

Hi-School Hi-Lites

STAFF

Editor—Sylvia Mitzelfelt
Associate editor—Judy Ball
Circulation—Sandra Lee, Marietta Andrus, Emily Titsworth, Laneta Scoggins

Senior Sketches

Ronny Sullivan

This five-foot, six-inch-tall senior boy with clear blue eyes and brown hair is full of surprises. His seemingly quiet nature and shyness are only a cover for his genuine full-of-funness. Ronny is well liked by all of his classmates and has a cooperative attitude which is hard to beat. He claims the bluegrass state of Kentucky as his home, although he has lived here for the past three years.

Pet peeve: "Girls that are prissy"

Hobby: Fishing, hiking, and roller-skating

Favorite food: Cherry ice cream, cherry milkshakes

Ambition: "To be the president of Fort Knox"

Emily Titsworth

Five feet, seven inches tall, Emily, who has blue eyes and dark red hair, comes to us from the state of New York. She is a very friendly and cheerful senior who loves being friends with not only her fellow students but also her teachers. Besides her regular school activities, Emily also sings in the Academy Choir.

Pet peeve: "People who don't cooperate with teachers, etc."

Hobby: Listening to music, ice skating, and traveling

Favorite food: Pizza, spaghetti, and milk shakes

Ambition: To be a nurse

Susie Valentine

Attractive five-foot, two-inch-tall Susie, with green eyes and pretty red hair, also hails from the state of Kentucky. She is very well known for her sense of humor, which is indescribable. She finds life quite interesting and spreads smiles wherever she goes. This is her second year at Madison, and she is anxiously awaiting the end of school.

Pet peeve: "Campus monitors"

Hobby: Traveling

Favorite food: Chocolate pie

Ambition: To be a secretary

Madison Academy Seniors have their picture taken in front of the Capitol. Standing, left to right: Emily Titsworth, Claudia Kunau, Evelyn Barham, Mary Chisenhall, Joan Aitken, Eva Campbell, Mrs. Silver, the guide, Mr. Kepinger, Mary Sommerville, Gerri Schlenker, Sylvia Mitzelfelt, Susie Valentine, Betty Lea, Donna Chalmers, Jo Ann Houser, Judy Ball. Seated: Paul Johnson, Carl Adkins, Clint Hooper, John Aitken, David Reams, Robert Florida, David Martin, Ronny Sullivan, Jim Roberts, Gerald Sell

Voices Picked for Music Festival

Twenty voices have been picked to attend the Annual Music Festival which will be held April 28-30 at Highland Academy. The group has been diligently working at learning the music to be presented by the combined groups from all the academies in the Southern Union.

Besides the picked group, eight alternates have been chosen to replace any regulars in case of illness. Those chosen consist of the following:

Claudia Kunau, Sylvia Mitzel-

felt, Eva Gill, Donna Chalmers, Arlene Blackburn, Marietta Andrus, Gerri Schlenker, Jo Ann Houser, Joann Malmede, Juanita Kunau, Jo Ann Young, Linda Brashears.

Bobby Bowes, Tom Young, David Martin, Mac McCrillis, Jim Herman, Donnie Watson, Larry Bowes, Jim Auge.

Alternates: Mary Wiersma, Joan Aitken, Sandra Lee, Caroline Kowalski, Tommy Wedel, John Aitken, Ed Reid.

Alternate for band: Lawrence Evans. S.M.

Campus Chatter

April, with its showers, is here, but the showers last week did wait till after our Clean-up Day. Jim Herman seemed to enjoy putting Claudia Kunau's jacket in the tree. . . . Carl Adkins and Caroline Kowalski were involved in quite a few chases across the recreational area. . . . David Martin and Janice Thomson were apparently engaged in a few grass battles. . . . Nellie Campbell was almost the only girl in her group again. . . . David Reams, with the help of friends, succeeded in placing a few girls in the middle of the lily bed. . . . All in all, though, we did work and the campus was improved. . . . The seniors as well as others are looking forward to College Days and meeting many new acquaintances. . . . Judy Ball is now recuperating from a tonsillectomy. . . . The '60-'61 juniors are engaged in the annual task-collecting dues before the junior-senior picnic. . . . Laneta Scoggins is excited about a trip to Ozark Academy in Arkansas. . . . Richard Blankenship, Donnie Watson, and Larry Bowes apparently enjoyed the flat-rate supper Tuesday evening.

"NEXT TO YOUR DOCTOR—YOUR DRUGGIST"

TW-5-3791

PUGH'S PHARMACY

Western Auto

HOME OWNED AND OPERATED
CARL HARRIS
Madison, Tennessee

Compliments of
Madison Square Shopping Center
Merchants Association

Complete One-Stop Shopping Facilities

Free Parking For 10,000 Customers

"Everything is on the Square—
At Madison Square"