A Memorable and Meaningful Weekend

Homecoming and Workshop,
June 20-22, 1969

One person who attended the 1969 M.C. Homecoming and Workshop remarked that this event was different from the usual in that it was more than a social affair. Those who attended both the Homecoming and the Workshop would surely agree that the weekend was meaningful, and they felt the urgency of the times, in personal preparation for the coming of Christ and the need to become involved in warning a world that is "going to pieces."

The meeting started Friday evening, as usual, and continued all day Sabbath. Usually the meeting ends Saturday night but this year a workshop was planned for Sunday morning. The alumni committee was gratified to note the deep interest in the workshop on Sunday, and the large attendance. Over 80 people came and stayed by all morning and far into the afternoon.

Second Generation Madisonites on Program

Second generation Madisonites provided much of the special music at Homecoming for Friday night (Patricia and Margaret Rose Pierce); Sabbath School (David Dittes, and Jim Knight, accompanied by sister Karen); church services (Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Knight). Francis Dittes was the organist for one church service; she and her sister Elizabeth played organ and piano for vespers. Judy Jennings sang for vespers.

Dr. Robert Kendall (MCA '59) and Dr. Jack Cothren (MCA '62) pronounced the benediction for the two church services.

Chaplain Mole, Friday Night

Chaplain R. L. Mole, member of the Honor Class of '44, was the speaker Friday night, and was surprised when Bernard Bowen '56 presented a plaque to him as Honor Alumnus of the Year. Miss Vera Jensen '46, outgoing president, was presented with a corsage, and Otis Detamore '58, vice-president, said she had been selected to receive the Woman of Achievement Award for 1968-69 by the Madison-Old Hickory Business and Professional Women's Club.

Chaplain Mole has traveled the world over as a missionary and a military chaplain. He said he came here as country boy, and considered it a privilege to have been a student at Madison. He was once the campus policeman. "I used to say anyone who could make it at Madison could make it anywhere in the world. I worked here for nine cents an hour. I made my way and a little to spare."

Commander Mole is the senior Adventist minister in the Navy chaplaincy, and is the highest ranked of all Adventist chaplains loaned to military services by the General Conference. He received the Bronze Star Medal and the Navy Commendation Medal for his service during two tours of duty in Vietnam. He said the attendance of the world is focused on Vietnam. He spoke often of Vietnam on Friday night and on Sabbath afternoon.

He brought artifacts and Vietnamese costumes, and had young people from the audience appear in these costumes: Mike Sutherland, representing a day laborer in Vietnam; Kyle Sager, a priest; Don Mote, native dress; Claudia Sutherland, dress of upper class; and David Dittes, representing what old people wear. Mike and Claudia are great grandchildren of Dr. E. A. Sutherland.

Self-Supporting Conventions

The 59th Convention of Southern Self-Supporting Workers will be held at Fletcher Academy and Sanitarium Hospital, Fletcher, N. C., Oct. 30-Nov. 1. The first meeting will be Thursday evening at 7:00. Accommodations on the Fletcher Campus will be limited, but there are motels in the nearby town of Fletcher.

ASI National Convention

Two weeks later the Association of SDA Self-Supporting Institutions (ASI) will hold its biennial national convention in Miami Beach, Florida, Nov. 12-18, 1969, at the Di Lido Hotel. The editor of the SURVEY plans to attend, and hopes to meet Madisonites enroute, and while at the convention. Perhaps a Madison reunion can be held in the Miami area and one in the Orlando area.

Homecoming 1970

The alumni committee is open to suggestions for a 1970 Homecoming date. We would especially like to hear from the Honor classes of 10, 25, and 40 years ago, or 1960, 1945, and 1930. Next year General Conference Session will be held June

The U.S. Navy has printed two of Elder Mole's books as a part of trans-cultural understanding endeavor, and subordinate naval commands have printed several others. Still other manuscripts have been prepared by him on crossculture. Royalties from these efforts will be forwarded to Vietnam for use in the educational work there, as the Adventists are endeavoring to acquire one square mile of land and develop an educational plant not too unsimilar to the Madison ideal so that the young people of Vietnam can secure a beneficial education even though they may not have funds. The land in this area is very rich and has only the major drawback of the war at present.

Dr. Schneider, First Church Service

On Sabbath, Dr. W. M. Schneider spoke at the first church service and Elder James Lee at the second. Sabbath School was between the two services with Gary Schueler '33 as superintendent. Dr. Elwin Lanz, former missionary to Peru and Paraguay, had the mission feature. The lesson study was in the form of a symposium with Pastor Paul Landa as moderator.

Dr. Schneider was introduced by Dr. J. C. Gant who spoke of his broad experience as administrator in five different colleges, and now as president of SMC, with a close tie to Madison. He also said Dr. Schneider was "a son of the soil."

When Dr. Schneider rose to speak he said the best part of the introduction was the allusion to his being a son of the soil. He grew up on a farm in Oklahoma, and the lessons he learned from nature and creation have stayed with him. He spoke of the turbulence on college campuses today, and said the soil is still the best place on which to live. The great turnover of college presidents with 270 positions open today, is understandable. Some thoughts from his sermon follow.

As Shakespeare said, "Unnatural deeds do breed unnatural troubles." Our world today is criss-crossed with shadowed deeds and vicious doings in breaking down the pillars of society, the home, the church and government. In education today, we seem much concerned in preparing the student for the technical jobs that society has for him. In fact, we have made a god out of technology. We stand in awe of mankind and what man can do, such as getting to the moon.

A few years ago, a reporter was sent to interview scientists in search of God. He approached a nuclear scientist who was working at the Brookhaven Institute, and asked him, "What do you think about God?"

The scientist replied, "God must be. We scientists used to feel that we were rather intelligent, but we have come to understand that we are still rather ignorant! For, who is the greater, the one who discovered how to put together the elements that have long existed in the earth, or the One who created the elements to begin with?" The reporter went to a number of scientists, and invariably each one exclaimed that God must be.

At the same time, we find the philosopher reasoning away God. And so, God is dead, and indeed He is, in the hearts and minds of many people. This is not true education.

We who are in the educational field begin to shudder a bit, as we see what's taking place on the university and college campuses of this nation, and all over the world. It became necessary for graduates of one of the largest universities to attend commencement exercises with crash helmets and gas masks for fear of what might take place. All across the nation we see these disturbances, and it's no wonder that men's hearts are failing them for fear of what's coming!

However, one statement made by Ellen G. White, gives me great peace of mind. "Amidst the strife and tumult of nations, He that sitteth above the cherubim still guides the affairs of earth . . . Today men and nations are being measured by the plummet in the hand of Him who makes no mistake. All are by their own choice deciding their destiny, and God is overruling all for the accomplishment of His purposes." Education, p. 178. It gives me faith certainly that education will go through, as long as it is needed, to complete the purposes of God on this earth. We are told, "God created man in His own image," and it was His purpose that the longer man lived the more fully he should reveal this image. I like this quote from Education, page 15, because it gives me an understanding of eternity, also. "All his faculties were capable of development; their capacity and vigor were continually to increase. Vast was the scope offered for their exercise, glorious the field opened to their research. The mysteries of the visible universe, the wondrous works of Him which is perfect in knowledge invited man's study." And we shall learn throughout eternity . . .

Mrs. White says in Education, pages 17, 18, that it is the work of true education to think and to train youth to be thinkers, and not mere reflectors of other men's thoughts. "Instead of confining their studies to that which men have said or written, let students be directed to the source of truth, to the vast fields open for research in nature and revelation. Let them contemplate the great facts of duty and destiny, and the mind will expand and strengthen. Instead of educated weaklings, institutions of learning may send forth men strong to think and act."

Now, how do we obtain such, even in this life? Note this, and I believe it with all my heart: "Through unselfish service, we receive the highest culture of every faculty. More and more fully do we become partakers of the divine nature. We are fitted for Heaven, for we receive Heaven into our hearts. Since God is the source of all true knowledge, it is, as we have seen, the first object of education to direct our minds to His own revelation of Himself . . . The Holy Scriptures are the perfect standard of truth, and as such should be given first place in education." Now this, to certain of my peer group who are not possessed with the same thought concerning true education, would be a ridiculous situation, would it not? To make Scripture first in a curriculum would indeed produce laughs today. But let us not laugh.

Philosopher's "Situation Ethics"

We hear a great deal about philosophy today. Philosophy has come up with a new term known as "situation ethics." The term has been coined to allow people the privilege of their own judgments, and nothing short of that. It places men at sea in a ship without a rudder, and a ship without a rudder will most certainly go on the rocks. It is every man unto himself. It says "What I consider moral, is moral for me," and it may not be moral for the next person. I must be guided, they say, by what my mind introduces to me as a concept of life itself. And so, a philosopher and psychologist on one of the major university campuses, says to the youth: "Experiment. This is your world. It's your life. Make of it what you can." In other words, do as you please, and then accept that which you feel to be best for yourself.

This, again I say, puts people at sea in ships without rudders. D'Israeli says: "He who does not answer to the rudder, will answer to the rock." The Bible is the rudder and must be made first place in true education. We must make Scripture and truth of Scripture number one in the curriculum.

Situation ethics is nothing short of saying, "Allow the situation to mold the conduct," or "The end justifies the means." It is freeing the individual of the problem and the necessity of self-control.

Situation ethics says, "Steal to feed hungry, kill to avenge a wrong." It makes every man, however unqualified he may be, a judge, while disallowing the judgment of God and His word. It makes a fool of the resolute. It makes virtue stupid, chastity ridiculous, loyalty unfeasible, and conscientiousness unnecessary. It frees a man of his vows before God and society. It is another masterpiece of the devil. . . .

This matter of morality today is a very serious matter, because the youth today seem to imbibe it and experiment with it.

Some years ago, I listened to a radio debate. The subject was, "Are we losing our morals, or are we not?" A well-known historian, philosopher, and psychologist took one side, declaring that we are not losing our morals. The pastor of the All Saints Church in Hollywood took the other side, that we are losing our morals. And, to substantiate his thoughts, he had gone to the record office of Los Angeles County, where he listed what had been taking place during the last few years in the country. He listed all the crimes, the increase in divorce rate, and so on, and he used this to support his argument.

Then the psychologist got up and said, in rebuttal, "What you have heard concerning the statistical report of crimes committed in Los Angeles County is not at all indicative of a loss of morality, but it represents only an adjustment to the age in which we live! It was difficult for me to sleep that night, and I thought about it for a long time. If the psychologist is true, then there is no such thing as right or wrong. The treachery and all we see about us would only be an adjustment to the age we live in, and a new age would develop according to the whims of people coming up through the years.

Ruled by the Rudder or the Rock?

Again we would be at sea in a ship without a rudder, and he who will not answer to the rudder will answer to the rock. Now, some of us are concerned. We think of religious perspectives in terms of the intellect or the intellectual. There are some things that cannot be negotiated in the Christian's life and are, indeed, absolute. The moral law is still absolute as we think of it, as it rules the heavens above. The moral laws would not have needed to be given, if men had not fallen. But, the principles that we see there have ruled the heavenly universe throughout eternity beyond which man cannot see.

I read a book, which was entitled, Absolute Versus the Relative. The book was a publication that originated on a college campus. It was the result of discussions that some of the professors had with student groups in a rather informal way. The discussions and the conclusion in the book terminated with the thought, "There is nothing absolute!" In other words, man has no anchor, but he drifts along at sea in a ship without a rudder. And whatever the mind can conceive or does conceive, regardless of the forces of good or evil playing on it, this is the society which shall inherit tomorrow.

I got to thinking about the question, "Are there absolute truths?" Certainly, there are basic principles that underlie Christian education, Christian living, and Christian philosophy. These are bases from which we derive our values, and from our values judgments. Let's look at Scripture and pick up a few of these.

What would you say is the source of all truth? Scripture give the answer in John 17:17: "Thy word is truth." This, indeed, is the rudder to which we should tie ourselves. There is no other source of genuine truth, except as revelation and nature support that which Scripture gives us. . . .

Do we really have a way of life to follow? Is there a map? Does the Christian have a map? Yes, indeed. John 14:6: "I am the way, the truth and the life." Again, what is our foundation? Paul answers in 1 Cor. 3:11. "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Christ Jesus."

The supernatural power to change the human nature is argued away by the philosopher today. But we find the answer in what Christ said to Nicodemus: "There is only one thing that you lack. You've got to be born again."

Madison College Graduates and Friends

Please help to keep the Madison spirit alive by supporting the alumni office, the Madison Survey, and the project of the year—one of the self-supporting institutions. For 1969–70, Harbert Hills Academy has been selected. Send all funds through the M.C.A.A., designating how much for each item listed below. The money will be placed in each fund just as you indicate, and you will receive an income-tax deductible receipt.

The philosopher seems unable to answer the question of the destiny of man. We are told in John 17:3: "This is life eternal, that they might know the only true God, and Jesus Christ, Whom Thou hast sent." We must make our value commitments now, not when we are called upon to stand before courts and legislatures. We must determine now in our minds to answer to the rudder unless we wish to answer to the rocks. . . . Is it necessary in education today to associate truth with that which is false and understandable? Some teachers today desire to resurrect worldly philosophers, but leave Christ hanging on the cross, unidentified and unappreciated. This is what's happening today, even on the campuses of Christian Colleges, to the point that the administrators of those colleges can hardly identify their objectives any longer. At one convention that I attended, the president of one college, openly stated that we do not know where we are going today! We're only trying to find the road!

New Principal at Fletcher

Leland H. Zollinger of Glendale, Calif., is the new principal of Fletcher Academy. He replaced L. E. Nestell, who held this position 17 years. Professor Nestell will remain on the faculty as a teacher.

Leland comes from a family of six sons and two daughters, several of whom are well known to readers of the SURVEY, as well as "Uncle Hick" (W. R. Zollinger '53). His brothers are George (deceased), Glen, Robert, Edwin '62, and Beecher '62. His sisters are Mrs. Bettie Ashlock and Mrs. Shirley Chastain.

Mr. Zollinger has been in educational work in California and other States. He received his B.S. at U.T. in 1956 and his M.A. at AU in 1963, and is obtaining his doctorate in Educational Engineering at the University of Tennessee. His wife Freda is a graduate nurse, and they have two sons.

Children of Madisonites

Patricia Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Pierce ('56 & '46) was married to Kenneth Jameson at the Highland Church, Portland, Tenn., on July 6, 1969. The bride and groom were both on the staff of Jefferson Academy in Texas last year. They are located in Dallas, Texas, where he is principal of Dallas Junior Academy.

Kristin Peterson and Steven Thompson, son of Orvan and Evelyn Thompson, were married at the Adventist Church in Trondheim, Norway (home of the bride) July 25. Kristin and Steven graduated from SMC in June. Orvan Thompson is a photographer in Madison. He and his wife and daughter Gail went to the wedding in Norway.

David D. Osborne, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Osborne '39 was ordained to the gospel ministry at the Florida camp-meeting this summer. David has recently been appointed youth pastor at LLU La Sierra Campus.

Edson Knight, son of Kenneth and Viola Knight ('48 & '45) graduated cum laude from SMC in June. While at SMC in his senior year he helped with the teaching program at nearby Laurelbrook School. He will attend AU, working on his Masters, and is interested in singing evangelism.

Faye Melendy, daughter of Clifford and Nora Melendy '42, was married to Alton Steen June 2 in the Bordeaux Church, Nashville.

Phyllis Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams (59 & '54), was married to Mike Wolf August 31 at the Port Charlotte, Florida, SDA Church.

M.C.A.A. Project of the Year

Last year officers of the Madison Chapter in D.C. area indicated they would like to adopt a self-supporting unit as a project each year to help financially. Our alumni office took the idea and suggested Yerba Buena Hospital, Chiapas, Mexico. Funds were collected and sent there.

This year the project is Harbert Hills Academy near Savannah, Tenn., the "youngest" of the five self-supporting academies in the Southern Union. W. E. Patterson, the founder, has devoted much time and energy in raising funds for the Harbert Hills school and more recently the new 25-bed sanitarium which is scheduled to open September 19 at Olive Hill, Tenn.

Mr. Patterson and L. L. Dickman, principal, are appealing to M.C. alumni and friends to help erect a much needed boys' dormitory. The boys have been housed in trailers and cottages, very crowded, and without adequate heat. Mrs. Mavis Sutherland of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., has been working on this project also, and is joining forces with the alumni in raising money.

Contributions should be made through the Madison College Alumni Association for Harbert Hills Academy building fund, and are income tax deductible. You will get a receipt. Use the addressed envelope attached.

It is hoped that alumni will also remember their dues ($3 a year; $50 lifetime); and that friends of Madison will remember a donation for the SURVEY. This can all be included in the same check by designating the amount for each.

Anesthesia News

All anesthesia students from Madison Hospital who took the May, 1969, national exams passed with good grades, reports Bernard Bowen '56, director of the school. And Mary Elizabeth DeVasher made the top grade in the whole United States. Mrs. DeVasher took nurse's training at Fletcher, and is now an instructor in the School of Anesthesia at Madison. Her husband, Bernard, is a teacher at Highland Academy.

Tina Benson Sanders finished her nursing course at Madison in 1955, and later returned to take Anesthesia. She is now one of the instructors in the School of Anesthesia. Nelda Vest Ackerman completed the nursing course in 1955, took Anesthesia later, and is now an instructor in Anesthesia.

Jim Merklin, former student of M.C., has enrolled in Anesthesia. Gene Mende, son-in-law of Luvane Hilde (Anes. '63), is another student. Anesthesia students David Reams and Byong Pak of Korea, helped with Homecoming pictures for the SURVEY, and for the report by Myrle Tabler for Southern Tidings.

Madison Grads Meet with A.A.N.A.'s

Bernard and Dollie Bowen attended a meeting of the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists in Chicago on August 17-21. On August 19 a breakfast was arranged for Madison Hospital graduates. The following attended: Mr. and Mrs. Bowen (56 & '50), Jean Hassenpflug '58, Marlowe Coppage '64, David White '64, David Killion '52 (and his wife Carol), Angel Jiminez '64, Doris Bowen '62.

Other Madison graduates who attended the meeting but not the breakfast: James Shilling '68, Jack Northcutt '57, Dick Wagner '55 (and wife, Evelyn Chatten Reed).

48 SMC Students Enroll at Madison

Forty-five students of nursing and three medical records students enrolled on the Madison Campus of SMC for the school year 1969-70. This is the largest enrollment since the Associate of Science program began in 1966.

Two new teachers have been added to the staff. Mrs. Adela Kabigting, assistant director of nursing service for staff development at Madison Hospital, is on loan for a year to serve as educational coordinator for the Madison Campus. Miss Sharon Linsley of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, is the new clinical instructor in Physical-Mental Illness.

Mrs. Kabigting holds a master's degree in Teaching and Supervision from the University of Chicago, and a post-master's degree in School of Nursing Administration from the University of Chicago, San Francisco Medical Center.

Two members of the Associate of Science Department of Nursing staff on the Collegedale campus received advanced degrees this summer. Mrs. Del Watson, director of the A.D. nursing program, earned a second master's degree, an M.Ed. from Columbia University. Mrs. Doris Davis received an M.S. in Maternal-Child Health from Emory University.

The two-year A.D. program begins its fourth year with strong teaching staffs on both campuses, and with prospects for its most successful year. We plan to include a picture of the 48 students and their teachers in the next SURVEY.

Madison Academy

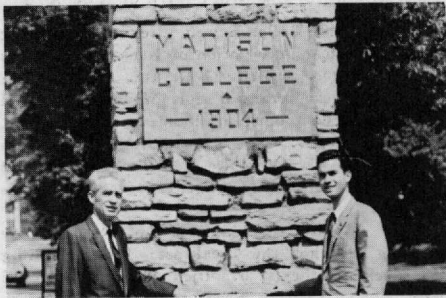

Madison Academy opened September 2 with an enrollment of 135. New teachers, serving with Principal Don Keele, Registrar Marie Jansen, and Treasurer Charles Hessler, are Elder Gordon Frederick, English teacher and librarian; Michael Hackleman, physical education; and Ernest Pearson, Music.

Forty students received diplomas from Madison Academy on June 1.

Large Enrollment in Elementary School

The Elementary School at Madison opened September 2 with an enrollment of over 170, and more to come. William Mills of Boston is the new principal and teaches eighth grade. Harold Young, fifth grade, is the only other new teacher. Miss Vesta Lester, fourth grade, has taught 29 years; this is her 11th consecutive year at Madison. Miss Dorothy Mathews '37, third grade, has taught 32 years; this is her 14th year at Madison.

Country Living Opportunity. Mrs. Lenore Artress, former student of Madison, is looking for a missionary-minded couple who will live in her house and help with church work. Her address is Rt. 3, Bon Aqua, Tenn. 37025.

Elder James Lee and son David Lee, Homecoming speakers, standing by one of the old entrance pillars to the Madison campus on Larkin Spring Road.

"Elijah's Mid-Course Correction"

Elder James Lee spoke at the second worship service on "Elijah's Educational Mid-Course Correction." He remarked that he and Dr. Schneider, who preceded him on the program, were students at P.U.C. at the same time. Elder Lee and his son David have been doing intensive research in the White Publications office at the General Conference on the true principles of education to determine God's plan for our educational program. It grew out of his work on his doctoral dissertation, A Historical Study of Ellen G. White's Influence upon the Development of Higher Education Among S.D.A.'s.

James Milton Lee spent much of his life in Korea, where his father, Elder Howard Lee, conducted the worker training school until the Communists took over North Korea. In 1947, James established Korean Union College in South Korea. After ten years he connected with Mountain View College in the Philippines.

Elder Lee began his sermon by saying, "I might have been an alumnus of Madison College. As a young lad in Korea, Elder Ralph Watts began to fill my mind with thoughts of Madison, and I almost came here to school. The Madison spirit was injected into me a long time ago." He said he believed the Madison school gave the type of education approved of God. Following are some thoughts from his sermon.

The reformatory educational program began at the turn of the century. Our first college transferred from Battle Creek to Berrien Springs in 1901. Later the medical college transferred from Battle Creek to Loma Linda. If our educational work is right, all else will be right. Our work is to be the work of Elijah. "Behold I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord; and he shall turn the heart of the father to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers." Mal. 4:5-6. Yes, we are to carry out the work of Elijah. "His whole life was devoted to reform." PK 119.

Elijah saw Israel going deeper and deeper into idolatry. Samuel had established the schools of the prophets. Prosperity under David and Solomon came largely as a result. Afterward the schools of the prophets went into decline. In modern space-age phraseology, Elijah gave Israel an educational mid-course correction by reestablishing the schools of the prophets. In the space program they say, "If necessary, make a correction." But it was all so exact they didn't need to correct. Are we as faithful in our assigned task? Elijah saw need for educational reestablishment of the schools of the prophets. Later, Ezra and Nehemiah brought about a reform. In ancient Israel the schools of the prophets were reestablished time and again. Israel's prosperity depended upon their belief in the prophets. See 2 Chron. 20:20.

So, today, we have the writings for our time. We have the following promise: "Though in many respects our institutions of learning have swung into worldly conformity, though step by step they have advanced toward the world, they are prisoners of hope. If they will listen to His voice and follow in His ways, God will correct and enlighten them, and bring them back to their upright position of distinction from the world." 6T 145 God has His plan all arranged. We are to see great reform in our medical and educational and evangelistic work.

At the workshop Sunday morning, Elder Lee continued his discussion of the parallel between ancient and modern Israel, and the program for a model school. (See also Journal of Adventist Education, April-May and Summer, Chaplain and Mrs. Robert L. Mole. Commander Mole is holding the plaque presented to him as Alumnus of the Year at the Madison College Homecoming June 20-22, 1969. Standing by his side is his wife Jeanette, a former student of Madison.

1968). He titled his talk, "Does Adventist Education Need a Mid-Course Correction? If so, How, When, Where?" One way to make correction is to go back where you got off the course, turn around and go back. Another way if you have a good map is to find a short cut. A great reformatory work is to be done. We need to be headed for Orion, not the moon.

Thus ended the spiritual feast of Sabbath morning at Homecoming 1969. Home folks and visitors were well fed physically at Williams Hall dining room by an abundance of food furnished by loyal alumni and friends at noon.

Alumni (and Others) in Action

Sabbath afternoon featured alumni and a few others who believe in the Madison philosophy. First came members of the honor classes of '59 and '44 (10 and 25 years ago). Regrettably only a few were present, but greetings were sent by many. See alumni news. Marilyn B. Grover '59 reported on the active Madison Potomac Chapter which meets several times a year. Chaplain R. L.

Mole, outstanding member of the class of '44, spoke again on Sabbath afternoon.

Next came two thrilling stories of how Mary Alice Owens of Nashville, and the Thrash family of Columbus, Georgia, became Adventists.

The parents of Mrs. Owens, Elder and Mrs. U. E. Stallings, were staunch Adventists, but she had never been interested in their religion. Her mother was ill and she was afraid she would die. To please her mother she promised she would go to Sabbath School, and attend the Boulevard Church for three months, but she could hardly wait to get out each Sabbath. She noticed the pale faces and thought she could not give up her lipstick and other habits. But finally she became interested, took Bible studies from Pastor Arden Mote, and joined the Adventist Church. She is now working at F.R.E.H. (Foundation for Rehabilitation of the Emotionally Handicapped).

Madison Alumni Scholarship Award

Mrs. Owen's daughter, Mary Jo Pippen, was awarded the alumni scholarship of the year by M.C.A.A. president Vera Jensen. Mary Jo, a recent graduate of Madison Academy, a member of the National Honor Society and of the T.O.T. club, is attending SMC this fall.

The Doctors Thrash Tell Their Story

Drs. Calvin and Agatha Thrash related the story of their conversion to Adventism. After their graduation from the Medical College of Georgia they settled in Columbus, Ga. They did not believe in God, and made no profession of religion at all. They believed in evolution, and did not think there was another doctor or scientist in all the world who believed in God and the Bible and creationism. They were a gay young couple who frequently went out dancing, attending cocktail parties, and playing bridge. Dr. Calvin was an internist and Dr. Agatha a pathologist. A few years ago they became acquainted with an Adventist pathologist, Dr. William Thompson, of Atlanta, and they had some professional contacts. He asked the local pastor to call on the Thrashes, and he left two books to read; he moved away and the new pastor came and wanted to give Bible studies. He had a hard time to convince them to start studies, but finally Dr. Agatha consented and accepted the truth. Six months later Dr. Calvin was baptized.

The Thrashes believe fully in all of Sister White's instructions. They plan to establish a country base where they will live, with their two children, and drive in to their clinic in Columbus each working day. They want to establish a health center in connection with their Doctors Calvin and Agatha Thrash, of Columbus, Ga., speakers at Madison College Homecoming and Workshop.

Layman Foundation Affiliates Meet

Administrators and representatives of the 11 medical institutions affiliated with the Layman Foundation met at the Foundation headquarters in Madison on July 29 for discussion of mutual problems and plans. Benny Moore, a C.P.A. from Chattanooga, and Charles Martin, Jr., addressed the group at the dinner meeting held in the Plantation Room at the hospital.

SEATED are members of the Layman Foundation Corporation: Leland Straw of Little Creek, James W. Blair of Madison, Louise Kuiken of Bethel Sanitarium, Roger F. Goodge, president of the Layman Foundation, Florence F. Jaspersen, secretary-treasurer, Elder Fred A. Mote, of Coalmont, Tenn., Fred H. Bishop, Foundation accountant.

work in Columbus. They have been active in medical evangelism, teaming up with ministers in such health projects as the Five-Day Plan, Nutrition cooking schools, weight control, and physical fitness. Since Home coming at Madison Dr. Agatha Thrash teamed up with Elder O. J. Mills in a Five-Day Plan on television in Columbus, Ga. Prime time was given them, and they had wide coverage in the news media, with excellent results.

Vespers—Elder K. D. Johnson

Elder Kimber Johnson, president of Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, had the talk for vespers. He referred to L. A. Hansen's book, From So Small a Dream, and admonished his listeners to follow the pioneers in dedication, walking triumphantly as the pioneers did.

Business Meeting, Saturday Night

After vespers, alumni gathered in Williams Hall for the business meeting, election of officers, and refreshments. Vera Jensen, then president, called the meeting to order. Duane Brown gave the treasurer's report: Cash on hand at beginning of 1968, $221.63, plus income received of $2176.58, amounted to $2398.21. Disbursements during the year (printing Survey, telephone, student help, supplies, etc., Homecoming and Scholarship), including a gift to Yerba Buena Hospital of $100, came to $2235.15. Balance at end of year 1968 was $163.05.

Chief expense was the SURVEY ($935.66). The editor and executive secretary, Mable H. Towery, receives no salary. She and Miss Jensen expressed concern to those assembled regarding our finances, and appealed for support. There is a great deal of work to be done in the alumni office, and it is a problem to secure competent help. Many do not live close enough to help with the work, but all can help by their dues and donations. Another cause for concern since the college closed is the difficulty at times to persuade graduates to serve as officers on the alumni board. In light of this, when the nominating committee met this year, it was decided not to present two names each on the slate of officers, but only one each. These were presented and accepted by acclamation.

Terry Brown Shows Biafra Trip Pictures

One other part of the Homecoming program proper came after the business meeting Saturday Night. Terry Brown '58 showed many of the colored pictures he had taken when he went to Biafra as part of the first medical relief team.

Introducing New M.C.A.A. Officers

Gene Sellars '61 has served as a board member on the alumni committee for several years, and we are glad he consented to serve as our president for the coming year. Gene received his MS in Public Health Education at LLU in 1962, and his certificate in Physical Therapy at U.T., Memphis, in 1966. He is presently physical therapist at Hill Haven Convalescent Center in Nashville.

Our treasurer and assistant treasurer are new.

Walter Kohler, treasurer, graduated from an accounting course at Madison in 1951. Both he and his wife (Myrtis Campbell) have taught in church school. He is now shipping clerk at the food factory on campus, and she is an L.P.N. at Parkview. They have four daughters and one son. Ronald is in the Army. Brenda (Mrs. Ray Davis) is working at the hospital in Avon Park. Glenda was married to Don Martin in Binghamton, N.Y., this summer. Anita and Dora are at home.

Larry P. Kelley (X-ray 1960), assistant treasurer, is a graduate of Madison Academy (1958) and took two years of college at Madison. He finished his B.S. at SMC in 1966, then worked for McKee Baking Company at Collegedale as assistant personnel manager. He is now assistant administrator of the new Heritage House Convalescent Home near Madison Hospital. Dan Ballew is administrator.

Vera Jensen '46 continues on the M.C.A.A. board as past president. Otis Detamore '58 vice-president; Mable H. Towery executive secretary and custodian;

Dorothy Matthews '37, Edith Johnson '58, and Frances Winters '61, assistant secretaries. Other M.C.A.A. board members are Edythe Cothren '47, Bernard Bowen '56, William V. Campbell '53, and Florence F. Jaspersen '47.

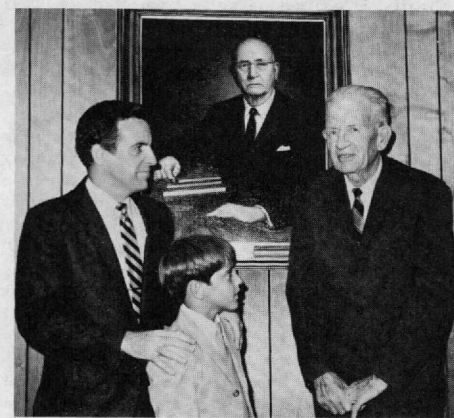

Regrets and Greetings

Among those who sent regrets at not being able to attend Homecoming were Zorah Guffey Holcomb '31, of Hood River, Oreg., Louella Doub '36 of Fresno, Calif., Dr. James D. Wang of Knoxville, Ill., and Helen Rademann '34 of Maywood, N.J.

Two conveyed greetings from their Madison Hospital beds—Miss Edith Munn '26, and George Taylor, former student and worker. Mr. Taylor's wife Florence graduated from Madison in 1936.

Elder and Mrs. H. R. Beckner, Reading, Pa.: "We surely wish it were possible to be in Madison for Homecoming, to join in the wonderful program that is planned. We have to be in campmeeting in Pittsburg, but we will be with you in spirit and praying for God's blessing upon all gathered in 'goode olde Madison!' We very much appreciate the SURVEY. It keeps us up to date on the Madisonites of whom we are proud. We are happy to be numbered with the distinguished people who carry on the Madison ideals. Our kindest regards and best wishes to all from Madison's last president and wife."

Honor Classes. For those who replied from honor classes of '29, '59, and '44, see under those years in Alumni News.

Four Generations of Sutherlands

Standing by the portrait of their revered ancestor, Dr. Edward A. Sutherland, are his son, Dr. Joe Sutherland; grandson, Dr. Shain Sutherland, and great grandson, Eddie Sutherland II, his namesake. The picture of "Dr. E. A." was unveiled in the lobby of Madison Hospital on June 15, 1969. It was presented to the hospital by the hospital "pink ladies" Volunteer Auxiliary. Present at the ceremony were Dr. Joe Sutherland, Duke, Donna, Angie, and Dannie Sutherland; son Bob and his children, Mike and Claudia; and all but one of son Shain's five children, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn. (Dr. E. A. Sutherland was the founder of Madison Sanitarium-Hospital.)

Bayard Goodge, '33, physician at Little Creek S-H, an admirer of Dr. Sutherland and a young faculty member who served under him at Madison, had prepared a historical sketch and eulogy, and read it at the unveiling ceremony. We deeply regret not being able to include it in this issue of the SURVEY, but have decided to hold it over until the next issue. We know you will enjoy reading it.

ALUMNI NEWS

Vera Dortch Honeycutt '17, Paris, Tenn. "Another time I can't be there for homecoming! How I would enjoy it! I still have my sister Mrs. Mabel Ward, 83, who has rheumatoid arthritis. My arthritis (osteo type) is some better. Although I'll be 78 in August, I still drive my car and keep house and nurse my sister. I thank the Lord for the strength to do it. My niece, Mrs. Juanita Hines, has finished her L.P.N. course at Madison, and my great niece, Vicky Hines, and her friend, Oleta Dodson, finished Anesthesia recently. All three are located in Jackson, Tenn., working at the Madison County Hospital . . . I love Madison."

1923

Will F. Benton (N '23) wrote from Poland, Ohio, that he noticed the item in June, 1969, SURVEY regarding Mrs. Bertram, whom he remembers well when he was taking his training at Madison. Mr. Benton is a retired engineer of the U.S. Steel Corporation.

1928

Claude E. Randolph, M.D., has "retired" from the Medical Department of the General Conference, but like so many indefatigable people, will keep on working. He has connected with Madison Hospital as house physician. He and his wife (Alberta Yates '27) have moved to Cross Plains, Tenn. They served as missionaries in several countries in the Far East, before connecting with the G.C.

1929

Edwin B. Johnson, M.D. (Premed. '29) is a practicing physician at Pullman, Mich. His wife, Charity, is a graduate nurse from Madison. They have four children, all married.

Carl L. Jones '29 sent greetings. "I am certainly sorry not to be able to be with you this year, especially since my class is one of the honor classes, but I will be thinking of you . . . The closing words of our class graduation song seem appropriate now: "Sunny days and stormy days together we've been through, but after we're gone, as memories throng, in our dreams we'll come back to you [Madison]."

Carolyn Port (N'29) sent "deepest regrets" from Morganton, N.C., for not coming. "I'm eagerly looking forward to the report of this wonderful Homecoming." Her brother, Dr. Forest Port, will soon be on his way to Nigeria as a missionary. More on that next issue.

Elsie Sanford Hamerly, Seattle, Wash., sent greetings to the class of '29 from a beach cabin in the Island of Whidby, where she was having a month's vacation, a yearly event in the family. Formerly the Hamerlys brought their boys there, later their grandchildren.

"How much I would like to be there with the class of '29. Most of all I remember how wonderful it was to find a school where I could work and earn an education. No other in the denomination had this to offer. My husband passed away last year. We were married 36 years. We lived in the same house all of that time, went to the same church, and raised two fine boys. In July I take off for Scotland. Then I'll be settling down again. I still work some when I can find time. I'm busy in white Bible visits. I enjoy this more than anything. Jesus is coming soon, and there is much to do."

Thelma H. Watkins (N '31) wrote that she and her husband have moved from Dallas to Ben Wheeler, Texas, a small community in the country where they have three acres of land. Daughter Emogene McBride (Home Ec. '49) remains in Dallas.

1932

Emmie Dee Birdwell (N '31) and Leonard H. Robinson (N '32) were married Jan. 24, 1969. They knew each other while in training at Madison in the early thirties. Each of their spouses had died some years ago, so, as Mr. Robinson writes, "We got together for the future." He is doing staff duty in a hospital in Miami, Okla.

1935

Russell T. Smith, M.D. (premed '35) has joined the staff of Battle Creek Sanitarium. He served as medical director of Boulder S-H in Colorado, as school physician and health instructor at Union College, and as medical secretary of the Central Union Conference. For a short time he served at the Belem Hospital in Brazil, and the Davis Memorial Hospital in British Guiana.

The May, 1969, Yerba Buena News states that work has begun on the new hospital at Yerba Buena, Chiapas, Mexico. The new hospital will first join, then replace, the present facilities. Ray and Marie Comstock '36 are the founders of this self-supporting institution.

Dr. Philip S. Chen, former professor of chemistry at Madison College from 1933-8, has been granted Professor Emeritus status at AUC. Dr. Chen is the author of a number of articles and books, his seventh book being MINERAL BALANCE IN EATING FOR HEALTH (Rodale Press, 1969). The book, whose original title was THE LOVE OF SALT IS THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL, stresses that excessive intake of salt by man has "made it the root of much evil, evils that are manifest in many diseases and disorders that cause suffering and death." (A review of this book will appear later.) Mrs. Chen is a graduate of Madison, class of 1936.

Philip H. Faudi (N '38) works in New York City in winter and spends the summer with his family in Portland, Maine. He wrote: "Sorry I could not get to the Homecoming. My thoughts were there. I am sure it was a great event. . . . I'm working at Beth Israel Medical Center, New York City. I hope to be through there after another year. City life is not for God's remnant people. I prefer country life."

1940

1942

Helen Hite Register, wife of Dr. Ulma Doyle Register ('42), received her M.S. degree in dietetics at LLU in June. Mrs. Register wrote on "How to Plan Meals," as guest dietitian in July LIFE & HEALTH.

News of classmates, Lt. Col. Isabelle Miller (N '43) and Tody Shinkawa comes from Jo Bengston (N '43), who says Isabelle retired from the Navy, November, 1968, in Phoenix, where she was building her home. Jo wanted to attend Homecoming and start a class letter, but tells of several events in her life that prevented. Her mother is in a nursing home in Wisconsin, and she visited her. Also becoming mother of an adopted boy, and losing her father, all seemed to set her behind. She hopes to catch up and do better.

Tody Shinkawa (Diet. '43) wrote classmate Jo sometime ago that she was working for the State Health Department as a dietitian in the Waimano Training School and Hospital in Honolulu, Hawaii. At this institution for mentally retarded children, she is the only dietitian for about 800 residents.

Honor Class of 25 Years Ago

William Cushman (N '44) and wife, of Greenville, Tenn., were at Homecoming. He was president of the nurses' class of 1944. Later he took Anesthesia at Madison.

Rosie Voss Conklin (N '44) wrote from Mentone, Calif., thanking us for the invitation to Homecoming. She says, "I enjoy any news of Madison. I'm doing psychiatric nursing at present."

June Hunt Kirkwood (N '44) came from nearby Franklin, Ky., to attend Homecoming.

Elfa Lillie Edmister (N '44) is on a two-year leave of absence from SMC where she has been teaching Public Health. She is now generalized Public Health nursing consultant for 14 counties in the State of Tennessee.

Wilma Sisco Brockman, Tucson, Ariz. "Sorry to be unable to attend Homecoming . . . We have been doing a lot of work around our place. Twenty-five years ago I never thought I would be helping with concrete work. When the children get bigger I hope to return to nursing." Wilma gave us a clue to the missing address of her classmate, Maxine Bosch Dille, who was in Tulsa, Okla., last summer.

Verle Brown, Egnar, Colo.: "We would love to be at the Homecoming this year but it is impossible. Harlan and the three boys are planting trees in the mountains at present. I surely appreciate the list of 1944 graduates and their addresses. There has been very little news in the SURVEY of our class in past years. I'm looking forward to the news of our class especially. In February Harlan had surgery for cancer on his forehead and back, and in March I had hernia repaired and veins ligated in right leg. Both of us are feeling good again, and we are really busy."

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rabuka have sold their farm near Springfield, Mo., and moved to Armstrong, B. C. Canada. Mrs. Rabuka (Gladys Cook '47) is teaching grades 4-6 in the 10-grade Grandview Flats church school.

1948

William H. Knight, Ph.D., and wife Helene, both of the class of '48, are now located in Fort Kent, Maine, where he is academic dean of Fort Kent State College, University of Maine.

Kenneth C. Knight, '48 was featured in the June, 1969, newsletter of the Association of Adventist Certified Public Accountants. He started his own business in 1950 at Springfield, Tenn., and shortly after that formed partnership with Ralph Davidson under name Knight & Davidson C.P.A. His wife is the former Viola Salsgiver '45.

Lucy De Pas Zetko and family almost made it to Homecoming, but not quite. She wrote: "I am currently doing psychiatric nursing at Pleasant Grove Hospital in Anchorage, Ky., an S.D.A. managed hospital. I also work some in the office of Dr. John H. Leland at Crestwood, and am on call five nights a week at the Salvation Army Hospital in Louisville. So you can see I keep very busy. My husband Joe keeps busy at carpenter work. Our children are 17, 16, and 12 now."

"Our memories of Madison are still clear and enjoyable. We are happy that we had the privilege of attending school there. Madison is a school we will never forget."

Violet Rook Martella (N. '50) works two days a week as assistant director of nurses at a Convalescent Hospital of 124 beds in Hanford, Calif. She is also a school nurse volunteer at Armona Union Academy. At present she is working on an audiometric certificate.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jones have moved to Madison, where Mr. Jones is now assistant administrator of Imperial Manor nursing home. Previously he was connected with the Georgian Villa nursing home in Douglasville, Ga. Mrs. Jones, nee Mary Charles Scott, is a graduate of Madison, Class of 1950.

Much Graduated Johnson Family

Commencement 1959 was indeed an event in the lives of the Dr. Gilbert H. Johnson family, five of the six members receiving a degree or diploma. Three of the family were granted degrees by LLU on June 1: Son Paul graduated from the School of Medicine with an M.D. degree; Mark D. received his B.A. degree from the College of Arts and Sciences; and Mrs. Johnson received her M.P.H. from the School of Public Health. The twins, Elisabeth and James, received diplomas from Loma Linda Academy. The father of the family had received his M.D. from C.M.E. in 1942.

The Johnson family were at Madison for fourteen years, Dr. Gilbert serving as radiologist for Madison S-H. His wife, Agnes Nordstrom Johnson, received her B.S. degree from M.C. in 1950.

On June 29, in the Loma Linda Campus Hill Church, the only daughter of the family, Elizabeth Anne, was united in marriage to David Lee Majestic.

Elder Roland Parker (N '51), departmental secretary for the Bolivian Mission, makes good use of his nurses' training at Madison, combining medical with ministerial activities as he travels over Bolivia, which is considered by economic experts to be one of the poorest countries in the world. In spite of this, 2000 have been baptized in 1968, and he himself baptized 383 of those.

Clifford Ahlberg (Ind. Arts '51) is teaching Industrial Arts at Monterey Bay Academy, and is superintendent of the garage. He writes that they have a strong work program at MBA. Every student is required to work some each week.

Edna Atkin Pepper (Sec. '52) and husband Stanley have retired at Janesville, Wis., where they are near their daughter Marguerite Rose, and are pursuing their hobbies.

1953

Walter R. Shultz (Anes. '53), administrator of Crawford County Memorial Hospital, was recommended by the Board of Governors of the American College of Hospital Administration for conferral of fellowship on Aug. 17, 1969. Mr. Shultz has two full-time anesthetists with him. His hospital will soon have 100 beds.

Olive Cruickshank (N, '54) and William Snapp, a postal employee of Chicago, were married at Pewee Valley, Ky., March 17, 1969. They are at home in Westmont, Ill. Olive had been on the nursing staff at Pewee Valley S-H, and before that she was school nurse at Kent Place School for girls in Summit, N.J.

John Aldrich (N '54) is an industrial nurse of the night shift at the Atomic Energy Plant operated by the Dow Chemical Plant near Denver. His wife Dorothy (N '55) is night supervisor at Porter Memorial Hospital, where she has been employed for 14 years.

Mrs. Josephine Clark got her LPN at Madison in 1954, the same year that daughter Betty (LeForte) got her R.N. Betty is doing anesthesia in St. Louis. Mrs. Clark sent her renewal to the SURVEY, and also one for son Ross who is teaching school at Cloverdale, Calif. She writes, "I get lonely for Madison."

Bobby Jean Harrison (M.R. '57) is a part-time secretary in the X-ray department of Hamilton Memorial Hospital, Dalton, Ga. She says she was in school at Madison since the sixth grade. The Harrisons have four children, including the twins, Tom and Tim, age 9.

Mrs. Doris Thomson '57, of Orlando, has accepted the position of director of nursing at Geer Memorial Convalescent Hospital in Canaan, Connecticut.

Hoytie Grundy Freeman (N '58) is director of nurses at Matthew Walker Health Center, a branch of Meharry Hospital, in Nashville. Eleven nursing personnel are working with her.

Marie Wilson Logan '58 wrote that she had just returned from the Youth's Congress in Zurich, Switzerland. There she saw Edythe and Elisabeth Cothren, Vesta and Nancy Bryant Billy Mack and John Read and their wives. John had his choir there. Marie's son Lee will go to Cedar Lake Academy this fall, and she says she will start back to college. "I want to get my degree in Psychology, and either do testing or counseling work."

Jacqueline Giles (N '58) has been on the nursing education faculty at General Hospital for eight years, teaching Med-Surg in the 3-year diploma program. The hospital plans to start the A.D. nursing program in 1970.

Sally Hoover Sullivan (M.R. '58) and Larry Dungan were married in the Boulevard Church on June 14. Sally is employed in the admitting office, Madison Hospital.

(For the first time, the class of ten years ago or 1959, was included in the honor classes.)

Marilyn Blackwelder Grover (M.R. '59) and family came from Takoma Park, Md., where she and Bill (Lab '55) both work at Washington S-H. Deryl Christiansen and family came from Centralia, Mo., where he teaches in Sunnysdale Academy. Mary Peek Kurzynske (N '59) and family of Nashville attended. Mary is on the nursing staff of Madison Hospital.

Bob Loder (Lab, X-ray '59) sent dues from Loma Linda where he is working in the lab at LLU Hospital. Likewise Albert Isom (N '59) from Candler, N.C., and Imogene Lemacks Shepard from Avon Park, Fla.

Dorothy Voss (N '59) is now a life member of M.C.A.A. She taught physical therapy at M.C. at the same time she was a student of nursing. She wrote from Cicero, Indiana: "I'm terribly disappointed that I could not attend Homecoming. Too busy. Doing physical therapy for three nursing homes, and one hospital. I have six aides, but am still rushed from dawn till dark."

Abigail Fields Turner and Cecil O'Neal were married in the Sutherland Memorial Chapel, Madison Hospital, on Aug. 17, 1969. Abigail is evening charge nurse on 1 East at Madison Hospital.

Myrna and Charlotte Moore, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore, both attended Madison. Myrna (Mrs. Charles Ferguson) took Medical Records. She is living in Boise, Idaho, doing secretarial work in the regional medical program of W.I.C.H.E. (West Interstate Commission for Higher Education). Charlotte (Mrs. Charles Clegg) does medical records and X-ray for doctors in a private clinic at Westminster, Colo.

Word has been received from the Public Relations Department of Andrews University that Edwin E. Zollinger '60 received his Master's degree in Education on June 8 at AU. Eddie is busy working on the new wing of 38 beds at Laurelbrook Sanitarium. He is on the teaching staff at Laurelbrook School, Dayton, Tenn.

1961

Audrey Myers (N '61), evening charge nurse on OB, Madison Hospital, is the new president of the Madison ASDAN chapter.

Dave Gunderson (X-ray '61) is a lab technician at Baptist Hospital in Nashville. His wife, the former Marilyn Campbell, is a graduate nurse, class of 1958. The Gundersons and their three children live in the country, near White's Creek.

Steve Marlow (N '64) finished his tour of duty as a nurse in the U.S. Navy, and is now director of nursing at Laurelbrook Sanitarium. He was sorry he could not attend Homecoming, and particularly regretted not being able to hear Navy Chaplain Mole. "In my contacts with chaplains in the Navy I've found many of them have high regard for the research and the books he has published on Asian thinking and how to approach it with Christianity." Steve hopes to see the new wing of 38 beds for Laurelbrook finished by September.

Tom Arishima, a student of graphic arts at Madison from 1961-64, writes that he is still working at Hialeah Hospital, as a lithographer. This year he had a three-week visit to his home in Tokyo, the first since he left Japan eight years ago. He has decided to go back to stay, the first of next year. While in Japan, he talked with Alfred, oldest of the Fujita brothers, who took physical therapy at Madison in 1960. Alfred is now working in Tokyo S-H. The other brothers, William, Harry, and David, are still in the States.

Barbara Neal writes from Wildwood, Georgia: "We appreciate the SURVEY so very much . . . We enjoy our work here greatly. Fred has helped with building the new sanitarium and homes on the place, and he is also doing the X-ray work. Our boys are really growing." (Fred graduated from X-ray at Madison in 1965).

1966

"I am working two days a week for an oral surgeon dentist in his office. Also I keep quite busy helping with relief at two hospitals (in OB anesthesia). Son Bruce is still living at home and we are enjoying his company. He has a good job with Hughes Aerospace Corporation in Canoga. My husband changed his name to Stuart, so I had no choice. Bruce changed his also." Margaret Badzik Stuart (Anes. '66).

Carolyn Bautista (Anes. '66) was married to Segundito G. Tortal at the Manila Center Church, Quezon City, P.I., on March 16, 1969. Caroline is working in Anesthesia at Manila S-H and is also O.R. and E.R. supervisor. Her husband is treasurer of Cagayan Valley S-H.

John Moore, Jr. (Anes. '69) writes that he is keeping fairly busy doing anesthesia at the hospital in Oliver Springs, Tenn.

Gilbert Qualls recently finished Anesthesia, and is working at Sumner County Hospital in Gallatin.

Campus Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clapp, and Mrs. Clapp's sister, Coress King, of Glendale, Calif., all former hospital staff workers, were campus visitors this summer. The Clapps live in Takoma Park, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dysinger called at the Alumni office in July while on vacation. Mr. Dysinger, formerly on the administrative staff at Madison, and long connected with self-supporting work at Ft. Head, Pewee Valley, and Madison, is presently on the nursing staff of LLU Hospital. Mrs. Dysinger (Mary Martin) had two years of nursing at M.C. Daughter Ruth Harris and husband Charles, who were formerly at Saigon, have now connected with the Youngberg Memorial Hospital in Singapore.

Mary Mowry Wilson (N '28) and husband Charles were campus visitors July 29, on their way to Hollywood, Fla., where they will spend a few months. The Wilsons have been working at Glendale Adventist Hospital in California. Mrs. Wilson's sister, Mrs. Ethel Sagle accompanied them.

Bennie Belin (N '42) and family visited the alumni office in June, while on their vacation. His wife is the former Ernestine Ramsey. They are located at Paradise, Calif., where he is lab. supervisor at Feather River Hospital. Their older daughter Lynna Sue was not with them. She is in nursing training in Glendale, Calif.

Ivan and Martha Rose Peacock (Diet. '53) and little adopted Danny stopped overnight at Madison. They were on permanent return from Teheran, Iran, where Mr. Peacock had been director of the physical therapy clinic for ten years. The Peacocks have connected with Geer Memorial Community Hospital, Canaan, Ct.

Lloyd Hamilton '62 and family visited Madison in July. Lloyd is working in a fiber glass factory at Griffin, Ga. His wife is the former Laura Holly (N '62). Laura's twin sister, Lorna (N '62), and husband, Ralph Meglemre (N '63), are at Sundance, Wyo., where he works at the V.A. Hospital.

Awards

● Debbie Winters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Winters, Portland, Tenn., received the 1969 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award for Madison Academy. Debby's mother, Ruby Winters, is a graduate of Medical Records, 1964.

● Among the awards given to SMC graduates was the Kate Lindsay award by the Medical-Dental Auxiliary of the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, presented by Mrs. Edythe Cothren '47 to Joy Hemberger, who finished the A.D. nursing course, the second year of which was on the Madison Campus.

● According to the Alumni Journal of LLU School of Medicine, John E. Crowder received the Lange Medical Publishers Award. At age of 23, John had the distinction of being the youngest member of the 1969 class, "and probably one of the youngest ever to receive the M.D. degree from LLU."

● Karen Jansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jansen (Anes. '53) of Muscle Shoals, Ala., received a scholarship from SMC's Music Department for outstanding performance and ability in playing the piano. Her major at SMC will be in Music this fall.

● Dennis Imai, San Gabriel Academy senior, received a California State scholarship of $1300 to be used for tuition at a California college of his choice. Dennis is the son of Elder Joseph Imai, class of 1936.

X-ray Department News

Wm. V. Campbell (X-ray '53), Chief X-ray technician, Madison Hospital, and Jim Trivett, assistant chief technician, attended the annual convention of the American Society of Radiologic Technologists in Atlanta in early July. At this meeting the S.D.A. R.T.'s organized for the first time, with 14 present, under the name National Association of SDA Radiologists (NASDART).

Sunday's Successful Workshop

It was felt that the Workshop on Sunday, first of its kind for Homecoming, was most successful in interest and attendance. Roger Goadge of Little Creek was overall chairman. Dr. J. C. Gant's devotional was the timely topic, "Eleventh Hour Workers." Kenneth Bunting spoke on water pollution; Leon Smith on Wilderness Survival; George McClure on rural living; Lila Lundquist on organic gardening. Doctors John Lealand, Calvin and Agatha Thrash, and James Trivett participated in the medical panel. Mr. Goadge related the thrilling story of Mrs. William Ross, of Knoxville, who had helped Little Creek for 20 years, and upon her death left a trust fund of $150,000. She believed in the principles upon which Little Creek was founded.

We deeply regret that we will have to hold over a resume of these workshop discussions until next issue.

● On July 3 in the General Conference Committee meeting, D. C., leaders of the G.C. paid tribute to Arthur L. White, who has served the headquarters office longer than any other man now on the staff. He has served the White Estate 31 years as secretary. (R&H 8-14-96) Both Elder White and his wife Freda are honor members of M.C.A. They spent one year at Madison as young people, she as secretary to M. Bessie DeGraw, and he as an assistant accountant.

MRS. LOTTIE KINSEY

Lottie Bell Payne died on September 1 at the age of ninety. Funeral services were held at Madison Funeral Home, with Elders Jack Clarke and R. E. Stewart officiating.

She was married to Roy C. Kinsey, and together, with their children, came to Madison in 1926. She worked as a nurse at Madison, and manager of the laundry, and was active in the Dorcas Society. She leaves 11 children to mourn her passing, among them Mrs. Morris Slater of Madison; Mrs. J. T. Conner of Springfield, Tenn.; and Gilbert R. Kinsey of Glendale, Calif.

A. I. CARTWRIGHT

Word was received by Dr. Frances Dittes from Mrs. Ida Cartwright, of Ellijay, Georgia, that her husband, A. I. Cartwright, died at the hospital there June 11, 1969, at the age of 88.
