Graduating Classes Present New Program Clock to College

The graduates of 1962, recalling the "bell troubles" of the past, have given the college a new Simplex program unit. This unit will guarantee orderly scheduling of classes. The master clock unit includes a seven-day calendar device providing automatic silencing of signals during unwanted periods. Another interesting factor is that new schedules may be quickly and easily set. Switches are provided on all three circuits for independent manual operation of each program circuit.

With the three-circuit unit it will be possible to set up a separate bell system for the elementary, secondary, and college, should the need arise. The graduates of 1962 are to be commended for this fine, practical, and badly needed gift.

MV Officers Enjoy 3-day Retreat

By REBECCA CULPEPPER

Beautiful sunrises over a calm lake, the briskness of the early morning air, the songs of birds and varied sounds of nature were but a few of the features of God's great out-of-doors that were enjoyed by the MV officers at their retreat held at Indian Creek Camp over the weekend of July 12-15.

At the discussion groups held at least twice daily many important plans were made for the college MV society this coming year. Wayne Bolan, MV leader, led the discussions. The officers all expressed a wholehearted desire to make this next year the greatest year yet for witnessing for Christ on our campus and off.

The new motto for the coming year is "Countdown for Heaven." Missionary Volunteers will be hearing more about plans made during the retreat as the officers present these plans during the first meetings of the new school year.

There was also time for water skiing, swimming, boating during the day and at night under the stars, with Mr. Zeigler leading out in the star studies.

The officers appreciated the help of the camp rangers—two students from Southern Missionary College, who joined in the discussions and the activities.

The discussions and the Sabbath services were held in the amphitheater overlooking the lake.

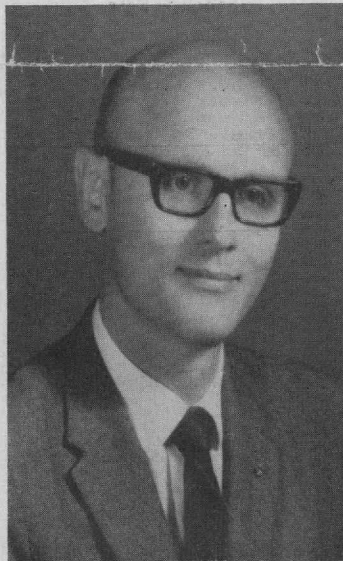

Those who attended the retreat were the following: Wayne and Betty Bolan, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gulley and children, Mr. and Mrs. James Zeigler, Pat Ricks, Frances McKee, Carolyn Cothren, Rebecca Culpepper, Eva Campbell, Ruth Gill, Charlotte Comer, Jim Wagner, Walter Hileman, and Elias Lopez (with Amelia joining him on Sabbath).

Student Missionary Spends Busy Summer at Chiapas, Mexico

A recent letter from John Bryant, Madison College student missionary to Mexico, lets his friends know what a busy man he is. The MADISONIAN shares with its readers some extracts from John's letter:

Physical Therapist Joins Hospital Staff

Mr. C. B. Rayburn, registered physical therapist from Loma Linda, has joined the staff of Madison Hospital and Sanitarium.

As the hospital plans for the future, with the construction of the new hospital building, much attention is being given to adequate facilities in physical therapy, according to Mr. Robert Morris, administrator. "One of the first steps has been to secure a qualified individual," he adds, "who is well qualified to guide in the formation of the new department."

Mr. Rayburn attended La Sierra College and Loma Linda University, from which he received his degree in physical therapy. His affiliation took him into five different hospitals, where the emphasis was on different types of rehabilitative therapies. His specialized training has been in the fields of low back injuries, psychiatric patient problems, spinal injuries, polio and stroke cases, orthopedic problems, and medical ailments, with special attention to tuberculosis cases.

Following his affiliation, Mr. Rayburn joined with the Oregon State Industrial Accident Commission.

The hospital staff realizes that Mr. Rayburn's service here at Madison will be a definite asset to the medical staff, as well as to the community. Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn and their three children are now living on the campus.

"I am doing just about everything you can imagine—from digging ditches to assisting in operations. I even filled my own tooth. I guess I have to practice on somebody.

"Most of the surgery here is around fiesta time when everybody in the tribe gets drunk; then they start cutting themselves up with their knives. We have about three or four a week like that now. Fiesta is at different times for each town, so we are in business the year round.

"Not long ago a priest stood on the road above our establishment and put a curse on us, but the Lord has blessed us more than ever as the word is spreading of our work here. The governor of the state is a medical doctor himself and he sends many people out here who are quite well-to-do.

"I am teaching some classes in O. R. technique. They put me in charge of surgery as far as setting up and scheduling goes. I am working on a more efficient way to set up and have everything ready to go when needed.

"I am sure glad I did not ride that motorcycle down here; these roads are really something. The gas is not too good either. We are constantly draining the sediment bowls on the cars and trucks."

John, junior nurse at Madison Hospital and Sanitarium, was appointed student missionary this spring by the MV society. He has been spending the summer at the Yerba Buena Mission with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Comstock.

The Madison College Elementary Summer School, sponsored by the College Department of Education, held Open House on August 9 for interested parents and friends.

Nature Study Is Theme of Exhibits

As the guests arrived, Gary Herman welcomed them, gave them programs, and directed them to the first classroom. Here Miss Margaret Ridler was in charge, and Wayne Miller and Gary Brown told about the tree displays. Exhibits included bark specimens, pine cones, tree notebooks with pressed leaves, and books and pictures about trees. Appropriate background music was furnished by Sherry Johnson at the record player.

Karen Blankenship escorted the visitors from this room to the punch bowl, where Brackey Engle, Robbie Johnson, Sheila Grant, and Judy Guinn served them.

Ricki Castelow led the way to the bird room; here they were greeted by Mrs. Juanita Smith. David Miller and Pat Miller showed the display of bird nests, notebooks, and bird books, and introduced Sparky, the first-grade's parakeet, Judy Guinn's parakeets, Reuben and Rachel, and Gary Brown's pet sparrow hawk he had raised from babyhood.

Susie Rojas directed her guests to the next room, where they were greeted by Miss Carolyn Heer, who introduced them to Lester Turner and Dennis Johnson. The boys called attention to the realistic paper mache beehive and the flying bees made from peanuts and yarn. On the blackboards were displayed creative art productions of the children. In the opposite end of the room Miss Evelyn Aitken introduced Donnie Clark and Eddie Hogan, who explained how the children had made the stuffed raccoons, rabbits, dogs, the whale, and the elephant, and introduced Cindy, Pat Miller's German shepherd dog; Fido, David and Wayne Miller's puppy; and Brackey Engle's turtle.

The tour finished, Michael Ackerman asked the guests to sign the guest register, and parents were invited by Michael Castelman to schedule a conference with the teachers.

Children Show Scholastic Gains

The major emphasis of the summer school was on strengthening the school subjects of reading, spelling, and arithmetic. Materials secured especially for this purpose included the Science Research Associates reading and spelling laboratories. Measurable gains of as high as two grade levels were made in certain areas during the eight weeks' session.

Student Teachers Assist

The summer program was directed by Mr. John E. Baker of the campus school. He was assisted by Mrs. Iris Harrel, teacher of grades 4 to 6 at the Highland Adventist School, and four student teachers who are under appointment to teach this fall. They are Miss Evelyn Aitken, who will teach at Jeffersonville, Indiana; Miss Margaret Ridler, who is returning to Paducah, Kentucky; Mrs. Juanita Smith, who will teach grades 3 to 7 at Cedar Grove, Tennessee; and Miss Carolyn Heer, who graduates August 18 with a degree in Elementary Education and who will teach at Henderson, Kentucky.

Students attending the summer school came from the Boulevard Adventist School, Neely's Bend Public School, Old Center Public School, Warner Public School, and Madison College Elementary School.
