Madison Academy Progresses

By W. A. Sowers, Principal

Madison Academy has just finished a very successful year. Many years ago, under guidance of the Spirit of God and wise leadership, the foundation for a strong educational program was laid here in Madison. It has been a pleasure to work in this fine school, and God's spirit is still manifest on our campus. We are determined to continue to build a strong program which includes the spiritual, mental, physical, and social aspects of the development of our youth.

We have a well-qualified staff of workers at Madison. All of our staff are college graduates, and seven hold Master's degrees. These are all experienced, dedicated Christian individuals, determined to do everything possible to guide the youth into God's kingdom.

Our students are serious-minded and desirous of accomplishing good. I believe that Madison Academy established a record for a school with an enrollment of a little less than 200, when in one day we raised over $4000 for Ingathering, and this did not include business contacts. Other activities of the church included MV work, religious liberty, Sabbath school, temperance, etc. This year our temperance chapter put on programs and "Smoking Sam" on radio, T.V., and in forty public schools temperance films were shown to over a thousand high school students. Madison Academy not only won the union conference award, but also the General Conference National Award.

On the scholastic level, Madison has a chapter of the National Honor Society. Membership in this group is a real honor as each member must be superior in leadership, citizenship, and scholarship. We are proud of the achievement of our youth. This year we have added two classes to our curriculum; namely, Home Economics II and Electronics. We plan to increase our offering in practical education as fast as possible, for we believe that this type of education is as the Lord desires.

During the past few years hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent to improve our physical plant in order to provide better facilities for our youth. These included remodeled Williams Hall, with new furniture; a completely renovated Home Economics department with new equipment and additional space; new steam and water lines; new roads and sidewalks; new housing facilities; landscaping.

We have several active clubs on our campus such as Future Nurses, Teachers of Tomorrow, Secretarial, Homemakers, Radio, Photography, Boys' Club, and Girls' Club. Also on our campus we have a very important club known as the Loma Club (Ladies of Madison Academy). This group of staff ladies has been active in providing for some of our needy students, in planning Sabbath dinner invitations for all the students, and for special projects, such as furnishing the girls' lobby.

Your school at Madison is a busy place. It is a growing school, and we are endeavoring to build according to God's plan. I have given you just a short report of our progress this year. We invite you to visit Madison Academy, and support it with your influence and your prayers.

Madison Academy Graduation

A large class of 42 academy seniors received their 12-grade diplomas Sunday, May 21, in the Helen Funk Assembly Hall. Fifteen of the 42 had indicated their intention to enter some phase of the medical profession, and nine plan to be teachers.

Speakers for Commencement were as follows: Consecration, Elder H. D. Bennett; Baccalaureate, Mr. Robert Kimball; Commencement, Elder W. E. Peeke. The class gift was a Bell and Howell projector.

Next California Chapter Meeting August 13, La Sierra Cafeteria

The next meeting of the California Chapter of M.C.A.A. is scheduled for Sunday evening, August 13, at 6:00 p.m. in the Commons (cafeteria) at La Sierra College. All Madisonites and friends of Madison are cordially invited to attend. The chapter president, Dr. C. E. Randolph, is located in Burden Hall, Loma Linda. Mrs. Randolph is the secretary. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Agnes Johnson, Mrs. U. D. Register, and John Crowder.

Alumni Weekend, 1967

By Myrle Tabler

Press Secretary, Campus Church

"The spirit of Madison College still lives," one alumna was heard to say to another as she entered the Helen Funk Assembly Hall Friday evening, April 28, where the Madison College Alumni Association was beginning its annual Homecoming celebration.

What did she mean? What is the spirit of Madison College? I thought about it as I attended the meetings and saw friend greeting friend and old classmate, heard stories from the lives of those who had come back to their alma mater for two days of spiritual renewal and fellowship.

Cogent thoughts on the subject was presented by Dr. Ralph F. Waddell, medical secretary of the General Conference, who was the principal speaker for both days. At the Sabbath morning service he said: "The man of yesterday, uninfluenced by environment, sees no challenge in today. But modern man is fully aware of his environment and wants to be involved in service in the present. Modern Seventh-day Adventists are untouched by fear or insecurity, for these have no place in the life of a Christian."

The Silver Anniversary class of 1942, was honored this year in remembrance of the fifty outstanding men and women who made up its roster 25 years ago. This class boasts 5 medical doctors, 4 Ph.D.'s, 7 teachers, 18 nurses, 3 administrators of nursing homes, one conference president, the wife of a conference president, and 7 who became wives of doctors.

Honored "Alumni of the Year" were Elder and Mrs. Robert Stewart, class of '58 who were presented a plaque by Bernard Bowen. He spoke of their long-time service to church, college, and community as teacher, chaplain, and nurse.

A moment of sadness fell over the assembled guests at the Friday evening meeting as Mabel H. Towery read the names of 19 alumni who have "ceased from their labors" since last Homecoming. As the names were read, Dollie Bowen, assisted by Edythe Cothren, pinned a white carnation on a memorial cross for each one. The spirit of Madison College holds these in loving remembrance.

Saturday evening was banquet time, held in the Madison Hospital dining room. Graduating Associate Degree nursing students of SMC who spend their final year on Madison Campus, were the invited guests, as well as paramedical students finishing their course during the year. Dr. Waddell and Mrs. Del Watson, chairman, division of nursing at SMC, were after-dinner speakers.

Perhaps the spirit of Madison College finds its best definition in a letter of salutation to the Alumni from Elder Robert R. Pierson, former president of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, and now president of the General Conference:

"My heart rejoices in gratitude for the fine men and women who have walked from its (Madison College) doors into a life of practical and devoted witnessing for God's truth and His kingdom."

The spirit of Madison College then is the spirit of loving service to God and fellow men, and this was evidenced at Homecoming in the lives of those who once studied in its classrooms. That spirit still lives!

Saturday Night Banquet and Business Meeting

Between vespers and the banquet Saturday night tours were conducted through the two new nursing education buildings, and through the new Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Department (PM & R) at the hospital.

The hospital Dietary Service Department, under the direction of Mrs. Sumi Yoshimura '59, served a delicious banquet-style dinner. Then John Williams, president-elect and master of ceremonies, called on E. E. Schlenker to take the chair and conduct the business meeting. Ballots for election of officers were passed out. Paul Blankenship '58 received the highest number of votes as president-elect for 1967-8; William V. Campbell '53 was elected treasurer; Florence Felleme Jaspersen '47 assistant treasurer. Phyllis Watts '68 and Edith Johnson '58 were elected assistant secretaries.

Alumni Dues Raised

Chairman Schlenker spoke of the expense involved in keeping the SURVEY and Homecoming going and other operating expense, and asked if the dues should be raised. John Williams made a speech, told a story to illustrate his point and moved to raise the dues from $2 to $3 a year. This recommendation passed.

Treasurer's Report, 1966,

By Vera Jensen

Our income for the year 1966 was $1,652. 61 for dues and donations. Operating expenses for printing the MADISON SURVEY & ALUMNI NEWS, for student and other labor, telephone, supplies, and other office expenses came to $1,885.42. So we spent over $200 more than we collected during the year. Our operating balance at the beginning of the year 1967 was $319.22.

Your Opinion Please!

At the time the ballot was passed, another blank was passed out at the Saturday night Homecoming banquet, titled "Your Opinion Please!" Two questions were asked. (1) Should the M.C.A.A.

Homecoming be continued? When? Why? (2) Should the MADISON SURVEY & ALUMNI NEWS be continued and why? Some interesting replies were received which we plan to summarize later. In the meantime, we invite those not present to write in their reply, and also to send in their dues for 1967 if they have not already done so.

HOMECOMING HIGHLIGHTS

• Seventy people registered from out of the Nashville area at the 1967 Homecoming.

• The Class of '42 participated mainly in the Sabbath School program with E. E. Schlenker as superintendent. Clifford Melendy had the Scripture and prayer, Raymond Harold was in charge of the offering, and Dr. Bryant was the excellent teacher of the lesson. Mission features were presented by two couples in costume: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Santini, former missionaries to Nigeria, West Africa; and Mr. and Mrs. Esteban Kabigting.

• A new feature introduced into the Sabbath School during the past year has been the Sabbath dinner for visitors furnished by one or two of the classes. This new feature was carried out on Homecoming Sabbath, and a great many visitors came to the Dorcas building to eat dinner and fellowship together.

• Madison Academy supplied a program of music and a temperance oration by Bobby Peeke on Sabbath afternoon. The Brass Choir performed under the direction of Robert Anderson, and the Echoliars (girls' chorus) under the direction of Francis Cossentine.

• At Vespers the meditation by E. L. Marley '42 in verse, prose, and song centered around the theme, "The Hands of Christ."

New Alumni Committee, 1967-8

Alumni President Leaves
New President Appointed

John Williams was named last year as president-elect and served on the Alumni board for a year in that capacity, also presided as Master of Ceremonies at the Homecoming alumni banquet. We regret to say that John accepted a call to the hospital in Punta Gorda, Florida, where he will be doing anesthesia. This left a vacancy.

At the first meeting of the new executive committee on May 15, 1967, Paul Blankenship '58, who had been voted in as president-elect at the Homecoming business meeting April 29, was asked to serve as president for the coming year. We are glad to say that Paul accepted, and is now our president.

When Paul was voted into the presidency, that left another vacancy, and Miss Vera Jensen '46 was asked to serve as vice-president of the alumni association for the coming year, and we are glad to report that she accepted.

Paul Blankenship, New President 1967-8

Paul Blankenship graduated from S.W.J.C. Academy in 1950 and finished nurses training at Madison in 1958. He was in the army from 1952-4. He taught nursing at Madison College 1958-64 and since has been working at Madison Hospital's Parkview, 1964-7. Presently he is chairman of the In-Service Committee at Madison Hospital. This is a staff development committee which plans monthly programs to provide better patient care and up-grading nursing.

Paul's wife, Dahan, finished nursing at Madison Hospital in 1958. The Blankenships have three children — Paula, who has just finished eighth grade at Madison; Karen who will be in the seventh grade; and Kevin in the fifth grade.

William V. Campbell, R.T. '53, who has been ably serving as assistant treasurer, has been elected treasurer for 1967-8. He comes from deep in the heart of Texas. Formerly he was chief X-ray technician at Harris Hospital for eight years in Ft. Worth, and returned to his alma mater in 1964 to serve as chief X-ray technician and technical director of the School of X-ray Technology.

Florence Felleme Jaspersen '47, our new assistant treasurer, completed the Physical Therapy course at C.M.E., and was assistant director of the P.T. department in Loma Linda for two years. She taught Physical Therapy at Madison for three years. She has been secretary of the Layman Foundation since 1945, and secretary treasurer since 1954. She serves on nine boards among the self-supporting units of the South, and is listed in Who's Who of American Women.

Phyllis Cullen Watts, assistant secretary, took one year nurse's training at Madison. Later she worked at Parkview and as a nurse technician in surgery at Madison S-H. She started X-ray training Sept. 1, 1966. Her husband, Warren Watts is working in the blood bank and Serology at the hospital lab.

Edith Johnson, assistant secretary, is a graduate of Enterprise Academy in Kansas. She came to Madison in 1955, took some classes, and has been working in the dietetic office as a diet aide.

Other members of the Executive Committee have been introduced more recently. As past president, E. E. Schlenker '42 continues with the board for one year. Former members Edythe Cothren '47, Bernard Bowen '56, and Mable H. Towery, executive secretary, are also continuing. Gene Sellars '61 is a new member appointed to the board.

"I Remember When"—Forty Years Ago

At the Homecoming banquet Saturday night, Ruby Jensen '27 was asked to reminisce a bit on the nursing class of 1927, since 1967 marks their 40th anniversary, and also the first class to have a formal graduation.

"In the class anything designating class rank or distinction was discouraged. We had no stripes across the corner of our caps. Even our director of nurses wore no black band on her cap. The only differentiation patients could make between the Senior and the student nurses was the condition of the uniforms, realizing those in frayed and faded stripes and aprons were senior nurses. Before that when a course was completed, the students went to the business office, settled their accounts and received their certificates, and that was that.

"Our class wanted to feel we had graduated. The class of '26 had worked on it, but didn't quite make the goal. Dr. Blanche Noble was our faculty advisor and very sympathetic with our aspirations, and I feel sure her influence was largely responsible for our request being granted. So ours was the first formal graduation. There were 24 members of our class, including Normal, Premedical, Cafeteria, and Nursing.

"You should be very proud of this modern hospital today, with all its conveniences. In those days we had no push button call lights; we had little hand bells. We had no staff of nurses on night shift either. There was a senior nurse in charge and six or eight nurses sleeping on call on folding cots along the porches—even when the snow blew."

Silver Anniversary Class

Due to the diligent effort of Mrs. William Harp, who wrote all the members of the class of '42, urging them to attend Homecoming or write a letter, many of the class responded. Also a form letter was sent out from the Alumni office, and a list of the class members and their addresses. A goodly number responded to this letter. Altogether out of the large class of fifty, all but five came or wrote a letter or had been heard from fairly recently. We hope those five will be conscience-smitten and still respond.

These Attended Homecoming

Lawrence Bidwell finished nurses' training in 1942 and college in 1946. He went to Peabody and got his Master's in Education Administration in 1947. He has taught at Madison College Academy and was principal of the academy for one year. Presently he is nursing supervisor at V.A. Hospital in Nashville and serves on the education committee of the Heart Association. His wife, Irene Moore, is a former student. She is presently a charge nurse at Parkview.

Dr. William A. Bryant and his wife, the former Vesta Dunn, both graduated from Madison College in 1942. Dr. Bryant finished medical school at Loma Linda in 1947, and is a physician in the Good Samaritan Hospital in Woodbury, Tenn. He was president of the class of 1942. The Bryants have four children. The eldest, Rodney, just graduated from SMC, was editor of the Southern Accent this past school year.

Dorothy Dawson Harp lives in Marietta, Ga. She wrote before Homecoming that she is a homemaker for the most part. "That, along with church offices, occasional substitute teaching, two teenagers (John and Joan), and my 82-year-old father-in-law, who has lived with us the past eight years, keeps me pretty busy." Her husband, William '41, finished dentistry at LLU in 1949.

Raymond Harold is leading a busy life in Hopkinsville, Ky., as administrator of the Park Lawn Manor Nursing Home. He writes, "We have 50 patients now and more wanting to come in. The sprinkler system should be installed in three months, and then, God willing, a first class treatment room." Mrs. Harold is the former Betty Peeke, Class of '45. The Harolds have three girls and one boy. Raymond wrote in his letter to Mrs. Harp, "I don't like to think it is 25 years, yet it is also 25 years nearer His coming."

Elder Everett L. Marley ('42) is president of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference. His wife, the former Ruth Bryant, is a sister of Dr. W. A. Bryant. The Marleys have three children — Barry, Cheryl, and Marcia.

Mary Belle (Ramsey) Martin is director of nursing in a 70-bed nursing home, Dalton, Georgia. Husband Edwin is administrator.

Clifford Melendy and his wife (Nora Kendrick) both finished Madison College in 1942. Nora and her sister Easter first heard of Madison and Adventists through a former student, Homer Barrett. They were young people in West Virginia, and this was just two weeks before school was to open in the fall. They packed and came. As a result eighteen people have been baptized through the years. After graduation the Melendys were workers at Pine Forest Academy from 1942-8. They were at Highland Academy for a year, where he taught math. Then Mr. Melendy connected with Southern Publishing Association, where he is assistant periodical manager.

Margaret Harper Pierce (N'42) is living in Portland, Tenn. Her husband, Emmet, finished college in 1941 and was in last year's honor class. Later he took nursing and anesthesia. The Pierces worked at Lawrenceburg S-H for a while and at Highland S-H. Presently Emmet is doing free lance anesthesia. The Pierces have three daughters. Patricia is a senior at SMC and in her last year of the Baccalaureate program in nursing. Margaret Rose has just graduated from Highland Academy, and Catherine will be in the 8th grade next year.

Robert Santini was a lab. tech. in Erlanger Hospital, Chattanooga, one year, then went to Nigeria, West Africa, as a surgical nurse and manager of Ile-Ife Hospital for six years. He is now manager of the Pine Hill Sanitarium in Birmingham, Ala. When his wife, the former Dorothy Swanson learned that the State of Alabama was offering the two-year A.D. nursing course almost at their back door, she decided to enroll and will soon have her R.N.

Letters, Class of 1942

L. Don Adamson lives at Sacramento, Calif. where he teaches mathematics and science at McClatchy High School. He also owns a film producing company, "Anthony Adams" Film Co. He and his wife, Katherine, have two daughters.

Charles E. Aebersold, Ph.D., is the author of a text, Kentucky Government, used in junior high schools in Kentucky. He is dean of boys and vocational guidance counselor at Jefferson Area Vocational Technical School in Jeffersontown, Ky. He does work with students and counselors from 14 large community county high schools, and with high school guidance counselors in surrounding counties.

Preceding this position, Dr. Aebersold was professor of Philosophy and Psychology at Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, Ky. Dr. Aebersold earned his doctorate at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana, in 1954.

Gordon D. Cross, Harlingen, Texas

"I am night technician for the Valley Baptist Hospital here and have a small private laboratory. In order to supplement the income I have opened up a business in the repair of electric shavers and clocks. With a family of three in church school, all of whom will be beyond elementary next year, one has to scheme to make ends meet. We are fortunate to have a fine twelve-grade school here in the Valley.

"Please convey my greetings to the class and my regrets that I cannot be present."

Lillian (Davis) Harold, Morgantown, W.Va.

Elder and Mrs. Joseph Harold notified the Alumni office before Homecoming that they planned to be present. They and his brother, Raymond, and family were to attend together. Lillian Harold wrote at that time: "I have been drafted into teaching the past four years before coming here, but since we have no school in Morgantown, I have spent the past year and a half helping my husband, who is minister of this district. I am also part-time literature evangelist. We have two girls, Barbara and Carolyn, attending Mt. Vernon Academy. The ministry is a busy life."

Later Lillian wrote: "Dear Alumni of '42. I am very sorry I cannot be with you. My husband and I were both looking forward to coming and meeting our friends and school mates.

"It seems only yesterday that we graduated together, but oh the years that have intervened! I give you a little summary of some of the things I have been doing since graduation; they would be as follows: Teaching church school, 7 years; Bible Instructor, 2 years; director of Correspondence School, 1 year; literature evangelist, 5 years; rearing of two daughters, now in the academy.

"My husband, who is now an ordained minister, has been in the ministry six years. Now as a minister's wife, who is expected to fill in here and there, I feel that my past experience has been a great help.

"Again may I say, I'm very sorry I cannot be there. I shall be thinking or trying to imagine all the things I am missing."

Harriet Jenkins, La Sierra, Calif.

"I am a dietitian at Corona Community Hospital, Corona, Calif., and enjoy the work. At present we have 64 beds, and plan to expand. I was married to Virgil Jenkins. He graduated from Madison in 1944, and died in 1958. We had four children — Virgil, Jr., David, Ramona, and Helen.

"My two sons are in the Navy, and will be leaving for overseas the last of May. Ramona is a junior at LaSierra Academy, and Helen is in the seventh grade. Our main goal is to live a life that will witness for Jesus so He can come soon.

"I am proud to tell others that I graduated from Madison as I feel we received a training there we could never get any other place. I plan to visit at Madison in August while on vacation. I had planned to attend Homecoming, but with the boys going to Vietnam soon I want to spend each weekend with them. However my thoughts and prayers will be there with you this weekend."

Alice (Rebman) Knesel, Monroe, N.Y.

"I am so sorry I will not be able to attend our Silver Anniversary Homecoming. I would love to see all of you once again.

"Many things have happened in the past 25 years. I have nursed all but four years, during which time I did office work for my brother. I have been married over 15 years, and had a family when I got married.

"My oldest son Jim is in his 8th year with the U.S. Navy. He has two adorable children. My daughter graduated from C.U.C. with her degree in nursing. She is married to a medical student and lives in Loma Linda. My youngest son, Thomas, left for the U.S. Army April 17. He has been out of high school two years now. He studied Art one year in Italy, and went to the Community College.

"I work at Good Samaritan, a Catholic hospital, but we have so few nuns, it doesn't seem like a religious institution. I have been on night duty over seven years doing floor duty. This, like all hospitals, is a very busy floor. We have 62 patients, filled to capacity and over for this floor, with eight of the patients in the hall.

Elder and Mrs. R. E. Stewart receiving plaque as Honor Alumni of the Year, 1967, from Bernard Bowen, while daughters, Mrs. Harold Lang '50 and Mr. Lorin Mixon '52 look on.

"I will be looking forward to receiving the next SURVEY when I will be able to hear about all of my classmates."

Emil Messinger, Chunky, Miss.

Emil Messinger wrote that Homecoming came just before final exams this year at P.F.A., and thus he could not attend. He wishes the Alumni weekend time could be changed so that school personnel could come. He asks this question, "Why not plan a combination of the former fall self-supporting workers convention and the alumni association, as it used to be?"

Mr. Messinger received his Masters degree from U.T. in 1954. Of his forty years of teaching, 24 were in denominational schools. Mrs. Messinger is the former Marie Worrell, graduate nurse, Class of 1922. The Messingers have two doctor sons—Harold E., M.D., practicing in Charlotte, N.C., and David W., D.O., practicing in Wilmington, Del. [We are sorry Emil's letter to Mrs. Harp must be held over until next time. Ed.]

Evelyn (Marley) Wright, Temple Terrace, Fla.

Evelyn Wright thanked Mrs. Harp for writing, and said: "I think you are mighty courageous to take on such a job—and by hand, too!"

She regretted that she could not attend Homecoming as it was the wrong time of the year for her. "I wish it could be planned for the summer."

She spoke of the great amount of paper work in her doctor-husband's office under Medicare. They do not get to take much time off except for a vacation in the summer and one or two conventions. Evelyn is a graduate nurse and helps in Dr. Wright's office. He is a physician in private practice in Tampa, Fla.

Catherine (Windemuth) Schrader, Orefield, Pa.

"I cannot attend the reunion, so greet my old friends for me. If it had come at any other time I would probably have been able to be present. After all these years, I made the big step—going back to nursing. Have started a six-month refresher course. I have two children and now that they are grown and away from home, I decided to try my hand at nursing again. I had not done any nursing at all since my marriage 23 years ago, so I am really in need of a lot of 'refreshing.' I am working in the local hospital on O.B. and like it quite well. It is gradually coming back and I'm fitting in fairly well.

New Alumni Board, 1967-8. Seated: E. E. Schlenker, past president, Mable H. Towery, executive secretary, Bernard Bowen, board member. Standing: Edythe Cothren, board member, Vera Jensen, vice-president, Phyllis Watts, assistant secretary; John Williams, acting president; Wm. V. Campbell, treasurer; Paul Blankenship, newly elected president. (Not present: Florence F. Jaspersen, Edith Johnson, Gene Sellars.)

"My husband sells securities and works in a stock brokers office of Gahnstock & Co. in Bethlehem, Pa. We live in the country on a 45-acre farm. We have a few sheep, a cat, and an ancient apple orchard. It is hillsides, but have been here almost 17 years and like it."

Catherine's daughter attended Pennsylvania State University, and her son just finished three years in the service.

Howard and Carrie (Vanderbilt) Nix, Hinsdale, Ill.

"Probably we won't be at the Homecoming. We shall be thinking of you all, and wish you well — each one of you!"

"We spent 16 years as missionaries in charge of the Ranelagh Health Institute under the General Conference in Ireland. We probably would be there yet, but I became very ill. I am doing fine now.

"We adopted two Irish babies, now 18 and 12, and had two of our own."

Cecil Parker, St. Petersburg, Fla.

"We surely would love to go to the Homecoming at Madison, but will not be able to this year. Our eldest daughter graduates from C.U.C. April 15, so that means a trip to Washington. Then Dianne, our youngest daughter, graduates from S.M.C. the last of May. She is getting married June 11. You can see that we have a full program for the next two months. Our ten-year-old boy keeps us busy at home. He is a live wire.

"We would be very happy if you would bring greetings to our classmates and friends for us. Cecil is still working in the government hospital. He hopes to be able to retire in a few years."

Edith Brackett Maples writes: "I regret that I cannot be with you for alumni Homecoming in April. My husband and I have teaching duties, so we cannot leave at this time of year. I wish these meetings could be in the summer months.

"My husband teaches Industrial Arts and New Testament History here at Ozark Academy. I teach in the elementary school at Gentry. This is Don's eighth year of teaching and my fifteenth. We like it very much here at Ozark Academy.

"We have three daughters. Gwendolyn, Joyce, and Donna. Gwendolyn is a graduate of S.M.C. with B.S. and R. N. degrees. She then went to the University of Maryland and finished classwork requirements for her Master's degree in January, 1967. She is now working on her thesis and doing a research project for the university that will give her four hours on her Ph.D.

"Joyce is a senior here at the academy and will graduate in May. She plans to attend S.M.C. next year. Joyce was born at Madison while Don was taking his college work there. Donna is a junior here at the academy this year.

"We have many fond memories of Madison and love to visit there whenever we can."

Mary Ann (Voss) Mitchell writes concerning Homecoming: "I'm sorry that I cannot be there, but the distance is too great and I am teaching. This year I teach Vocational Nurses in a three-semester program at Napa Junior College. I knew I was saving my old text books for a reason. The 25 years since I left Madison have been full and interesting—three years office nursing, eight years in surgery, and then the last five years teaching — in 3rd, 5th, and 6th grades, and in 9th and 10th grades for the Emotionally Handicapped (potential drop-outs). And now back into the nursing field.

"I was married for 14 years, a good rewarding marriage. Now I am a widow, but in all, God has been very good to me. Madison was a good learning experience and I'm very grateful."

Elsie (Thomas) Schippers sent deep regrets that because of the distance (Battle Ground, Wash.) and her two school children, she was unable to attend Homecoming. After graduation, she returned to Colorado and the next year married a soldier. The next few years were spent moving every few months. They went to Portland, Oregon, but didn't like to live in such a big city, so moved across the river to Vancouver, Wash. From 1948-1960 she worked in doctors' offices, did private duty and floor duty. In 1961 she started working at the Washington State School for the Deaf where they have a 30-bed infirmary to accommodate 300 children. She writes: "This has been a very rewarding and interesting work, since not only do we have to treat the children, but also first try to figure out what they are saying and what their complaints are. I am eagerly looking forward to the SURVEY which will contain all the news of our class."

Grant Tolles (C '42) and his wife (Lucille Cline, N '43) own and operate the Island Terrace Nursing Home in Lakeville, Mass. He is manager and she is superintendent of the home. They sent a very attractive postcard and folder describing the home. They have four children. They write: "We would like so much to be with you for this nice event, but since we have a large building program under way it will not be possible. Now to give account of ourselves. We are located in an area where there are several lakes and near the old whaling city of New Bedford, the home of Joseph Bates.

"Our building program will bring our capacity to seventy-three and will include a new kitchen and dining room, and will enlarge our rehabilitation facilities.

"Our family consists of two boys, Brenton, age 21, and Irvin, age 18. They both are students at A.U.C. We also have two little girls, Jemma Lee, age 6, and Carol Lynn, age 5. It is nice having a second family because they keep us young.

Ines Beck receives Alumni scholarship of $100 from John Williams at Madison Academy graduation.

"We have many fond memories of Madison. It was there that both Lucille and I became S.D.A.'s and dedicated our lives to His service. God has richly blessed us and we long to be of better service to Him.

"Since we live off the beaten path we do not see our Madison friends often, consequently we are most happy when some chance to come our way. Our latch string is always out and we have plenty of room, so if any of you should visit New England and Cape Cod, do come by and visit us."

Ulma Doyle Register, Ph.D., Loma Linda, Calif.

Ulma Doyle Register ("Reggy") is associate professor and chairman of the Department of Nutrition at L.L.U. Effective July 1, 1967, he has been appointed professor and chairman of the Department of Nutrition. He is married to the former Helen Hite. The Registers have three daughters—Becky, Dotty, and Debbie.

After graduation in 1942 he was deferred from the army two years to work as a research chemist at Madison Foods and worked on his masters at Vanderbilt. He spent 32 months in the army during World War II, leaving the army as a Nutrition Officer in the Medical Corps. The next three years were spent at the University of Wisconsin, where he received a Ph.D. in Biochemistry and Nutrition in 1950. For one year he was a post-doctoral fellow at Tulane University in New Orleans.

Dr. Register then went to Loma Linda as a teacher of Biochemistry and Nutrition to medical, dental, and graduate students. He has been chosen sponsor for several of the medical classes, and was honored as a favorite professor by the graduating medical class for the year 1958. He has been doing research constantly, usually with several projects going at the same time—B₁₂, B₆, sulphydryl groups, cause of alcoholism, obesity studies, etc.

Dr. Register is a member of a number of professional societies, and attends international meetings on nutrition and biochemistry. He presented a paper at the World Congress of Nutrition in Hamburg, Germany, last summer. Recently at a meeting in Chicago of the Federated Societies of Biochemists, Anatomists, Pathologists, and Biologists he was honored by being asked to chairman one of the sessions one whole day, and the research paper which he presented on the cause of alcoholism received much publicity.

For the past ten years Dr. Register has been making tours of several campmeetings every summer, speaking on nutrition. He is one of the most popular speakers Loma Linda has to offer, and his services as lecturer are in great demand.

Past presidents: E. E. Schlenker, John Williams, Edythe Cothren, Bernard Bowen.

Edith (Taylor) Sauer, Hanford, Calif.

"Lots of water has run under the bridge since we left Madison. We had two girls, their ages around ten and three years when we came to California. My husband and I taught church school side by side for nine years. We now have three girls. The two oldest are married, and our youngest was a senior in Armona Union Academy this year.

"After we had the terrible auto accident about 17 years ago, my husband decided to go back to nursing. I have taught 22 years in church school, but two years ago my husband was called from Glendale S-H to work in the Community Hospital here at Hanford. I came along and have been nursing since. We have a 4-acre place in the country here at Hanford. We are glad to be out of the large city of Glendale."

Mrs. Victor Seino, Santa Monica, Calif.

"We are sorry we will not be able to attend the Homecoming at Madison on April 28, 29. Victor is solo-ing as a general practitioner in a busy Japanese gardening community, so it is difficult to get away even for a week-end. From time to time we find patients becoming converted to the truth through the tracts we distribute, for which we feel greatly rewarded. . . . I am also a former Madisonite. I took pre-nursing there and finished my course at W.M.C. We have three sons."

"Last year the daughter of Victor's brother, Yoshio, Ellen Yates, married a former Japan Missionary College student, and they are now at C.U.C. He is majoring in Business Administration, and Ellen has become an accomplished pianist."

Nobie Williamson, Bozeman, Montana

"Although my husband is not a member of the honor class, still we both would like very much to attend Homecoming.

"Since 1942 his work has taken us into five different union conferences. First, the Southwestern Union and Arkansas-Louisiana, where he served as district pastor for four years. Then he accepted a call to the Central Union, where he spent the next 17 years serving as pastor, departmental secretary, and in administrative capacities, including presidency of the Wyoming Conference. There was a brief time in that span in which he accepted an urgent call to the Florida Conference to help open the Forsythe Memorial Hospital in Tallahassee, Fla. It had been given to the conference, and because of his medical background he was urged to come down to get it in operation. In the early part of 1963 he accepted a call to the presidency of the Minnesota Conference in the Northern Union, and we were there until 1966, when he accepted a call to the presidency of the Montana Conference, where we are now.

"My work has primarily been to assist my husband in his work by trying to be a good minister's wife, with its challenging and complexing situations. I have worked some in my profession as dietitian during the war when there was so great a need for dietitians, also taught nutrition classes to student nurses, and supervised special diets at one of the larger hospitals in the city where we were located for a time. When my husband was in departmental work for the conference and away from home much of the time I accepted the invitation to be head dietitian at a hospital nearby and served there for five years.

"We both appreciate the training we were privileged to obtain at Madison. Also, we appreciate the missionary spirit that Madison seemed to engender among its students. During the passing years, as our paths have crossed with other former students of Madison, we note that there still remains a love and admiration for the guiding principles for which it stood. We hope that there will be many more meaningful years of operation for the school."

- Miss Charlotte Pierce (N '42) lives in Savoy, Texas, and works at the V.A. Hospital in Bonham, Texas, as afternoon supervisor. She attended East Texas State College while working on her B.S. degree in Nursing Education. She wrote that she would attend Homecoming, but did not come. She is a sister of Emmet Pierce.

- Miss Joanna Seymour finished Dietetics at Madison in 1942. She lives in Nashville, and presently is a clerical typist with Genesco.

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Robert Bowes, son of Dr. and Mrs. Roy R. Bowes of Santa Ana, Calif., to Emma Jeanne Thompson on June 18, 1967, in Napa, Calif. Robert graduated from both church school and academy at Madison, attended Madison College, and received his B.A. at PUC in 1965. He is presently a medical student at LLU. His parents are both graduates of Madison College and past presidents of the M.C.A.A.

Editor's Dilemma

- The SURVEY editor is faced with a dilemma each quarter while trying to crowd all the newsworthy material into a few pages. This is particularly true this time. Madisonites really make news and we find it difficult to get it all in. Some items must be shortened or omitted or held over.

- The new long awaited shopping center has been opened. It includes the Madison College post-office, the Kentucky-Tennessee B&B House, the grocery store, and Dr. Hollis Cochran's dental offices. It is located at the far end of the large new parking lot across from the hospital.

ALUMNI NEWS

Dr. Joseph C. Johannes has recently accepted an appointment as acting medical director of Taiwan S-H, according to L.L.U. Scope (5/24/67). Dr. Johannes was one of the survey team of Adventist medical personnel that flew to the Chinese Island of Quemoy recently to determine the number of trachoma cases needing treatment. Mrs. Johannes is the former Winifred Godshalk, class of 1917.

1932

Dr. Walter R. Cummings (Pre-Med. '32) writes that his wife, Rowena, died March 16, 1967. He is living in Glendale, California. His youngest son, Todd has just finished the 12th grade and his oldest son, Raleigh, is a dentist, a recent graduate from Loma Linda, and now a captain in the Air Force in Idaho. Dr. Walter writes: "There were several of our family at Madison: two sisters, Dr. Clara Hastings '32, and Mabel (Mrs. Clarence Sanders), and four of us boys: Wilbur (deceased), Delmar, Arthur, '35, and myself. Clara '32 and Arthur '35 are now medical doctors in California."

1933

Fuller—Irvine

Emma Green Fuller (N '33) and Jay H. Irvine were married on February 26, 1967. Mr. Irvine is an auditor in the Pacific Union Conference.

1934

Geraldine Wisdom Zimmerman (N '34) is working as staff nurse in a Jewish Hospital in St. Louis, Mo. Her husband, Roland, also finished nurses' training at Madison in 1934. The Zimmermans have three children. Roland Jr. is an intern at Washington S-H and will be a first year resident at L.L.U. Medical Center. Rosemary is married to Ronald Baugher, and is a student at Union College. Susan Jane is a sixth grader in church school.

1935

Arthur F. Wheeler was a student in the Agriculture department at Madison in 1935 and spent over ten years as head of the college fruit department. He left Madison in 1951. Since then he spent much time as a beekeeper in Wisconsin, Florida, and Tennessee. He and his wife, a church school teacher, have been workers at P.F.A., Chunky, Miss., and Hylandale Academy, Rockland, Wis. Since then they have spent most of their time on Ramey Good's farm at Bon Aqua, Tenn. "We have been through several stages of activity here," he says. "First, emotionally disturbed children, then work with alcoholics in connection with the Madison F.R.E.H. office. Just now it is farming or cattle ranching."

Arthur Wheeler is a brother of Ruth Peak, Mrs. Alice Wilson, and Mrs. Lois Kanatzar, all in California, and a brother-in-law of Deliah Wheeler.

Stanley Hall (B.S. '36) is working with a satellite studies group involved in ionosphere research at Stanford University. After leaving Madison he worked in the art and photographic departments at Pacific Press and for a time was assistant superintendent. He wrote: "We have enjoyed receiving the SURVEY down through the years and have read with interest the reports of the various Homecomings that have been reported. Many times we have wished we could attend these interesting sessions." That wish came true for the 1967 Alumni weekend while on a business trip to Puerto Rico and Greece. Stanley's wife (Elgeva Burdick) was secretary to Elder J. E. White at one time. His mother is Mrs. Belle C. Hall '27.

We had lost contact with Ila (Williamson) Mills (N '38) until recently when someone sent us her address in North Miami, Fla. She writes: "I was very happy to receive the SURVEY and be in touch with my school again." She is head nurse in a clinic and for the main part does industrial work. Her husband died in 1964. She has one son, Patrick.

Byron H. Steele, Sr., M.D. ('38) of Fairmont, Georgia took a residency in anesthesiology at Grady Memorial Hospital in Atlanta recently. His son, Byron, Jr. is working at Madison Hospital lab as assistant chief technologist and section head of the chemistry department. The Steeles also have two other children — Dennis, and Janet (Mrs. Lockhart).

Ralph Martin (B.S. '38), president of Oak Haven, a self-supporting institution in Pullman, Mich. is a graduate from Hinsdale S-H before coming to Madison where he attended college, and was on the staff from 1957-9. He is married to the former Ila Walker, and they have three children: Ralph, Jr., who is pastor of the Pasco, Wash. church; Marian (Mrs. Martin Davidson), and Alice. A Lifeline Health Center has been opened at Grand Rapids, Mich., operated by Oakhaven, featuring a vegetarian cafeteria, a health food store, a bakery, cooking classes, lectures, and a smoking clinic. Ronald Crary is leading out in the work there.

Helen Roosevelt Larson (Diet. '40), a teacher at Battle Ground, Wash. writes: "An accident January 13 led to a prolonged hospital stay and surgery of the cervical spine, so I am unable to return to work this term. My writing is poor yet, but the operation and recovery would be classed as a miracle. As my daughter, Rosemary, married last June, I am alone, and wishing I had been a better correspondent through the years. I haven't had a contact with a single classmate. Dorothy and Fred Black and I sponsored the first alumni group together in California at Lynwood in November, 1942. It is interesting to hear how it has flourished."

1941

We have received word from Carmen (Guglielmo) Montemayor (N '41) of the death of her husband on April 15 of a heart attack. Carmen lives in Monterrey, Mexico, with her two children.

1943

Marion (Sietz) Simmons '43 sent her dues and a donation for the Memorial Scholarship Fund in memory of her husband, James D. Simmons, who was former credit manager of Madison S-H. She writes, "Next year will be the twenty-fifth year since I finished at Madison and the Lord willing, I hope to send $25, one for each year since my graduation. Mr. Simmons and I spent four happy years from 1955-9 at Madison as staff members, and I do not regret the years given in service to my Alma Mater." She is presently supervisor, Department of Education, Atlantic Union Conference.

Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Rochelle Kilgore had a delightful trip "South of the border" during the Christmas holidays. They visited every country in South America but two, seeing our missions, hospitals, clinics, and dedicated workers. She says she has slides that tell the story in pictures.

Connie (Kontra) Throckmorton (B.S. '43) sends her dues and a donation for the Scholarship Fund from Rupert, Idaho, where she and husband, Jay, own and operate The Music Shop. Their daughter, Judy, graduated in Foods and Nutrition from Walla Walla in June. They also have five boys. Connie invites friends to drop in and see them. "At the time of my graduation I worked for Miss DeGraw in the college business office."

Marie (Albarian) Aved ('43) is a life member of the M.C.A.A. She writes from Fresno, Calif., "I have been doing private duty work part time. I hope to attend an alumni meeting one of these days. Please don't discontinue the SURVEY or especially the Homecomings — ours will be coming in a year and I am sure all of the 1943 class will be looking forward to it."

Dr. Harold W. Moody, former student at Madison College in 1945, lives in Spartanburg, S.C. and is the medical secretary of the Carolina Conference. The Moodys have four children.

1946

Patricia Lowe (C '46), wife of Edwin O. Lowe, M.D., sends her life membership and writes from Oxnard, Calif., "Ever since we left Madison College in 1946 we have been wanting to go back to pay a visit, but just did not have the chance to do so. Now we are settled in Oxnard, Calif., for the last 14 years. We have six children, four of our own, and two adopted. There are five boys and one girl — she is heaven sent. Our eldest son, David, is twenty years old. He has been accepted at L.L.U. medical school. Albert is eighteen and is taking civil engineering at La Sierra, but wants to go to W.W.C. next year. Freddy is sixteen and graduates from Newbury Park Academy in June. Nine-year-old Isaac is in grade 4 at Linda Vista Junior Academy. Our little adopted girl is the queen of the house."

1947

Grace (Yamaguchi) Kitchen (Diet. '47) is teaching trainable mentally retarded children, primary level, for the county school in Phoenix, Ariz. She has taken 18 hours graduate credit on special education since leaving Madison. She has one son, David, now attending S.U.C. Academy, Keene, Texas.

Madison Survey & Alumni News

James K. Herman (Agr. '47) writes from Baton Rouge, La.: "We spent 13 years in California in teaching or agricultural work. We are engaged in a very busy program here at Baton Rouge. We have 100 students and an active program in our church, too. My wife Charmain (Manzano) teaches grades 5 & 6. We have five full-time teachers and several part time. Our oldest son Jimmie graduated from S.M.C. this year as a theology major. He and his wife Ellen (an accountant) are going to A.U. in the fall. Ronald is a biology major at S.M.C. — a junior this year. Jeanie, our eighth grader, graduates with the honor of valedictorian. Gary, our youngest, will become a teen-ager this year. I plan to go to L.S.U. this summer and continue working toward a Master's degree. We always enjoy the news in the SURVEY and hope it continues."

Russell H. Bailes took agriculture and attended Madison College 1945-7. He works for the U.S. Post Office as a mail-handler in Washington, D.C. Before his present job he worked on a newspaper (Raleigh Register) and taught school for two years. He writes: "I hold fond memories of the campus at Madison that I shall always cherish. Perhaps future plans will include at least a visit to the campus."

Ward B. Shaw, Sr. lives in Symrna, Ga. He has been teaching biology in the local ten grade school. He and his wife attended the recent Homecoming at Madison.

William H. Knight Ph.D. (Agr. '48) is State Supervisor of Vocational Guidance and staff psychologist in Columbia, S.C. He obtained his Ph.D. at Michigan State University and taught there two years and three years at Ohio State. He does all types of testing and counseling, especially as related to job opportunities. He has been most successful in helping handicapped people find and prepare themselves for jobs. Mrs. Knight is a church school teacher.

1951

Brown—Johnson

Lillian V. Brown (P.A.C.E. '51) and Buford B. Johnson were married at Murfreesboro, Tenn., on May 14. The Johnsons are at home at 109 Chestnut St., Smyrna, Tenn.

Helen (Klaren) Aaby (Sec. '51) is living in Pendleton, Oregon, where her husband, Clovis, is connected with Harris Pine Mills. He is a brother of Ogden Aaby '43.

Sue (Townsend) Potts (Sec. '51) is living in Silver Spring, Md., where her husband Dr. M. D. Potts is on the staff of Washington S-H. On April 30, 1967, they welcomed their new little son David Alan into the world. He joins Kathy Sue and Keith Douglas. Sue writes, "I'm always glad to hear from Madison. We had the privilege of having Miss Naomi Gowan at dinner recently. I was her secretary in the nursing office at the 'White,' when she was the director of nursing service there."

William S. Felter graduated from Madison College in 1951 with a major in Lay Evangelism. He and his wife Lauranella are living in Ambler, Pa., where he has been working for the Veterans Administration since 1952 as a charge and voucher clerk, which is a grade GS III. He writes: "My wife and I are buying a house near Ambler, Pa. We have about one-third acre of land and are thankful to be out in the suburbs."

1952

Doyle Martin (Anes. '52) and his wife, Genevieve (Eaton) Martin (N '48) are living in Booneville, Ark. Doyle finished nursing, college, and anesthesia at Madison, and has been doing anesthesia for the city hospital in Booneville, Ark. Daughter Carolyn has just finished her third year of the four-year nursing course at S.M.C. Their son, Nick, graduated this spring from Ozark Academy. The Martins attended Homecoming in April at Madison, and are both alumni life members.

1953

Glen W. Schaeffer ('53) is elementary school principal and remedial reading teacher in Martinsburg, W. Va. He received his M.A. in Education from West Virginia University in 1963. He is married to the former Florence Ann Murrill, and they have two children.

1956

Floyd McDaniel (B.S. '56) is accountant and business manager of the 32-bed Rifle Community Hospital in Colorado. He is also the publisher of the weekly newspaper, Grand Valley News. At the time he took over the newspaper, it was the last handset paper in Colorado.

Harry Mayden (B.S. '57) is principal of the Jacksonville, Florida Junior Academy and teacher of 9th and 10th grades. He also directs the choir in a large Baptist church. He is married to the former Joyce Christensen '55 and has four children. He received his Master's in Biology at Peabody in 1965. Joyce writes, "We enjoy the SURVEY as we like to hear news about old friends from Madison. Even though things look entirely different, we remember Madison with pleasure."

William Eugene Graves (lab. '57) is a medical technologist for the Lamar Medical Hospital, Paris, Texas. His wife (LaVeta Herber) is also a graduate of Madison, Class of 1957. They have three children.

Jack Gibbons (N & B.S. '58) is a Captain in the Army Nurse Corps in Germany. As educational coordinator for the U.S. Army Hospital at Bad Cannstatt, he plans, promotes, and carries out all educational activities sponsored by the Department of Nursing. One main function is to train soldiers in Nursing Arts to intelligently care for patients. He has four beginning classes a year and the program is continuous. At times there are Adventist soldiers in his classes.

He writes: "Besides the regular army duties we are active in our S.D.A. church group in Stuttgart. I am vice-president of the school board, president for the Stuttgart Protestant men of the chapel, and give illustrated lectures on Brazil in the German S.D.A. churches. My wife is the travel agent for the hospital officer wives club, and helped the Protestant chaplain conduct Vacation Bible School."

"Our three children keep us busy also, planning sight seeing and other activities. Our boys have enjoyed the German school they attended, and our daughter is doing real well in the American School of Stuttgart. Traveling has been fun as well as educational for our family."

"There will always be a soft spot in our hearts for Madison, for there we spent four happy years. If it had not been for Madison College, I don't know where I would be today. It was a shame to see Madison close its college doors, and we hope Madison will yet RISE again."

"When the Madison SURVEY arrives, we devour every word, because we have friends who went to Madison and we like to know where they are and what they are doing. It is like a letter from home, and we appreciate it very much. Thanks so much for sending it."

Shirley (Burk) Newhart (Lab '59) and husband, Bill, are living in Los Angeles, Calif. She is a housewife and manages an apartment house in Beverlywood. Her husband is a licensed embalmer and works as assistant manager of the Pierce Brothers Mortuary in Beverly Hills.

Betty (Bullock) Ables (X-ray '59)

Betty (Burchett) Ables (X-ray '59) writes from Topeka, Kansas: "My maiden name was Bullock. I am a sister to Brenton, administrator at Highland. I married Elmer Ables in December, 1959."

"Since leaving Madison I haven't done anything with my X-ray training, but have found the math I took for that course very helpful. I took a night course in bookkeeping and have been employed by a Shawnee County court as bookkeeper for over 3 years. I enjoy this kind of work every much."

"I had a son and daughter, Ramoin and Ramona, by my first marriage. These children have been adopted by my present husband. I also have one stepson, Elmer, Jr. (Sonny), giving us three children. Ramoin is a student at Harbert Hills Academy. He loves it there and hopes Ramona will be able to join him there next fall."

"I regret that Madison College had to close its doors. I would not have been able to have obtained any college education if it had not been for Madison. I hope it will someday reopen. I am thankful to Madison College for so many things. I know it has been a blessing to many like myself."

Dorothy Voss (N '59) writes from Indianapolis: "I enjoy the MADISON SURVEY & ALUMNI NEWS so much. I've been doing just enough private duty nursing to cover school and living expenses, and now I am buying equipment to open up my own treatment rooms soon. I haven't decided on the exact location yet. I anticipate an opportunity to visit Madison this fall. So many changes have been made since I was there in 1959 getting my B.S. degree in Nursing. At that same time I was head of the physical therapy department and taught physical therapy."

Deryl W. Christensen (B.S. '59) is teaching Industrial Arts at Sunnysdale Academy in Missouri. Since leaving Madison he has taken advanced studies at the University of Missouri. Formerly he taught drawing and general math and was head of the maintenance department on the Madison campus.

Ronald and June Schmale ('60 & '61) have moved back to Madison from Walla Walla, Wash. Ronald is the new director of the School of Medical Technology at the lab. With the coming of this family we now have three Davidson sisters on campus — June Schmale, Virginia Sellars '57, and Anne Pettey. Anne's husband, Galen, is chief therapist in PM & R at the hospital.

1962

Patricia (Runion) Craw (M.R. '62) writes from Loma Linda, Cal., "I am a medical secretary for two doctors in the Department of Medicine at L.L.U. Medical Center. My husband, Joel, graduated from Madison Academy in 1962, and from La Sierra College in 1967. He is now research accountant for L.L.U. accounting office."

1st Lt. Thomas Bates (Anes. '64) is stationed at Ft. Benning, Georgia. His wife is the former Jeanne Tucker (M.R. '62) and they have two children.

James Latta (N '64) writes from Dothan, Ala., "I am a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army, stationed at Ft. Rucker, Ala. While in nursing basic training at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, I was with another Madisonite — Elpidio Laurel. At the present time I'm working in Pediatrics. We have a new 75-bed hospital opening the 24th of Feb. At that time I may go back to medical or surgical nursing."

1965

Judith L. Heberer (M.R. '65) is working in the insurance department at Hinsdale S-H. She worked at Watkins Memorial Hospital in Ellijay, Georgia, before moving to Hinsdale.

1966

Barbara (Graham) Schwarz (N '63, Anes. '66) is working for Dr. O. A. Zeller in Union City, Tenn. She is an anesthetist in a 200-bed hospital-nursing home. Husband Fred is working in the lab at Volunteer General Hospital, Martin, Tenn. They have one daughter, Tamara Ann.

1967

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fitch, both graduate nurse-anesthetists, have moved to Beeville, Texas, where they are on the staff of Memorial Hospital.

The Turnbolls at Masanga Leprosarium

In the August 4, 1966 issue of the Review and Herald there appeared an article by Althea Turnbull entitled "A Busy Year at the Masanga Leprosarium." (Althea and her husband, Gerald, are former students of Madison College, (Class of '57.) In this article she told of the tremendous need for proper bandaging of the large, deep, and multiple ulcers for more than three hundred lepers.

In a recent letter to the editor of the SURVEY she said: "The need for those wonderful knitted bandages will always be with us. New patients—some of those 80,000 in the country—are being admitted, and out-patient services are being expanded.

"The bandages are knit out of plain cotton grocery string, usually obtained in large hanks or spools. The width is about three inches. We use mostly six feet lengths but also need four feet and eight feet. The stitch used is just the plain 'pearl' type throughout.

The new alumni committee will be listed in next issue.

"Besides the need for bandages, there is a great need for men's used shirts and shorts; sheets or a cover-cloth; children's simple books with Bible stories and general knowledge; also Our Little Friend, Primary Treasures, Junior Guides, and picture rolls. It may be that busy mothers with young children would prefer collecting men's clothing.

"Overseas shipping is best as 'Surface Mail' (air is far too costly) in a heavy plastic bag—then good strong brown paper, with plenty of heavy string. This makes your parcel water-proof, strong, easy to handle, and lighter for postage. Parcels should be approximately ten pounds, but not over twenty pounds. We suggest in each parcel some bandages, a few used shirts and shorts and four or five books, then the total contents declared as 'Bandages and Welfare Materials for Leprosy Work.'"

"The Corn Lady"

This little book, The Corn Lady, contains personal letters written to her folks at home by Jessie Field, a rural schoolteacher, well-known for her effective methods of teaching children to love and live off the land. This girl, because of her love for the land and the people who raised corn, liked to be called "The Corn Lady." She later became National Secretary for Rural Work of the Y.M.C.A., and county superintendent of schools in Iowa.

We are counseled to make "Agriculture the ABC of education," preferably in rural schools where a school garden can make the children's training practical. Read how Jessie Field inspired children so they became helpful with household and farm chores making a family project of the farm.

This book has a Foreword by Dr. F. O. Rittenhouse, president of PUC, and reviews the work of Booker T. Washington. The Corn Lady was published 50 years ago but has a challenging message for us today, and can be purchased through the MADISON SURVEY office for $1.00 a copy.

MRS. HARRIET WALEN

Harriet Naramore Whitney was born in 1871 in Amherst, Ohio, and passed away April 25, 1967 at the age of 96 years at Chestnut Hill Farm School and Sanitarium, Portland, Tenn. Her parents moved with their family to San Francisco, where she attended grade school and graduated from high school with high honors. After graduating from San Jose State Normal College she taught school in the state of Washington where she met Herman M. Walen. They were married in San Francisco and went to Gloucester, Mass., to make their home. To this union were born two children—Susan (Mrs. Hershell Ard), and Ernest A. Walen.

Mrs. Walen became ill and went to New England S-H as a patient. While there she talked with a Mrs. Haynes about our message. She said her son, Carlyle B., a student at AUC, could instruct her on our doctrines. C. B. Haynes gave her Bible studies. She accepted the Adventist truth, and went back to Gloucester where Mr.

Walen had a fishery. Young Carlyle started out in colporteur work in the summer, and stayed with the Walens. He gave Mr. Walen studies. Mr. Walen joined the church, sold his business, and they moved to Healdsburg, Calif., where she taught church school, and he worked in the food factory. On one of his field trips, Dr. E. A. Sutherland talked with them about coming South, and they came in 1908.

After three months the Walens bought the Tommy Freeland place near Portland, Tenn., where they began the Chestnut Hill "unit" in a one-room log house. Mrs. Walen taught in the school for many years and substituted as needed until her 90th year. She never lost her love for, and interest in, teaching children and young people. More than 1,000 pupils were under her teaching. She gave many hours of service to any one who needed her help day and night in her community and in her last years she greatly appreciated their thoughtfulness of her.

She leaves to mourn their loss Mrs. Susan Ard of Chestnut Hill, and Ernest A. Walen of Springfield, Mass., one grandson, and five great grandchildren. Her son, Ernest, heads a plant that manufactures chemicals for hardening steel.

Her only grandchild, Ernest, Jr., lives in Chicago, and recently attended a Five-Day Plan to stop smoking, held at Hinsdale S-H. He said, "If you want to make a 96-year-old grandmother happy, publish that picture in an S.D.A. publication that she can see." The picture appeared in April 28, 1967, Southern Tidings.

The funeral sermon was preached by Elder W. D. Frazee, and burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, near Chestnut Hill.

NOLA GIBSON JONES

Nola Gibson Jones died August 13, 1966, at Madison Hospital at the age of 81. In 1911 she came to Madison S-H to work and do missionary work. She married Walter Jones of Nashville in 1915. They moved to Daylight, Tenn., where she taught church school and helped to start a church.

In 1921 she entered nurses' training at Orlando S-H. After getting her R.N. she taught and supervised there for about twenty-five years.

After Mr. Jones' death, Mrs. Jones returned to Daylight, Tenn., and lived there eleven years. In 1959 she moved to Madison, and there resided until her death at the home of the George G. Bartlett family.

Survivors are two step-daughters—Mrs. Lucinda McCabe of Nashville, Mrs. Nan Sears of Cincinnati—and step-son Edward Jones of Smyrna, Tenn.

FLOY MILLER MARTIN

From one of her friends we learn that Floy (Miller) Martin, who graduated from the nurses course in 1937, died in November, 1966. "She was living in Newberg, Oregon, at the time. She did very little nursing after her marriage. She has one daughter, Rosemary, who is living with Floy's mother at Newberg. Floy had diabetes for the last couple of years. She had had some teeth extracted and never recovered like she should, and they thought it might have been the diabetes which flared up and caused her death."
