Survey and Alumni News

Vol. 48

Madison, Tennessee, January-March, 1966

No 1

In This Issue

At our request, R. W. Morris, administrator, brings us up to date on Madison Hospital news, and particularly ground-breaking of the new "East Wing" construction.

Being cognizant of the great interest in the nursing course, since about half of our graduates chose to take the nurses' course when they came to Madison, we asked Mrs. Del Watson to give us a report on the status quo of the new two-year associate degree program in nursing, particularly as it pertains to the Madison Campus. Mrs. Watson is associate chairman, Division of Nursing, SMC, in charge of the associate program.

A paragraph in a recent Southern Accent (Feb. 17, 1966) summarizes nicely the two courses in nursing offered by SMC: "Southern Missionary College has one of the most extensive nursing programs in the denomination, having three campuses on which the nursing students may receive their training. The two-year graduates spend one year on the SMC campus, and their second year on the Madison campus, where they complete their training. The four-year nursing students spend part of their time studying in Orlando, Fla., where they have activities at the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital."

● This issue of the SURVEY is produced under more difficult conditions than usual, due to the recent closing of the academy print shop, formerly known as the Rural Press. We are having the type set by a firm in Nashville, and the press work done elsewhere. The hospital is starting a small print shop, and it is hoped that the second quarter SURVEY may be printed there. We wish to remind our readers again that the SURVEY is now a quarterly, and only comes out every three months. Many think they are not getting the SURVEY, because it does not come every month.

Future Nurses' Club, Madison Academy

The Future Nurses' Club has been organized at Madison Academy, with 23 members (4 boys, 19 girls). Mrs. Irene Walper, R.N., is the sponsor.

Bright Prospects for A.D. Nursing Program

The Associate of Science degree program in nursing, which will soon have students on the Madison Extension Campus, is becoming widely known and accepted. Forty-three nursing students enrolled in the program at SMC in September, 1965. This is more than double the number anticipated. Eleven of this number are male students.

In December, thirty-eight students participated in a dedication service, at which they appeared in their attractive pastel green uniforms and traditional white caps for the first time. The service was held in the new Collegedale church the week end of its dedication.

Students spend the first year on the SMC campus. They begin clinical experience in the third week of the first semester and continue with clinical experience in several facilities in the Chattanooga area. The second year is spent on the Madison Extension Campus.

Ground breaking, February 24, for the final wing of the new Madison Hospital was an important date for the associate degree program in nursing. The contract for the hospital also included the contract for the new women's dormitory, which will house the nursing students and a nursing education building. These buildings are scheduled for completion prior to the admission of the second year or sophomore class on September 12, 1966, on the Madison Extension Campus.

The two-year associate degree program is the second nursing program offered by SMC. The four-year baccalaureate program has been offered since 1956. Baccalaureate students will precede associate degree students to the Madison Campus by a few months. Seven will be enrolled for team nursing at Madison Hospital during the summer. Thus nursing students will again appear at Madison, beginning in June, 1966.

Mrs. Ruth Zollinger, who has had

Homecoming, May 13, 14

Remember Homecoming at Madison, May 13, 14. The date has been postponed one week from a previous announcement. For more details see elsewhere in this issue.

Master's preparation at Vanderbilt University, has assisted with Fundamentals of Nursing during the first year on the Collegedale campus. She is responsible for teaching Maternity Nursing. (Her husband, Beecher Zollinger, is a graduate of Madison, Class of 1962.)

Teaching Staff on Madison Campus

Mrs. Patricia Gillit is in charge of the correlation of instruction. Mrs. Gillit holds her B.S. from LLU, and M.S. from Vanderbilt University. She has arranged for experience at Madison Hospital and at Veterans Administration Hospital in Nashville. Students will also receive experience at Central State Psychiatric Hospital in Nashville.

Two new faculty members will be joining SMC on the Madison Extension Campus. Mrs. Louise Montgomery received her M.S. in Nursing at LLU in August, and joins the faculty in September. Her husband is preceding her to assume the responsibility as baker for Madison Hospital. Miss Brenda Botts will receive her M.S. in Psychiatry in the fall from the University of Ohio, and join the Madison Extension Faculty. Miss Maxine Page, M.S., Loma Linda University, and Mrs. Del Watson, M.S., University of Colorado, will be spending some time on the Madison Extension Campus this coming year also.

We feel very pleased with the development of the associate degree program. We have a high caliber of students enrolled. Two associate degree students ranked above the 90th percentile in the National League for Nursing Achievement Test in Nutrition at the end of the first semester. There is growing interest among academy seniors for the coming year, so enrollment prospects look very good.

We are planning for a faculty of eight for the fall. Seven of this number will have Master's degrees in their area of concentration. We have exceptional clinical experience in a variety of health agencies. The Lord has richly blessed the progress of this program. The need for prepared Christian nurses is great, and it is more acute in the Southern Union than in any other union in the North American Division. We trust this program will begin to meet the needs for prepared Christian nurses to give direct patient care. We are looking forward to an expanding program in the future.

Groundbreaking for East Wing of New Hospital

By ROBERT W. MORRIS, Administrator

On February 24, ground was broken for the new East Wing addition of Madison Hospital. Elder H. H. Schmidt, chairman of the hospital board, operated a grader for a few minutes at the excavation site. This new wing will complete present plans for the revitalizing of the Madison Hospital plant.

This structure will be architecturally correct with the present structure, will be four stories in height, and will provide, in addition to 82 new beds, a complete physical medicine department with gymnasium, Hubbard tank, and whirlpools, besides the usual massage stations. Another feature will be a complete cobalt suite for deep cobalt therapy. The cobalt unit has been donated by our radiologist and his group of associates.

All of the patient rooms will be furnished exactly like our present rooms, which will give us 160 all electric beds. Total construction time is approximately one year. We hope to move into the new unit sometime after January, 1967. This will provide us with 200 first class beds in the new modern unit, with the inclusion of the beds in the old surgical wing.

West Hall has just been refurbished as an open psychiatric ward of 22 beds. North Hall will be refurbished, and have 20 beds, and the Parkview unit has 45 beds. This will give us a new total of approximately 289 beds.

Recently, Madison was given a $60,000 gift from the DuPont corporation. In addition we have raised nearly $5,000 through our brick fund campaign. It is hoped that many of the alumni would wish to contribute toward the construction of this second wing of the hospital, and they may contribute on the basis of a brick for a dollar. All contributions for the new hospital will be recorded in a special register for all to see.

Other Hospital News

Of the old buildings back of the hospital, adjacent to, but detached from, the new general hospital, West Hall, North Hall, Hankins Cottage, and old General (Rooms 1-17) remain, in addition to the comparatively new Parkview. The lower floor of West Hall is now occupied by the Linen Room and Housekeeping. Plans are for second floor of West Hall to be occupied by overflow medical patients. Pediatrics has moved from West Hall to the old wing adjoining the new hospital, which was formerly the O.B. department.

Hankins Cottage has become the home of Occupational Therapy and the Beauty Shop.

Maintenance and purchasing are housed back of the old hospital buildings.

Make Your Gifts Through the M.C.A.A.

Elsewhere in this issue you will find mention of the "Brick Fund" for Madison Hospital. You are invited to buy bricks at a dollar each for the second wing of the Hospital. We suggest that these gifts be sent to the alumni office, and our treasurer in turn will send them on to the hospital. Perhaps you would like to include a donation of a dollar or more for the SURVEY in your check; for alumni dues ($2.00 a year; $50, lifetime), and remember the Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Swallens Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

On October 24 Lloyd and Bessie Swallen celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in Monteagle, Tenn. Daughter Miriam, her husband, Marion Moses, and their children were hosts for the lovely reception. As the festivities began, Elder R. M. Mote, the Swallens' pastor, pronounced a blessing on the couple. The wives of Dr. Charles Littell and Dr. James Van Blaricum were among those assisting at the reception.

A large silver, gold-plated tray, inscribed "Mama and Dad—1915-1965," from the Moses family, was one of the cherished gifts.

One hundred and twenty-five friends called between the hours of 3:00 and 6:00 p.m. to offer congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple who have made themselves a vital part of the entire mountain community.

The Swallens came to Madison in 1914, ten years after it was founded, and took the nursing course, graduating in 1917. They were the first married couple here in school. They worked at various times at Madison; and at one time had charge of the treatment rooms in Nashville. Dr. Sutherland wanted them to start some work in the mountains of Tennessee, and they did. Years ago they became interested in physical therapy, went to Battle Creek and studied there. Mrs. Swallen has gone into many homes on the mountain and given treatments. "Hold on to the patient with one hand, and the Lord with the other," she advises.

Alumni Office Changes Location

The Madison College Alumni office moved on January 9 from its former location under the library to rooms above the pastor's study in Helen Funk Assembly Hall.

We have been told that the space we now occupy was used some years ago as housing for young women students, and mention has been made that it was also used as a student government office. At one time later it became Dorcas headquarters until the new Dorcas building came into existence. Then the students took over the office for their A.S.M.C. and M.V. headquarters. They went to considerable trouble and expense to refurnish the room, putting in partitions, dividing the space into three rooms by pine paneling, making a picture window, and tiling the floor.

It was with real regret that the executive secretary moved from the office under Drullard Library, where she had spent five happy years in the room built and furnished by the alumni some years ago. However, the new alumni office is larger and brighter, and we invite Madisonites to come in and see us while on campus.

Dr. Julian Gant Honored

Dr. JULIAN C. GANT, former medical director of Madison Hospital, and an honorary member of the MCAA, was honored by the Madison Rotary Club and also on the "Orchid to You" radio program by Emma's Flower and Gift Shop of Nashville. On the latter occasion Dr. Gant was chosen for his establishment of the Foundation for Rehabilitation of Emotionally Handicapped (F.R.E.H.). He is on the Governor's Commission on Alcoholism.

Dr. Gant is currently engaged in private practice of internal medicine and psychiatry, and his office is located just off the Madison campus.

New Medical Facility at PFA

Pine Forest Academy reported recently that the outside walls of the new sanitarium and hospital are up and the roof was going on. Black mortar has been used, and that, with the used brick veneer, gives a beautiful finish to the building. Although the goal for completion by January 1 was not quite reached, they were given a license for 1966.

Wheeler's 50th Anniversary in June

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wheeler will be celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary on June 6, 1966. They have been connected with our self-supporting institutions for many years and have given faithful service. Brother Wheeler was principal of the high school at Madison College for a few years. At present they are at Pine Forest Academy in Chunky, Miss., where they have been on the staff about fifteen years.

Madisonites in Memphis

Gene Sellars '61 is taking a course in Physical Therapy at the University of Tennessee in Memphis. Gene received his M.S. in Public Health Nursing at L.L.U. in 1961. Gerald Kelly (M.C.A. '59) is a junior dental student at U.T. in Memphis. Frederec and Jackson Cothren both M.C.A. graduates, are also enrolled at U.T., Fred taking the medical course, and Jackie the dental course. Fred's wife, Marilee, is teaching Freshman English at U.T. Extension School.

MCAA NEWS

(Beginning with this issue, we are attempting to indicate in parenthesis the course finished at Madison College—B.S. for College; N for Nursing; ANES. for Nurse-Anesthetist; M.R. for Medical Records; M.T. for Medical Technology (lab); X-R for X-ray; ELED. for Teacher Training; AG. for Agriculture; DIET. for Dietitian; J.C. for Junior College; etc.)

Class of '14

GOLDIE SMITH (N '14) married J. S. Neal after her first husband, Elias Conser died. Mr. Conser was a brother-in-law of "Mother D." Mrs. Neal helped in a nursing home in California for several years and also did nursing in Guymon, Okla., where she lives now. She has one daughter, Mrs. Grace Belden.

REYNOLD G. PETERSON '14, longtime flower grower of Sand Mountain, Long Island, Ala., sent us a copy of his Christmas letter, and wrote: "On April 19, 1966, it will have been fifty years since I left Madison and went to Sand Mountain. Those four years at Madison always seemed like the happiest years of my life, and since then, Madison has always seemed like home to me. I want to thank you for the interesting copy of the SURVEY just received."

Class of '28

LLU Magazine featured STELLA PETERSON with a full page write-up and picture in the winter, 1965, number. She has been an instructor in the School of Physical Therapy at Loma Linda since 1957. Before that she was in charge of Hinsdale S-H hydrotherapy and taught nursing students. Later, when a polio epidemic struck at Hinsdale and she was the only physical therapist, she worked day and night giving treatments and teaching others.

When an epidemic struck again the next year, 1949, quoting from LLU Magazine: "The women in the community realized that the hospital needed larger quarters in order to treat all the victims who applied. They worked themselves and enlisted the aid of Mrs. Eugene Kettering, a philanthropic resident of Hinsdale . . . An extensive campaign was organized and led by Mrs. Kettering. Three million dollars were raised and a new hospital building was constructed between 1951 and 1953, due to the recognition Hinsdale had acquired in polio treatment through Stella's ability."

Miss Peterson is one author of a textbook, Manual of Hydrotherapy and Massage, Pacific Press, 1964.

A picture of Dr. C. E. RANDOLPH in his new office on the LLU campus appears in the LLU SCOPE of Feb. 25, 1966, with a caption that informs us that Dr. Randolph, associate secretary of the General Conference Medical Department, and his secretary welcomed four hundred visitors to their General Conference placement office in Burden Hall at Loma Linda during a recent open house. By living on the Loma Linda campus, Dr. Randolph hopes to recruit more dentists and physicians for calls in mission hospitals overseas. Mrs. Randolph (Alberta Yates) is also a graduate of Madison College.

Class of '29

BONNIE (Miller) CLARK (N '29) wrote Mrs. Moore at Christmas time from Takoma Park, Md. "There are many who have been at Madison . . . They have a Madison get-together every year . . . My husband had a scaffold fall in September and broke his back. He is doing well, but wears a brace and can't work for some time yet . . . I get the alumni news paper and enjoy it."

Class of '31

VIOLET (Sprague) DIRKSEN (N '31) in a recent letter expresses her appreciation of the SURVEY and reminisces of by-gone days: "I remember walking down those long porches in the night when it was so cold and snow was on the ground, also sleeping just outside a patient's room on a folding cot when the snow was close enough to touch. Those were the days that nurses of today know nothing about."

Class of '32

DR. LESTER ELLENBERGER (premed '32) is engaged in private practice in Colton, Calif. The Ellenbergers have three sons and one daughter.

Class of '33

MAE (Keith) WARREN (N '33) lives in Canute, Okla., and is doing private duty nursing at three nearby towns. She was in World War II as a nurse.

Class of '35

VIRGINIA MAY (N '35) has been working as a nurse at Florida S-H for twelve years. Her father, who had been living with her, died Dec. 30, 1965.

Class of '36

● FLORENCE (Mrs. George) TAYLOR, ('36) writes from Madison:

"I have never regretted the ten years dedicated to the college. When one has sacrificed for any good thing, he does not forget it. Much more, then, we feel a part of God's work."

"I am retired from the Metropolitan school system, and am now a substitute teacher. Mr. Taylor has a shop in Madison. He is a watchmaker."

Mrs. Taylor taught at Madison from 1933-43 in various capacities. During that time she was teacher and principal of the elementary school and academy, taught English and education and was assistant teacher of the Teacher Training course in the College. She received her B.S. in Elementary Education from Madison College in 1936.

Class of '37

MARIE (Jones) LUKENS finished the nursing course at Madison in 1937. She married Dr. Harold Lukens, pathologist at St. Helena S-H. They have three children.

HELEN (Deal) SANDBORN (BS '37) says she is "one of the many English professors" at Salem College, Salem, West Va., while her husband, Dr. William C. Sandborn, is academic dean to 1800 students there. Salem College originally was a Seventh Day Baptist College, but today only twenty-four of the students are Seventh Day Baptists. The professors represent all denominations. The Sandborns are only a five hour drive to Kettering Hospital, where their son, Billy, is interning. Billy and MARIE (King) SANDBORN '61 now have two sons.

Daughter MARILYN (Murdoch) '61 received her degree in Medical Records Administration from Loma Linda, and is assistant medical records administrator at the Children's Hospital in Hollywood, Calif.

Evangelist STANLEY HARRIS (B.S. '37) and his team of workers have had remarkable success in their meetings in Bakersfield, Calif., which closed in December, 1965. As a result of two campaigns, a total of 350 people were baptized. Because of the large influx of members, plans are being laid for the building of a new sanctuary. Over forty doctors are located at Bakersfield, and most of them went all out to support the crusade. The team, now called the Harris-Dill-Brooks evangelistic team, began a new series of meetings in the city of Turlock, Calif., in January in the Stanislaw County fairgrounds auditorium.

VIOLA CARLETON (N '37) is supervisor of the new Intensive Care unit at Hinsdale S-H, and also supervisor for three other surgical units. She writes that she enjoys the news in the SURVEY, and looks forward to each issue.

Class of '40

RUTH (Giles) KESSINGER's husband died in 1954, and she married TOM McCULLOUGH, a rancher, in 1958. The McCulloughs live in John Day, Ore. Right after graduation from the nursing course Ruth worked for three years at the medical desk (outpatient department) at Madison S-H. She has three children by her first marriage—Dorothy, a student at SMC; Duane, in the Army; and Judy, who is presently attending Madison Academy. She visited some of her Giles' relatives and the alumni office recently, and gave us the exact date of the death of her sister-in-law, Lucile Barton Giles, who passed away on Oct. 25, 1962.

Class of '43

VERGIE (Reed) SIMMONS (N '43) is a member of the faculty of the county hospital School of Nursing at Owensboro, Ky. Her daughter Kathey is in her second year at S.M.C.

Class of '45

ETHELYN (Jacobsen) REDDIG (N '45) writes: "I must say that I was terribly disappointed when they discontinued the college at Madison. I grew up at Madison, so possibly felt worse about it than many others. With the tremendous shortage of colleges and the necessity for a college education today, it would seem that we need a college more than anything else . . . Please keep the SURVEY coming." "Ettie" is located at Symar, Calif., and is the mother of two children—Randy, age 15, and Linda, age 9.

Class of '46

VERA JENSEN (B.S. '46) has been teaching in the fifth and sixth grades in Stratton Elementary School in Madison for twelve years, and four years before that at Tusculum School. For six years she served as secretary of admissions of Madison College in the past, and for the past six summers has worked in the accounting department of Madison Hospital.

Vera received her B.S. at Madison College in 1946, and her M.A. at Peabody in 1950. She is a member of numerous organizations (NEA, TEA, MTEA, MNEA, PTA, to name a few), and serves as an officer in three of them. She is corresponding secretary in the Madison-Old Hickory Business and Professional Women's Club, and has served as assistant secretary of our alumni association for the past year.

Class of '47

Mr. and Mrs. JOHN MANZANO moved from Madison to Lodi, Calif., last year. They are living near their son Ben. Mr. Monzano formerly taught school in several places, and was in charge of men's hydro at Madison S-H a few years ago. He received his B.S. at Madison in 1947. His wife (Katherine Meyer) took hydrotherapy at Battle Creek years ago, and in 1949 earned her L.P.N. at St. Thomas Hospital in Nashville. Perhaps the best known of the Manzano children on the Madison campus is daughter Charmaine and her husband, James Herman. The Hermans are now teaching in the junior academy at Baton Rouge, La.

Class of '50

MAXINE (Kinzer) TANNER (M.T. '50) is now living in Rockville, Md., and is the mother of a baby boy, Victor James. She finished the lab course at Madison in 1950, and has been employed at the Washington Hospital Center in Washington, D.C.

Class of '52

BERNHARD JENSEN (C.R.N.A. '52) is located at West Plains, Mo., near Dr. Amos Coffee in Willow Springs. He is an anesthetist at Mountain View Hospital, and uses his airplane in his work. He says that he refuses to "drive a car anywhere unless it's an emergency, and the weather is absolutely unfit for flying."

From old Mexico CLIFFORD TONBERG writes that he is "trying to establish a medical missionary unit at the frontier of our SDA work. I came here by foot, two days hard walking from the end of the road, two years ago." He hopes to build a clinic at Sabanilla. "This clinic is to be the springboard to the vast unentered county of Chiapas." He is not connected with Yerba Buena Mission.

DAVID and ELVA (Moore) HARROLD are located at Ellijay, Georgia, where David is X-ray technician in Watkins Memorial Hospital, and his wife has been serving as director of nurses.

DORIS HAIGHT is now Mrs. Roland Wilson. She is doing part time work as an R.N. at Lakeland General Hospital in Lakeland, Fla. The Wilsons have two boys, eight-year-old Ronnie, and five-year-old Johnny.

Class of '53

ALBERT and MABEL NEILSEN are located at Olive Hill, Tenn., near Harbert Hills Academy. Albert (B.S. '43) is working in the lab at Hardin County Hospital. His wife is also a graduate of Madison from the two-year teaching course, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Peacock send greetings from Tehran, Iran, the capital of old Persia, where they are operating a physical therapy clinic. Over 650 people have received treatments there during its three and a half years of existence. They write that they enjoyed a visit from Dr. Jean Slate and her husband when they came to Iran three years ago, and had seen such celebrities as Queen Elizabeth, President Johnson when he was vice-president, and recently King Fersal of Saudi Arabia. The Peacocks have one adopted child, Danny. Mrs. Peacock is a graduate of the dietetics course at Madison. Mr. Peacock was formerly head of the physical therapy department at Madison.

Class of '54

BILL PARK (N '54) is an anesthetist at Wilson Memorial Hospital, Wilson, N.C. The Parks have two children, Beverly Sue and Gary Wayne.

Class of '57

Two of the Haviland triplets (Maellene Lang '57 and Melinda Costa) visited their triplet sister, Meritta Thompson, here at Madison in February. Meritta is on the nursing staff at Madison Hospital. Her two sisters, Maellene and Melinda, are both R.N.'s and on the nursing staff at Washington S-H. Maellene is married to Phillip Lang, bookkeeper and accountant at Hadley Dairy, Gaithersburg, Md. They have two children, Stevie and Brenda.

CLINTON JOHNSON (X-ray '57) Eagle, Idaho, has one more year of study before receiving his B.S. degree. He is thinking of taking nursing. At present he is employed at the V.A. Hospital in Boise as an X-ray technician. His wife, Christina (Warner), is running the laundry at the Treasure Valley Manor Nursing Home. The Johnsons have three children—Raylene, Arlene, and Larry.

A letter from FEBE SANTO DOMINGO '58 tells us that since leaving Madison she has worked in Florida S-H, New England S-H, and Glendale S-H. Febe came to the United States from the Philippines, making Madison her first home in this country. In her own words, "I found a good reception at Madison, and fell in love with it, though it may not compare with our other colleges in buildings, etc. I found that the religious and friendly atmosphere made me feel at home . . . I felt terrible when I learned that there is no more Madison College. Madison has a dear spot in my heart. Now I am at CUC, taking nursing and plan to apply for the mission field. This has been my childhood ambition, but my parents died when I was still very young. Dad, a minister, was killed about the time of the liberation of the Philippines from Japan. We four sisters had to struggle to get our education to be used in God's work . . . When I saw a copy of the SURVEY recently I was delighted, and read those pages back and forth, and really enjoyed every page."

Class of '60

CAROL (Cruzen) SCHABER (MCA '60) has connected with a new self-supporting enterprise in Ontario, Canada, as bookkeeper, receptionist, and medical records secretary. Her husband, Ralph, is X-ray technician.

This new rural medical missionary project is being developed by Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Laing and their associates, and is located on a 600-acre farm near South River, Ontario. The project is called "Woodland Park Retirement Homes," and has been a success since its beginning about two years ago. The believers in the area were organized into a church a year ago with a charter membership of twenty-four.

LINDA PITMAN is now Mrs. David Webb, and lives in Norwalk, Calif. She finished Medical Records in 1960.

Class of '61

MARGARET (Woodruff) ADAMS (N & B.S. '61) is a supervisor on surgical floor at Madison Hospital. Her husband, Willard, works at Gates Rubber Plant. Little Michael Lee came to join the family in November, 1965.

RUBEN PERALES (Anes. '62) is editor of the Tennessee Association of Nurse Anesthetists' Reactor, a monthly publication. Ruben is an instructor in the School of Anesthesia at Madison Hospital, and chief nurse-anesthetist at Baptist Hospital in Nashville. His wife Pat, (Gaulding), finished anesthesia last year, and is on the staff of the anesthesia department at St. Thomas Hospital.

JUANITA (Lanham) SYVERTSON (N '62), after graduation worked at Pewee Valley S-H for a year until her marriage to Calvin Syvertson. The Syvertsons have an eight-month-old daughter, Rachele Bernice, and a nine-year-old foster girl. They are living in Minnesota, her husband's home State.

DAVID KINGRY (N '63) is now located in Portland, Tenn., where he is in charge of the Inhalation Therapy at Highland Hospital.

ROSS CLARK (B.S. '63) and family are now living in Bijou, California, where Ross is principal of a small two-teacher school, and teaches grades 5-8. He is working on his M.A. He says his school is located near the shores of the sparkling icy waters of Lake Tahoe. His sister, Betty (Clark) LeForte, and mother, Mrs. Josephine Clark, both took the nursing course at Madison and finished in the same class, 1954, and are both back at Madison now. Betty is taking anesthesia.

PAT (Sheffield) NICHOLAS (N '63) writes from Cocoa, Florida: "Please send me a Cumberland Echoes. I enjoy so much reading the MADISON SURVEY &

ALUMNI NEWS. My husband is the principal-teacher of the Cocoa-Titusville Union Church School. Our daughter, Wilma Jean, is fourteen months old and keeps me happy and busy just being a homemaker. We can watch the space shots out our front window. Kennedy Space Center is ten miles away. It's a thrill, and yet sobering to be so close to history in the making.

Class of '65

JERRY SHILLING and CAROLYN SHIPP were married in the Boulevard Church on Dec. 19, 1965. Carolyn finished Medical Records last year, and Jerry will finish his X-ray course in September.

SHEILA ROBERTSON, recent graduate from the School of Anesthesia, has left for another term of mission service in Africa. Miss Robertson spent the years between 1959 and 1963 at Kendu Mission Hospital in Kenya, East Africa, where she served as director of nursing education. Upon her return to Africa she will assume similar responsibilities at Maluti Hospital in Basutoland, South Africa.

LETTERS

The Turnbuls in West Africa

GERALD and ALTHEA TURNBULL '57 have been doing valiant service for a year at the Masanga Leprosarium in Sierra Leone, West Africa. Progress is being made in construction on the physical plant of the hospital. An article in the Review & Herald of March 3 says there are more than 100,000 certified lepers in Sierra Leone. "Our workers at the Masanga Leprosarium . . . face an overwhelming task. They are doing a work that merits the admiration of our people both at home and abroad. A program of leper rehabilitation is to be put into effect without delay at this institution."

The Turnbuls are both nursing and college graduates of Madison College. They have two children — six-year-old Gordon and Elizabeth, born in September, 1960. Mrs. Turnbull writes: "One of our greatest joys of this year has been the birth of a very precious baby daughter on September 8. She is Gordon personified—she is just exactly like his baby pictures. He loves her, and we are very, very thankful God has blessed us so . . . We were thrilled to see the plans of the new expansion (at Madison) and are so happy to receive all the news of progress at Madison. Though we did not know Mrs. Sutherland personally, we felt the influence of her life and work while there. God has used her mightily. May Madison continue to be used of God to prepare young men and women for the very needy fields of service all around the world."

● Hannah Pomeranz Slade, former student and worker at Madison, writes from El Monte, Calif.: "I love Madison and all it stood for. Please don't let those ideals die. Our denomination needs just such a school to teach trades as well as the getting of degrees. My years at Madison were very happy . . . I also spent some time in a unit. I always read with interest of the meeting of the units. Out here are many loyal friends of Madison . . . Keep the SURVEY coming." Mrs. Slade has worked in Los Angeles County Hospital for twenty-five years.

● Edmund Hagopian, former student of agriculture at Madison College, is now pursuing his studies at Andrews University. He sent a donation recently and wrote: "As I was looking through a copy of the SURVEY in the A. U. library, I read about many of my friends and teachers. I would just like to keep abreast of the news."

Mrs. MARY HANSEN writes that she has been working as charge nurse in Modesto City Hospital in California. Her husband, the late Joseph E. Hansen, was one of the first students at Madison, and secretary to Miss DeGraw. Later he brought his family to Madison and served as manager of the food factory and Kinne Kitchen. Daughter Doris (Mrs. Mike Wiley) is living in Nashville; daughter Thelma (Mrs. Truman Reed) is in Hawaii, where her husband is on the faculty of the academy; son Elton is lab. and X-ray technician with Dr. Alan Monroe in Roseburg, Ore. All three children graduated from the academy here.

Mrs. Hansen says she enjoys reading the SURVEY, and would not want to be without it. "I have followed with interest the progress, the ups and downs, the changes at Madison for thirty some years . . . I hope Madison will still fulfill God's purpose for it and I think it will."

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McFARLAND, St. Helena, Calif., wrote and sent a contribution to the SURVEY. Years ago, Mr. and Mrs. McFarland and their son, now Dr. Wayne McFarland, were members of the Madison family. Mr. McFarland sold bread and Madison foods, Mrs. McFarland taught school and assisted in the library, and son Wayne was a student.

VIOLET (Stewart) LANG wrote sometime ago: "I am so glad the alumni is going to remain active and will continue the SURVEY AND ALUMNI NEWS so we can keep up with the progress of Madison. We are very sorry to hear that the farm land was sold. Even though the college is no more it seems it would be wise to keep the farm for the academy. The Lord intended all our schools to have a farm where students could learn, and to grow products for the school. Also when the land is sold, the public will build right up close to the school."

EDYTHE V. CONE writes from Simi, Calif.: "I have always looked forward to getting the MADISON SURVEY. The years I spent at Madison were some of the most valuable years of my profession. I was there from 1939 to 1943 as operating room supervisor. I am now director of nurses in the New Simi Valley Community Hospital in Simi, Calif. The administrator and wife, William Gosse, are also former Madisonites. This is a 50-bed general hospital, to be expanded to 150 beds later."

● Dr. Sara C. Murray, Gates, Tenn., writes: "I enjoy the SURVEY . . . I am a Methodist, but feel my church could learn from you. I have admired the do-it-yourself policy of Madison, and am distressed by too many handouts . . . I cannot see why Madison College should close, and have not words to express my grief that it did . . . I am a graduate of the University of Tennessee Medical College in Memphis, class of 1913, and am now retired."

Campus Neighbors Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rushing celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Dec. 26, 1965, at their home on Larkin Springs Road in Madison. Mrs. Rushing worked in the diet office at the sanitarium for a time, and also in the college store. Their daughter, Winifred (Mrs. George Kelley) attended Madison College, and has worked for sixteen years in the O. B. Department. The five Kelley children have all attended Madison Academy. The Rushings live just off the campus, and have been good neighbors through the years. Mr. Rushing believes in rural living and organic gardening. He is a retired special accountant for the N.C. & St. L. Railway.

Memorials

As seen by the back page, we have an unusual number of deaths to report in this issue. The relatives of one of these deceased sent word not to give flowers, but to make a memorial. So our alumni executive committee gave thought to establishing a memorial fund here at the

Nominating Committee Report

Our bylaws provide that prior to the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, the executive board shall appoint a committee of seven to nominate candidates for elective positions to be filled; and that a report of the nominating committee shall be published two months prior to the annual meeting. Accordingly, a nominating committee was appointed (William Campbell, Florence Fellemende, Audrey Myers, D. L. Bidwell, Edythe Cothren, and Mable Towery). This committee met and submits the accompanying ballot. If you do not plan to attend Homecoming May 13, 14, please send in your ballot.

(E. E. Schlenker '42 was appointed president-elect last year and was asked by the executive committee to fill the vacancy that occurred in the president's office. This he did. The nominating committee has asked him to continue as president of the Alumni Association for 1966-7, and he has accepted.)

My Name & Address (optional) _____

Madison institution. Several ideas were suggested, but the one which seemed most appropriate to the committee was to start a memorial in the alumni office, and use it for scholarships for students who are in need of financial aid.

The idea will be discussed at Homecoming, but in the meantime we are collecting for this fund. The names will be entered in a book in the alumni office. Any one person or more may memorialize a name for anyone else by sending a dollar or more (we hope it will be more), and names may be selected of relatives or friends who have died recently or years ago. The fund is not confined to the present, or necessarily to Madison graduates. All gifts to the Alumni Association are tax deductible. Send to Madison College Alumni, Madison, Tenn.

Homecoming, May 13, 14

Due to a conflict in dates and events, we had to postpone the date for Homecoming one week. The official date is now May 13, 14. Letters have been sent to the Honor Class of twenty-five years ago (1941), and several have responded.

We invite former students and faculty, as well as all graduates to come. Meetings start on Friday evening and continue all through Sabbath and Saturday evening. Every effort will be made to provide free lodging, and meals will be served at the cafeteria at nominal prices. We suggest that those who come by car bring sheets. Tickets for the Saturday night supper will be $1.50 each for adults and 75c for children twelve or under. (To those whose dues are paid, tickets will be $1.00.) Please notify the Alumni office if you plan to come. If you should plan to stay with friends or relatives on the campus, please let us know that, too.

Interim Vice-President

WILLIAM V. CAMPBELL '56, chief X-ray technician at Madison Hospital, has been appointed by the M.C.A.A. executive board as acting vice-president to serve until Homecoming, May 13, 14. Before returning to his alma mater, he served as chief X-ray technician in Harris Hospital, Ft. Worth, Texas. His wife, the former Darlene Riffle, is a former student at Madison.

New Director of Nursing Service

Miss Naomi Gowan is the new director of Nursing Service at Madison Hospital. She has a Master's degree in Nursing Service Administration from the University of California. Miss Gowan has served in Florida S.H., White Memorial, Walla Walla College, Portland S.H., Washington S.H., and St. Helena S.H. in administrative and teaching positions. Her position just prior to coming to Madison was director of nursing service and head of the School of Nursing at Jennie Edmundson Memorial Hospital in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

GRANT TUTTLE

Grant Tuttle, a former teacher at Little Creek School, Concord, Tenn., died Dec. 13, 1965, at Augusta, Ga., at the age of 45. Cause of death was a kidney malfunction. While at Little Creek he conceived the idea of making violins and teaching young people to make them. After leaving Little Creek, he was employed at the Harris Pine Mills in Valdosta, Ga., as consulting engineer, and his spare time was spent in colporteur work.

Survivors are his wife, Eva, a son, three daughters, a brother, Horace, who was in charge of the bindery at Little Creek at the same time that Grant was there, and two sisters. His wife will continue teaching church school in Valdosta.

Mr. Tuttle was an ardent believer in the self-supporting work, and Madison in particular. His interest was aroused by a copy of the MADISON SURVEY which he happened to find in a waste basket. His name was placed on the mailing list, and he continued reading the SURVEY until his death. He attended so many self-supporting conventions at Madison, that, in his own words, "You just as well consider me as a graduate."

L. H. STARR

Lafayette Herbert Starr, died Oct. 15, 1965, at Miranda, Calif., at the age of 96. Brother Starr spent seven years at Madison College as head of the poultry department.

JOHANNA STOUGAARD

Johanna Stougaard, died Jan. 17, 1966 at Geneva, Ill., after a long illness. She finished the nurses' course at Madison in 1947, and Anesthesia in 1953. Her birth place was Palermo, N.D. She was a staff nurse at Hinsdale S-H for over four years and had worked in Geneva for the past twelve years as a nurse-anesthetist at Community Hospital, where she died. Surviving are two brothers and two sisters.

ZONA CARR KING

Mrs. Zona King, former teacher at Madison College for twenty-seven years and wife of the first postmaster at Madison College, died after a long illness on January 14, 1966, at the age of 82 at Meridian, Miss.

Mrs. King was born in Shelby, Mich. She attended Battle Creek College during its beginning years, and was a Bible instructor and church school teacher in the Michigan Conference. In 1908 she was married to Roy B. King, who preceded her in death in 1959. She received her B.S. degree from Peabody. The years following her marriage were spent in educational work in the South.

Mrs. King was an ardent student of the Bible and enjoyed giving Bible studies and teaching Sabbath School lessons. For two consecutive years she had the privilege of teaching the Sabbath School lesson in the large tent at the Alabama-Mississippi campmeeting.

She is survived by two daughters — Audrey, a nurse, and Hazel, a church school teacher — both of Meridian, Miss., and both of whom are graduates of Madison College, and a twin sister, Mrs. Nona Richards of Lake City, Mich.

GRACE EILEN YANCEY

Miss Grace Yancey, a graduate nurse of Madison College in 1929, died at Baptist Hospital in Nashville as the result of an automobile accident Jan. 11, 1966. At the time of her death she was on private duty at Madison Hospital, serving from 1962 until the accident which took her life. Before that she did private duty nursing in Florida, Atlanta, Hot Springs, Ark., and at the VA Hospital in Nashville. Burial took place in Atlanta, Georgia. She is survived by three sisters and a brother.

ADA BRALLIAR CHEEK

Ada Bralliar Cheek, daughter of the late Dr. Floyd Bralliar who was a pioneer of Madison and brother-in-law of Dr. E. A. Sutherland, passed away April 1, 1965, in Pulaski, Tenn. She was a member of the 1919 graduating class of nurses and one of the two first graduates of Madison to take the State Board examinations, also the first to have three full years. From 1960 to 1964 Mrs. Cheek had been employed as director of nurses and supervisor at Giles County Hospital in Pulaski. Survivors are a son, William H. Cheek, and a daughter, Mrs. Paul Roland. A brother, Major Max Bralliar of Del Rio, Texas, is also a survivor, and a sister, Alice Rahn of San Leandro, Calif.
