Groundbreaking for Gymnasium

Madison broke ground for a new gymnasium on April 28. The ceremony took place at the site of the former science building. The new $110,000 building, with a seating capacity of one thousand, is scheduled for completion by September, 1968, and will cover a ground area of thirteen thousand square feet. When completed, the structure will have special facilities for a fifty-student capacity classroom; foods and clothing laboratories for the home economics department; locker rooms for physical education, and shower facilities. Space is also provided for the Music Department, consisting of a band practice room, three studios, a listening room, and eight practice rooms.

Following are opening remarks of Academy Principal W. A. Sowers.

"The institution here at Madison had its beginning under the direct guidance of God through His messenger, Ellen G. White. Madison has served well throughout the years, and has a magnificent history. The sons and daughters of Madison are serving God in every corner of the world field. We are proud of them and the school that made their work possible.

"God still has need for a school in this place. He also has a plan for the future of this institution and I am convinced that God's plan is the same today as it has always been. For God's work there is only one plan, Go Forward. As we are coming into the very last days of the history of this world, when Satan is putting forth an extra effort to destroy our youth, our youth need havens of refuge more than ever before. They need the protection, the training and the guidance that they can receive nowhere else but in our schools.

"In spite of the fire that destroyed our science building on the morning of Nov. 3, 1967, in spite of the downcast spirits, in spite of the inconvenience and hardship, God's people must go forward. We must arise and build and from these ashes will arise an institution that will bring great glory to God and lead hundreds of youth to His Kingdom.

"The future of Madison is bright. Madison is growing. This year our enrollment is almost 200. We are operating within our budget, our students show good scholastic attainment, the physical plant is being improved, road and parking lots are being paved and other improvements are being made.

"Today we are happy to officially break ground for this new building. When completed, this multipurpose building will house a large

Last Call for 1968 Homecoming

We hope this SURVEY gets to you in time to remind you of Homecoming at Madison June 21, 22. The Honor classes and all others are urged to come. Please notify the alumni office if you are coming, and if you will need lodging. (Tel. 865-2373, Ext. 321; or 865-1615)

Graduation Time, May, 1968

On May 23, 29 graduated from the eighth grade elementary school at Madison. The next night graduation exercises began for 38 seniors in Madison Academy. On the college level, 14 from the Madison Extension campus received Associate of Science degrees in Nursing at SMC.

gymnasium as well as the home economics and music departments. This gymnasium will be used by our institutions and churches in the Nashville area as well as by the school."

After the groundbreaking, Ernest Anderson started the bulldozer, and work is going forward steadily.

Layman Foundation Progress Report

The Layman Foundation, which occupies the former Lida F. Scott home as its home office on the Madison Campus, reports a schedule of building activities.

Harbert Hills Academy, Olive Hill, Tenn., reports progress on its new 25-bed nursing home. This building is being constructed by teachers and students. The work is being cared for as rapidly as funds are available. Teachers and students are working on a basis in which they are taking out only 10 per cent of money received, which takes care of their living expenses. . . Pine Forest Academy Sanitarium-Hospital is putting the finishing touches on its new 50-bed medical building. A large share of the work on this building has also been done by the students and teachers. . . The Fletcher, N. C., institution reports that construction has begun on a 50-bed Extended Care building. This building will be used to house long-term patients in connection with the new hospital that was built for acute patients. . . At Laurelbrook Sanitarium and School we find teachers and students putting on a new fire-proof addition to its present sanitarium. . .

Plans have worked out so that construction can begin on a 100-bed nursing home at Pewee Valley, Ky.

Altogether this is the most active construction program we have had in a number of years. Additional funds will be needed for the finishing of these building and for furnishings. The Layman Foundation is sponsoring a campaign to raise $100,000 to make possible the completion of these buildings that are so badly needed. Donors or lenders may specify the institution they wish to help. While direct gifts will be greatly appreciated, loans will also be welcomed and repayment will be guaranteed by The Layman Foundation, P. O. Box 1272, Madison College Branch, Madison, Tenn. 37115.

Two Madison Chapters Meet

(Two Madison chapters met since the March SURVEY came out. The California chapter met on March 10, and that is reported by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craw, president and secretary.

The Potomac Chapter met on April 14, and is reported by Sylvia Maltby, secretary.)

Southern California Chapter

By Esther Craw, Chapter Secretary

We had a very enjoyable reunion on March 10 with about ninety present. Before the dinner in LLU cafeteria, the group toured the new LLU hospital nearby. After the buffet dinner, Prof. Alfred Walters favored us with several numbers on his violin, accompanied by J. B. Craw's brother, Dr. A. Craw. Dr. U. D. Register, chairman of LLU's Department of Nutrition, showed pictures of the trip to Afganistan for the School of Public Health. My husband brought in several thoughts on Madison, our Madison.

Remarks by J. B. Craw

Three score and four years ago our Madison forefathers brought forth under the direct supervision of Ellen G. White, messenger of God, a new type and plan of education. E. A. Sutherland, P. T. Magan, and other worthies were instruments in God's hand in his pioneer type of educational work. This new educational plan was established with the thought that all of God's children equally may have a right to a proper purposeful education. Madison was a place that gave many people an opportunity.

General Douglas McArthur said: "Old soldiers never die—they just fade away." Will Madison ever die? Can Madison ever die? John 12: 24: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." Is the spirit of Madison dead? No! Don't misunderstand . . . Madison lives in the men and women around the globe: Little Creek, Fletcher, Pine Forest, Pine Hill, Laurelbrook, Harbert Hills, Groveland, Pewee Valley, Lawrenceburg, El Reposo, Chestnut Hill, Wildwood, Chiapas, and others.

(It was voted to have the next meeting at Pomona Park in the form of a potluck, sometime near the middle of August, to be decided later. The chapter board is as follows: John Crowder, Fred Black, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Bowes, Mrs. Gilbert Johnson, Dr. C. E. Randolph, Pat and Joel Craw, J. B. and Esther Craw.)

POTOMAC CHAPTER MEETS

By Sylvia Maltby, Chapter Secretary

The Potomac Chapter of the Madison College Alumni Association met for a pot-luck supper on April 14, 1968, at Morrison Hall, CUC, with 43 in attendance. The meeting had been called for April 5, at the time of the Cherry blossom festival, but due to the unrest and riots in Washington, it was postponed to a later date. Mable H. Towery, executive secretary, M.C.A.A., attended the meeting.

After a delicious and bountiful potluck supper, Homer Lynd, chairman of the meeting, led a lively discussion. He spoke of the need of training on the college level for leaders in self-supporting institutions. He said that Madison College is not dead; its influence lives on in the lives of its many alumni and the self-supporting institutions that are still carrying on the work for which they were ordained. Mr. Lynd then invited discussion.

Elder Felix Lorenz told of his deep interest in the "Old Madison" and the type of work it sponsored. He and his wife have been asked to join Sierra Pines, the only self-supporting academy in California. He told of the conversation he and Elder W. E. Straw had with Dr. Hoskins, former president of U.T., in which Dr. Hoskins advised them not to allow Madison to become accredited, because then it would lose its purpose for which it was founded. Dr. P. P. Claxton, U.S. Commissioner of Education under three presidents, gave the Madison leaders the same advice. Dr. Bob Jones, founder and president of Bob Jones University, told Elder Straw that he would not accept accreditation for Bob Jones University, even though it was offered, because God had given instruction to him as to how the university was to be run, not to the accrediting association. And yet employers were begging for their graduates.

On the other hand, a graduate of the Madison dietetics course, told how she was unable to obtain the employment she wanted because she needed a certificate from an accredited school.

Dr. Ernest Plata suggested there were other ways than financial of helping the self-supporting work, pooling knowledge so that the units could draw upon Madison alumni who have gone on to receive advanced degrees, and have become specialists in various fields, and who would be willing to give advice and share ideas. He felt that sharing ideas was more important than money.

The Potomac chapter hopes to meet again in July.

Medical Records Course

Medical record technology is a comparatively new career in paramedical sciences. Madison Hospital was one of the pioneers in this field, offering this training for the first time in 1954—one year after the program was instituted by the American Association of Medical Record Librarians.

Medical record technicians work closely with physicians and other hospital personnel in the maintenance of the patient's medical record, indexing many kinds of information and using this information as a source of hospital statistics. Medical record technology offers a challenge and an opportunity for service in the rapidly growing health field.

Two years ago, Southern Missionary College added this course to their curricula. The first year is spent on the Collegendale campus and the second year on the Madison campus. Upon successful completion of the course the student receives an Associate in Science degree and becomes eligible to take the national accreditation examination, leading to the title of Accredited Record Technician.

School of Medical Technology

The next class of the School of Technology at Madison Hospital starts in September. Madison alumni and friends can assist by encouraging prospective lab students to think of taking the fourth year of the course here. Students admitted to the School of Medical Technology must have had three years of college, including 16 semester hours of biology, 16 of chemistry, and one of math.

The Madison Hospital lab school is one of 787 in the United States approved by the American Medical Association and the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Left to Right: F. R. Cosentine, Mrs. Betty Anderson, Don Keele, J. P. Rogers, Kenneth Stepanke, Elder E. L. Marley, Dr. Walton Brown (from General Conference), Robert Morris, Elder J. W. Clarke, Robert Anderson, W. A. Sowers at the "mike."

If interested, send for descriptive literature to School of Medical Technology or Personnel Department, Madison Hospital, Madison, Tenn. 37115.

"Sutherland in the Southland"

In the March, 1968, SURVEY attention was called to a series of articles in the Journal of Adventist Education titled "Sutherland in the Southland." Author of this interesting series is Zella J. Holbert, director, College Relations, CUC. The second installment has now appeared in the April-May, 1968, issue. The third and last will be published in the June issue.

After we called attention to this series, we received an inquiry as to how a copy of The Journal of Adventist Education could be secured. Subscriptions for the journal may be placed through the respective Book and Bible Houses at $2.75 a year. For those who may wish copies of the current issues of this magazine, a limited number are obtainable from the General Conference Department of Education, Takoma Park, D.C. 20012. (75 cents a copy.)

Marion Simmons Goes to Far East

Marion (Seitz) Simmons '43, former student and faculty member and director of teacher training at Madison College 1954-9, visited Madison and spoke at the church missionary service March 30, prior to leaving on May 24 for Singapore, where she has been called to be supervisor of elementary schools and parent education in the Far Eastern Division.

She spoke of the world map in the case outside the academy principal's office, on which golden cords extend to all parts of the world. This map was presented by the Teachers of Tomorrow club to Madison College while Mrs. Simmons was director of elementary education here. It bears the inscription, "The Tie That Binds with Ropes of Gold." In her talk Mrs. Simmons said she had just looked at the map again with fond memories of the T.O.T. club that presented it, and hoped a cord would be hung for her at Homecoming time, June 21, 22. She spoke of several names on the map of those among the T.O.T. who have served as missionaries or are now in overseas service.

"Yes," said Mrs. Simmons, "I am a daughter of Madison College, going to the Far East, taking the place of Nellie Ferree, who has been there for 21 years." A reception was held for her at the Welfare Building while she was here.

Mrs. Simmons has an M.A. in Elementary Education, and has taken additional graduate work. She has spent over thirty years in the education program of the denomination—mostly in the South. Prior to her Far Eastern assignment, she was elementary supervisor of Atlantic Union Conference.

Mrs. Simmons deeply regretted that she could not attend Homecoming this year, as it is her class ('43) of 25 years ago that is to be honored. Just before her departure for Singapore, she sent a check for $25—one dollar for each year since she graduated from Madison College.

ALUMNI NEWS

Phyllis Hendricks Caldwell (N '29) lives in Long Beach, Calif., and is working in the Intensive Care Unit at Lakewood General Hospital.

1930

Dr. John H. Kendall took his pre-medical work at Madison, received his M.D. at C.M.E. in 1935, and is now in general practice at Clinton, N. C. The Kendalls have three children.

1931

Emie Dee (Birdwell) Wallen writes from Texas: "I am working 3-11 in the Keene Nursing Home . . . I spent May and June last year in Lima, Peru, with my daughter Wanda, her husband, and my new grandson. Wanda (Mrs. Beierle) is a nurse, and her husband is farm manager at Inca Union College." Mrs. Wallen's oldest daughter, Alfreda, is the wife of Elder Jake Knight.

1932

Naomi F. Vaughan (N '32) and Robert Bunch were married April 7, 1968, in the Woodward, Okla., S.D.A. church. Mrs. Bunch was first employed at Madison Hospital in 1954 and has served as staff nurse and director of nursing service. She organized the hospital auxiliary volunteers in 1964 and was first president for almost two years. The bunches live in Fargo, Okla., and she will work in a hospital in Shattuck, Okla. Her two daughters, Rebecca Hansen (M.R. '57) and Reba Smalling (MCA '61) and families attended the wedding, as well as his daughter, Corrine Bunch-Belz (N '62) from Grand Prairie, Texas.

Leonard Robinson (N '32) writes from Vinita, Okla.: "I enjoy reading every word of the SURVEY. I am working in a hospital in Miami, Okla."

1940

Allen Gene Thomas, M.D. ('40) is in E.E.N.T. practice in Arcadia, Calif. He and his wife (Geraldine Bond '42) have four children. Geraldine's sister, Norma (N '43) is the wife of a dentist in Redding, Calif., Dr. R. A. Dunbar.

1941

Maydelle (Williams) Wilcox (N '41) works part time in Washington S-H and Leland Memorial Hospital. She is in charge of the Sligo Church Welfare Center.

Dr. F. C. Port, practicing dentist at Fletcher, N. C., frequently serves as coordinator for a "ham" radio network for studying the Bible over the air. The Bible Study Net, as it is called, has resulted in at least twelve baptisms. (Tidings, 3/68, p. 8)

Edith (Brackett) Maples taught fourth grade in Gentry, Ark., and husband Donald taught Bible and Industrial Arts at Ozark Academy. Of their three daughters, Gwendolyn is teaching nursing in Maryland, Joyce has just finished first year college at SMC, and Donna graduated from Ozark Academy in May.

Carleton C. Blackburn is a Bible teacher at Takoma Academy. He and his family live in nearby Silver Spring. His wife (Ione Johnson) is a night floor supervisor at Washington S-H.

Gordon and Norene Creighton both finished nurses' training at Madison in 1944. Elder Gordon is associate chaplain at Washington S-H. He received his B.A. in religion at AU in 1950. Mrs. Creighton, nee Norene Lyon, writes frequently for the Youth's Instructor.

Tom Arishima, who attended Madison 1961-4, taking the Graphic Arts course, is working in the printshop of Hialeah Hospital in Florida.

Robert Ammundsen (Agr '50) has been working in the maintenance department at Portland S-H since 1956. The Ammundsens have two daughters. Joyce Ruth is married to Manford Anliker, a teacher at Wisconsin Academy, and Gail is attending LLU on the LaSierra campus.

Bernadine (Burson) Schelles '50 and family have moved to Madison from Adams, Neb. Mrs. Schelles is nursing part time nights at Madison Hospital, and husband Jack is a Christian Record representative for Central Tennessee.

Charles Van Dusen (N & B.S. '51) regularly sends his dues from Albuquerque, N. M., where he is a staff nurse at the A.T. & S.F. Memorial Hospitals, Inc. He writes: "The one important change for me is to become involved in the Gift Bible plan of giving Bible studies."

T. B. Withers, Jr. and family have moved from Oneida, Ky., where he was X-ray and lab technician, to Dayton, Ohio, where he is taking medical technology at Kettering College of Medical Arts, working on his A.S.C.P. while employed at the hospital.

David and Elva Harrold, both of the class of '52, are working at New England Memorial Hospital, Stoneham, Mass., he as a staff teacher, and she as a nurse. Daughter Jean graduated in June from Greater Boston Academy, and son David will be discharged from the Navy in July. The three other children attended Stoneham church school.

Edna Atkin Pepper (Sec. Sc. '52) recently moved to Lake Isabella, Calif. "We have moved again, hopefully for the last time. We are pressed in closely by mountains on all sides. The air is clean and pure, the stars are big and bright, and the people here at Happy Haven Trailer Park are friendly. For us, the time had come to 'get out of the cities.' There is a small church here of sixteen members, but we always have visitors in this beautiful resort area. We have found places to leave literature and radio logs . . ."

Robert M. Whited (Maint. '53) is in charge of garage and security at Wildwood Institute, Wildwood, Ga. His wife is the former Nora Tonsberg, R.N. from St. Helena. Formerly the Whites have served at two other self-supporting "units"—Stone Cave Institute, Daus, Tenn., and Yerba Buena Mission in Mexico.

Hazel (Fast) Fisher (N '53) is in charge of physical therapy and inhalation therapy at Highland Hospital, Portland, Tenn. She has two daughters, Theresa and Charlene.

1954

Howard Porter (Anes. '54) has been on the staff on Eugene Leland Memorial Hospital, Riverdale, Md., since leaving Madison. He has had charge of the lab and X-ray, but after the hospital work grew, he is now in anesthesia only. His wife Helen is office manager of the Malin Medical Group Foundation, and recording secretary of that board.

1955

Bill Grover (Lab '55) is in charge of the Blood Bank at Washington S-H lab. His wife, Marilyn (M.R. '59) works nights in medical records at the same hospital. He plans to go back to the University of Vermont in June for a two-week advanced course in teaching medical technology. He attended last summer also and took the beginner's course. He will have opportunity to put what he learned into practice this summer when he fills in as teaching supervisor at the Washington S-H lab.

Richard Wagner (Anes. '55) is doing anesthesia in Warrenton, Va. He and his wife Margot have three children.

Ernest J. Plata (M.T. '56) is presently doing research on cancer immunology at the National Cancer Institute, N.I.H., Bethesda, Md. He is director of one section, the Etiology Branch. The Platas live in Langley Park, Md. Before moving to the D.C. area, Dr. Plata was on the faculty of the medical school at Michigan University in Ann Arbor. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan in 1966. His wife Celia is the daughter of Elder and Mrs. C. O. Kinder. He wrote: "I continue to be interested in Madison. I have faith that the place and its people, past, present and future, have yet a bright future to fulfill."

1957

Adolfo Arellano, Jr. (El Ed '57) is a teacher at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs. Since leaving Madison he has done graduate work at Colorado State College and Colorado University (Boulder). His wife (Fay Smouse, '54) is also a graduate of Madison. Daughter Lynette has just finished sixth grade in the church school, with Richard Kunau as her teacher.

1957

Imogene (Meeks) Ward (N '56, B.S. '57) sent in her lifetime dues to the alumni office. She also sent an attractive picture folder of the new University Park Convalescent and Nursing Home, that she and husband Homer own and operate. She writes: "On May 1, 1967, we opened our own 100-bed convalescent and nursing home in Tampa, Fla. It is in a beautiful setting near the University of South Florida, quite modern and approved by Medicare as an extended care facility. The work is very challenging and satisfying, and I feel the home is a real asset to the community. I have fond memories of Madison. Thank you for sending the SURVEY. Please don't stop."

Patricia (Wilson) Rushing (N '57) is health education director at New England Memorial Hospital, Stoneham, Mass. Husband, Jan, is patients account manager. The Rushings have two boys.

Van Baldwin Jackson (Agr. '57) received his Master of Science degree in Horticulture from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville in 1967. He is now a biology teacher at a senior high school in Tampa, Florida. He plans to attend a summer institute for high school biology teachers held at N. C. State University, Raleigh, N. C. and sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Neil O. Biurren (Anes. '58) is working in the American Clinic, Quito, Ecuador, as a nurse-anesthetist. In a letter written to Bernard Bowen, he writes: "I'm busy all the time . . . I'm so happy for the time that I spent in Madison . . . My boy, Milton, is in the third year of the Academy in Argentina."

1959

"Micky" Rabuka (B.S. '59) got his Master's in hospital administration at George Washington University, D. C. and until recently was assistant administrator of McAllen General Hospital in Texas. He writes: "On March 19 I assumed my duties as administrator of Doctors Hospital in Phoenix, Ariz. This is a 300-bed, fully accredited general hospital. While we were in Texas, my wife, Marinell, had an artificial flower business which she operated from home, and also worked part time in the lab in the hospital. Our daughter, Seree, is in the second grade at Phoenix Central Church School."

1960

Maria Margarita Anaya (N '60) writes from Puerto Rico: "I am working as a nurse at Bella Vista Hospital and as assistant instructor in the Foundations of Nursing class in our new school of nursing, which is now three years old. Our first class of nurses will graduate in May. I enjoy working here where I can have a small part in helping to train others for the Lord's work. I am very grateful for Madison College and the training I received there. I would like to see Madison College reopen. I enjoy the SURVEY very much, especially the alumni news."

Lois (Almskog) Walper (N '60) sends dues from Avon Park, Fla., where she is working as operating room nurse, and husband George is administrator of Walker Memorial Hospital. The Walpers have two children, Eileen and Leslie.

Doris (Leatherman) Devlin (B.S. N '60) writes from Midwest City, Okla.: "We have a new baby girl, our third. My husband, Bob, is writing his thesis for his doctorate in microbiology. He hopes to graduate in January, 1969. We have accepted a call to teach at SUC, Keene, Texas."

Nancy Fay (Champion) Theobald (N '60), Orlando, Fla., sends dues and writes: "I really enjoy the Alumni news letter—just wish it came more often."

1961

Mrs. Helen Smith (B.S. '61) is working as 3-11 house supervisor at Putnam

Memorial Hospital, Palatka, Fla. She got her R.N. at Takoma Hospital, Greeneville, Tenn.

Anna Belle Simon got her R.N. at Meharry Medical College in Nashville, and finished anesthesia at Madison in 1961. She is chief anesthetist at Riverside Hospital in Nashville, where her husband, Elder Norman Simons, is administrator. Daughter Veronica was recently named 1968 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Madison Academy.

Tedd Synder (Anes. '61) and family left Miami March 29, returning from furlough to Bella Vista Hospital, Puerto Rico, where he is serving as an anesthetist.

Faye King (N '62), Alice Sheffield (N '62), Mary Faye Qualls (N '58), and Juliette Minner were enrolled in a six-week Coronary Care Course at Baptist Hospital during May and June. It is hoped that a coronary care unit will soon be opened at Madison Hospital.

1963

Curtis Tidwell (X-ray '63) is chief X-ray and lab technician at Memorial Hospital, Beeville, Texas. His wife, Janet, writes that they have two children—a boy and a girl. "Curtis enjoys his work here in this 74-bed hospital. We built a home in the country and enjoy the quietness, except for the many jets that fly over."

David Kingry (N '63) is taking anesthesia at Wyandotte Gen. Hospital School of Anesthesia, Wyandotte, Mich. His wife Jean has been teaching at Highland Academy, and working on her Master's degree in English at AU. He writes: "Keep the SURVEY coming. We enjoy keeping up with former classmates and old friends through this media."

Patricia Sheffield Nicholas (N '63): "I certainly enjoy reading the MADISON SURVEY. Do keep that good paper coming. It would be a shame not to be able to keep in touch with all our Madison friends. My husband is a patrolman for the Winter Park, Fla., Police Department. He was on leave from the department to teach math and chemistry at F.L.A. until the end of school. I run a 24-hour baby sitting service for our two children. We are very thankful to have fine, healthy children. So my work is all centered in our home."

Barbara Hall (Anes. '63) is an anesthetist in Wayne County General Hospital, Waynesboro, Tenn.

Frank Velazquez '63 finished the Associate Degree Course in nursing in June, 1967, at Western Kentucky University at Bowling Green, Ky. He began anesthesia at Madison Hospital in January, 1968, and is also working part-time in the lab. His wife, Marjorie (Belyea), finished X-ray at Madison in 1966, and has worked part-time in the X-ray Department.

1964

Second Lieutenant James Latta (N '64), an army nurse, and his family are in Silver Spring, Md. He is working at Walter Reed Hospital.

New ASI Executive Secretary

Elder C. H. Lauda has been elected executive secretary of the ASI, replacing Elder Wesley Amundsen, who is retiring after serving sixteen years as ASI secretary. Allan R. Buller is president of the organization. Sylvia Matby ('51), formerly on the faculty at Little Creek, is now one of the secretaries in the ASI office.

Remember the 1968 convention of Southern Self-Supporting Workers is to be held at Madison this fall. The date has not yet been set, but it is usually in October.

Byron Steele (BS '64), assistant chief in Madison Hospital lab, section head and teacher in the chemistry department, participated in a week-long training program at Morris Plains, N. J., in the use of a Robot Chemist, an electronic analytical instrument designed to duplicate automatically the manual steps performed in a chemical analysis. The sessions were held at the Training Center of Warner Chilcott Laboratories, Morris Plains, N. J. The training program was designed to familiarize prospective Robot Chemist operators with all phases of the machine's operation and maintenance. The machine has been installed in Madison Hospital lab, and Mr. Steele assists in training others in its operation.

Elwood Johnson (MCA '66), son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson (Anes. '64), was in the army in Vietnam two months, then was wounded in action, and moved to a hospital in Okinawa. He was awarded a Purple Heart.

Duane Brown, who took accounting classes at M.C. 1961-4, is working as an accountant for Knight & Davidson, Springfield, Tenn. He has been attending night classes at U.T. and has just taken his CPA test. His wife (Lona Pownall) finished M.A. this spring. The Browns have two little girls, Oleta and Cherie.

Caroline Bautista (Anes. '66) is working as a nurse-anesthetist in the operation room of Manila S-H. She speaks of several Madisonites in the Philippines. "Elwood Sherrard is our business manager. He was a student there at Madison College. Dr. Dick, director of Bacolod S-H, is doing a great work in the city of Bacolod . . . The Aabys dropped by here on their way to Singapore."

After graduating from lab at Madison Hospital in 1966, Miss Fe Resuello worked as section head and teacher in bacteriology at the hospital until recently. She is now a lab technician at St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, N. J.

Warren McKinley Watts graduated from Madison College with an agriculture major in 1958, and had charge of the dairy for several years. More recently he decided to become a lab technician, and secured his ASCP certification. He is working in Madison Hospital lab and teaching Serology and Blood Bank.

1967

Perla G. Cayabyab (Anes. '67) left Los Angeles March 11, 1968 for Singapore, where she is serving as a nurse-anesthetist at Youngberg Memorial Hospital.

Letters

Dr. Wilfred Stuyvesant attended Madison Academy and had three years of college here. He writes: "After receiving my B.A. at SMC in 1952 I came to Loma Linda and received my M.D. degree in 1956. My wife (Florence Nelson) was in the same class in medicine. We interned at Loma Linda, then I served my military obligation in Alaska with the U.S. Public Health Service . . . Back in Loma Linda Florence took a residency in anesthesia and I in pathology. I then spent three years in a research fellowship at the University of Southern California, and served on the medical school faculty there. Since 1966 I have been with LLU School of Medicine in full time research."

● Henry Skadsheim of St. Helena, Calif., is a regular SURVEY subscriber. He specializes in "Jiffy binding and indexing of magazines on nature, social science and gardening, for schools and libraries." Recently he sent us a sample copy of his National Geographic Magazine Topical Index, which contains a chronological index of copies from 1917 through 1963, which he offers free to self-supporting schools. The new edition sells for $7. Teachers and librarians and others interested in Jiffy Binding and classifying of magazines may address Skadsheim Services, 514 Elmshaven Rd., St. Helena, Calif. 94574.

● Elder and Mrs. J. A. Tucker, former faculty members of M.C., "retired" some years ago in their "wonderful home" at Beersheba Springs, Tenn., but they have been active in community and church projects through the years. In their annual letter for 1967 they tell about the Adult Education program in which they conducted four classes in 1966 in their county. The ages of the class members ranged from 20 to 65 and seventy secured their "high school equivalency diplomas." As a result, Elder Tucker was asked by the county board of education to direct the adult education program in the county, and to serve as educational consultant in nine other counties in Tennessee. In 1967 the Tuckers held twelve classes in their county with more than 250 enrolled.

● Kasser King is a building repairman in Park Service, Grand Canyon, Ariz. The Kings came to Madison in 1957 and stayed until 1961. They have a son Arnold and a daughter, Carole. Carole is the wife of Richard Mitzelfelt, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Mitzelfelt. Arnold and family live in Phoenix. Mrs. King worked on Medical Wing of Madison Hospital as ward secretary three years, and Kasser worked in maintenance.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Taylor, former workers at Madison, write: "The Laymen's Foundation purchased a 200-acre farm at Banner Elk, N. C., in 1927 for us to run a self-supporting school. We built a new church and school and ran a ten-grade school for several years. I believe there is still a church school there, and a rest home in connection, and has been through the years, although we came west many years ago. We are still teaching church school."

Dorothy Gray Gilstrap, Mt. View, Calif.

"I spent two very pleasant years at Madison (1931-33) in normal training. The work program taught me a great deal not taught in books. The second year, the seventh and eighth grade teacher had to quit, so I taught from December until the close of school. It was a wonderful experience. Miss DeGraw (later Mrs. Sutherland) was my counselor. She gave me excellent advice.

"I'm very sad about Madison's closing as a college, and about the science building burning. I took Biology in the science building from Dr. Bralliar. It was a beautiful building. I watched it being built. I still remember scooting way down in my chapel seat (so I couldn't be seen) when Dr. Sutherland looked around to select a student to ask a question, and bring out a point. I enjoyed it, if I wasn't the one. I never was! He certainly was a very special person."

● Miss Sara Nelson sends her donation to the SURVEY from Humboldt, Tenn. She writes that she is "a beloved friend and worker of Madison of the olden days." Her mother was a patient in 1918 with Dr. E. A. Sutherland, and she was also a patient and took a short course in Physical Therapy.

Two Books Available

Elder J. L. Hayward sends his SURVEY sub from Ft. Worth, Texas, and writes:

"Years ago I never missed a copy and always enjoyed reading the SURVEY. Although I never had the privilege of attending Madison College, I always had interest in its program and work . . . May God continue to bless Madison. It has a rich heritage. Graduates of Madison are among those I admire most in God's work today. We have one in Ft. Worth, Dr. Eugene Wood, an outstanding Christian medical missionary-minded physician, and a real soul-winner."

Elder Hayward is the author of a book, Time of the End. If you wish one of these books, send $2 to the Madison SURVEY, Box 1303, Madison College, Tenn. 37115. Part of the $2 can be applied on your SURVEY.

A few more copies of the Sanctuary syllabus have become available. Order from SURVEY at $3.

● Joseph E. Carlson sends his SURVEY donation from Minneapolis. He is interested in Madison and enjoys the SURVEY. He writes: "Why was the college closed? Isn't there need to train self-supporting students any more? Didn't Sister White highly approve? So why close the college?"

● Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Soper send their SURVEY donation from Coalmont, Tenn. Mrs. Soper is a teacher in her 27th year at teaching church school. They wrote: "We greatly appreciate and have enjoyed the Madison Survey for its policy of loyalty to educational principles and work through the years." Their son, Francis A. Soper, is editor of Listen magazine.

"Serious times are before us, and there is a great need for families to get out of the cities." 6T 178-9

A Last Word

News of the Honor Classes and other copy have been held over for the next SURVEY.

Don't forget your dues and donations. Look at the date that appears by your name in the back, which tells when you paid or changed address. ("A stands for Alumni. "A-L" means Life dues have been paid.) Annual dues are $3.

JOHN R. PETERS, M.D.

Madison and the self-supporting work lost a real friend when Dr. John Peters passed away suddenly in his office in Glendale, Calif., on Feb. 20, 1968. Dr. Peters and his wife, the former Gertrude Mann, whom he met while in school at Madison, were both graduates from the school of nursing. It was here that Dr. Peters developed and maintained a deep concern for the self-supporting work in the South.

In 1920 the family moved to Harding Hospital, Worthington, Ohio, where both Dr. and Mrs. Peters were employed until he graduated with honors from Ohio State University Medical School. Because of his interest while working at Harding Hospital, he studied to prepare for Board Examination in Psychiatry, and later taught at the University of Louisville.

Dr. Peters spent five years with the Veterans Hospital at Chillicothe, Ohio, then moved to Pewee Valley, Kentucky, to become medical director of the sanitarium-hospital there.

He served his country during World Wars I and II. He was released from active duty in the U. S. Navy with the rank of captain, remaining in the reserves until his death. For the past seventeen years he resided in Glendale and served as a professor and chairman of the Department of Psychiatry of LLU School of Medicine.

His family and many friends will remember him for many fine Christian deeds and his friendly and willing service for others which characterized his life.

RAYMOND SANTINI

Word has been received of the death of Ray Santini, who was a student at Madison during the early 1930's. His brother, Robert, writes that he died of a heart attack a few days before Christmas, 1967. He had retired from his regular job of making talking textbooks for the blind, but was still busy directing music and meeting public engagements, and had moved to a mountain retreat east of Fresno, Calif. He is survived by his wife, Esther; a son, J. G.; two daughters, Sandra and Vesta; also by a sister, Helen Taylor; and three brothers. All four of the Santini boys attended Madison. Robert is

ELIZABETH McAFEE MILLER

Mary Elizabeth McAfee Miller died at the age of 89 on October 4, 1966, at the Cumberland Mountain Rest Home, where she was a patient. She was buried at Altamont, Tenn. Mrs. Miller graduated from the nurses' course at Madison in 1923, and in the same year she married Jessie E. Miller, who survives her. Jesse is now in the V.A. Center Nursing Home, Wadsworth, Kan.

JAMES E. LEWIS

James E. Lewis passed away at the age of 84 on May 18, 1968, at Fletcher, N. C., where he had spent over forty years. He took a one-year nursing course at Madison in early days, and then to work in the laboratory at the Sanitarium for a time. Later he became interested in the agricultural phase, and was in charge of leguminous crops. He also did some teaching. His first wife, Bertha Mann, died in Wisconsin in 1916 or 17, at the birth of their only child, Vernon. She had taken some classes at Madison, was a member of the staff from 1912-14, and had been in charge of the student kitchen.

In 1918 Mr. Lewis married Clara Pettitt, who was taking the nurses' aid course at Madison. In 1924 they accepted a call and helped pioneer the work of Asheville Agricultural School and Mountain Sanitarium in Fletcher, he as treasurer and farm manager, she as accountant.

Internment was in Shepherd Memorial Park, Hendersonville, N. C. Surviving is his only child, Vernon, of Fletcher.

RICHARD A. WALKER

Richard A. Walker was born in Birmingham, England, in 1882. His father was a Campbellite Baptist, and his son respected his father's faith. At the age of sixteen he came to America, landing at Halifax, Nova Scotia. He made his way to New England by working on farms, in lumber camps, and as a gardener. He was a student of natural science and an avid reader, and became a self-educated man.

In Boston he worked for a Mr. Traiser, a Seventh-day Adventist on whose estate he had charge of the lawns and flowers. He attended meetings, read Adventist books, and joined the Adventist church. He came to Madison in 1923, and worked for about forty years as a gardener and grounds man, and also taught chemistry. He graduated from Madison College in 1937. He was a man of decided opinions, well-informed, and a believer in country living. He was a skilled gardener and always kept a variety of choice flowers in his own garden plot.

Brother Walker chose to spend his last years at Harbert Hills Academy near Savannah, Tenn. He came as a patient to Madison Hospital on February 29, 1968, and died on April 6, 1968. Internment was in Spring Hill Cemetery, where are buried a number of the early leaders of Madison.

ERNEST EUGENE BACKUS

E. E. Backus, former teacher and dean at Madison College, died Feb. 5, 1968, at Sanitarium, Calif., at the age of 90. He was a church school teacher in San Francisco and a teacher and dean at Lodi Academy. In 1928 he, with his wife and son James, arrived at Madison College to become a member of the teaching staff. His wife taught in the elementary school, while his son attended the academy, where he graduated in 1929.

ELIZABETH PHELPS WILLIAMS

Mrs. Elizabeth Williams passed away at Madison Hospital on April 5, 1968, at the age of 71. She was married to Robert W. Williams in 1923, and they lived in Gulfport, Miss., until his death in August, 1951. She then moved to Madison, where she took the attendant nurses' course in 1954, and passed her L.P.N. test at Hume Fogg High School. She worked for ten years as a practical nurse at Madison S-H.

Funeral services were conducted at the Madison Funeral Home by Elder J. W. Clarke, pastor of the Madison Campus Church, assisted by Elder R. W. Laue and Lin Robertson. Interment was at the Spring Hill Cemetery. Those who survive are a son, Robert W. Williams, of West Palm Beach, Florida, and two nephews, John C. Ackerman and Richard C. Ackerman, both of Madison.

GUSTAVE ULLOTH, M.D.

Gustave Ulloth died suddenly of a stroke at Mountain Sanitarium and Hospital in Fletcher, N. C., on March 10, 1968, at the age of 74. Dr. Ulloth attended high school in Clinton, Mo. He served in World War I, attaining the rank of sergeant. Following the war, he became a member of the S.D.A. Church, and attended Madison College, where he met and married Esther Hubbell on August 9, 1925.

He obtained his premedical education at Madison and his Doctor of Medicine degree in 1933 at C.M.E. Following graduation, he practiced medicine in Red Boiling Springs, Tenn., for six years. After this he spent two and one-half years in Ansonville, N. C. Then the family moved to Henderson County twenty-five years ago, where he was connected with Mountain S-H for five years, and for the past twenty years he was in private practice in Fletcher.

Survivors are his wife, the former Esther Hubbell; two sons, Dana R. of Centralia, Mo., and Barry G. of Marion, N. C.; and three daughters, Mrs. Jean Martinez, Burbank, Calif., Mrs. Barbara Inzer, Dallas, Texas, and Mrs. Sharon Ekkens, Cedar Lake, Mich.

CHARLES M. GILLIT, M.D.

Dr. Charles M. Gillit died at the age of 38 at Madison Hospital April 10 of injuries suffered in an automobile accident on Feb. 17. He finished CME in 1956, and following internship at Porter Hospital, Denver, was in the U.S. Army in Germany for three years with rank of captain. He had been in the practice of general medicine in Hendersonville, Tenn. since 1960. His tragic and untimely death was a blow to the community in which he lived.

Dr. Gillit was an active member of the Madison Boulevard Church. Among those surviving are his wife, Patricia, coordinator of the A.D. Program in Nursing, SMC, Madison Campus; three daughters, Terri Lee, Ginger Ann, and Gina Rae; a son, Gary Paul; and his uncle, Dr. Wesley Osborne.

DONNA JO McCORKLE

We were saddened to learn of the tragic death of Donna Jo McCorkle in an auto accident on her way back to Columbia Union College, where she was to graduate in May from the nursing course. Donna Jo is the eldest child of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. McCorkle. Elder A. D. Burch had the obituary and requested that the new youth's chapel of Miami Springs Church be named the Donna Jo McCorkle Youth's Chapel.
