N L N Accreditation Received

The Southern Missionary College associate degree program in nursing received official notification in December of full accreditation with the National League for Nursing. The N.L.N. has been designated as the official accrediting body for professional nursing programs in the United States.

This is an outstanding achievement, since this accreditation was granted immediately following the graduation of the first associate degree class. Students in this two-year program spend the first year and summer on the Collegedale campus, and the second academic year on the Madison campus.

The S.M.C. associate degree program is the first such program in the State of Tennessee to receive full accreditation. There are currently about 300 associate degree nursing programs in the United States. Of these, forty-two have received full accreditation. Five of the forty-two are located in the Southern region.

The results of the State board examinations written by the first graduating class were outstanding. The students' scores were above State and national averages on all parts of the examination. The program is designed for: Men and women who did not go to college, but now desire more education; women with families to support who need a profession; those who desire an exciting, rewarding career in a minimum of time; those with practical training or experience in nursing who want a sound college background and an associate degree.

Madison alumni can assist with the success of this program by encouraging promising persons in their communities to investigate the possibilities offered by this program. Descriptive literature is available on both the Collegedale and Madison campuses.

Report from Layman Foundation

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Layman Foundation the following officers were elected: Roger F. Goodge, president; A. A. Jaspersen, executive secretary; and Florence Felle-mende Jaspersen, associate secretary and treasurer.

The Layman Foundation was founded in 1924, as a welfare corporation, by Dr.

1968 HOMECOMING

The alumni officers have taken into consideration the fact that teachers and parents with children find it difficult to attend Homecoming during the school year. After conferring with the academy administration, the date June 21, 22 has been decided upon. The class of 25 years ago (1943) will be the Honor Class this time, also all who graduated forty or more years ago. Start planning your vacation trip around that date, and be with us.

E. A. Sutherland, Lida Funk Scott, and others, in the interest of rural education and medical centers in the rural South. Through the years this organization has been active in assisting not only the institution on the Madison Campus, but also other institutions in the Southern States. Its present constituency and board have voted to secure sufficient capital to provide for modernizing the present physical plants of its affiliated Southern self-supporting institutions.

There are challenging opportunities for assisting in the self-supporting work in the South. Those who are interested in having a part in this work are invited to write to The Layman Foundation, Madison College, Box 1272, Madison, Tenn. 37115, for more detailed information.

Potomac Chapter Meeting, April 6

Notification comes from Homer R. Lynd, P. R. secretary of the Potomac Chapter, that another meeting is planned for Saturday night, April 6.

Madisonites in the D. C. area are invited to come together during the cherry blossom festival for a potluck supper Saturday night, April 6, at 6:30 at the Takoma Park (Md.) Recreation Center. The chapter officers selected this date, hoping a number of out-of-town visitors will also be present since it is cherry blossom festival time.

Elder Gordon Creighton, associate chaplain of Washington S-H is president of the chapter; Bruce Bush of the hospital lab, vice-president; Sylvia Maltbie, worker in the General Conference treasury department, secretary; and Homer Lynd, secretary of admissions CUC, is public relations secretary.

Paramedical Graduation Exercises

Madison Hospital, Jan. 4, 1968

Graduation exercises were held Jan. 4, 1968, in the Sutherland Memorial Chapel for 15 young people who finished Anesthesia, X-ray, and Medical Technology at Madison Hospital during the past year, or were soon to finish. Robert W. Morris gave the address, and Bernard V. Bowen gave the charge.

William V. Campbell, R. T., technical director, School of X-ray Technology, and the two graduates from his department (William L. Ramsey and Yates Musselwhite) were all present. (See Page 5.) Bill Ramsey is presently employed at Murfreesboro, Tenn., working with Dr. Sam Hay.

Ten young women from the Philippines who came to Madison to take the "lab" course were presented certificates by Cyrus Kendall, M.D., director of the School of Medical Technology and hospital pathologist. Ronald E. Schmale, M.T. (A.S.C.P.) '60, is chief technologist.

Names of those receiving certificates are as follows: Belen D. Alviar, Lily T. Antonio, Filipina B. (Basa) Burgarin, Corazon V. Cabral, Honorata S. J. Cruz, Aurora T. Gregorio, Avelina H. Monteza, Lolita R. Rubic, Dolores G. David, and Delia Z. Razon. The latter two are working in the Madison Hospital lab. New classes start in April and September each year.

Fourteen have finished the nurse-anesthesia course during 1967, but only three were present at the graduation exercise. The fourteen are listed as follows by Bernard Bowen, director: Betty Anderson, Clyde Ball, Glen Belk, Vera Bergmann, Mrs. Doris Byrd, Perla Cayabyab, Mrs. Jean Fitch, Brenda Knight, Mrs. Janice Musselwhite, Joan Jones Pashall, Vallee Saraganondha, Calvin Wade, Jack Warren, Jr., and Robert Williams.

Building Program Plans

The fire that destroyed the science building on the morning of Nov. 9, 1967, was a great loss to our program. After careful study the Madison Academy board decided the best program would be to remodel certain of our facilities and relocate and equip them for the science classes. It was also voted that the insurance money be used to apply on a new building on the site of the former science building. This building will include a gymnasium 100 by 160 feet, and space for the Home Economics and Music departments.

We feel that this will provide a much needed space for large gatherings for the churches and institutions in the Nashville area, in addition to being a real asset to our school.

Madison Hospital News

Five-Day Plan at Madison Hospital

A Five-Day Plan to stop smoking was conducted at Madison Hospital March 3-8 by Dr. E. E. Bottsford and Elder D. E. Holland, departmental secretary of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, assisted by Elder R. W. Laue, hospital chaplain. Twenty-three people enrolled. Elder Laue plans to continue the program once a quarter.

Dr. Maureen Maxwell Visits Madison

Madison Hospital was visited February 28 and 29 by Dr. R. Maureen Maxwell, director of the Graduate Program in Nursing at LLU School of Nursing, and president of the Association of S.D.A. Nurses. She was enthusiastic over the beauty of the new hospital building and the progress which the institution has made in recent years.

The hospital administration honored Dr. Maxwell at a buffet dinner, along with Madison chapter of ASDAN, other local S.O.A. nurses, and SMC associate degree nursing students. About 75 were present, including representatives from Riverside Hospital. During her talk Dr. Maxwell challenged each S.D.A. nurse to live up to the highest ideals of the philosophy of S.D.A. nursing. She emphasized that present trends in nursing practice are to relieve nurses of non-nursing functions, and to return the professional nurse to direct patient care. She stated that nurses should settle in their own minds how they will react to unionization of hospital personnel, and the use of hypnosis in medical practice.

● Eleven R.N.'s from Madison Hospital enrolled in the two-hour course, Trends in Contemporary Concepts in Nursing Practice, offered the second semester on the Madison Extension Campus, SMC. Delores Cross Wimberly '58, of Cumberland Heights Hospital, Coalmont, Tenn., also joined the class. Mrs. Adela Kabigint is the instructor, and also brings in guest lecturers.

● Dr. Charles M. Gillit of Hendersonville, Tenn., sustained serious injuries in an auto accident on his way home from church Sabbath, February 17. He was taken to Madison Hospital, where he is still unconscious at this writing.

● Robert W. Morris, administrator of Madison Hospital, married Mrs. Caroline Urick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Gibson, in the Greeneville, Tenn., church on March 9, 1968. Elder J. H. Whitehead officiated.

● News of Medical Records Technology is scheduled for next issue.

Southern California Chapter

A Madison reunion and dinner was announced for March 10 in the cafeteria at Loma Linda, according to LLU Scope (2/14/68). Dinner at six was to be preceded by a tour of the new university hospital at 4:30. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crow of Arlington, Calif., are president and secretary of the chapter.

1924

Miss Ora Hagerman (N'24) sends her dues and donations from Columbus, Ohio. She did private duty nursing and retired in 1961.

1925

Elizabeth Koppel (N'25) has moved from Fuller Memorial Sanitarium in Massachusetts to Pawtucket, R. I., after being a staff nurse at Fuller 21 years. Recently she had a cataract removed from her left eye at J. Brown Hospital in Providence, R. I. We were glad to hear that her eye surgery was successful. She wrote that she could see to read and write and watch TV.

Dora (Thurston) Mountain (N'25) sends her dues from Tulsa, Okla. She writes: "I enjoyed the last SURVEY so much. I'm still working full time. I can't seem to find a place to stop. Better for me, I am sure."

Ruth Lingham is a staff nurse at Madison Hospital, West Hall. She has worked at the hospital for 25 years. She has also worked at Pewee Valley S-H and St. Helena S-H. She took class work at Madison, but finished her nurses' training at Hartford Hospital School of Nursing in Connecticut.

Miss Lydia Burke (N'26) has retired from nursing, after a long record of faithful continuous service at Harding Hospital, Worthington, Ohio.

Edith M. Winquist (N'27), charge nurse at Walker Memorial Hospital, Avon Park, Fla., sent her life membership and wrote: "Madison is a very wonderful place to me. The devoted, unselfish lives of all its faculty have left a very special affection in my heart for my alma mater. I appreciate the SURVEY."

Elder Alfred T. Okohira '27, son of the first S.D.A. missionary to Japan, retired from service in the Colorado Conference, January 1, 1968, and in response to his father's dying request returned to Japan to help with the work which his father started. Elder Okohira's father, T. H. Okohira, was the first to bring the Advent message to Japan.

Helen Watkins Rosson (N'27) partly retired from nursing in August, 1967. She now works a few days a month at the hospital and helps her husband, William, around the farm near Ponce De Leon, Fla. Her nephew, Lowell Eugene Watkins (Lab and X-ray '55) graduated from medicine in Texas, and finished his internship in Pathology there. She reports he has recently been drafted into the army and sent to New York.

Robert Wilbur (JC'28) is semi-retired and doing farm work at Canby, Ore. His wife, the former Thelma Estes, is an R.N. from Loma Linda.

Lenore Hoyle Lubowsky (N'28) sends her donation to the SURVEY and her dues from Las Animas, Colorado. She is doing general duty nursing in the hospital at La Junta, Colo.

Zoetta Nichols Hauser (N'28) writes from Lodi, Calif.: "I have kept busy all summer doing relief nursing here and there. I did take time off to go to camp meeting at Soquel, Calif. Also spent a weekend with Anna Sorensen at Half Moon Bay. There are several former Madison students around that locality—Sheriffs, Wallaces, Bakers, and others. Getting my husband's funeral settled was a great accomplishment, and I am thankful God gave me strength to keep up."

1929

Elsie Sanford Hammerly (N'29) writes from Seattle, Wash.: "I am working full time again this year (private duty). I am spending a lot of time with the White Bible Program—sowing lots of seed, and a few precious ones are coming to church. I took leave long enough last year to visit Dr. and Mrs. Bascom in Iowa and Zoetta Nichols Hauser at Lodi."

1931

Goldie Richmond LaFollette (N'31) is living in Mountainair, N. Mex., where she is doing part-time general duty.

1932

Helen Edson (N'32) finished medical technician's training at White Memorial Hospital, and has worked in the lab at Ashtabula General Hospital, Ohio, for 24 years.

J. T. Wheeler and his wife (Florence Hackworth) both finished nurses' training at Madison in 1932. They are now retired and living in Matthews, N. C. Mr. Wheeler writes: "Thank you for sending the SURVEY. We always enjoy the news and reports. We are retired but still find plenty to do. We love Madison and feel it should regain its college status as soon as possible, for we know Madison's practical training program is needed more than ever now and will continue to be needed more in the future. You have our prayers."

Lydia (Faudi) Roberts '33 was in the first college graduating class to be granted B.S. degrees. She writes: "I would love to attend Homecoming, but am in a ten-month teaching program . . . My husband and I still live on the ranch we purchased in 1943. Our three children, all graduates of Union College, are in their own good positions. Jimmy, the oldest, is teaching in Santa Monica, Calif. Phyllis June and Sammy Jo, the twins, are living in Dallas, Texas. June, a Social Welfare major, is happily married to pharmacist Douglas Copeland. Sammy Joe, single, is a Federal Narcotics Agent. I am still teaching Home Economics in a public high school near Waco, Texas. While at Madison I majored in Home Economics under that wonderful teacher, Frances Dittes. We shall never forget those rewarding years! I would certainly miss the alumni news if the SURVEY were discontinued. We eagerly scan each number to see what the old-timers are doing, and where they are." Lydia's brothers, Philip, Marvin, and Otto, and sister Alice (Mrs. Darrell Cross) all graduated from Madison; also Marvin's wife, Hazel.

1934

Rachel (Wheeler) Frank writes that she and her husband are spending the winter in Tucson, Ariz., during the cold weather in Michigan. She is employed in the Osteopathic General Hospital in Tucson. She finished MCA in 1934, and nurses' training at Mason Memorial Hospital, Murray, Ky. in 1940.

Madison Survey & Alumni News

Dr. J. Wayne McFarland is medical secretary of the New Jersey Conference, and assistant professor of medicine at Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia.

1935

Hazel (Baxter) Birdwell (N'35) is employed as charge nurse on Ob-Gyn at Sparks Memorial Hospital, Ft. Smith, Ark. She received her post-graduate certificate in O. B. at Chicago Lying-In Hospital. She writes: "I enjoy the SURVEY and news of Madisonites whom I knew. Keep it coming."

1938

Ben B. Brost (Agr. '38) got his master's degree at the University of Nebraska in 1951, and is teaching American History, Bible, driver's education, and some science at Campion Academy, Loveland, Colo. His wife (Edith Werner) attended Madison and took the dietetics course. She is teaching a full load of classes in the Home Economics Department at Campion, and is the chairman of the General Conference Curriculum Committee for Home Economics. She represents the North American Division for Home Economics in the Curriculum Revision Committee called by the General Conference.

Dorothy (Canaday) Jensen (N'38) is living in Campbell, Calif., where she is office nurse and manager for an allergist in San Jose, Calif.

1939

Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Osborne (Pre-med. '39) are now located in Avon Park, Fla. Mrs. Osborne (Irene Felice, N'39) brings us up to date on family news. "Dr. Osborne is working as an Ob-Gyn specialist in Avon Park and I am his office nurse. We love it here in this quiet community surrounded by a lovely lake. Our office is one-half block away, the hospital one block away, the school a half mile, and the church three-fourths mile, so all we really need is a bicycle. We have been busy from the beginning. David is head of the Bible Department at Forest Lake Academy. Patsy (Mrs. Bill Kirstein) has her B.S. in nursing and is teaching at Florida S-H. Judee is taking nursing at S.M.C., and Johnny is in the academy at Avon Park. We are all very happy here.

The administration building at Highland Academy, Portland, Tenn., has been named Ray Hall in honor of W. F. Ray '39, who has been on the academy staff since 1931. During these years he has taught Bible and science, and has served as principal at the academy. At present he is the librarian. Mr. Ray was awarded a gold service pin by V. W. Becker, union educational superintendent, in recognition of his 37 years of teaching experience.

Paul A. Woods, M.D. (B.S.'39) was one of the doctor-minister team directing the five-day smoking clinic in Charlottesville, Va.

1940

Marjorie Stiles Kendall (N'40) is living in Columbia, Ky., where she is working at Adaire Memorial Hospital as night supervisor. Her husband, George, who attended Madison College 1934-7, is district pastor of the Celina district in Kentucky. The Kendalls have six children.

Elder Kenneth W. Tilghman studied accounting one year at Madison College, and was assistant manager of the Rural Press for three years. He is now secretary-treasurer of the Atlantic Union Conference.

1941

Richard Rimmer (MCA '41) operates the large offset camera at the Southern Publishing Association in Nashville.

1942

An article in LLU SCOPE (1/10/68) titled, "World Health Organization Sends LLU Professors to Asia," states that one of the three professors sent on a two-month assignment to Afghanistan was Dr. Ulma Doyle Register '42, chairman of the department of nutrition in the School of Public Health, LLU. He, with his two companions, traveled under the auspices of the United Nations to make an analysis of the needs, resources, and prospects for health care, teaching, and research at two Afghan universities.

1943

Miss Gertrude Scheible (N'43) writes from St. Louis, Mo.: "This homecoming will be the 25th year since I graduated, so I plan to make every effort to be there at Madison for a real reunion. It was interesting to read statements in the December SURVEY from the talks by Mr. Jaspersen and Roger Goodge at the self-supporting convention in Little Creek. I was saddened to learn of the fire which burned the Science Building. It brought memories of lectures by Dr. Johnson, and chemistry class with Dr. Bralliar—both dedicated Christian gentlemen."

1944

Lt. Cdr. Robert L. Mole '44, senior Adventist minister in the navy chaplaincy, left the U. S. for Vietnam in September for his second tour of duty there. Mrs. Mole lives in Silver Spring, Md.

Dr. David W. Ruggles recently accepted a position in Reading, Pa., with the Institute of Rehabilitation. Formerly he practiced in Rhode Island and Connecticut. His interest lies primarily in geriatrics and rehabilitation. His wife, Evelyn Bealer, is of the class of '44 at Madison.

1945

A Christmas letter from Elizabeth Steen (B.S. in N '45) states that she made a trip from her home in Oak View, Calif., to Colorado and Wyoming in a vacation trailer last summer. She visited Zion, Bryce, Grand Canyon, and other national parks, spent a week with her daughter, Roberta (Brown) and family in Ft. Collins, Colo., and attended the second five-week session of summer school at Laramie, Wyo. Her mother, whom many will remember as Dr. Ada Crawford, "retired" from Gulfport, Miss., and went to live with her in California. At 88 she had too much energy to sit still. She soon found neighbor across the street who needed help, moved there, and helps care for a 70-year-old woman.

1946

After graduating from Nursing at Madison in 1946, Donna Belle (Allen) Luke went to WWC and got her B.S. in 1950. She does private duty nursing three nights a week in Bellingham, Wash., and writes: "Hello to all my old Madison friends! I would love to see all of you, but that may never be possible on this earth. It will be a wonderful reunion in heaven if we can all meet there. Something to look forward to, isn't it?" The Lukes have four children, all attending S.D.A. schools.

1949

Frank Gillin (BS '49) is now a computer programmer for Internal Revenue Service at the national office in Washington, D. C. His wife, Roseileen, is an employee at Sears. Daughter Elaine attends CUC and son Bill is in the Army. Three of the children attend Takoma Academy, and the two youngest are in Sligo church school.

Harold J. Howard, who attended Madison College 1947-9, is treasurer of Mid-American Nursing Homes, Inc., with headquarters at Marshfield, Wis. Mid-American consists of five nursing homes, totaling 289 beds. He and his family live in Arpin, Wis.

1953

D. Dale Kendall finished nurses' course at Madison in 1953 and anesthesia in 1955. From 1953-4 he was director of nursing service at Madison S-H, then worked in three hospitals in Michigan for ten years. He has been an anesthetist at Oneida Mountain Hospital in Kentucky since 1964. His wife, Violet, worked as assistant dietitian at Madison Hospital and is a graduate of EMC. Dale sends $12—a dollar for each year since graduation—as an extra gift to the Alumni Association. The Dales visited daughter Bonnie in Sidney, B. C., Canada, in 1967. Bonnie's husband, G. A. Woods, was working at Rest Haven Hospital at the time, but planned to attend AU.

1953

Martha (Higgins) Fast (N'53) is working part-time in Peds. at Madison Hospital. Husband Elmer has been carrying several responsibilities — head custodian, night watchman, campus police, and bus driver for Madison Academy. The Fast's have four children—all boys.

Wilma Gill (N'53) is working as surgical nurse at a new hospital at Apopka, Fla. She was on the nursing education faculty at Madison 1953-8.

1954

Mrs. Bill Park sends her husband's dues for three years from Wilson, N. C., and writes: "We enjoy reading the SURVEY, and learning where people are we have known. Bill still works at Wilson Memorial Hospital. He keeps busy as head deacon at church." Mr. Park finished nurses' training at Madison in 1954, and later anesthesia at St. Mary's Hospital in Duluth.

1955

Amos C. Self (N'54, Anes.'55) is employed as anesthetist with Drs. Johnson and Box in Mobile, Ala.

Eulene (Owens) Borton, wife of LeRoy Borton '57, is author of the musical composition, "My God Is a Real God," which has been recorded by Del Delker of the Voice of Prophecy staff. Eulene said she wrote the song after the widespread discussion of the "God is dead" theory. She has composed several religious songs and is a featured soloist in the album, "Think on These Things."

Dorothy Crisologo (Anes. '57) is an anesthetist at Methodist Hospital in Sarawak, the only hospital in the inland area of East Malaysia. Her husband, Dr. Loreto L. Crisologo, is medical superintendent of the hospital. Mrs. Crisologo sent a brochure on Christ Hospital, 1957-1967, to her former instructor, Bernard Bowen.

Teresa (Peters) Lynd (N '58) is Emergency Room supervisor at Washington S-H. Homer Lynd is director of Admissions at CUC. Daughter Debbie is a sophomore at Takoma Academy. Mrs. Lynd writes: "We left Madison in 1963, spent one year in Boston and came to Washington in August, 1964. We are very happy in our work here."

Glenn E. Brown (M.T.'58) is in charge of the lab and X-ray at the hospital in Eureka, Kan. His wife (Bernice Gober, N'56) is superintendent of the hospital.

Gilbert and Mary Faye (Draughon) Qualls (BS in N'58) have returned to the campus, where she is a medicine nurse on Surgical Wing. Gilbert finished nursing at Fletcher and is now taking anesthesia.

1960

In a newsletter written by Pat Mitzel-felt Silver '60, she gives family news, including the birth of David Eric on February 7. Husband, Bob Silver '55, is teaching Industrial Arts and Driver Education at Forest Lake Academy, Maitland, Fla. Pat's work keeps her busy with three bands, and 35 to 40 pupils taking lessons, as well as Brass Ensemble. In July of last year the Ensemble accepted an official invitation from the Southern European Division to come to the European Youth Congress in Vienna and perform.

Victorio C. Rivera (X-ray '60) is staff artist for the State of Oregon Compensation Department. He works on posters, layout, illustrations, cartoons, caricatures, special awards, brochures, and signs. For the first time his life-long dream of a one-man art exhibit became a reality, according to The Statesman, Salem, Oregon, newspaper, when his paintings were displayed for six weeks throughout the Christmas season at Meier & Frank Art Gallery in Salem. Mr. Rivera formerly was art instructor at Madison College one year. Victor's wife (Betty Umali, M.R.'59) is medical records librarian at the Cherry Plaza Medical Center in Salem, Ore.

Alice (Surdahl) Anderson (N and BS '60) writes from Albion, Nebr.: "We are busy as usual on the farm but took time out in September to go to the Ozarks for a few days, as well as visiting with Isabelle Altenbrun Hendricks and family in Shawnee, Kansas, and Bob and Doris Devlin in Oklahoma City. Our main project now is to get a church and church school going in our small town. We would surely welcome any who would want to move to this area and have a chance to do missionary work."

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Bottsford have returned to Ridgetop, Tenn., after he served 14 months as medical secretary of the South American Division. They had previously served as medical missionaries in Peru, Bolivia, and Brazil for 12 years from 1943-55. Mrs. Bottsford finished nursing at Madison in 1961.

Lloyd and Laura (Holly) Hamilton (N'62) are connected with Georgian Villa, a nursing home in Douglasville, Ga. He takes care of the grounds, and Laura works two evenings a week on the nursing staff. They have a little boy, LeRoy Allen. Lloyd writes apologetically for not keeping in touch with the alumni office: "Don't get discouraged and give up publishing the SURVEY because of such poor supporters as we have been. We will try to do better in the future."

Sylvia Kaldahl (N'61) is working nights in the Labor and Delivery Room part time at Kettering Hospital, and helps an Adventist doctor, Kenneth L. Meyers, two evenings a week in his office. She also is teaching prenatal classes at the hospital. Her husband, Clarence, is a painter at the hospital. She writes: "We have a lovely acre home in the country south of Kettering, where we are enjoying our rose gardens and doing some greenhouse work . . . I do believe Madison College should again be a school for the purpose of propounding the truth in this last day of earth's history—and that many young men and women could be saved for God's kingdom through its doors. We must all work closer together than ever before, for the time will soon be forever closed and Christ will come."

Pat (Batchelor) Bullock (El. Ed. '62) is taking the two-year Associate Degree nurses' course at Louisville, Ky., and plans to graduate in June, 1969. Her husband, John, who attended Madison in 1959-60, is administrator of Pewee Valley S-H. She writes: "John and I plan to work more closely together serving the Lord in the medical work after I receive my degree."

Mrs. Beecher Zollinger wrote from Kansas City, Kan.: "Beecher (Ind. Arts. '62) is in his second year of medicine at Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery. He gets his first obstetrical patient next week. I am evening relief supervisor at the Osteopathic Hospital for two or three evenings a week. We have a big house and lots of room, and would love to see anyone coming through."

Connie Cross (Lab. '62) is director of the laboratory at Memorial Hospital, Beeville, Texas. His wife (Lou Ann Hill) worked as a secretary in the administrative offices at Madison College while he was a student. Besides Lisa and Lane, the newest addition to their family is 9-months-old Lorne.

Faye King (N'62) received her B.S. at CUC in 1967, and has returned to Madison where she is a staff nurse at Madison Hospital.

Irving Titsworth is working as messenger at LLU Hospital in charge of inter-office mail distribution. His wife, Helen, formerly an R.N. at Madison S-H, died in May, 1966, and he has remarried. Two of his children, David and Emily, graduated from Madison Academy. David is taking pre-med at LaSierra, and Emily got her B.S. in nursing in June, 1967.

1964

Arthur Berard (X-ray '64) returned to the States from Vietnam after two years in the service as an X-ray and dental technician. He is enrolled at Peabody, where he is taking the premedical course. His wife is the former Margaret Woolsey. His grandmother is Mrs. Luella Doub '36 of Fresno, Calif.

Jerry Shilling (X-ray '66) is in the army. After basic training at Ft. Sam Houston, he was sent to Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco. His wife (Carolyn Shipp), who finished Medical Records at Madison in 1965, is with him.

News of Madisonites' Children

Madison College Transcripts

The Madison College registrar records have been transferred to SMC. Anyone wishing a transcript of MC credits should address the request to Office of Admissions and Records, SMC, Collegedale, Tenn., 37315, and be sure to give return address. Women who married since attending Madison should give both maiden and married names. The first transcript is free; after that, $1 each.

Madison Academy records are still retained at Madison Academy, and requests for transcripts of these records should be addressed to Registrar, Madison Academy, Madison College, Tenn., 37115.

POTOMAC CHAPTER NEWS

Following are items gleaned from news turned in at the December 3 meeting of the Potomac Chapter held at Sligo Community Building, Takoma Park, Md.

• M. Bruce Bush was a student at Madison 1936-7. He has taught chemistry 16 years at CUC, and also teaches clinical chemistry in the School of Medical Technology at Washington S-H. He operates the 12-channel blood chemistry analyzer.

• Judith D. Ball (MCA '61), attended Madison College 1961-2, graduated from AUC in 1965 with a B.A. in English. Since June, 1965, she has been working in the registrar's office at CUC, where she is now assistant registrar.

• Norman Clapp, former chaplain at Madison S-H, 1953-8, has retired and is doing part time real estate work. His wife, Doris Clapp, director of nursing at Madison 1953-8 is presently instructor in pediatric nursing, Children's Hospital, Washington, D.C.

• Felix A. Lorenz, Sr. was on the staff of Madison College for ten years, 1950-1960, as head of the Bible Department and editor of the SURVEY. More recently he taught in the Department of Religion at CUC. He has now "retired" and is writing a book, a history of the Medical Group Foundation.

• Dr. T. H. Lundstrom has been chief of the Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation department at Washington S-H since 1960. He was a resident physician at Madison Hospital from 1941-2; with TVA 1942-5; at Fletcher 1945-50; took a residency in PM & R at Loma Linda, the White, and LA County General Hospital 1950-3; at Skodsborg Sanitarium, Denmark, 1953-4; and with the V.A. Administration, Mt. Horne, Tenn. 1955-60. Mrs. Lundstrom is director of the LPN program at Washington S-H.

• Elmer Moore is in charge of production at the Microbiological Association, Inc., Bethesda, Md. His wife (Shirley Throckmorton) is a CPA with offices in Silver Spring, Md., Washington, D.C., and New York City. The Moores were both students at Madison from 1939-42. Shirley writes: "Wish we could look forward to sending our two girls to Madison as we knew it."

Darrell H. Reich, a student at Madison 1950-1 is now employed at Washington S-H maintenance department.

• Floyd Tucker attended Madison 1941-5, and is now in the Art Department of the Review and Herald. His wife (Elizabeth Lingg) attended Madison 1944-5 and works in the proofroom of the Review.

Margaret and Dwight Wilson were on the Madison College staff, 1961-3 (she as chairman of Home Economics Department, and he in accounting). Dwight is now employed as controller of Park Consolidated Motels Inc., in charge of their nursing homes, and she is chairman of the Home Economics Department at CUC.

Yerba Buena Mission and Hospital

In 1953 Ray and Marie Comstock (N '36) went to Chiapas, Mexico, with the intention of starting a simple home mission, never dreaming that the work would develop into the large and important self-supporting institution it has now become. They now have a clinic and hospital, a practical nurses' course which has been conducted for five years, a new course in practical dietetics, an industrial school, and a model village training program.

Only a few hundred feet away from Yerba Buena is Colegio Linda Vista, a conference school. This is perhaps the only instance of its kind in the denomination where a self-supporting work is located side by side with a church operated institution. They have two different roles, and both institutions work together harmoniously and in close cooperation. Both join with the LLU dental and medical group on their annual field trip to Chiapas. We quote from a recent letter written by Marie Comstock:

"We appreciate the SURVEY, and devour every word. I was Marie Graham, nursing class of 1936. In those days we washed our own dishes, built our own fires, and learned how to pioneer—which I really already knew. My parents helped Herbert Owen pioneer work in Honduras before my birth. In the early years of my marriage we pioneered, learning how to survive without money! All this has prepared us for the work we are now doing. We find laboring to save souls is a very rewarding work—even without a salary, and in a foreign country . . . Roby Ann Sherman, who is presently enrolled in the A.D. nursing course on the Madison campus, is making plans to return to Yerba Buena upon completion of her course."

The folk at Yerba Buena send out a monthly newsletter. They invite any who are not on the mailing list to send for it. Also they invite people to come and visit them in southern Mexico, and will gladly mail a sheet of traveling suggestions. Their address is Yerba Buena Hospital, Yerba Buena, Chiapas, Mexico.

"Time of the End" Book

From time to time inquiries come regarding availability of Elder Norman Gulley's syllabus on Eschatology (Coming Events) which he authored while head of the Bible department at MC. The supply of Gulley's syllabi was exhausted several years ago, and has not been reprinted. Recently we learned of a similar collection of quotations from the Bible and Spirit of Prophecy, a book of 174 pages, "The Time of the End." This compilation is by Elder James Hayward of Fort Worth, Texas, and contains five charts including one on Last Day Events. If you wish one of these books, send $2.00 to THE MADISON SURVEY, Box 1303, Madison College, Tenn. 37115. Part of the $2.00 can be applied on your SURVEY sub.

LETTERS

Drs. Ernie and Margaret Horsley, Melrose, Mass.

A letter has recently been received from Doctors Ernest and Margaret Horsley, former members of the Madison Hospital staff. They state: "We are still very much interested in our friends at Madison and keep up with what you are doing through the pages of the SURVEY. From 1958 to 1963 we were missionaries in Puerto Rico, and practiced in Southern California from 1963 to 1967 . . . The Inglewood, California, SDA Church of four hundred members had fifteen Loma Linda doctors, so we felt certain that we could find another place where the need for Loma Linda graduates would be more apparent . . .

"What we wished was to be near a Seventh-day Adventist college, hospital, and academy. We considered Walla Walla, Washington, Dayton, Ohio, and finally the New England area . . . The need for more SDA doctors in the New England area was prominent; especially was there a lack for eye, ear, nose and throat specialists in this vicinity around our New England Sanitarium, which has now changed its name to the "New England Memorial Hospital" . . . The Greater Boston Academy is on the hospital campus, and AUC is just an hour's drive away. All of our children are in school, three in the academy now. They all play musical instruments in addition to the piano, except the youngest, who is seven. Dr. Margaret plays the saxophone in the sanitarium band. Dr. Ernie is head of the Loma Linda group for New England and Dr. Margaret is the leader of the LLU Women's Auxiliary.

Madisonites at Ardmore, Okla.

Jean Hassenpflug (Anes. '58) writes from Ardmore, Okla.: "Louise Strickland (Anes. '59) and I both enjoy our work at Memorial Hospital—a city-county hospital. The SDA hospital is just across the street. Bill and Ruthie Schwab ('50 and '59) do the anesthesia there. Dr. and Mrs. James Schuler are well and have purchased a new home on the edge of town with three hundred acres of pecan trees . . . We are building a new church here and hope to be in by April or May. Pat and Esther Scott '60 have returned to Canada. Esther's father has not been well and they felt they could be of help if they lived near by."

Mrs. A. E. Roane, Hazel Ky.

I have just finished reading all of the December SURVEY and also I keep most of them to refer back. I notice the old science building burned Nov. 9, 1967, just before the self-supporting convention of Nov. 17, 18. The speech by A. A. Jaspersen was good and timely. Yes, I know Madison was established under God's direct leading. I was young then, but we kept up to all moves. God has been in the self-supporting work, and I wonder if it was pleasing to Him when changes were made.

Now Madison Foods is the only self-supporting group of workers left on the Madison campus. I notice the next convention for 1968 is to be held at Madison, the Layman Foundation in charge. The old roots as mother of the self-supporting work cling. The three basics told by our old faithful Dr. Sutherland were agriculture, education, and medical work. These are not outdated and are still important. Yes, we need to raise up a Joseph to show how to feed the world.

In the REVIEW of Jan. 4, 1968, p.14, on "Gyms and Farms," Wilton Wainwright told how one of our schools sold its land to build a large gymnasium, I dislike to hear of the land at Madison being sold, but we have an all-wise God, and may His blessings continue with our youth of this church.

• "It was with a heavy heart that I read about the fire that destroyed the science building. I remember many hours spent there in the rotunda in the classes of Dr. Bralliar and Professor Rimmer. I am very sure God is still watching over Madison. Though we have many tares with the good wheat, there is a definite purpose: I can only pray for the best and watch and wait, but it hurts to see Madison being destroyed bit by bit. Without Madison there never would have been some of the schools in the Southland now! This is hard to understand, but God knows what He is doing, though we humans only think we know. I couldn't help writing this as I know there are many faithful Madisonites who feel the same." O.G.J., Phoenix, Ariz.

Lyle F. Herrman, M.D., Hapeville, Ga.

"The last SURVEY (December, 1967) brought a pang to my heart. I was one of the 'twenty' young men who worked on the science building.

"My roommate 'Blackie' Pierce and I had the contracts for both the excavation and the stone work. Don Van Meter had the plumbing contract. Indeed Blackie and I completed the stone work on the normal building on the first contract ever let to students. Dr. Wayne McFarland left his finger prints on many a stone, as did Bill Sandborn.

"We had great times hand drilling, setting charges, blasting, and hauling away the rock. The rocks for the walls came from the many old stone fences in the area. The large key stone for the arch resulted from a long search.

"I haven't had the opportunity to re-visit Madison as often as I would like, but it has the softest spot in my heart still."

(The letter is signed Lyle "Blondie" Hermann. We believe the roommate, "Blackie," referred to was Charles Pierce of Richland, Wash., graduate of nursing training at Madison in 1935. Dr. Hermann, premed '34, is a Life Member of M.C.A.A.—Editor)

Daisy S. Anderson, Bakersfield, Calif.

Daisy Stringer Anderson almost finished the premedical course at M.C. in 1934. Presently she is the physical therapist at Niles Medical Group, Bakersfield, Calif. We wrote her recently about the article in REVIEW & HERALD (11/2/67) by her son-in-law, Saleem A. Farag, M.D., "Unusual Hospital in New Guinea. (Dr. Farag is medical secretary of the Australasian Division.) Following is part of her reply.

"Dr. Farag's wife is my eldest daughter, Gracie. I went to New Guinea last June and spent four months with the Farags, and saw many things first hand in this primitive area (about the most primitive in the world, I think). I visited the Hanseniide leper colony. They have nearly 400 lepers there . . . From Australia I went to Malamulo Mission, Africa, and spent two very interesting months there, visiting my daughter, Mrs. Helton Fisher . . . Ruth Foote, a sister of Mrs. Ralph Davidson, has been a missionary to Malamulo Mission 28 years. I met her there and she came on furlough at the time I returned to America, so we toured Europe together and arrived in New York January 14. I then went to Nebraska and visited my son, Melvin Jr., who is maintenance man at Platte Valley Academy."

Dr. P. W. Dysinger, Loma Linda

In a letter from Dr. Bill Dysinger he says his brother-in-law, Elder Norman Gulley, will be in Scotland two years working on his Ph.D. at the University of Edinburgh. He also writes: "We continue active here in Loma Linda as assistant to the dean of the School of Public Health as of July, 1967. We are staffed to prepare all types of public health workers, but take particular interest in the needs of our denomination. We have 33 full-time students enrolled in our graduate program in this our first year. In lay terms, Public Health is pretty well synonymous with Health Evangelism."

Carol Schaber, South River, Ontario, Canada

Carol (Cruzen) Schaber (MCA '60) writes: "My husband, Ralph, and I moved to South River, Ontario, in October, 1964, and joined Dr. Ronald N. Laing. The work at the South River Clinic has certainly progressed since 1964, and now Dr. Hilda Rainda from Willowdale, Ontario, has joined the staff. There are plans for opening other doctors' offices in the vicinity, and also on an Indian Reserve. We hope to purchase an airplane so that the doctors and other workers can do missionary work in this vast northland.

"Ralph is working as X-ray technician and office accountant. At the present time I am home being housekeeper and very busy with our 10-month-old daughter Susan. Our church membership at Woodland Park church is 52. Dr. Laing and Pastor Heghesan are planning a Five-Day Plan in February to help people stop smoking. Dr. Rainda and Mrs. Laing recently held health lectures in Alberta. I still get homesick for Madison and my friends there."

(The Dr. Laing mentioned was recently elected vice-president of A.S.I.—EDITOR)

• Mrs. Coress King formerly was head of Occupational Therapy at Madison Hospital. After moving to California in 1966 she served as assistant dean for LLU women's residence hall, Los Angeles division (Ida Thomasen Hall). Presently she is associate dean of women for PUC School of Nursing, Glendale Campus.

Articles in Journal of SDA Education

The February-March issue of Journal of Adventist Education contained two articles of interest to Madisionites. One is by Dorothy Mathews, a former student and teacher at Madison, and presently a teacher in Greater Nashville Junior Academy. It is entitled "Rewards of Teaching Church School."

Sutherland in the Southland

The other, by Mrs. Zella Holbert, is under the general title "Among the Pillars and Foundations," and titled "Sutherland in the Southland." It deals with Dr. E. A. Sutherland as an educator, his philosophy of education, and the contribution he made to the field of education. We quote one paragraph:

"Sutherland was born at the close of the Civil War in southern Wisconsin. His parents, no doubt lured by greener pastures farther west, were traveling by prairie wagon to Iowa. They stopped awhile in southern Wisconsin. When they took up the trail again, Edward had been added to the family. His proud mother could not have known that her first child would be a medical doctor, an ordained minister, an author, and a great educator who would found one college, relocate another, and serve four colleges as president."

The article is continued. We recommend reading this interesting and fair evaluation of a man whose influence was felt far and wide in the early history of Adventist education.

Madison Founders Memorial

Representatives of the Layman Foundation and M.C.A.A. met at the Foundation office on February 28 to discuss plans for a suitable memorial for the founders of the Madison institution. The committee favored the location on the strip of land at the side of the Layman Foundation Office, which would be across the road from the site of the new church building. An architect is being consulted. It is hoped that the memorial will be ready by the time of the Southern self-supporting convention to be held at Madison this fall.

GERALD W. BOYNTON

Gerald Boynton died of a heart attack at Erlanger Hospital in Chattanooga on Jan. 3, 1968. He was married to Evelyn Vaughn, a former student of Madison, in 1934, and graduated from Madison College in 1940.

While at Madison he was both student and teacher from 1934-45 and was head of Industrial Education part of the time. He went to Peabody and earned his M.A. in 1941, and later did postgraduate work at the Universities of Missouri and Maryland. From 1945-56 he was at Collegedale where he started the Industrial Arts Department. He was away for one year on leave of absence and started the Industrial Arts Department at Southwestern Junior College.

From 1956-7 he taught one year at Bladensburg Vocational School in Maryland. The Boyntons then returned to Ooltewah, and Jerry became director of placement and guidance at Chattanooga Institute of Technology, and Evelyn worked with the United Cerebral Palsy Kindergarten.

At the time of his death Jerry was director of Student Services for Chattanooga State Technical Institute. Evelyn is with the city schools as secretary in the Reading Supervisor's office for Chattanooga. Besides his wife, a son Gerald Wayne of Chattanooga survives, and a daughter, Bonnie Jean Clement of Knoxville. Jerry's brother, Elder Paul Boynton, was formerly teacher and men's dean at Madison College.

• Through correspondence with Irma Rocke of Oercutt, Calif., we belatedly learned of the death of two schoolmates, as follows:

MARIAN (CURTIS) STUART

Mrs. Stuart, graduate nurse, class of '29, died of cancer Dec. 7, 1965, at Scotts, Mich., where she conducted a summer camp. Her husband, Glenn Stuart, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., survives, also daughters Marilyn (Mrs. Walter Sullivan); Gail (Mrs. Fred Sanford); Sharin Sue (Mrs. Swallis); and one son, Kenneth.

LANTA (McILWAIN) TOWT

Lanta (McIlwain) Towt died in a hospital in Dinuba, Calif., in the fall of 1966.

(This is all the information available at present. Her sister, Goldie (McIlwain) Damian, nursing graduate of 1929, lived in Sacramento, Calif., at one time, but it is thought she lived in Nebraska at the time of her sister's death. We invite any who have more information to write the Editor.)

• We have just received the sad news of the death of a true friend of Madison, Dr. John Peters of Glendale, on February 20. Also Dr. Gus Ulloth of Fletcher passed away on March 10. More on each of these doctors later.
