Status-Quo at Madison

Doubtless, many have been wondering what is going on at Madison, and why they have not received their copy of MADISON SURVEY & ALUMNI NEWS. Since the situation has been changing, and new plans have been developing, we have been waiting to give you additional news, and always hoping it will be "good news."

We had been asked to wait until after Autumn Council in regard to our fund-raising campaign. On November 10, the NANI board met at Madison, and right after the board meeting Elder L. J. Leiske, chairman of the board, met with people on the campus in the chapel, and announced that the board had voted to sell 300 acres of the farm in order to raise money to build the new nursing school facility. This building would include rooms for 180 students, three classrooms, seven instructors' offices, and a library.

After hearing the decision that the farm would be sold, the alumni committee gave thought to forming a corporation and buying the farm, hoping to save it for future use. But it was soon learned that the farm was already sold.

It is quite necessary to restore an accredited school of nursing to staff the new hospital, one wing of which will be opened in February. Without the school of nursing, the hospital might be lost; and without the hospital, the school of nursing might be lost.

Two-Year Associate Degree in Nursing

The growing trend in nursing education today is toward the two-year Associate degree program. Three hundred junior colleges in the United States are waiting to offer this program. Tennessee is not offering any more hospital programs. Present plans are to offer the two-year program, beginning in September, 1965, with the first twelve months at SMC, and the second year on the Madison Extension campus. There will be a balance of nursing education and general education throughout both years. Mrs. Del Watson, associate chairman in charge of the Associate degree program at SMC, reports that interest is excellent in the nursing program, and that 168 people have expressed interest in coming to Madison.

In a recent count of the hospital beds in the Southern Union, it was learned that there are 1014 beds in denominational hospitals in the union. According to the 1964 ASI Directory, there are 1,132 beds in self-supporting hospitals and nursing homes, or a total of 2,146 beds in the Southern Union, and only one school of nursing at present. The Pacific Union Conference, with four schools of nursing, has 1,192 beds in denominational hospitals, and 639 beds in ASI hospitals and nursing homes, making a total of 1,831 beds. It can readily be seen that there is great need for more nurses' training in the Southern Union, the second largest union in membership (50,000) in North America.

Breakdown on Land Acreage

A recent report on the acreage at the Madison institution listed 124 acres for the campus; 53 acres in crops; meadow, 39 acres; pasture, 189 acres; woodland, 132 acres; orchard, 6 acres; roads, barnyard, and miscellaneous, 7 acres. Of the total of 578 acres, 300 were to be sold to raise money for the nursing building, leaving 278 acres.

Southern Union Offer

At the conclusion of a later meeting with alumni and conference officials, Elder Leiske threw out a challenge for any group to formulate plans for presentation to the board for taking over the entire institution and its operation (and debts)—college, hospital, and farm. Such a program would involve an outlay of over three million dollars.

1965 Homecoming, May 7-9

The 1965 Madison College Homecoming will be held over the week-end of Hospital Day, May 7-9. The new wing of the hospital will be completed and occupied before that time. Make plans now to come and fellowship with us.

At this writing we have heard of no "takers."

In a letter to several leaders on the Madison campus, Elder Leiske listed the liabilities as follows: (1) Madison College, $425,000; (2) Madison Foods, $325,000; (3) Madison Hospital, bond issue, $1,500,000; (4) finishing roads at hospital and equipment, $180,000; (5) additional wing at hospital, $600,000; (6) Nursing Education building, $250,000.

New Look on Campus

By E. L. MARLEY, *Chairman
Madison Academy Board*

The beautification and re-designing of the Madison campus has already begun. The new hospital is rapidly nearing completion, and a completely new entrance will be brought in from Neely's Bend Road just east of the Larkin Springs-Neely's Bend intersection. It is presently being surveyed, with road construction to begin immediately. Projecting off from this new entrance, which will come directly into the front of the new hospital, will be another road that will turn up toward the academy, joining with Sanitarium Drive through the site of the old King house, to form a new focal point to the academy campus directly in front of the assembly hall.

The entire campus is being landscaped and beautified, with new sidewalks. The upper floors of Williams Hall are being completely rebuilt inside. A new shopping center and a new apartment house are scheduled for construction in the near future.

Frank Judson has approached the academy board on leasing about 70 acres of farm land and buying the dairy herd. The board has given the request favorable consideration.

A picture of the complete campus layout will be sent to all the readers of the SURVEY within the next few months as you will be interested in the development and progress of the work at Madison. Within two years we are expecting the largest membership that Madison College Church has ever known.

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY
BERRIEN SPRINGS, MICHIGAN
HERITAGE ROOM

We want our alumni and friends to know that we have been trying our best to work in your interest and the interest of the Madison institution in the several crises that have faced us. Many prayers have ascended that God's will be done, and many hours have been spent in committees, correspondence, interviews, telephoning, and office work. Many feel that due to the population explosion and the overcrowded conditions of all Adventist colleges in America, Madison College will again open its doors to the youth of the Southland. For that day we ask our readers to join us with their prayers.

Southern Self-Supporting Workers Hold Annual Meeting at Fletcher

Representatives from a dozen or more self-supporting units in the South gathered for their annual meeting in October at Fletcher Academy and Mountain Sanitarium, instead of the usual meeting place at Madison where they had previously met for 53 consecutive years.

The keynote address was delivered on Thursday evening by Elder W. D. Frazee. He referred to Joshua 20 where the children of Israel were instructed to appoint cities of refuge. "Every school should be a city of refuge." (Ed. 293). He presented the challenge of the hour with this question, "What can be done to make our units more like cities of refuge?"

Elder Hugh Leggett, pastor of the Fletcher church, presented the devotional thoughts on Friday morning.

As usual the program was divided into three sections—Education, Agriculture, and Medical. (Dr. Sutherland's "three-legged stool").

Education Section

"Education for Today's Future" was the topic of Professor L. E. Nestell, principal of Fletcher Academy. He quoted a startling array of figures to show how knowledge has accumulated so fast that we can't keep up with the great blizzard of words published each year. Mankind today is confused as to the two trees. The tree of knowledge, so-called, has become the tree of death. We should teach our students to select wisely of the tree of knowledge.

L. L. Dickman, principal of Harbert Hills Academy, gave several convincing reasons why we need the self-supporting type of schools as conducted in the South. He pointed out that the cities are filled with contamination, and our schools need to be located in the country. The work-and-study program is the answer to 80 to 90 percent of our problems. The companionship and personal interest of Christian teachers is very helpful. These factors, combined with a simple program, are all important in character building.

Roger Goodge, of Little Creek, brought out thoughts on the ideal teacher. Teachers need to be fair, impartial, prompt, well prepared, cheerful, understanding, able to keep interest alive, and kindle a desire for learning.

Gordon Brown, Bible teacher and assistant principal of Fletcher, said that "tall leadership" was needed in our schools. He gave the enrollment at Fletcher Academy this year as 170, and 59 nursing students.

Agriculture Section

Chairman of the agriculture section, Roger Goodge, expressed the fear that we are falling down in the third leg of the three-legged stool.

Henderson County Agent Bennett and the assistant county agent, Earl Smith, had a prominent part in the program. The area around Fletcher is noted for heavy apple production. Mr. Smith showed slides. He spoke of the expanded program of the 4-H clubs, formerly only for farm children, but now taking in children in cities, and covering all phases of agricultural crafts. . . .

Medical Section

Dr. J. C. Gant, of Madison, was the chairman of the medical section. He quoted Dr. Sutherland as saying that the doctors should give character to the work, and that one doctor can put fifty people to work. He threw out the question, how can we doctors help the lay members engage in medical missionary work? Dr. Bayard Goodge of Little Creek, Dr. Jean Slate of Asheville, and Dr. Arthur Pearson of Fletcher, also spoke.

Spiritual Experiences Symposium

At the Friday evening meeting representatives of the units told thrilling experiences. Paul Dysinger of Pewee Valley, Louie Dickman of Harbert Hills, Dr. Rebman of Fletcher, Robert Santini of Pine Hill Sanitarium, Eugene Peeke of Little Creek, Robert Zollinger of Laurelbrook, and Petra Sukau, recently of Wildwood, were the main speakers.

Miss Sakau graduated from nursing at Madison in 1958. She spoke several times at the convention, relating her experiences while serving on the teaching staff of Rangoon Hospital in Burma, and before her conversion to Adventism when she was a Hitler youth leader in Germany. She related again her terrifying experience while in an internment camp, and how she escaped through the Black Forest. After returning to America from her term of service in Burma, she decided to go to Wildwood, where she is both student and teacher. They are about ready to start a medical mobile unit for the community, and Petra will be the "jeep nurse."

Elder F. A. Mote, affectionately known as "Uncle Fred," and genuinely interested in the self-supporting work, delivered an old-fashioned sermon at the eleven o'clock hour on Sabbath. He presented the text, "Arise and Shine," as the challenge of the hour.

Elder L. O. Coon of Greeneville, Tenn., spoke on Saturday night. He said his father was a self-supporting minister for 55 years. He had eight sons, five of whom became ministers. When asked why the other three did not become ministers, the reply was that they had to practice what the others preached.

Election of L.E.L. Officers

News from Yerba Buena ("Good Herb") Mission

From LLU Scope (Oct. 2, 1964) and the Yerba Buena News, Chiapas, Mexico, we learn of the annual Loma Linda University expedition which took place in August. A group of doctors, dentists, nurses, and teachers treated thousands in the jungles of Chiapas. Traveling by truck, oxcart, and by foot, three teams set up clinics in mountain areas near the Guatemala border. Del Ladner, graduate nurse from Madison, Class of 1962, was among the group.

The Yerba Buena Newsletter of August records the capping of six of the ten nursing students who are enrolled in the two-year nursing course at Chiapas. Dr. Hernandez, of the Health Department of the State of Chiapas, was a guest speaker. The caps were presented by four registered nurses on the staff, including Marie (Graham) Comstock ('36) and Nora Whited.

News From Valparaiso Clinic

Just over the Mexican border in Guatemala, we have another Madison medical missionary couple, DR. and MRS. HAROLD GRAVES. In their recent newsletter they tell of student missionary Bill Fagal of AUC (son of the Faith for Today Fagals), who spent his summer with the Graves family at the Valparaiso Clinic. While there, his parents, Elder and Mrs. William Fagal, came on a short vacation trip and took color movies for their television program.

Old M.C. Catalogs Needed

The Registrar's Office is endeavoring to complete its file of college catalogs or bulletins. If you have copies previous to 1909, and from 1910 to 1931, and would care to donate them, send them to Registrar's Office, Box 427, Madison College, Madison, Tenn. Catalogs received will be acknowledged.

Old Look Gives Way to New Look and Progress

Seven Old Buildings Removed

On October 27, the four small white cottages between Williams Hall and Sanitarium Drive were removed by Griffin Wrecking Co. A "traxcavator" (tractor-excavator) came at each defenseless building, shaking it like an angry cat with a mouse until the termite-eaten timbers yielded and the brick chimneys toppled. Debris was hauled away by truck. Within a few days Magan Home, the Nutrition building and Nebraska Cottage were also removed.

Although it was apparent that the old buildings had to go, there were some twinges of regret as precious memories were recalled by those who had found shelter in their walls in days of yore.

We are indebted to Dr. Frances Dittes and Mrs. Edna Face for the following information regarding the departed buildings as reported by Winifred Kelley and Barbara Brock.

Twenty buildings were erected on the campus during the years 1904-08. Among them were homes for the Sutherlands and the Magans and "Mother D. Lodge." The Sutherland home, built in 1904, stands just beyond the Science Building, but will be removed soon.

Magan Home Built in 1904

Magan Home was built in 1904. It was first located where Druillard Library now stands. Later it was moved to a spot just beyond Williams Hall and it housed several nursing students in recent years.

Mother D. Lodge—Hospitality Home

"Mother D. Lodge," the Druillard home built in 1904 or 1905, was the hospitality house of the campus. Many overnight and weekend visitors were accommodated there. It was first built near the present Lingham house and Layman Foundation and later moved across Sanitarium Drive near the Williams Hall parking lot.

"Nebraska Cottage" Built in 1909

Nebraska Cottage was built just before Ellen G. White came through on her way to General Conference in the summer of 1909. Dr. Sutherland was anxious that it be finished before her arrival. Prof. Magan, who had lived in Nebraska, gave a speech in this State about the necessity for buildings at Madison. Donations were called for and the money was raised. Sister White spoke in the building before many people soon after it was built, and participated in a small dedication service.

This cottage was built to house four students at a time, and later used for families. In 1925 Everett and Edith Moore moved in and made it their home for six years. The last people to live there were the Matthisons from Kentucky.

Nutrition Lab Used As Assembly Hall

The Nutrition Lab, also built in 1909, was the largest building to be removed. It was called Gotzian Hall when it was first built. Money for the building was given by Mrs. Josephine Gotzian, who became interested in the work when she was given treatment in one of our hospitals. She was an Adventist of means and was glad to give to the cause. Science classes were held in this building, along with dietitian classes. The Nutrition Lab was also used for morning and evening worship and chapel meetings. Sister White spoke to the workers and students in this building a number of times.

Sunshine Court and Cottages for Student Nurses

Cottages 12 to 15 were built just before World War I, around 1912-1915. This construction took place not long after Nebraska Cottage was built. (These cottages were in line with Williams Hall, built in 1941.) There were no bathroom facilities in these cottages and all the water had to be carried. It was felt that these buildings were a direct answer to prayer. The funds were collected by Prof. E. A. Sutherland and Dr. Percy Magan. About six years ago three of the cottages were made into apartments for families, and the cottage nearest Williams Hall was used as Senior Home for senior nursing students.

In 1935 one of the cottages burned, and in its place "Sunshine Court" was erected and used as a dormitory for nursing students. Mrs. Lida Scott donated the $5,000 to build this facility of ten separate buildings. Each building consisted of two large rooms with a stove in each, accommodating four students in each unit. Miss Florence Dittes, then director of nurses, was successful in drawing attention to the need of a home for her nurses. When Sunshine Court was built there were no bathroom facilities in each unit. One of the two-room units in the court was the utility and bath house. The houses in the court were moved about six years ago to the peach tree orchard, and known as the Peach Tree Apartments.

Future Plans

Before the new road to the hospital is completed, several more houses will be removed. The new road will come through from the corner of Neely's Bend and Larkin Springs toward the hospital and academy and branch off into three forks, one to the hospital, one to the emergency entrance, and one to the academy campus. The new proposed shopping center will be situated at the juncture of the branches.

Letters

Several interesting letters have been received from readers commending the alumni for printing the Open Letter in the July-August SURVEY.

Among them was one from GRANT TUTTLE of Valdosta, Georgia, who has been doing colporteur work and is now consulting engineer for Harris Pine Mills in Valdosta, Ga. His wife (Eva Francis Hall) is a church school teacher. The Tuttlés spent nine years on the staff at Little Creek. While there the school became noted for teaching students how to make their own violins, with Grant as teacher. His wife wrote the story as printed in the Youth's Instructor. He says, "My next fiddle will be Number 33." After writing he was thrilled to read the Open Letter, he continues:

"Although I never went to school at Madison a day in my life, I hereby declare myself an alumnus, anyhow, because the work at Madison has contributed greatly to my sojourn in life."

In another letter, Grant spoke of attending many of the annual self-supporting conventions at Madison. His brother, Horace Tuttle, is on the staff at Echo Valley Academy in Wytheville, Va.

"Thank you for the July-August SURVEY. It clears up questions in my mind, as the report had come that everything was closed on the Madison campus. I agree 100 per cent with the stand taken by the alumni executive committee as expressed in their Open Letter. I hope not a foot of the college farm will be sold, and that in the future the college will be reopened. Please keep sending the SURVEY to me." D. P. Harder, Proprietor, La Sierra Bookbindery, Arlington, Calif.

"Dear Friends of the Alumni Association:

"When we received our July-August issue of the SURVEY, our hearts were touched with the trials and apparently necessary changes in our dear school. Probably there are many others like us who have planned to send something to help with the burden Madison has and have kept putting it off until a more convenient time.

"Now it seems it has been divided into so many ways we hardly know what to do. It is still our school and we plan to help. To whom should we send our offerings? It seems the Alumni is taking the burden of seeing that the new dormitory is built; the nursing program is under the wing of SMC; the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference owns or operates a day academy; and the hospital has the rest of the campus . . . Is there hope that in the future the campus will again be reunited, or is this more or less permanent? . . .

"It is our wish that every former graduate, student, worker, or friend of Madison would make a real effort to send something to get our beloved school back in good standing again. She has done much for all of us. For some of us it is the only place that is home to us besides the place we now live." LOIS and LARRY CHEEVER ('54, '52), Winter Garden, Florida.

The following information regarding MARIE (Skadshiem) PAULSON is gleaned from a letter written by her brother Henry. Mrs. Paulson took one year of nurse's training at Hinsdale, and later finished the course at Madison (in 1928). "Then Mrs. Scott asked her to be her private nurse for nine weeks after surgery . . . She went to Lawrenceburg Sanitarium, where Marie was appointed as supervisor of nurses, and also to teach the church school. She worked for awhile at Washington Sanitarium, then went to Porter Sanitarium in Denver as one of the first nurses there. . . .

"To seek less strenuous work, she applied to the U.S. Indian Service, and worked in several government hospitals, till she was asked to do special duty as assistant to the head of the department of eye disease. She traveled with him and his wife for years to all the government hospitals for eye surgery. . . . To be near her parents and look after them, she took a job as supervisor of the government hospital at White Earth, Minn., until she resigned to take care of her parents for the past twelve years."

Harbert Hills in the News

A newspaper story of interest features Harbert Hills Academy in the Nashville Banner of Sept. 25, 1964, under title, "A Little School with a Big Purpose and an Even Bigger Heart." The news story, illustrated with three pictures, relates how the school was started in the early 1950's in a wilderness of forest land in Hardin County near Savannah, Tenn. Several hundred acres of the land were donated by the late Perry M. Harbert of Savannah.

Beginning with four teachers and four pupils, it has developed into a school with 42 dormitory students, 16 grade-school students, and five from the nearby Olive Hills community. Principal of the academy is L. L. Dickman ('55). A twenty-patient sanitarium, the Clara Ellis Hays home, is under construction.

W. E. Patterson, the founder, a former special agent for the Federal Government, is an honorary member of the Madison College Alumni Association and an honorary lifetime member of the U. S. Treasury Enforcement Agents Association.

Little Creek School, Yesterday & Today

The September 15, 1963, Youth's Instructor carries a delightful story of the early beginning of Little Creek School, near Knoxville, in 1940. The story centers around the pioneer founders, LELAND and ALICE (Goodge) STRAW, ('31, '36) who were both teaching music at Madison College when they decided to accept the challenge and start a unit. The author, Susan Rozell, is a former student of Little Creek.

From the Little Creek Newsletter, we learn that their new church-auditorium was dedicated on September 12. We also glean the following:

"We are going to try the new plan of concentrated study. All classes except Bible and Typing will be taught on the quarter plan. Achievement tests have been given before beginning, so we can test again at the end and compare the results with tests given on the regular program."

Additional Calls and Transfers

● Elder HORACE R. BECKNER, former president of Madison College, has accepted a call to serve as pastor of the Alhambra church in California. A farewell gathering was held for him and his wife in the cafeteria shortly before they left, and they were presented with a beautiful set of TV snack trays.

● DR. LEWIS J. LARSON ('38), former dean at Madison College, is professor of Education at Oakwood College in Alabama.

● ROBERT NORTHROP, formerly accountant in the Carolina Conference, who had been called to Madison College to serve in the same capacity, is under appointment to the Espirito Santo Conference in Brazil as treasurer. He and his family will be leaving the States around the first of the year.

● EDWARD BARTON ('64) and wife (LYDIA ZAFI, '62) have been asked by the mission board to go to Nairobi, Kenya, East Africa, where Eddie will teach missionaries' children.

● Mr. and Mrs. James Aikman have accepted a call to Faith for Today in New York City where he will be the manager of the printing department. Mr. Aikman has been serving in similar capacity at the Madison College Press, and Mrs. Aikman has been assistant to the registrar at Madison.

● Dr. THOMAS DAVIS, president of NASDAD (National Association of SDA Dentists) writes from Oreland, Pa.: "I attended Madison College back in 1940, and am keenly interested in the school. My name would be recorded as T. Austin Davis in the records there. At present I am President of NASDAD, have practiced in suburban Philadelphia for 11 years, and have two children."

David Martin Visits Madison

David Martin visited Madison and his parents in September on his way back to Angwin, Calif., after completing his assignment as student missionary of the year for PUC. He spent the summer in Pakistan teaching science classes and setting up a laboratory at Pakistan Union School. His trip took him around the world. David took all four of his academy grades and two years of college at Madison before going to P.U.C. to enroll as a premedical student. He plans to be a missionary doctor. During his last year at Madison he was president of the ASMC.

Madisonite missionaries who sat on platform with David Martin, student missionary to Pakistan:

BACK ROW: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Oakes, Africa; Miss Sheila Roberson, East Africa; Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Bottsford, South America; Elder and Mrs. R. E. Stewart, Philippines; Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Larson, India; Elder and Mrs. O. N. Hegstad, Alaska (when it was a mission); Miss Alto Philo, Korea.

SEATED: Elizabeth Larson, India; Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Webber, Japan; Elder Fred Wilson, Africa; David Martin, student missionary to Pakistan; the Robert Northrop family (under appointment to Brazil).

Class of '17

● VERA HONEYCUTT ('17) is living in Paris, Tenn., and is caring for her mother, Mrs. T. F. Dortch, who is 97 years old. She writes: "I owe a lot to the training I got at Madison and am anxious for it to be back on an accredited basis."

● Dr. J. C. JOHANNES and wife, WINIFRED GODSHALK ('17), are now in Okinawa. They pioneered the medical work at three places in India. He also served in hospitals in Burma, Pakistan, and Ethiopia. Following World War II he reopened the medical work in Burma, and established our hospital in Rangoon. Forced to return to the States for a time because of his wife's health, he practiced at St. Helena S-H until he recently responded to the call for service at the Adventist Medical Center in Okinawa.

Class of '20

● ETHEL MAY HILDERBRANDT ('20), wife of a retired colporteur, wrote from Saraland, Ala: "It was early one morning in November 1918, when I arrived on the campus of N.A.N.I. In the early years of the 20th century my friends, Andrew Wheeler, his wife, and Eva Wheeler attended Sabbath services held for SDA's living in Montgomery County, Kansas. A brother and a sister, Olive, were with those who helped start Madison school . . . I was in training when the SURVEY began to be published."

Class of '23

● "I am retired after working for United States Steel for 30 years. I attend the Youngstown SDA church, teach a Bible class, and am local elder. I was well acquainted with Dr. Sutherland, "Mother D," Bessie DeGraw, Brother Roby, and all the old timers there at Madison. I hope to visit Madison in 1965." W. F. BENTON ('23).

Class of '26

● After a lapse of 25 years from nursing, busy with her family, MILDRED (Boynton) BREUCKER ('26), wrote that she is now a staff nurse at the University of Michigan Student Health Service Infirmary, in Ann Arbor, Mich..

Class of '27

● LEROY HUNTER ('27) is a staff nurse at Kettering Memorial Hospital in Ohio. His wife is the former Ina Hickey. They have one daughter, Lois. LeRoy is a brother of Elder Don Hunter, president of the Pennsylvania Conference.

Class of '31

● After her husband died (in 1960), EMIE DEE (Birdwell) WALLEN ('31), started back to nursing in a rest home in Keene, Texas, for the first time in 30 years.

● GOLDIE R. LAFOLLETTE ('31), has worked with U.S. Public Health Service in Indian Health, and as a supervisor in General hospitals in California, Colorado, Arkansas, and New Mexico. She is presently employed at Carrie Tingley Hospital, and Orthopedic Hospital in Truth or Consequences, N. M. She has a son Wilson and a daughter Iva Ruth (Mrs. Payne).

Class of '36

● HAZEL (McConnell) FAUDI ('36), says she and husband, MARVIN ('36), are still working at the large neuro-psychiatric VA hospital in Waco. The Faudis have one son, Marvin, who is in the army in what is called the "Whitecoat" program in the medical corps. They visited Madison and MILDRED (Gleason) JOHNSON ('36), in September, and were happy to see the new hospital making good progress. "We pray that Madison's very best days are ahead."

Class of '39

● HERBERT HEWITT ('39) is the new principal of Collegedale Academy. He has been engaged in educational work for a number of years, and was in pastoral work in New Orleans more recently. He holds the master's degree in education from the University of Arkansas. His wife (VERA NOSS) is also a graduate of Madison, Class of '41. The Hewitts have two children—Carol, a nurse at Loma Linda; and Fred, a sophomore at SMC.

● An attractive circular advertising Myrtle Dale Hot Springs at Calistoga, Calif., has been received in the alumni office from DR. and MRS. R. E. WELCH ('39). This new type of health institution emphasizes the modalities of healing as presented in the Spirit of prophecy, plus scientific medical diagnosis. Dr. Welch received his M.D. from Loma Linda in 1944. His wife (Yvonne Bush) is a former student at Madison. They have four children.

Class of '50

● Dr. ORVILLE R. THOMPSON ('50), until recently OB-specialist at LLU in the School of Medicine, is now OB-GYN specialist in the new St. Helena Sanitarium and Hospital Medical Group. His wife was Mary Van Campen when at Madison. The Thompsons have six children. They are now living at Calistoga, Calif.

● Dr. BRYAN MICHAELIS ('50), formerly at Little Creek, has rejoined his brother, Dr. CHARLES MICHAELIS ('42) in Fredericktown, Mo. The two doctor brothers are both natives of Missouri. Dr. Bryan was an instructor in the Physiology Department at CME for five years. His wife (MYRTRUDE PIERCE) was a student at Madison. She is a daughter of Dorothy Graves Pierce, of Doniphan, Mo., who was one of the earliest students of Madison, having attended school in 1909-10 when there were only twelve students here.

Class of '51

● JEANETTE SEGO ('51), formerly head of Ladies' Hydro at Madison S-H, has retired and moved to St. Louis where her sister is living.

● CECIL KNOTT ('51) is an anesthetist at Memorial Mission Hospital in Asheville, N. C. His wife (Marie Pfeifle) is teaching English literature at nearby Mt. Pisgah Academy.

● EDWIN EVERETT, a former Madison student, is an osteopathic physician practicing in Riddle, Ore. Dr. Everett's wife (Lorraine Erhardt, '51) is working in his office. They have two children, Lawrence and Rosleen.

Class of '52

● DR. and MRS. WILLIAM LUBKE have moved from Royal Oak, Mich., to Claremont, Calif., where Dr. Lubke has opened his new office for OB-Gyn patients. Mrs. Lubke (Ramona Seath, '52) says she is busy being a wife and mother to Debra Lee, Billy, and Mark.

Class of '53

● PHYLLIS RIGGENBACH ('53), writes that she is a nurse-anesthetist at Gadsden County Hospital, Quincy, Fla., and husband MELVIN ('52), is a radiation safety officer at Florida State University. The Riggenbachs live in Tallahassee, and have two children, Donny and Debby.

Class of '54

● JESUS VEGA-LOPEZ ('54) is a senior medical student at LLU. He was formerly a lab technician at Madison S-H, and received his M.A. at Peabody. The Vegas have four children—Keith, Teresa, David, and Eric. His wife is the former Opal Lawry.

KEO WEEGAR ('54) has been operating room nurse at Sioux Valley Hospital, Sioux Falls, S.D., for two years. She plans to take anesthesia.

Class of '55

● RUBY SYKES POST ('55), teacher in the Paris, Tennessee church school, was the leader in the first Vacation Bible School held in that city this summer.

Class of '56

● MAXINE PAGE ('56) is finishing her Master's degree in Nursing at LLU, and has been asked to serve on the teaching faculty of the School of Nursing there in the area of Medical-Surgical Nursing, beginning Jan. 1, 1965 until July, 1965.

● LORIN MIXON ('56) received his B.S. in Elementary Education at SMC at the summer graduation. He was the president of the summer class. Presently he is principal of the Pine Crest School in Mocksville, N. C. His wife (VELMA STEWART, '52) is the director of nurses at the Davie County Hospital in Mocksville, where she supervises the activities of thirty nursing personnel. The Mixons have four boys—Mike, Mark, Marty, and Myron.

Class of '57

● DORIS THOMPSON ('57) is a supervisor at Florida S-H.

● DANA (Dale) SLATER is teaching 26 children in a church school, grades 1-3, in Arvada, Colo. She attended Madison College two years, and was at SMC her senior year. While at Madison she worked in the Alumni and SURVEY office. Her husband, Herbert, is the son of MRS. INEZ SLATER, a nursing graduate of 1957.

Class of '58

● Captain JACK GIBBONS is on the staff of Fitzsimmons Army Hospital in Denver, Colo., and has a unit of 200 nurses and orderlies under him. He is working on his Master's degree at the University of Colorado. Before moving to Denver, Jack was director of nursing service at Walker Memorial Hospital, Avon Park. His wife is the former Nancy Fields. They have three children.

Class of '59

● JEAN OPENSHAW ('59) writes from Vancouver 16, B. C., Canada: "Greetings from Western Canada! It has been nearly five years since I left good ol' Madison. Many things have happened since then. I worked in a doctor's office up until February, 1964, when I had to have an operation on my left humerus. It wasn't very funny, I can assure you. I fell and broke it lengthwise while playing badminton. I was in a spika (or aeroplane) cast for fifteen weeks. Now I am completely recovered, and am now working in a private hospital as a graduate nurse, and would like to get my B. C. registration."

● Mr. and Mrs. BOB KURZYNSKE spent two weeks in Ecuador for their summer vacation. They visited college classmates who are missionaries there. Mrs. Kurzynske is the former Mary Peek, class of 1959 at Madison.

Class of '60

● RONALD SCHMALE ('60) is a medical technologist at McKay Memorial Hospital in Soap Lake, Wash. This hospital was formerly a government hospital treating Veterans with Burgher's disease, but now operating as a general hospital with an attached nursing home. The Schmales have two children — Rhonda and Donna. Ronald's wife (JUNE DAVIDSON, '61) enjoys having her twin sister Joan nearby. Her husband, Charles Rouse, is lab and X-ray technician and ambulance driver at Grand Coulee Dam Hospital.

● ALICE (Surdahl) ANDERSON ('60), worked at Porter Memorial Hospital in Denver previous to her marriage in 1962, as team leader and medicine-nurse combination then as head nurse on the medical floor. After marriage she has been working in a small community hospital part-time as head nurse. She says that she will always be grateful for the training she received at Madison, and that the responsibility the students had to carry did much to help them make adjustments after graduation.

● DORIS DELVIN ('60) writes from Spencer, Okla.: "We live in Oklahoma City now, and have two little boys. Bob is working on his M.S. in medical microbiology, and I have almost finished my M.A. degree in Psychology. I work in a hospital two days a week. We think of you often, and would love to live in Tennessee again."

● BILL SANDBORN ('60) is in his fourth year of medicine at LLU. His wife is the former MARIE KING ('61). They have two children — William Jeffery and Michael Todd.

Class of '62

● ROY C. WILKIN ('63) is now a dentist, practicing in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. After leaving Madison Dr. Wilkin received his Bachelor's degree from PUC, and his DDS from LLU.

Class of '64

● STEPHEN MARLOW ('64) is a staff member at Laurelbrook Sanitarium, Dayton, Tenn.

● FRANK JOHNSON ('64) is a nurse-anesthetist at Warren County Hospital, McMinnville, Tenn.

● RUTH GILL ('64) is pursuing further education, looking forward to receiving her BS degree at CUC next spring, and meanwhile is working two shifts at the Washington S-H.

● Mr. and Mrs. DON MARTIN and baby Connene Marie are located at Sheyenne River Academy in North Dakota, where Mr. Martin is teaching math and science. Mrs. Martin (Cecile Hoyt) is a graduate nurse of the class of '64.

● DOROTHY (McLELLAN) BENSON ('64) received her R.N. from the Florida S-H in 1955 and finished anesthesia at Madison in 1964. She is now working at the 50-bed Spruce Pine Community Hospital in North Carolina. Spruce Pine is located 55 miles northeast of Asheville. Her sister-in-law, TINA BENSON-SANDERS, is now located in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

● RAE ANNA BROWN ('64) served one term as a nurse at the Adventist Hospital in Benghazi, Libya, then while on furlough in 1963 decided to take the anesthesia course at Madison Hospital. Earlier she received her R. N. at Loma Linda and served as a nurse in the office of a Madison graduate, Dr. JOHN OWSLEY JONES ('37), in Simi, Calif. Miss Brown has now returned to the Benghazi Hospital, for another term. She wrote in a letter to the editor of LLU Scope, July 17, 1964: "Since returning to Libya, I have worked a regular shift, plus doing the anesthetics, so I keep busy. We had 21 cases the first 22 days of this month. For a small hospital, we have many interesting cases. Just this week a 12 year-old girl, who had been on cortisone therapy for four years for chronic nephritis, developed an acute abdomen and I had to administer the anesthetic. By the grace of God and the knowledge gained in my studies at Madison, she came through it without difficulty."

Hassenpflugs Leave Madison

● Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hassenpflug moved to Selma, Tenn., on December 20, where Mrs. HASSENPFUG (Jean Wallace, '58) will be the anesthetist in the McNairy County Hospital. Jean has served as an instructor in the School of Anesthesia at Madison for six years, and on the alumni executive committee for four years. We will greatly miss her wise counsel and good judgment on the committee. Mr. Hassenpflug has worked about six years at Madison as credit manager at the hospital and in the purchasing department.

● A number of friends and classmates gathered at the home of DR. and MRS. WESLEY OSBORNE on September 19 to help them celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. MR. and MRS. MARVIN FAUDI ('36, '36) from Waco, Texas, were among those present.

● SUE VESTAL ('61) left October 13 for Trinidad where she will serve as a nurse in Port-of-Spain Community Hospital. She has served on the nursing staff at Porter, Madison, Fletcher, and Laurelbrook.

● Doctors MERLE and MARGARET (Holst) GODFREY ('26, '24) visited Madison and her mother, Mrs. M. A. Beaumont, in early December after attending a convention in Chicago. The two doctors are both radiologists at the Napa Co. Hospital in California. In visiting with Mrs. Beaumont recently on campus, she told how she was one of the pioneers at Pine Hill Sanitarium in Birmingham, and that she and her husband managed the vegetarian cafeteria there years ago. We also learned that the Godfreys spent five years in Australia as missionaries. Mrs. Godfrey's sister, LOUISE and her husband, Dr. G. O. SCHUMACHER, are also graduates of Madison ('36 & '35), and live in Turlock, Calif.

● MR. and MRS. JOHN WILLIAMS ('59, '54) visited Madison in November. They are located in West Memphis, Ark., where John is employed as a nurse-anesthetist in the Crittenden Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Williams is the former Clara Holmes. They have three children.

● MIRIAM HAROLD, former pharmacology teacher at Madison College, has joined the staff of Hinsdale S-H as medical-surgical and pharmacology instructor.

MORE MARRIAGES

● JANET MARTIN ('59) is now Mrs. Rodney Freeman. She recently enrolled in Union College, Lincoln, Nebr., majoring in Elementary Education.

● ISABELLE ALTENBRUN ('61) has changed her name to Hendricks. She is living at Morrison, Colo.

● KAY FORRESTER ('63) married Dan Collins August 30, 1964. Kay has been on the nursing staff at Pine Forest S-H Chunky, Miss.

● LENA HOLDER ('64) has married GLENN GEE. They are located in Orlando, Fla.

● DEBBIE CHANDLER ('64) married Wayne McNutt on Thanksgiving eve at the Boulevard Church.

● BILLIE RUTH TAYLOR ('62) is now Mrs. Phillip A. Percy. She is attending Central Junior College in San Pablo, Calif.

● RACHELE WHEELER and ANTON J. Frank were married at Battle Creek, Mich. Before going to the Battle Creek Sanitarium, where Rachele is working in hydrotherapy, she was director of nursing at Pewee Valley. Her husband was formerly a Nazarene minister, but was recently baptized into the SDA faith.

Announcement has been received of the marriage of LOLITA TOWNSEND ('63) to Neal Puterbaugh on Nov. 29, 1964. Lolita is one of the secretaries in the offices at Kettering Memorial Hospital in Ohio.

Maintenance Building Burns

The old college engineering building caught on fire early Wednesday morning, October 14, about one o'clock, and was burned to the ground. All equipment, supplies, and tools were destroyed except the cement block section at the front end and a few buckets of paint therein. The frame building was 100 by 250 feet. Cause of the fire is unknown. Several neighboring fire trucks came to battle the blaze, but unsuccessfully. The old milk plant building is now being used as quarters for school maintenance. (Food factory pictured in background.)

Madison Reunion in Phoenix

● JACKIE (Evers) JOHNSON and husband, Elder Paul Johnson, took a trip to Europe in the summer of 1964, seeing the Reformation areas. Jackie wrote Bernard Bowen regarding a Madison reunion in Phoenix, Ariz. She lists Kenneth and Jean Badger, working at the Tempe Hospital; Ray and Lonnie KARNATZ ('54, '59)—Dr. Karnatz is practicing in Sunnyslope and Peoria, Ariz.; Mrs. William KITCHEN (Grace Yamaguchi '47), is teaching nursery school; Dr. Leonard PARFITT ('41) is doing surgery at Phoenix General Hospital, and BEATRICE (Birch, '45) is retired to housewife and mother after thirteen years of operating room work; Clifford and Gladys (Trivett) PARMLEY ('41, '43)—Dr. Parmley is practicing medicine at Cortez, Colo.; Richard and Rose (Ingram) Mote—he is now an Osteopathic physician; Austin and Doris (Page) Sprague—he is production manager of Pepsi Cola Co.

Jackie saw several Madisonites at Arizona campmeeting at Prescott. Kenneth and Nina Mae Spicer Allen were there with their two girls and twin boys. Kenneth is teaching at Holbrook Indian Mission, Holbrook, Ariz. She also saw Olive Irwin Navel who lives in Holbrook, and does school nursing. Daisy (Orah Mae) Lorenz Hixson was there too. She and husband Gerald both teach grade school at San Pasqual, Calif.

● DALE and HAZEL (Coche) REINS are located in Oklahoma City. Both were former students who met and married at Madison. Daughter Elaine was born at Madison, and is a student of Union College; son Dale, Jr., was born at Vanderbilt and is in school at Ozark Academy; they also have three adopted children. Mrs. Reins writes: "I graduated from Northeastern State College at Tahlequah, Okla., and am a nurse-technician for the Oklahoma University Hospital. Dale is a graduate from Peabody with a B.S. and M.A., and almost has his Ph.D. from the University of Oklahoma. He is a renal physiologist at Civil Aeromedical Research Institute (CARI), Federal Aviation Agency (FAA). He does medical research at the FAA. He has presented several papers and has some reports in various medical journals, the latest being in the Canadian Journal of Medicine on endotoxin insecticide poisoning, and its effect on the kidney (renal function). In September he went to Providence to present another paper. He keeps busy and really enjoys his work.

"We would like to contribute more, but are supporting Union College, Ozark Academy, and Oklahoma City church school, with five children divided among these institutions."

● JAMES ZEIGLER ('35) attended the quadrennial meeting of SDA teachers for science and math departments held at AUC in August. Mrs. Del Watson, director of Nursing Education at Madison, and Mrs. Irene Walper attended the nurses' section of the Council.

Madison Grads Get First Awards

TONI WALDEN ('64) won first prize in the 1964 National Essay Contest sponsored by the American Temperance Society, receiving a check for $35 for her essay, "The Great Destroyer."

ARTHUR BERARD (X-ray '64) also received a first prize ($50). His was for the Youth's Instructor Pen League, freshman division story, titled, "We Built a Church." It appeared in the Instructor of November 3, 1964.

The Madison Survey & Alumni News

October-December, 1964

Editor Mable H. Towery

School of Anesthesia News

The following graduate nurses finished their course in Anesthesia on Nov. 1, 1964: NEWELL BROWN ('63) who is on the Nashville General Hospital staff; MARLOWE COPPAGE ('63) who is with the Obion City Hospital in Union City, Tenn.; and FRANK JOHNSON ('63) who is employed at the Warren County Hospital in McMinnville, Tenn.

Three new students entered the class this fall—BARBARA (Graham) SCHWARZ ('63), of Madison; MARGARET BADZICK ('38), of Glendale, Calif.; and BILL TATE, of Ellijay, Ga.

The School of Anesthesia now has a pin which former graduates may obtain by writing Mr. Bowen, director. The cost is $5.

Mrs. Marguerite Wallace Passes

We regret to announce the death of Marguerite Coffin Wallace ('35) on Nov. 2, 1964. She died of a sudden heart attack. Her husband, Dr. Lew Wallace, was on the staff of Madison Sanitarium for many years, and is now in practice at Cupertino, Calif. They have four children: John Harvey Wallace, M.D., practicing at San Bernardino; George Carlton Wallace, M.D., practicing at Monterey Park, Calif.; Lyle Marie, wife of Dr. J. C. Stockdale, Burlington, Iowa; Lou Ann (Mrs. Walter Stracker), Loma Linda. Mrs. Wallace first came to Madison with Mrs. Lida Scott, and served as her secretary for years.

Mrs. Wallace wrote sometime ago that she helped name THE MADISON SURVEY, and the first number was mailed out in February, 1919. Other "namers" were Elsie Peterson Brownberger and Blanche Noble Beakley.

Frequency of SURVEY

Several have indicated that they thought they were not receiving their SURVEY and ALUMNI NEWS regularly, but we wish to remind our readers that the SURVEY has been a bimonthly since the beginning of the year. Application is being made for issuance of the paper as a quarterly in the future. This is the last number of the year 1964.

Missionary Nurses on Furlough

MARIE MCCALL ('41) has given three terms of mission service totaling 18 years, part of it in Inter-America, but mostly in Africa. She is now on "furlough," but working at the Tempe Community Hospital in Arizona. She wrote recently that she is "observing modern methods and machines, such as we do not have in Africa, collecting and buying everything possible to take back to Africa when I go. This includes some of the 'use once and dispose' items at the hospital here, used clothing, and samples of medicine. Anyone in possession of these three categories, and not knowing of a use for them is asked to contact me for information on where to send it." (Her address is 1500 S. Mill Ave., Tempe, Ariz.)

RUTH CARNAHAN ('42) visited at Madison on her furlough and spoke at the Friday evening vespers. She has spent twenty years in Central Africa as a missionary nurse. All of this time was in the Southern African Division, now known as the Trans-Africa Division. She served at Songa Hospital, Gitwe Dispensary, Ngoma Hospital, Talla Mission Dispensary, Kurundi Dispensary, Kanye Hospital, and Mwami Hospital. After her furlough she plans to return to Africa. Since leaving Madison, Miss Carnahan has taken post work as follows: Three months Tropical Course at Smithdown Road Hospital, Liverpool; eight months studies at School of Tropical Medicine, Antwerp, Belgium; four months each of Midwifery Course at Maternity Center, New York City, and at Johns Hopkins, Baltimore.

● HARRIET SHUTT ('25), spent several months in Africa visiting and helping Ruth Carnahan at Rwankeri Mission in Rwanda. Miss Carnahan was in charge of the dispensary there before her furlough. She enjoyed her stay very much and helped in every way she could, but she said, "I feel so helpless, as I cannot talk with them, except in sort of a sign language."

Madisonites, please send us a copy of your Christmas letter, circular, etc., giving news of yourself and family.
