

Madison

Survey and Alumni News

Vol. 47

Madison, Tennessee, April-June, 1965

THE LIBRARY
ANDREWS UNIVERSITY
BERRIEN SPRINGS, MICHIGAN

No. 2

LAST OF MADISON FOUNDERS DIES

A great leader in self-supporting educational work, Bessie DeGraw Sutherland, passed to her rest after a long and useful life. It was just ten years after her husband, another great co-founder of the Madison institution, Dr. E. A. Sutherland, died. He died at the age of 90 on June 20, 1955; she died on June 7, 1965, at the age of 94. Dr. Sutherland's first wife, Sally Bralliar, died in 1953, and he married Miss DeGraw in April, 1954.

Mrs. Bessie Sutherland spent most of her adult life in educational work both for the denomination and in self-supporting work.

Services for Mrs. Sutherland were held at 2:00 p. m., Thursday, June 10, at Cole and Garrett Funeral Home, Goodlettsville, Tenn. Elder N. C. Wilson, president of the Michigan Conference officiated, assisted by Elder R. E. Stewart of Madison campus.

Mrs. Sutherland died late Monday afternoon at Madison Hospital after a heart attack. She had been in poor health for several years in her home. Pallbearers were Dr. C. E. Kendall, Roger F. Goodge, Dr. Julian C. Gant, Dr. J. C. Trivett, L. L. Dickman, Robert Sutherland, Dr. Shaen Sutherland, J. W. Blair, and A. A. Jaspersen.

Attending from the units were: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wheeler, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Johnson from Pine Forest Academy; L. L. Dickman from Harbert Hills; Mrs. Leland Straw, S. B. Goodge and Roger Goodge from Little Creek; Mrs. Susan Ard from Chestnut Hill; W. D. Frazee and George McClure from Wildwood Institute; Dr. and Mrs. Shaen Sutherland from Lawrenceburg; Mrs. Louise Kuiken from Bethel Sanitarium, Indiana.

In his words of comfort to the sorrowing assemblage, Elder Wilson said in part: In every great work of God He always has capable and noble women, dedicated to God and humanity. Mrs. Sutherland was such, a leader in establishing and developing the work at Madison, in laying the cornerstone of this great institution. Madison and its units are places of refuge and healing, standing as monuments in a great cause. Mrs. Sutherland was a blessing to all the thousands who knew her as a sincere Christian, a master teacher, a true friend and counselor, and a good neighbor. Thousands call her blessed.

Mrs. Bessie DeGraw Sutherland

(Following is the obituary read by N. C. Wilson from a prepared copy, as revised.)

M. Bessie DeGraw Sutherland quietly fell asleep at Madison Hospital on June 7, 1965, at the age of 94. Those surviving of the DeGraw family are Mrs. Angela DeGraw, sister-in-law, and Mrs. Virginia Smith, niece, both of Winter Park, Fla.; Hamilton DeGraw, nephew, of Baltimore, Md.; and several great nephews and nieces. On the Sutherland side of the family are a stepson, Dr. J. E. Sutherland of Madison, Tenn., and his family.

M. Elizabeth DeGraw was born January 13, 1871, at the home of her maternal grandparents, Binghamton, New York. She was the oldest of the four children of Dr. Fred H. DeGraw and Mary Seymour DeGraw, whose home at the time of her birth was Laclede, Mo., and in this State she was educated. She, with her two younger sisters and baby brother, was left motherless when she was only eight years old. The family was divided, the two younger children going to live with an aunt in New York. She and her sister Carrie, three years younger, after six months in a Catholic convent, were placed in the home of Mrs. Marian Stowell Truesdale, whose family along with the J. N. Andrews family were among the first Sabbath-keeping Adventists. The Truesdales lived in Trenton, Mo., where the children's father had established a dental practice.

Soon after moving to the Truesdale home, the DeGraw children were to experience another sorrow, the death of their father. The grandfather, Hamilton DeGraw, M. D., now became financially responsible for the children. Bessie at an early age showed deep concern for the welfare of her younger sisters and her brother, especially Carrie, who remained with her in "Auntie" Truesdale's home. Mrs. Truesdale became a second mother to them, and in her home they received excellent training.

Bessie attended the public schools near her home. She was graduated from Central Missouri State Normal School, Warrensburg, in 1891, and taught the following year in Webb City High School. She attended Battle Creek College 1892-93 "to learn more about the Bible," and here she met for the first time Percy T. Magan, then head of the Bible and history department, who was to become a lifetime friend. The following year, at the age of twenty-two, she was called to the newly established Walla Walla College in the far northwest. Here young President E. A. Sutherland and his faculty were studying and putting into practice some of the major reforms in education, which were being urged in letters from Mrs. E. G. White, then in Australia.

Bessie's grandfather, a business and professional man, possessing considerable wealth, recognized in his eldest granddaughter both strength of character and unusual intelligence. She was chosen as manager and heir of his estate. But like Moses of old, she chose rather to cast her lot with the then comparatively small and obscure Seventh-day Adventist church, and with the little group struggling with educational reforms. Early in her life she sensed the hand of divinity in her bringing up as a child and training for the role she was to carry in the educational work of the church. "Before I formed thee . . . I sanctified and ordained thee." Jer. 1:5.

Miss DeGraw taught and assisted with the administrative work four years in Walla Walla College, four years at Battle Creek, and three years at Emmanuel Missionary College (now Andrews University) before coming to Madison in 1904 to continue pioneering in education. At the time she was one of the few professionally trained teachers in the denomination.

She was a brilliant student. As a teacher and a counselor, both in the classroom and out, she had few peers. She was active in the development of the early church school work of the denomination. At one time, she served as educational secretary for the Lake Union Conference. She assisted Elder S. N. Haskell in writing the books, Daniel the Prophet and The Seer of Patmos. She was editor of The Advocate, Journal of Christian Education, being responsible for its first issue, January, 1899. She assisted President Sutherland with the books, Studies in Christian Education, Living Fountains or Broken Cisterns, and many other educational documents, including several early textbooks.

She was editor of the little promotional paper, THE MADISON SURVEY, which had wide circulation and popularity for more than a quarter of a century. In the early thirties, when accreditation was being demanded of our educational institutions, she was awarded the M. A. degree by Peabody College, and at the age of 61 completed with honors the course requirements for the Ph. D. degree.

"Now as never before we need to understand the true science of education." She believed this and also the precept, "If ye know these things . . . do them." She was one of the pioneers in the introduction of a vegetarian diet in our denominational institutions, locating our schools on the land, with the Bible, agriculture and other industries, self-government, self-support, and health training, as basic in the all-round plan for training students.

In 1954, when the evening shadows were lengthening for the two founders, Miss M. Bessie DeGraw was married to Dr. E. A. Sutherland. After an absence of eight years, Dr. Sutherland had returned from the General Conference to the institution on its 50th anniversary; and here on the campus they loved, their remaining days and strength were fully devoted to the cause to which their lives had long been dedicated.

With the passing of Dr. Sutherland in 1955, her home remained open to students, faculty, unit workers, alumni—hundreds who had been her students, and others, who loved her devotedly and continued to value her wisdom and counsel. They are children and grandchildren to the third and even the fourth generation. Their problems were her problems. She was truly a mother in Israel.

For the past four years or more she had been very frail. Her passing marks the end of an epoch. There is a general sense of loss, of loneliness, throughout the circle of those who have felt Madison's wide influence—a void that is not filled. Her spirit, always inspiring and hopeful, is reflected in a quotation she used in one of her last messages to us in THE MADISON SURVEY.

"This is my Father's world.

O let me ne'er forget

That though the wrong seems oft so strong,

God is the Ruler yet."

The principles so ably advocated and demonstrated by Madison's founders still live; their value will be recognized and esteemed more and more as we draw nearer to the finishing of the work in the earth.

Sleep on, dear ones,

Your task well done.

Sleep till Jesus comes,

Your rest well earned.

The battle now is ours."

(We regret we cannot spare more space in this issue. We invite our readers to send in tributes to "Miss DeGraw.")

The Great Advent Movement

On May 23 a farewell potluck supper was held in the school cafeteria for seven families, as follows:

1. The Warren Oakes family. Mr. Oakes is now serving as assistant personnel director at Florida S-H in Orlando. He was former registrar and assistant to the president at Madison College and more recently coordinator between SMC and Madison College. Mrs. Oakes is a graduate from the nursing course at Florida S-H, formerly was director of nursing education at Madison College, and more recently director of nurses at Metro Psychiatric Hospital.

2. Mr. and Mrs. James Zeigler. After living on the campus for a third of a century the Zeiglers will be making their home in Collegedale, where Professor Zeigler is teaching in the Biology Department at SMC.

3. Mrs. Pearl Jennings, who was secretary to Administrator Morris at the hospital, and has now changed her name and address to Mrs. Ben Sauer, Rt. 1, Bowling Green, Ind.

4. Not leaving until late summer, but included in the farewells, was the James Herman family. Mr. Herman will be principal of the junior academy in Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. Herman will be a teacher there also.

5. The Grotheer family. Mrs. Dorthea Grotheer has worked in the Madison Hospital lab for the past year and will be working in the lab at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson. Elder Grotheer, former Bible teacher at Madison College, plans to enter self-supporting evangelism in Mississippi and teach Bible at Pine Forest Academy.

6. Robert Hubbard and family. Mr. Hubbard will be working in the lab at the Palatka Hospital.

7. The Frank Lang family. Mr. Lang has been teaching Bible and history at Madison Academy. Mr. Lang will be teaching at Cave Springs Home School, Pegasus, Tenn., and taking post work at Vanderbilt for one year.

Several families who will be moving away this summer were not present, but mentioned as follows:

Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Larson will be moving to Huntsville, Ala., where he is on the faculty of Oakwood College and is teaching English at the University of Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Workman, from the faculty of Madison Academy, have accepted a call to Tampa Junior Academy in Florida, where Mr. Workman will be principal and Mrs. Workman will be teaching.

Elder and Mrs. William Hessel have returned to Andrews University, where he is on the faculty. They have been living in Madison for a year while he attended Vanderbilt University. Mrs. Hessel was choir director for Madison Academy, and he was active in the campus church.

Elder and Mrs. John Brownlee have moved to Portland, Tenn. He was ordained to the gospel ministry in 1921, and spent twenty-four years in pastoral and evangelistic work in Kentucky, Louisiana, and Mississippi. They spent twenty years at Madison, where he worked in the dairy, bakery, and maintenance at the hospital, and in the food factory, where he was in charge of production and sales manager. He made up formulas for four of Madison foods: Stakelets, Mock Chicken, Sandwich Loaf, and Sandwich Spread.

● Among those transferring from the Madison campus, and previously "farewelled" at the hospital, were Mr. and Mrs. George Walper. Mrs. Walper (Lois Almskog) is a graduate nurse of Madison, class of '60. Mr. Walper has been personnel director of Madison Hospital for the past eight years, and administrative assistant. He is now administrator of Walker Memorial Hospital, Avon Park, Fla. The Walpers have two children, Eileen and Leslie.

● At the farewell Neil Tompkins and family were welcomed into the Madison family. Mr. Tompkins is the new personnel manager of Madison Hospital and formerly served in the same capacity at Hialeah Hospital in Florida. His wife is a daughter of Elder E. C. Banks, who is on the faculty of Andrews University.

Income Tax Status of M.C.A.A.

William E. Patterson, former special agent of the government, and honorary member of the M.C.A.A., has assured our alumni office that our tax status is just as alive as ever, and advises that our alumni should send donations to Madison Hospital, Madison Academy, self-supporting units, and foundations through the alumni office. A more complete statement on this will appear in the next issue.

HOMECOMING EXCEEDS ALL EXPECTATIONS

Homecoming 1965 has come and gone, and we don't want to brag, but we think it was a grand success. Some pessimists may have asked, Why have a Homecoming? and why continue an alumni association, when the college is closed? Who will come? In spite of these doubts, and in spite of the fact that the school cafeteria was closed, and it appeared that the new hospital cafeteria would not be open in time, the executive committee, under the able direction of the alumni president, Edythe Cothren, went bravely ahead with plans.

Whether they came out of curiosity to see what Madison looked like after all the changes, or just the usual love for Madison and desire to see old classmates, they did come in numbers to exceed all expectations. Noticeably there were more graduates of a n e s t h e s i a than other courses. Since this course takes six months beyond the four-year college course, perhaps this shows that the longer the student stays at Madison, the greater the interest.

They came, they saw, and went away pleased and happy to see that the old loyal spirit of Madison is not dead.

Consecration Service, Friday Evening

The program opened Friday evening with a Consecration Service, and included welcoming addresses by Edythe S. Cothren '47, president of the M. C. A. A.; Robert Morris, administrator, Madison Hospital; and Irad Levering, principal of Madison Academy. Special music was by K. J. Stepanske, manager of Madison Foods, who sang "My Task," and by Mrs. Cecil Coffey, who sang "Beyond the Sunset."

"Remove Not the Old Landmarks"

The consecration sermon was by Dr. G. M. Hyde, professor of speech, S.M.C.

Mr. Bernard Bowen '56 presented the Alumni of the Year. Mr. and Mrs. James Zeigler were chosen to receive this honor.

Mable H. Towery, with the assistance of Freda Zeigler '48 and Winifred Kelley '53, presented the names of persons closely associated with Madison College who had passed away since the last Homecoming. A white carnation was placed on a cross for each name, and taps was sounded while the congregation stood in silent tribute to these honored dead.

Double Mission Feature at Sabbath School

Sabbath School was under the direction of E. E. Schlenker '42. An accordion ensemble number by three young Martz brothers was preceded by two mission features by Marilyn Jensen Dry '52 on furlough from Rhodesia, Africa (now called Zambia); and Connie Rimmer Tiffany, Red Shirt Mission (for Indians), South Dakota. After a vocal duet by Allen Workman and Melinda

Allen, of S.M.C., the Sabbath School lesson was taught by E. L. Marley '42.

After Sabbath School, the congregation was called to worship by the Madison Academy Choir under the direction of Mrs. Beverly Hessel. Dr. C. N. Rees, president of S.M.C., presented the message of the hour.

"Alumni in Action," Sabbath Afternoon

The first part of Sabbath afternoon was devoted to academy student activities, including the Southern Union prize-winning ATS oration by Gary Jostandt; a musicale by the Madison Academy choir and band. The latter part of the afternoon program was titled "Alumni in Action." Missionaries, both home and foreign, related their experiences. Participating were Marie McCall '41, on furlough from Rwanda, Africa; Marilyn Jensen Dry '52, Africa; Connie Rimmer Tiffany, South Dakota; and Mrs. Julia Grow '56, Cave Springs, Tenn.; Hallie Thomas '60, nurse-anesthetist who had served in India and Pakistan.

Vespers at 6:00 P.M. consisted of musical numbers and "Meditations" by Elder Wayne Foster, educational secretary, Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, and Mrs. Foster. Shirley Eldridge played several marimba numbers.

Business Meeting Saturday Evening

The yearly business meeting was held right after vespers Saturday evening. Bernard Bowen '56 presided.

Election of Officers

E. E. Schlenker was elected vice-president; James Blair '40 was reelected treasurer; Winifred Kelly '53 was reelected assistant secretary. Bill Grover '55, president elect, moved up to the position of president.

Treasurer's Report

James Blair presented the treasurer's report both for the general funds and the building fund. A recommendation was brought in from the alumni executive committee, and voted, to allocate the building funds on hand as follows: $3,000 to furnish the new hospital chapel; $2,500 to furnish worship room or parlor of new nurses' dormitory; $1,500 to furnish parlor in Williams Hall, Madison Academy.

MADISON SURVEY AND ALUMNI NEWS

The matter of continuing and financing the SURVEY was discussed. The consensus of opinion was that the paper should be continued. It was suggested that the paper be placed on a subscription basis of a dollar or a dollar and a half a year. The paper is now a quarterly.

Beckners Made Honorary Members

It was voted to make Elder H. R. Beckner and wife, Vida, honorary members of the M.C.A.A. Elder Beckner wrote recently: "I wish I could attend Homecoming. Nothing would please me more. I thoroughly enjoy the SURVEY and read every word of it. It is the precious link that I still have with our beloved Madison College. Part of my life and heart were buried when Madison College closed its doors on July 1, 1964. Our prayers are with you."

Nursing Chapter Officers

The Nursing Chapter of M.C.A.A. held its election right after the business meeting of the college alumni, and elected the following officers: Newell Brown '63, president; Audrey Myers '61, vice-president; Carol Taylor '63, secretary-treasurer; Edith Munn, '26, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Smorgasbord Supper, Saturday Night

A Smorgasbord buffet supper was served in Williams Hall dining room, Saturday evening. A large crowd jammed the cafeteria, and extra tables had to be brought in. Over two hundred people ate at the tables covered with gay red-and-white checkered tablecloths. The menu was white chix salad, potato salad and chips, seafoam gelatin, watermelon pickles, relishes, whole wheat crackers, olives, nuts, raspberry tarts, and punch.

Speakers for the occasion were Dr. J. W. Cassell, academic dean, SMC, and Del La Verne Watson, associate chairman, Division of Nursing, SMC. They both spoke of the new two-year Associate of Science degree in nursing to begin this fall at SMC. One school year and one summer will be at SMC; one school year and one summer at Madison. Although two of our colleges—PUC and AUC—have this two-year course in nursing, SMC is the first of our colleges to provide both the two-year and the four-year programs. Dr. Cassell also spoke of a similar two-year Associate of Science degree in Medical Records to go into operation this fall, with one year at SMC and one year at Madison Hospital.

Furnishing entertainment for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Octavian Socol '57 and '39, and Mrs. Vesta Maxon, reader.

Paramedical Classes Presented

Academy senior sponsor, J. P. Rogers, presented the seventeen academy seniors. William Campbell presented X-ray graduates of the year, and Bill Grover presented two from Medical Technology. Bernard Bowen presented anesthesia students who finished their work last year, and mentioned Rae Anna Brown in Benghazi, Angel Hermanez in Puerto Rico, and Joan Clement in Africa. Newell Brown '64, nurse-anesthetist of the Nashville General Hospital, was present.

Medical Records girls in the current class were presented by Robert Morris, hospital administrator, in the absence of Miss Thorgeson.

Alumni Award Two Scholarships

The Alumni Executive Committee voted two scholarships for Madison Academy students—one for an outstanding senior who would pursue a four-year course at SMC, and one for a two-year associate degree in nursing at Madison. The Madison Academy faculty selected Elizabeth Larson for the four-year college course, and Bevin Brown for the two-year nursing course.

Alumni Building and Memorial Park Area

On Saturday night during Homecoming Elder E. L. Marley, president of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, gave the alumni a cordial invitation to meet in the same place next year. "The academy facilities will always be open to the alumni," he said.

"I'm proud of our alumni association which has so graciously joined hands with the academy. The request came from the alumni for an area that could be set aside for alumni. Study is being given to finding an area where you can have a building, and a place where you can have memorials and documents pertaining to Madison College, also a picnic area." He assured the alumni that they would have a building.

(We are sure that the thought of having such an archives building will appeal to our alumni.)

On Sunday morning there was opportunity for guided tours through Madison Hospital. In the afternoon National Hospital Day was celebrated at Madison Hospital by a party on the hospital lawn.

Five Receive Advanced Degrees at LLU

The following Madisonites received degrees from Loma Linda University in June 1965:

Doctor of Medicine: William Deal Sandborn '60, Jesus Vega-Lopez '54, and Douglas Kendall, MCA 1957.

Master of Science in Nursing: Delphia Ladner '60 and Maxine Page '56.

ALUMNI OF THE YEAR

(Bernard Bowen presented the alumni of the year plaque to James and Freda Zeigler. He said he had had the privilege of presenting the plaque for the past two Homecomings. Two years ago the plaque went to Ralph Davidson, and last year, on the occasion of the 60th anniversary, to Dr. Joe Sutherland. Following is a summary of his remarks.)

This year we will honor two alumni who have been beloved teachers and workers on this campus for over thirty years. This couple came to Madison in 1932 to take the nurses' course, finishing in 1935. Later they each received their Master of Arts degree at Peabody.

For over thirty years the lives of this couple have been closely knit with Madison College and Sanitarium. They love this institution, and they are loved by the students and staff. Often they were selected by the students as their sponsors and chaperones. Perhaps you have guessed their names—Professor and Mrs. James Zeigler.

JAMES ZEIGLER grew up in Akron, Ohio, attended Mount Vernon Academy, and in 1928 entered WMC as a premed student. He married a home-town girl, Freda Davis, and they both came to Madison to take nursing. Upon their graduation in 1935, they worked a year in Akron in a TB sanitarium.

Called back in 1938 by Dr. E. A. Sutherland to teach in the Nursing Department, they arrived at Madison to begin their teaching careers. After six years Mr. Zeigler was invited by Dr. Floyd Bralliar to teach several science classes and at the same time to enroll at Peabody for M.A. studies in biology. Later he spent a year studying Plant Ecology at the University of Tennessee.

Mr. Zeigler's teaching was interrupted by serving as hospital administrator for one year and as dean of student affairs for two years, and for six years he was superintendent of male nursing at Madison S-H, but he kept returning to the work he loves, teaching biology to college and anesthesia students. He has taught a class in advanced Physiology and Anatomy to the anesthesia students since the beginning of the School of Anesthesia.

FREDA ZEIGLER was a church school teacher in the Ohio Conference for two years. At Madison, and right after graduation from the nurses' course, she was in charge of Medical Desk for one year. She served as head nurse and instructor for sixteen years; associate director of Nursing Education seven years, and director three years; and supervisor of school health for the college two years.

Mrs. Zeigler has been active in both the TNA, District 3, and the North Central Tennessee League for Nursing. She was vice-president of the former and was often asked to fill other positions. Her artistic talents have been used in decorating at many a function. She was always a willing worker in church and community, a person genuinely interested in Madison and the students, keeping up a voluminous correspondence with them. She spent several years as nature counselor in junior camps at Montgomery Bell State Park. Both the Zeiglers were highly regarded by the students and were looked upon as true friends and counselors. They are well known for their gracious hospitality, and for leadership in Pathfinder and Master Guide work, counseling, nature and bird walks.

The Zeiglers have one child by adoption, Howard, who married Mary Walls in 1963. Both the Zeiglers have held leading positions in the Alumni Association and the church. Soon the Zeiglers will be moving from our campus to the Collegedale campus, where he has been asked to join the faculty at SMC as assistant professor of biology. This genial couple, whose godly, consistent Christian lives have been so closely intertwined with Madison, will be greatly missed on this campus.

NEW OFFICERS, M. C. A. A.

All leading officers have been introduced before, except the new president-elect, ELATOR E. SCHLENKER. We regret that because of lack of space we will have to postpone introducing him and others until next month.

Assistant Alumni Officers Appointed

At the first meeting of the newly organized alumni executive committee after election at Homecoming, the committee appointed an assistant treasurer, William V. Campbell '56; and an additional assistant secretary, Vera Jensen '46. We are very glad that these two appointees were willing to serve.

Bernard Bowen presented the plaque to the Alumni of the Year, James and Freda Zeigler.

Out-of-Town Guests at Homecoming

Out-of-town alumni who registered at Homecoming (other than those in the immediate Nashville area) were as follows:

Margaret Rice Badzik '38 from Glendale, Calif. (taking anesthesia); Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Biggs ('28 and '30), Avon Park, Fla.; Wallace "Buddy" Blair, '50, and family, Collegedale, Tenn.; Ross Clark, '63, Pewee Valley, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dickman '55, Andy Rimmer '55, Olive Hill, Tenn.; Woodrow Ek '60 and family, Hinsdale, Ill.; Dorothy Fox '51 and Helen Leslie Mathis '38, Lawrenceburg, Tenn.; Julia Grow '56 and Nellie Green '56, Cave Springs Home School, Pegram, Tenn.; Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Harp ('41 and '42), Marietta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Harrison '57, Dalton, Ga.; Luvenc Hilde '63 and family, Aurora, Ill.; Bernard Jensen '52, West Plains, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Jones ('52 and '51), Crossville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Kirkwood '44, Springfield, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knight ('48 and '45), Ridgetop, Tenn.; Dr. L. J. Larson '38, Oakwood College, Huntsville, Ala.; Gladys M. Lowder '32, Fletcher, N. C.; Teresa Lynd '58, Takoma Park, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Gad Noble '55, Okeechobee, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Patterson ('48 and '40), Berrien Springs, Mich.; Forrest Pride '47, Takoma Hospital, Greeneville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tate ('58 and '60), Banner Elk, N. C.; Hallie Thomas '60, Vero Beach, Fla.; Doris Thomson '57 and daughter Janice, Orlando, Fla.

From Portland, Tenn.: Edna Bryant '64, Dr. Albert G. Dittes, '43 and family, Gladys Rippey Martin '49, Esther Minesinger '64, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Pierce ('56 and '42), and Mr. and Mrs. O. Socol ('57 and '39).

Missionaries on Furlough from Africa: Mrs. John Dry (Marilyn Jensen), Zambia, Africa, and Marie McCall '41, Rwanda, Africa.

Silver Anniversary Class of '40

These Attended Homecoming

Attending Homecoming from the Silver Anniversary Class of 1940 were JAMES W. BLAIR, wife Betty, and son Wallace ("Buddy") of Ooltewah, Tenn. Mr. Blair served as treasurer of N. A. N. I. for four years, has been our efficient alumni treasurer for the past two years, and was re-elected for a third term.

From out of town came PHILIP '48 and "MARGIE" PATTERSON, of Berrien Springs. Mrs. Patterson (Tennys Ingram) is of the class of '40. They have two children—Bob, who has been attending Sunnydale Academy in Centralia, Mo., and Phyllis, who graduated from AU Academy this year.

GERALD BOYNTON of the class of 1940 and his wife, Evelyn, also attended. Both work in Chattanooga, Tenn., and live in Ooltewah. He has been teaching at Chattanooga Institute of Technology for the past four years. Beginning July 1, the school will become a State school, and Gerald will assume new duties in administrative work as director of placement and guidance for Chattanooga State Technical Institute. Evelyn has been connected with the United Cerebral Palsy Kindergarten. The Boyntons have two children, both married and living in Chattanooga. Their son, Jerry, is a medical social worker with the Team Evaluation Center at Erlanger Hospital.

(Letters from the honor class of '40 are scheduled for the next issue.)

April-June, 1965

Some of the officers of the new alumni executive committee: Left to right: Elator E. Schlenker '42, newly elected vice-president; Winifred Kelley '53, assistant secretary; Bernard Bowen '56, committee member; Edythe S. Cothren '47, past president; James W. Blair '40, treasurer; Mable H. Towery, executive secretary; and William L. Grover '55, president.

President's Welcome At Homecoming

The True Spirit of Madison

EDYTHE S. COTHREN '47

"Blest be the tie that binds" together the hearts of the Madison College Alumni gathered here tonight for our annual Homecoming. The fibers woven together to form this tie are not composed of wood, stone, or metal; the strength of this tie depends not upon the influence of dynamic personalities of past, present, or future leaders; its efficiency is not measured by houses, barns, or even farms.

The beautiful, golden tie that binds us together is the SPIRIT OF MADISON—the spirit that was conceived in sacrifice and love on the cross of Calvary. . . . This tie united the pioneers of old—the Sutherlands, the Magans, the Mulfords, and others, as they tenaciously struggled to establish schools of learning for the youth, and sanitariums for the healing of the people in the great Southland. This spirit brought forth food from impoverished soil; buildings and houses from rocks and trees.

The demands of time and the pressures of educational, social, and economic tides of lo, these more than threescore years, have changed the facial and body contour of the Nashville Agricultural and Normal Institute; but each stage of physical change, of educational and spiritual growth, has had its special place of importance and usefulness. During these many changes of landmarks on our campus, the true SPIRIT OF MADISON has been as "the thread which runs so true" through the eye of the needle which at times has pricked to the very core of our hearts.

From the embryonic stage of life to its grand finale, man is faced with constant changes and ever new learning experiences. Successfully accepting and resolving each lesson results in maturity and progress. To become fixated at any stage along the way results in a neurotic complex and a regression to infantile immaturities. Life on the Madison campus has been and still is in a state of metamorphosis, but we are endeavoring to pass through each stage with understanding acceptance, ever keeping our eyes on distant goals. It has truly been said that we need have no fear for the future except as we forget how we have been led in the past.

Dear Fellow Alumni, WELCOME! We love you for caring enough to return to your Alma Mater. We have looked forward with great anticipation to this weekend, for we feel that you, too, will be thrilled with the program of progress. Naturally, you will miss some of the old landmarks and the rambling porch walks—we all do, just as we miss the faces of the beloved pioneers of yesteryears. But the SPIRIT OF MADISON still permeates the atmosphere of our campus; you will feel it as you walk through these halls and over these grounds again. You will find the SPIRIT OF MADISON here this weekend because YOU have brought it with you, and because WE, too, have it in our hearts.

Your Suggestion, Please!

When would you suggest that we set the date for Homecoming next year? Some have asked to have it in the summer when school is out, and they could bring their children. Next year will be the time of the General Conference session—June 16-25, 1966, and it will be in Detroit, Mich. Would you suggest that we have Homecoming just before or after General Conference, so people could stop off for the meeting, coming or going? Or do you think the usual time in early May is best? Let us have your reaction. Write the Madison College Alumni Office, Madison College, Tenn.

Page 5

To Our Readers

This may be the last number of the SURVEY that you will receive if you have never written to the SURVEY office or sent any money to help with the expense.

We do not want to cut off names of alumni or people who are genuinely interested in Madison, but we must have an indication of interest. So don't delay. Write and send a donation for the SURVEY, or a word of explanation. We are doing everything we can to reduce costs, including using cheaper paper, but printing is costly, and the bills have to be paid.

Most of the names that appear on the back of the SURVEY, as addressed, have a date, which is the time when your name was placed on the list. If there is also an A as part of the key, that stands for Alumni. So take a look at your name on the back of the SURVEY, and if you are in arrears, send your donation to THE MADISON SURVEY, Madison College, Tenn.

Alumni Dues

Alumni dues are $2.00 a year. Lifetime dues are $50. Are your dues paid up? And how about a donation for the SURVEY?

Zip Number

Please send us your zip number if it does not appear with your address.

Offerings—Free and For Sale

As a result of cleaning out and sorting the accumulation of the years in the registrar's office and other offices, several items in quantity have come to light. Some of them we can give you for free. Others will require your sending postage. Still others may be had at reduced prices.

1. The Madison School (40-page booklet) by Mrs. E. G. White, Free.
2. Madison College and the Self-Supporting Work, by W. E. Straw (12 pages). Free.
3. Madison College and MCA pennants and decals; 6-inch plastic rulers. (Free to those paying dues, or contributing to SURVEY.)
4. Large picture of young life on campus the year before the college closed. (End sheets from Cumberland Echoes annual of 1964. Difficult to mail. Gladly given out to those who step into the alumni office on campus.)
5. Paper weights. These were designed for the class of '57 and they will have first choice, but others may have them if they wish. Free to class of '57. Others please send 25 cents for postage as they are heavy and not easy to mail.
6. Miniature pictures (all 8 x 10)—seven of the class of 1958, Madison College; six of the class of 1958, School of Nursing; twelve of class of 1958, Madison Academy. $1.00 each.
7. Cumberland Echoes (Madison College annuals, classes of 1957, 1958, 1960, and 1964.) $1.00 each postpaid.
8. "Workshop on the Administration of a Self-Supporting Institution" (111-page mimeographed report), $1.00 postpaid.

Write MADISON SURVEY office, Box 396, Madison College, Tenn.

● At a church business meeting April 14, it was voted to change the name of the Madison College church to the Madison Campus S.D.A. Church.

Class of '17

● VERA (Dortch) HONEYCUTT is retired and living at home in Paris, Tenn. She served as a private-duty nurse for over twenty years. She cared for her aged, ailing mother, Mrs. Ella Dortch, several years before she died at the age of 96 in November, 1964.

Class of '27

● NORA (Culp) JONES, an MCA graduate as well as a graduate from the nurses' course, is located at Enid, Okla., and is doing part-time, private duty nursing. Her son, Charles Henry, passed away in 1951.

Class of '28

● LEE EUSEY received a second Master's degree when he graduated at AU in June with a Masters in history. Previously he earned his M. S. in agriculture at Michigan State University in 1944. The Euseys are living on the campus at Madison. Mrs. Eusey has been teaching secretarial training in Madison Academy, and Mr. Eusey will be teaching history and gardening in the academy. When Mr. Eusey was attending Michigan State College, he took a rural sociology class, and wrote a paper on "The Solution of Social Problems Through Rural Living as Accepted in SDA Thinking."

● CLAUDE E. RANDOLPH M.D. associate secretary of the General Conference Medical Department has moved his office from Washington, D. C. to the LLU campus. His work is to contact and recruit medical personnel interested in overseas mission service. Mrs. Randolph is the former ROBERTA YATES, '27.

Class of '33

● "Madison is very dear to me, and I'll always have a special spot in my heart for my alma mater," writes EMMA FULLER. "Quite often I meet folk from Madison, and I listen with interest to the happenings there."

Mrs. Fuller lives in Los Angeles and since 1953 has been working for two doctors in the ENT Department at LLU (Doctors House and Gay). Her daughter "Judi" is the wife of a second-year dentistry student at Loma Linda (Andy Harsany).

● GEORGE W. KREUDER writes that he will always be interested in Madison. "The most productive year of my life was spent there." Mr. Kreuder is business manager of the Turlock Medical Clinic in California.

Class of '35

● VIRGINIA MAY has been head nurse at the Florida S-H for almost twelve years as a supervisor. Her father, who is 79, is with her in Orlando.

● ETHEL (Womack) BOWER is now located in Phoenix. She spent seven years as a school nurse in Iowa before moving to Arizona.

Class of '36

● STANLEY C. HALL is doing ionosphere research at Stanford University. His wife is the former Elgeva Burdick. The Halls have two children, Judith Ann and Harvey, and their home is in Los Altos, Calif.

Class of '37

● J. T. WHEELER writes: "I have always enjoyed the SURVEY and news of Madison. Madison did a lot for us. We are members of the Charlotte S. D. A. Church and are trying to help in every way possible." Mrs. Wheeler is the former Florence Hackworth '32. The Wheelers have been operating the Providence (nursing) Home at Matthews, N. C., but are now retired. They have four children—Gerald, Oliver, Iris, and Fernie. The daughters are both R. N.'s and Gerald is an M. D., a warrant officer in the army.

● KENNETH SHERIFF, M. D., is a physician and surgeon in Cupertino, Calif. His wife is the former Cleo Bell. They have one son, Kenneth, Jr.

● JOSEPHINE RAND EMBRY is now doing office nursing in Vista, Calif.

Class of '39

● WILLARD F. RAY taught at Fountain Head Rural School and Highland Academy, Portland, Tenn., from 1931-1960. He is now working as a part-time librarian at Highland.

Class of '41

● In a letter from HIRAM W. SAUER, he states that he and his wife (Edith Taylor) '42 are joining the nursing staff at Hanford Community Hospital at Hanford, Calif., a new hospital of 51 beds operated by Central California Conference. Mr. Sauer has been nursing at Glendale S-H for the past thirteen years. His wife has been teaching church school for twenty-one years.

Class of '42

● MRS. VALLIE (Avis) MURRAY is now head nurse on pediatrics at Macon Hospital, Macon, Ga. She has an 18-year-old son Walter.

Class of '43

● CORRINE V. FRIEND is an industrial nurse at the Dayton Steel Foundry Company in Dayton, Ohio.

Class of '46

● EDNA FELDER is on the nursing staff of Edwards TB Hospital in Tallahassee, Fla. She says reading the SURVEY is like reading a letter from home.

Class of 48

● THOMAS and MAY ESTELLE are located in Chiapas, Mexico, at the Yerba Buena Mission. Tom works in the clinic-hospital, and his wife, May, is secretary and book-keeper for the mission. They have one married daughter, Hazel (Mrs. James Beagles), who lives at Whitwell, Tenn.

Class of '49

● LUCY (Depas) ZETKO '49 writes that her husband, Joe, is doing carpentry work. She is working in the office of Drs. Leland and Strom in Crestwood. They are members of the Pewee Valley Church, and have three children.

Class of '50

● Lt. Col. MAX B. BRALLIAR was a member of the Department of Defense medical team supporting the recent Gemini launches from Cape Kennedy, AFS, in Florida. He served as surgeon and flight surgeon aboard a helicopter, as part of launch site recovery forces. His duty as a member of the emergency treatment team involved training with land, water, and aerial vehicles in difficult simulation exercises to prepare the team for rescue and recovery of the astronauts in event of emergency.

Colonel Bralliar is regularly assigned as Commander, 3646 USAF Hospital, Laughlin, Texas. He is one of a selected number of military medical officers made available by the Department of Defense to give global medical support to NASA's manned space flights.

(From a news release, Office of Information, United States Air Force Test Range, Patrick AFB, Fla.)

Class of '51

● WALLACE ("Buddy") BLAIR is a self-employed accountant in Ooltewah, Tenn. He is a CPA, and received his B. A. in Business Administration at SMC in 1953.

Class of '53

● BETTY STEINMUSS '53 is assistant director of nurses at Metro Psychiatric Hospital in Nashville. Other Madison graduates who hold supervisory and administrative positions there are ILA GURIN '47, in-service director; SHIRLEY DRURY '46, head nurse on four wards; EVELYN BYRD '55, in charge of one building.

Class of '54

● HERBERT E. MEADOR and family live near St. Helens, Ore., on a 20-acre secluded farm, which they are developing from nature to grazing land. Their four children enjoy their numerous pets. Mrs. Meador is the former Ada R. Beach, an R. N. from the Walla Walla School of Nursing.

● BILL P. PARK is a nurse-anesthetist at Wilson Memorial Hospital, Wilson, N. C.

Class of '55

Mrs. GLADYS V. DURAN is now director of nursing service at Kettering Memorial Hospital in Ohio.

Class of '57

Coming from the Crittenden Memorial Hospital in West Memphis, Ark., is JOHN H. WILLIAMS, CRNA, as an instructor in the Anesthesia Department at Madison Hospital. After leaving Madison, Mr. Williams was dean of the school of practical nursing at Watkins Memorial Hospital, Ellijay, Ga. His wife (Clara Mae Holmes) is a graduate of the attendant nurses' class of 1954.

● PATRICIA (Wilson) RUSHING is working one night a week at New England S-H in the OB department. Husband Jan is getting his Masters at Northeastern University in Boston and is patients' business manager at the hospital. Jan would like to see a high school class reunion of the class of '53 or college class of '57 next year at Homecoming. Patricia sends this heart-warming message regarding the SURVEY: "Jan and I enjoy the paper so much! You're doing a great job. Just keep it up."

Class of '59

● RUBY EATON writes from Pennington Gap, Va.: "Robert has been teaching in a new school here in the poorest area of the South. It is a real mission field of the United States. Teaching has been only a small part of our work. We have assisted three evangelistic meetings here and numerous other missionary endeavors." Robert is planning to take advanced work at PUC this summer.

Class of '60

● PAULINE SANDERS is presently employed as medical technician at White Memorial Hospital.

Class of '61

● PAUL STEEN is now the Director of Nurses at Marion County General Hospital, Columbia, Miss. He is a graduate of anesthesia from St. Luke's Hospital, Duluth, Minn.

● ANNA BELLE SIMONS is chief anesthetist at Riverside Hospital in Nashville. She is the wife of Elder Norman Simons, administrator at the hospital. The Simons have two daughters, Veronica and Kannelte.

Class of '62

● PATRICIA MENDENHALL '62 will marry Keith Magnant on July 10 at the Boulevard SDA Church in Madison, Tenn. Pat has been working in surgery at Madison Hospital. They will be living in Grand Rapids, Mich. where Keith is employed at American Motors.

Class of '63

● LOLITA (Townsend) PUTERBAUGH and husband Neal have moved to Takoma Park, Md. Neal will be attending college this fall at CUC, and Lolita is working in the Admissions Office at the college for Mr. Homer Lynd.

Class of '64

● CONNIE ZANES married Jerry Hayward on May 2, 1965, in Mentone, Calif. Jerry is an X-ray technician. The Haywards work in the same department at LLU.

ESTHER LOUISE MINESINGER '64 married Howard C. Sutton on June 20 in the Highland Church, Portland, Tenn. Esther is a graduate nurse from Madison College, and Howard took the printing course here.

Letter of Appreciation To Executive Committee

(The following letter was written by Freda Zeigler who has served on the M.C.A.A. executive committee for three years—one year as secretary-treasurer and two years as an elected board member.)

To the M.C.A.A. Executive Committee:

This is a "thank you" for the privilege and joy I have had these past three years of sharing with you the experiences of an Alumni Association. The past two years have been the hardest, and even though for a time it seemed that our little craft would sink, I believe it has braved the storm and is now safely gliding along.

There are two outstanding reasons why I believe the craft did not sink. The first of these is because of our very efficient and self-sacrificing executive secretary, Mable H. Towery, who was willing to work untiringly for many hours six days a week, and the spirit of dogged determination to "never give up the ship." Her steadfastness all through the years since she first came to the campus as executive secretary in 1960 has been a very stabilizing influence to our association. The name of every graduate of Madison College receives TLC in the alumni office. She is genuinely interested in Madison and its progress. Keep up the good work, Mable.

Secondly, during that very trying time I believe it took someone out of the ordinary to carry on as president of the association when the college was having a hard time to exist. I personally feel that Bernard Bowen, and later Edythe Cothren, "came to the kingdom for such a time as this." I definitely feel that God directed those two outstanding leaders as they worked hard and long in those difficult days in order to keep the Association alive. I would not want to minimize the work of the presidents who preceded them, nor of the other members of the executive committee who worked hand in hand with the leaders. God was good to us all and helped us keep up our faith and courage in Madison.

I should also add a word for our students, God bless them, who under the able direction of John Crowder, editor of THE MADISONIAN, in close contact with our alumni office, were able to make adjustments during the darkest moments in the history of the institution.

President Grover and your co-workers, I salute you and pray for divine wisdom for you as you give careful consideration to the weighty matters which you will be meeting in the future. God bless you all.

FREDA ZEIGLER

HELP!

(A message from the new personnel director, Madison Hospital.)

Professionally trained persons are urgently needed to help staff the expanded facilities of Madison Hospital.

If you meet the qualifications for experienced cook, maintenance mechanic, licensed practical or registered nurse, please contact the Personnel Office at Madison Hospital immediately.

You would enjoy working in modern surroundings with the latest equipment, along with being associated with a progressive organization. To prove how progressive Madison Hospital really is, write for information concerning the revised salary scale. You will be glad you did.

Neil Tompkins,
Personnel Director, Madison Hospital

Store and Post Office Change Location

Soon after the new wing of the hospital was finished, the old administration building was razed, and it was necessary to find another location for the grocery store and the post office. The store was first moved to the registrar's office, and more recently to the faculty room. After the registrar's records were moved to SMC, the Academy business office was moved to the former registrar's offices.

Post Office in House of First Postmaster

The Madison College branch post office was one of the last offices to be moved from the old wing of the hospital. By a curious set of circumstances the post office was moved to the old "King House" on Sanitarium Drive near the Layman Foundation office. R. B. King, former occupant of the house, was the first postmaster at Madison College. Mr. King died in 1959. His wife Zona '27, daughters Hazel '34 and Audrey '37, are living at Meridian, Miss.

New Nursing Home in Hopkinsville, Ky.

RAYMOND HAROLD '42 writes from Hopkinsville, Ky.: "We have just opened the Park Lawn Manor nursing home and home for the aged. We hope to make it of the sanitarium type with a health food store and treatment rooms.

"We have a very beautiful setting in a good location. We have a good church here, also an eight grade school. We shall be needing a cook, general help, nurses, and aides.

"We think of and pray for Madison. I am glad I went there. I wish the farm could have been kept. Book work is good, but the atmosphere that a farm and space offers means very much to a young person when he is trying to find himself, and get acquainted with the Lord and find out His work for him."

Raymond's wife is the former Betty Peek, class of '45.

Mrs. Doub's Nutrition Lectures

For three weeks during May, members of four S. D. A. churches in the Nashville area attended classes in nutrition and healthful cookery. Mrs. Luella Doub '36, well-known nutritionist of Atlanta, Ga., conducted the health lectures. The meetings consisted of classes and demonstrations held in the cafeteria of Greater Nashville Junior Academy.

● Elder and Mrs. Warren Wittenburg have moved to Daytona Beach, Fla., where he is serving as pastor. Elder Wittenburg served as shepherd of the flock on the Madison campus for three and a half years.

● Elder R. A. Bata, newly appointed secretary-treasurer of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference is temporary pastor of the Madison Campus Church, and Elder R. E. Stewart is the assistant pastor.

MARGUERITE JASPERSON, OUTSTANDING EDUCATOR

An outstanding leader in self-supporting educational work has been laid to rest. Marguerite Millar Jasperson died May 21 at the age of 75 at Little Creek Sanitarium, near Knoxville, after a long illness.

While attending Bethel Academy in Wisconsin, she met Dr. E. A. Sutherland. His story of the educational needs of the Southern States appealed to her, and she became a student at Madison College at the age of eighteen, and obtained her B. A. degree in 1935. The South became her home until the end of her fruitful and eventful life.

Marguerite married Arthur A. Jasperson in 1912. This young couple had similar interests. In the mountains of North Carolina they found unlimited opportunity for service as well as for adventure. The little girl who began life in Wisconsin became an inspirational teacher, and it was said of her "she loved to teach."

The Jaspersons spent four years at Pisgah Institute and thirty-two years at Fletcher, where she was principal of the academy for a number of years. Then they accepted a call to come to Madison, where he served as president of the college for five years, and she served as extension secretary.

Those who survive are her husband, A. A. Jasperson; her son Robert; and three grandchildren.

(We wish to give credit for the foregoing to the Layman Foundation Newsletter, May, 1965, Madison, Tenn.)

LILLIAN E. MAGAN, M. D.

Dr. Lillian Eshelman Magan, widow of Dr. Percy T. Magan, died March 26, 1965, at the age of 95 in West Covina, Calif. There were several "firsts" in Doctor Lillian's life. She went to Battle Creek Sanitarium to take nursing and became the first nurse to be employed by an Adventist conference. She graduated from the old American Medical Missionary College in Battle Creek, and became one of the first women staff members at the Battle Creek Sanitarium.

In 1905 she married Dr. Magan, co-founder of Madison College, and became the first physician on the campus. Also at that time she had the distinction of being the only woman admitted to membership in the Nashville Academy of Medicine. They remained at Madison until 1915, when they were called to CME.

Dr. Magan is survived by two sons, Mr. Val Magan, of Sacramento, and Dr. Well-lesley P. Magan, of Covina, Calif., who took his premedical work at Madison. Following are two extracts regarding Mrs. Magan:

MRS. ROSETTA D. MUSSELMAN '33

Through the post office we have recently been notified of the death of Mrs. Rosetta D. Musselman, who received her B. S. here in 1933. Her last address was in National City, Calif.

CHAUNCEY O. BEEBE '37

A notice of the death of Chauncey O. Beebe '37 on January 19, 1965, appeared in a recent Central Union Reaper. The notice said he passed to his rest unexpectedly in his sleep at Newton, N. M. He graduated from Madison in 1937. His first wife, Alma Meyer, died in 1916, and he married Florence Shumway Moser, a teacher, in 1948. Three children survive—Mrs. Nola Bartell, Mrs. Dorothy Eisele, and Stanley.

MRS. BERTHA LESLIE '12

Bertha Shilling Leslie, Bradenton, Florida, died at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., March 25, 1965. Internment was at Skyway Gardens, Palmetto, Fla., March 30, with Elder C. C. Cress officiating.

A native of Steamboat Springs, Colo., she was among the first graduates of the nursing school at Madison College (1912) and a member of the Adventist Church for her entire life. She and her late husband, Dr. Royal A. Leslie, owned and operated the Leslie's Bath House and Sanitarium at Red Boiling Springs, Tenn., for thirty years, where they were busily engaged in missionary work among the sick and needy hill folk.

The Leslies moved to Florida in 1953 where they owned and operated the Hollman Rest Home at Bradenton, Fla., until retirement in 1958 because of ill health.

Survivors include three daughters—Mrs. Alan Tucker, Fort Gordon, Ga.; Mrs. Helen Mathis, Lawrenceburg S-H, Tenn.; Mrs. Betty Mashburn, Sarasota, Fla.; and one son, Jim Leslie, Chicago, Ill. (Elaine and Helen both graduated from the nursing course at Madison and both married doctors.)

Correction

One of our readers has called our attention to an error in the last number in citing a favorite text of Dr. E. A. Sutherland. The text was given as Isa. 4:6,7, but is Isa. 41:6, 7.

The Madison Survey & Alumni News

April-June, 1965

Editor

Mable H. Towery

Published quarterly by Madison College Alumni Association. Second Class postage paid at Madison, Tenn.

Library, James White
Andrews University
College Station
Berrien Springs, Mich.