Madison College Homecoming June 20-22, 1975

Homecoming preparations are being made for the 1975 Madison College alumni weekend on June 20-22. All meetings will be held in the new Madison Campus Church across from Madison Hospital, starting Friday evening, continuing all day Sabbath, and on Sunday morning a rural living and gardening workshop.

Also on Sunday morning, Bernard Bowen and the Anesthesia staff are planning an Anesthesia workshop in conjunction with District 4 of the T. A. N. A. Please write Mr. Bowen, Box 1301, Madison, if you plan to attend, and suggest what you'd like to see covered in this continuing education session.

Meals may be obtained at Madison Hospital cafeteria for Friday evening supper and all day Sunday. A potluck dinner and supper will be provided on Sabbath for out-of-town guests by local alumni. (The hospital does not serve breakfast Sabbath morning.) Since it is difficult to provide enough food for all, it would be appreciated if those coming from out of town would either bring some food or make a donation to be used for this.

Madison is ten miles northeast of Madison, just off Interstate 65. There are several motels and campgrounds near Madison and Opryland, and two K.O.A. (Kampgrounds of America).

There are two motels in Madison — the Madison Motel at 625 Gallatin Pike, tel. 615-865-2323; and the Madison Square Motel across from Madison Shopping Center at 118 Emmitt Ave., tel. 615-865-4203. (Please make your own reservation, but do let us know if you plan to come.)

As you know, motel prices are very high. A few rooms are usually available at low rent at Williams Hall, which is now being used by Wilderness Living, and this summer about 20 rooms in the new nursing education dormitory used for SMC Extension Campus at Madison, will be available. Prices range from $5 to $7 a night, in the latter, depending on whether linens are furnished, single or double. If you want to reserve one of these rooms, please write or call early to the M. C. alumni office, Box 1303, Madison, Tenn., 37115. (Tel. 615-865-1615; 615-865-2373, Ext. 4647) Motels are crowded on weekends in the Madison area because of Opryland. It is suggested, if you wish to stay in the nurses' dorm, and are coming by car, you bring bedding and towels, especially pillows.

Please do notify us if you plan to come, even if you plan to stay with relatives or friends, as it will help in preparing for the two potluck meals on Sabbath.

Honor Classes

Letters and lists are being sent out to the Honor Classes (1925, 1935, 1950). When we started out to make up the lists, we wondered what to do about a list for ten years ago (1965), since the college closed in 1964. However, paramedical courses in Anesthesia, X-ray, and Lab have continued at the hospital, and we have kept a list of these through the years, so we included paramedical graduates of 1965.

* All Madisonites, whether a member of an Honor Class or not, and all Madison friends are urged to come. If you arrive Friday afternoon, come to the alumni office to register. The alumni office is over the old school chapel, Helen Funk Assembly Hall.

Addresses Wanted - Honor Classes

Information is needed on the following names in Honor Classes. Please write the M.C. Alumni office if you can give address or other information.

Nelson Ging (B.S. '35), Walter Hass (B.S. '35), Maurice Teague (N '35), Russell Zimmerman (N '35).

Louise Elliott Hardy (N '50), Bertha Dunn (N '50), Louise Smith Gunn (N '50), Norman Wilson, Louise Waggoner.

Crises in ADA Education

By Dr. Carl D. Anderson

In the December, 1974, issue of LEAVES, 25 principles or guidelines in God's plan of education were set forth by Dr. Carl Anderson in his sermon at the L.E.L. convention at Pine Forest Academy. The latter part of his sermon is given here. Since the first part of this sermon came out, Dr. Anderson's "CRISES" book has been published by Leaves of Autumn, Payson, Ariz., and may be obtained from them. See book list. When the book came off the press the manager wrote the author: "We have really enjoyed working on it. If this book doesn't start the shaking, it should at least rattle some branches. We can only say, 'Amen.'")

The first crisis was the closing of Battle Creek College. That was actually closed down for a year between 1882 and 1883, and when they confessed later why they closed it, they said there were difficulties they could not get around or get over. What was the problem? There was criticism; there was ridicule of the Spirit of Prophecy, a feeling against manual training, and a great mass meeting of the students, in which they voted out all manual training, and substituted a sports program for it. . . .

Crisis No. 2. The inroads of Pantheism, which came into our denomination and made some very devastating effects upon the young people, particularly in the Battle Creek area who were working in the sanitarium or attending the college. These ideas were introduced by Dr. John Harvey Kellogg, and did a great deal of damage. He was put out of the church in 1808 or 9, and took 700 people with him from that church with a membership of about 2,000. . . . Pantheism was a very devastating thing, and we are not through with it. We have it now and its by-product. It is appearing now in another guise, and it is in all our schools. . . . The devil is hot on the track of God's educational program.

3. Another crisis that took a great deal of space in the book is called the "accreditation syndrome." That word, "syndrome," means a group of signs and symptoms that together characterize an abnormality, and here we have an accreditation abnormality. Our denominational schools are accredited with accrediting associations, and there is a great story behind this. Actually, the folk in denominational schools are really caught in a trap.

4. Accepting Federal Funds. At one time I approached the head of a department in one of our schools, and said, "I notice you have a non-Adventist teacher here on the faculty as an adjunct professor, and he doesn't seem to be very wholesome toward Adventists or our schools. What do you have him here for?" He said, "Oh, we're going to convert him." "No," I said, "tell me why you really have him." He replied, "You know as well as I do that our department has accepted Federal funds. When we accept Federal funds, we cannot discriminate against whom we hire."

There you have it. It has arrived already. There were warnings against this. The weather vanes were up long before, but many did not pay attention to it. So we have come into using public tax funds. There has been a lot of rationalization about this, as to why we ought to use it, because at one time we accepted a grant from Cecil Rhodes in Solusi, Africa. But that wasn't public tax money. That was part of what Rhodes owned, part of his real estate. That's different from public tax money because when we accept public tax funds, we are liable to control from the source of the money. I have given you one instance of it, and it works in other ways.

5. We have gotten into another crisis, and I call that Crisis No. 5, and that is the intrusion of the labor unions. The AFL-CIO has been wooing college teachers. There has been a great move to get these folk into a labor union. I read they had over 80,000 people already enrolled in a union of college teachers through-out North America. Our denomination recognized this problem and set up an organization a year or so ago to try to cope with this. . . . Labor unions are going to be a real problem to us. Individual teachers are getting overtures now from the A.A.U.P.,--American Association for University Professors. This is just one step away from a labor union. It is similar to the A.M.A.

Crisis No. 6. The multiplying of complex problems both on the secondary and college campuses, . . . in the area of fine arts, the humanities, the behavioral sciences, religion, . . . that you may not actually be conscious of. I have been face to face with some of these things and am trying to fight against it. I think sometimes I am doing battle all by myself, that I am a voice in the wilderness. . . .

We seem to be confronted with a hopeless situation, and sometimes say to ourselves, "Everything is going to pieces," and then we think of the statement in the Spirit of Prophecy: "Though in many respects our institutions of learning have swung into worldly conformity, though step by step they have advanced toward the world, they are prisoners of hope." And everybody stops there. That's unfortunate, because that isn't the whole statement. There is a big conditional if. Note the rest of the statement.

"Fate has not so woven its meshes about their workings that they need to remain helpless and in uncertainty. If they will listen to His voice and follow in His ways, God will correct and enlighten them, and bring them back to their upright position of distinction from the world. When the advantage of working upon Christian principles is discerned, when self is hid in Christ, much greater progress will be made; for each worker will feel his own human weakness; he will supplicate for the wisdom and grace of God, and will receive the divine help that is pledged for every emergency." 6T 145

"Many today have veils upon their faces." 6T 147 Don't put a veil over your face. . . . We have a work of reform to do--the work of revival and reformation, and we are not to separate the two.

We stand in the face of gigantic problems. They seem almost insurmountable, almost impossible, but God has provided a way out. All of us are in the realm of education, either in the home or in the actual school situation. As educators in God's church, we must band together to thwart the devices of the devil, no matter how ingenious his methods may be. How do we do this? We do this by getting to work immediately in a work of revival and reformation right where we are. Don't try demonstrations or confrontations, but let us work on ourselves, first and foremost, to see that we are in the right path, and then let it spread from there.

If you are confronted with a situation, whether it is in a self-supporting institution trying to follow the Lord's blueprint, or whether it is in a place where many denominational workers find themselves, and we see something that is wrong, and we know from the Bible and the counsels of the Spirit of Prophecy that it is not in conformity with what God would have us do, then we ought to say like Joseph, "How can I do this great wickedness and sin against God?" (Gen. 39:9) Or like Daniel who purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself. Or like Nehemiah who was doing a special work in putting in the building blocks, and said, "I am doing a great work so that I cannot come down." (Neh. 6:3) Don't ever let your standards down. Don't ever forsake your principles. Stand for the truth.

And then there are times when you actually need to keep quiet, as Jesus did when He was brought before Herod. You remember Herod hounded Him and tried to get Him to perform miracles. He said nothing. He was oppressed and afflicted, "yet He opened not His mouth." (Isa. 53:7) Sometimes silence is the greatest rebuke of all, and so when most severely persecuted we may need to take that route.

Now, if we follow these governing principles that the word of God lays down, will this be a panacea for all our denominational ills? No. It will not be, but it will be for us individually, and everyone of us is going to be saved individually. . . . When we get into a work of reformation, let us do it sweetly, let us do it gently. That is the spirit of Jesus. That is the quiet influence. It breathes forth like the fragrance of the attar of roses, and it's a beautiful thing. We need to do it in the spirit of Christ.

Don't take upon yourselves the burden of standing up and crying aloud and sparing not. That's an awesome responsibility. That's what I have done once in a while, but even then I quailed beneath it. I think I've got my burden as well as the rest of you, of crying aloud, but crying in a different way. I am crying for the iniquities that are done in the land as Ezekiel 9 points out. And when we begin to do that, when on our knees we are pleading with God for Him to come in and do something, to bare His arm, then we radiate reformation wherever we are. Your very voice and actions will take on the aspects of the watchman on the walls of Zion. Don't quail before emergencies. You are going to have a lot of them, and even more of them as time progresses, but God's grace is more than sufficient to meet every contingency. In conclusion, I ask you a question that was asked long ago. "Who is willing to consecrate his service this day unto the Lord?"

Madison Academy to Join College at Homecoming

The Madison Academy graduates are joining with the Madison College group this year for Homecoming on the same date--June 20-22.

Future of Madison to Be Discussed at Homecoming

A former dean of Madison College has been discussing with the alumni committee the idea of reviving a junior college on the Madison campus. A two-page statement has been prepared and sent to the local, union, and general conferences. We plan to include the statement in the June SURVEY, and it will be thrown open for discussion at Homecoming, June 20-22. We urge all loyal Madisonites to be present, or if impossible, write your views.

Higher Education in Self-Supporting Work

* A class on self-supporting work was started at SMC for the second semester. There are 28 enthusiastic students with Robert Zollinger, president of the nearby Laurelbrook institution, as teacher.

* The Layman Foundation and the five self-supporting academies have been working on an affiliation with SMC for some time. Plans are shaping up more definitely now, using Laurelbrook School, Dayton, Tenn., as the educational center. Dr. Carl Anderson has been selected as program coordinator, Miss Alfreda Costerisan, academic advisor, and Elder Harold Johnson, registrar. Classes are scheduled to begin August 25, 1975.

Memorial Scholarship Funds

In addition to the memorials for Elder R. E. Stewart reported in Dec. 1974, SURVEY, several more names may be added: Josephine M. Bengston, Olive C. Snapp, Mr. and Mrs. John Manzano, Viola Carleton, Dr. E. K. Vandevere, Merle Tiffany, Elder J. Dobias, Wilbur Maeder, and Lela Tesdale. (The latter two are relatives of Elder Stewart.) To date $119 has come in for this fund.

PINE FOREST ACADEMY PAVING. In addition to the names reported in December SURVEY, the following have sent gifts to help in the paving project at PFA: Frieda Brunner Tanner, Clifford Tonsberg, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Melendy. This brings the total collected through the M.C. Alumni office to $350.

* PAUL DYSINGER MEMORIAL. A letter received at the alumni office states a memorial fund is being established under the Mission Assistance Fund of the LLU School of Health. This fund provides "seed money and direct assistance to the establishment of Self-help Programs in the most needy areas of the world, especially in Africa, Asia, and Latin America." "One of the happiest periods of Paul's life was the year and a half he spent assisting in the public health education program at Heri Hospital in Tanzania, East Africa. . . . He served generously and unselfishly." Gifts are tax deductible if made to LLU School of Health (Loma Linda, Calif., 92354), and marked for Paul Dysinger Memorial Fund. Paul's son, Dr. W. P. Dysinger, is associate dean of the School of Health, and the envelope could be addressed to him. A note received from Paul's wife, Mary, stated that by early February, the fund had already accumulated over $2,000.

Hospital News

* Another surgeon has joined the staff of Madison Hospital--Dr. Andrew S. Boskind. His office is in Hendersonville.

* Jim Barringham is the new director of data processing at Madison Hospital, coming from Florida Hospital. His wife, Cari, is the daughter of Doyle and Genevieve Martin, Portland, Tenn. She is a four-year nursing graduate of SMC.

S.M.C. Nursing Students on Madison Campus

Forty-one young, bright nursing students came over to Madison from SMC for the second semester of the second year in their two-year program. The young women are housed in the women's residence hall across the road from the hospital. Two of the girls are twins—Marilyn and Marlene Pumphrey. Three young men are in the class. Mother of one young woman, Cheryl Skinner, was a nursing graduate at Madison in 1940—Gladys Callender Skinner.

Instructors are Janet Meyers, Linda Barry, Judy Flerl, Naomi Gowan, Pat Jones, Sharon Redman, and Ruby Birch. (Miss Birch is a graduate of Madison College Nursing '45; B.S. '57.) Elder R. M. Hillier, district pastor from Murfreesboro, TN., teaches the Bible class.

Christmas Letters and Holiday Greetings

A number of duplicated letters and Christmas cards were received in the alumni office.

* Dr. CHARLES AEBERSOLD '42, of Louisville, took a "dream trip" through the Alp Region of France, Italy, Austria, Germany, and Switzerland with a group on an American Express Tour. They also visited Moscow and Leningrad in Russia. Regarding his work in Louisville, Dr. Aebersold wrote: "I have been working this year with young adults who are getting ready for employment. My work is still counseling, giving psychological personality tests and explaining the results to persons on an individual basis. I find this very interesting. I also have group discussions with five classes of youths, in which we attempt to see the psychological aspects of problems. Men and women of various religions and races attend these sessions."

* The JAMES AIKMAN family of four, Beirut, Lebanon, drove 10,000 miles and visited seven nearby countries in 1974. James and Dorothy celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving Day. "This is our fifth Christmas here. One more and we plan to return to the U.S. Thursday we were driving through refugee camps when Israeli planes came over and struck. Bombed one of the other camps, but we were getting anxious to get away from the camp. . . . Food, lodging, everything in Austria and Germany is very expensive. We drove there and back and took most of our food with us. Even so, it cost a little more than $1,000 for the four of us."

* WILMA GILL '53 sent her Christmas letter from Kendu Mission Hospital in Kenya, Africa, also a picture of herself standing in the midst of three tall Africans in regalia. She was happy to report that all 13 of their nursing students passed the government examinations. She wrote: "We appreciate all the nice things friends have done for us this year. We still need your help—money for equipment and student loan fund, JUNIOR

Instructors and Staff

A.D. Nursing Program, SMC on Madison Extension Campus.

GUIDES (not over 5 years old) and other Sabbath School material, new books for the library, old greeting cards, and above all, your prayers. . . . It's so nice to get the SURVEY and the little letters from you. I can never forget the good old days at Madison. It was the friendliest and homiest place away from home I've ever been." (If some of our readers want to do a good deed, cut off the pictures from your Christmas cards and send to Mrs. Wilma Gill, Box 5059, Kendu Bay, Kenya, East Africa.)

* Elder H. R. BECKNER, former president of Madison College, sent a copy of his farewell message to the Pennsylvania Conference upon his retirement after nine years in that field as director of stewardship and trust services. After a few weeks visiting friends and relatives in California, Elder and Mrs. Beckner planned to establish their home in Concord, Tenn., near their son Horace. He will be engaged in part-time work for the Georgia-Cumberland Conference in the trust services department. He has already spent 40 years of service for the Adventist Church.

Holiday greetings came "From the Survivors of an Earlier Generation of the Zollinger Tribe: Whitcomb & Gentile." Whitcomb '53 is purchasing agent for Wytheville S-H, and was chairman of the building committee for the new church school in 1974. Gentile was busy in housekeeping, canning, and freezing. Her big event was an air trip to California to see her brother, and her visit at Loma Linda, where she had been dean of women at CME years ago.

* Dr. and Mrs. GLENN BOWES ('41 & '41) Claremont, Calif. Dorothy writes her Christmas letter in delightful verse each year, and the letters have pictures of grandparents, two sons and families, also Smoki, the dog.

* LUCY (Depas) ZETKO (N '49) sent a copy of her Christmas letter. Her special news was the 25th anniversary of her wedding to Joe in February, 1975. A goodly number attended the reception. In lieu of personal gifts, money was sent to the Voice of Prophecy.

* FRIEDA (Brunner) TANNER (N '45), South Gate, Calif., sent $10 on the Pine Forest Academy paving project, and wrote: "I enjoyed devouring the latest SURVEY. There was lots of news and one likes that. . . . Keep up the good work over there." Frieda's husband, Lew, is an engineer at Manchester Tank & Equipment Co. She has been working for three years at Paramount General Hospital "with the newborn." In June they had quadruplet girls. The Tanners have two daughters. Jeanne is planning to take Dental Hygiene at LLU, and Carol is a senior at Lynwood Academy.

ALUMNI NEWS

1928. Lincoln Millett participated in ceremonies Oct. 7, 1974, dedicating a new historical marker which told the story of the first Adventist Church in Washington, N. H. Mr. Millett was instrumental in placing the marker and is working with the State Historical Society to the end that the church will be made a national historical site. The sign reads in bold letters at the top: "Birthplace of the Seventh-day Adventist church."

Millett is working on markers for other Adventist historic sites. He wrote: "I retired officially in 1974 as supervisor of nurses at the Worcester State Hospital in Massachusetts. I have served in the Lancaster Board of Health as chairman and clerk, and I am still a member. I am justice of the peace, and since October, 1973, have married 23 young couples. I gave all but two a Christian marriage. The two requested no mention of religion, but the others were grateful to me for a religious ceremony."

1933. We were glad to hear from Virginia Sheppler Wyatt (N '33) after having some difficulty over her correct address. "I always enjoy the SURVEY very much, and I want to thank you for sending it to me. . . . Vivian Taylor Hopp and husband stopped to see us for a short time this fall. They have both retired and are living in Lodi, Calif. . . . Mrs. Thelma Barnett, of Bakersfield, Calif., isn't a bit well. She had just had more surgery. She has been sick for a long time. Her husband, Jim, is still working, but he isn't well either. . . .

"I haven't done any nursing since I was married. We live on a farm, and I keep busy with our animals and garden. My husband works for a man who raises beef cattle and some horses. They farm between five and six hundred acres. So far we have been pretty well. . . . Hope all goes well at Madison."

1937. Viola Carleton (N '37) has retired after 34 years as a staff nurse and supervisor at Hinsdale S-H. She will make her home with her sister at Knox, Indiana, after a visit with another sister, Gertrude Rudd (N '38). The Rudds recently moved to Spokane, Wash., and Viola reports that Gertrude is a grandmother now.

1938. Ralph Martin's daughter, Alice, was united in marriage with David Meyer on Aug. 19, 1974, at Oakhaven, Pullman, Mich. Both Alice and David have been involved in self-supporting work. She worked for several years in Life Line Health Center, Grand Rapids, Mich., and one year as dean of girls at Pine Forest Academy. David, a graduate of AU, was on the staff of Eden Valley Institute, Loveland, Colo. His family has been doing neighborhood evangelism in West Virginia, where they live on a farm. The couple are at home at Linn, W. Va.

1939. Ruby Ferguson Beard (N '39) wrote last year from New Hampshire, Ohio, upon retiring from Kettering Hospital: "I am retiring because I have had a lot of arthritis in my feet and knees. . . . The precious Lord has been so good to me. I have seen many answered prayers. I could write a book and never be able to tell just how much the Lord means to me, and how much He has done for me. I would love to shout to the whole world of His mercies and goodness to us all." Ruby apologized for not sending her dues sooner, and said: "I am amazed how you are able to keep in touch with everyone."

1940. William M. Swatek, M.D. has moved from Pontiac, Mich., to Grenada, Miss., where he is pathologist and director of clinical services at the county hospital.

1940. Elder E. E. Kungel is pastor of the Denver West Church in Colorado. This church, recently dedicated, was first organized for Japanese-speaking people in Denver, but is now a cosmopolitan group.

1942. Vallie Avis Murray (N '42) is night administrative supervisor at Macon Medical Center, Macon, Ga.

1945. Miss Daisy Arnold (N '45) sent alumni dues from Millington, Mich. and asked for prayers for her health.

1947. Dorothy Rudisaile '47, first-grade teacher in Keene, Texas, Elementary School, has for the past three summers assisted in preparing the new Bible textbooks for use in Adventist schools. She has had considerable experience in the educational fields, including teaching children of SDA missionaries eight years in Ethiopia. An article by her, titled "Bible Instruction Gets First Place at Union-Wide Teachers' Convention," appeared in the Sept. 1974 number of Southwestern Union Record.

1949. Maurice Patton (Att. N '49) is now in Sharpsville, Indiana. He wrote: "I am back in nursing again. I work for the city and county in Indianapolis. . . . After I left Madison I worked in Portland, Oregon, 13 years, in two nursing homes, a hospital laundry, and the last six years as a postal clerk. . . . Last year I took two refresher courses and did some private duty nursing." Maurice sent news and address of a classmate, Paul Arahoski, in Portland, Ore.

1951. Walter Kohler, former treasurer of M.C.A.A., sent dues from Lawley, Ala., and expressed thanks for the SURVEY.

1954. Mary McComas Lester is a secretary in Arkansas-Louisiana Conference, Shreveport, La. She attended both Madison Academy and Madison College. She sent renewal for the SURVEY, and wrote: "Please keep the SURVEY coming. I enjoy it so much. I'm glad there is an industrial school back at Madison."

1954. Olive Cruickshank Snapp (1948 & 1954) is back at work at Madison Hospital after several months of illness. She is a charge nurse at Parkview, now called Mental Health Unit.

1955. Charles Tetz, former elementary teacher in the elementary school at Madison, is now a teacher of the 8th grade at Fresno Academy in California. After he left Madison, he taught several years in Florida, then went to Berrien Springs, where he taught 8th grade in the demonstration school. His wife is the former Luella Werner, and they have three children--Raymond, Keith, and Debbie. Parents of Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Tetz, are now retired and live in Madison.

1955. Herbert (Slater) Tarnor (MCA '55) formerly on the Greater New York Conference staff, has been teaching five classes in a junior high school near Baltimore, Md.

1955. Maxine Page (N'55) is associate director of the new nursing program at Southwestern Union College. Maxine and her parents moved last year to Keene, Texas, from Collegedale, Tenn., where she was an instructor at SMC. Since moving, her father died, and earlier, her brother Louie's wife died.

1956. Joe Schnell '56 is elementary school teacher at Sunnydale Academy in Missouri. He and his wife (Barbara Busch) have five children.

1957. Jack and Lois Northcutt '57 sent a copy of their Christmas letter to Mr. Bowen, from Orlando, where Jack is assistant executive administrator of the Florida Hospital, and Lois is doing utilization review at Florida North Hospital. Their two children, Heather, 13 and David, 11, are in the church schools there. Formerly, Jack was administrator at Hays County Memorial Hospital, San Marcos, Texas.

1958. Someone showed us a copy of the Pacific Union Recorder (12-23-74), which contained a picture of Petra Sukau (N '58), with the caption, "Petra Sukau Was Program Coordinator of the Provo, Utah, Cooking Classes." This was eighth in a series of classes held at the "Breadbasket," a vegetarian restaurant in Provo. Doctors Charles and Paul Smith lectured each night.

1960. Del Ladner Baybarz (N '60) sent a color picture of herself and family, also a Christmas letter, to her classmate, Marguerite Roberts (N '60); which she shared with us. In the picture, husband Myron is holding year-old adopted Daryl, and Del is holding baby Shauna, "a bundle of activity who loves to blow bubbles, laugh, and play with her feet." Of Daryl she said he is a blonde curlyhead with blue eyes, a real explorer--into everything. Del says it's a real change to be a fulltime homemaker, but a great experience.

1964. Angel Jimenez (Anes '64) wrote from Avon Park, Fla.: "Thank you for the SURVEY. It is wonderful to receive it.

I am sure that any Madisonite would love to see another Madison, but if it seems impossible, let us keep that old Madison love in our hearts. I have two sons in Collegedale. My older son, David, will graduate this year from business. Gary starts his second year of pre-med. Thanks again for the SURVEY."

1964. A Christmas letter from Steve Marlow (N '64) and wife Dena (Trivett) tells of the arrival of another girl, Dana Beth. The parents have care of her, "but under two-year-old sister Julie's supervision." Dena is in charge of Laurelbrook School cafeteria in winter, and supervised processing over 3,000 gallons of food last summer, also taught cooking part of the time.

Steve has overall charge of the 52-bed Laurelbrook Sanitarium, and teaches health and chemistry in the school. In March, 1974, he began a free blood-pressure clinic at Dayton, TN. He has been elected chairman of the Rhea County Department of Public Welfare Citizen's Advisory Committee, and is now licensed as an emergency medical technician on the county Rescue Squad, of which he was appointed chaplain for 1975.

This year marked the 25th anniversary of Laurelbrook School, and they had a big reunion in October. They have 75 students this year.

1964. John E. Crowder, M.D., was awarded a Master of Science in Education degree at the University of Southern California on Jan. 29, 1975. Dr. Crowder is chief of the Adult Inpatient and Emergency Psychiatric Service at Orange County--University of California (Irvine) Medical Center, and is a coordinator of the medical student clerkship in Psychiatry at UCI College of Medicine.

Wildwood Institute and Sanitarium Now On Two Campuses

After 33 years on the 500-acre campus at Wildwood, Georgia, 10 miles from Chattanooga, the administration had to make a hard decision. Because of the rapidly expanding work in both the medical missionary institute and the sanitarium-hospital, there came a housing shortage. Finally it was decided to move the adult training program and elementary school teacher training department to Lithia, Mass., in the Berkshire Mountains. On Oct. 14, 1974, six families and 20 students loaded up in eight big vans, two trucks and 12 cars, and left as a caravan for the Lithia campus of Wildwood. The property in Lithia was formerly "Mountain Rest," used as a retreat for missionaries of several churches and closed in 1969. There are six large homes with a total of 40 bedrooms and 156 acres of timberland.

Jere Franklin and wife Linda, formerly at Wildwood and Eden Valley Institute, are heading up the educational work on the Lithia campus. Jere, a microbiologist, has his Master's degree in Biology. Richard Hanson, M.D. is heading up the strong health work on the Wildwood campus. Leo Vital is administrator of the sanitarium-hospital; Warren Wilson is executive vice-president of the Wildwood corporation.

An interesting 16-page brochure, "Wildwood Historical Sketch," has been received in the alumni office. In the first section, "How It Began," a brief history of the beginning of self-supporting work at Madison, is given. We quote one paragraph:

"Students trained at Madison found their way into many parts of the world where, by toil and sacrifice, they helped establish the work. . . . The impact of the work done by these early pioneers will never be fully known until the day of judgment; but it is certain that much of the strong work that the Seventh-day Adventist church carries on in the South today traces its beginnings to little bands of self-supporting workers who found their way through the hills and across the streams, by wagon and on foot to isolated places where, by faith and hard work, they laid foundations that others have successfully built upon."

As a result of studying the counsels given to Madison and Loma Linda, a group of medical evangelistic workers established Wildwood Sanitarium and Medical Missionary Institute in 1941. Much community health work was done, branch Sabbath Schools were established, four new churches were organized.

After a few years, workers from Wildwood began to pioneer in new places--Stonecave Institute (a junior academy). Dunlap, Tenn. in 1958; Eden Valley Institute, Loveland, Colo., 1962; Beautiful Valley Institute, Arnoldsburg, W.Va., 1966; Castle Valley Institute, Moab, Utah, 1970; Refugio Las Palmas, Honduras, 1971; Catskill Missionary Outpost, New York, 1972; Shawnee Hills, Ill., 1972; Riverside Farm Institute, Zambia, Africa, 1973; Silver Hills Institute, B.C., Canada, 1973; Meadowbrook Institute, Mountain Grove, Mo., 1973; Woodland Park Foundation, Ontario, Canada, 1974.

Letters

Gladys Rabuka wrote that husband Mike's nephew, Eugen H. Domke, and family left from B.C. Canada for mission service on Dec. 17, 1974. Eugen's assignment was to be maintenance engineer at Saigon Adventist Hospital in Vietnam. "His work will concentrate specifically on training the Vietnamese workers in hospital maintenance operations."

Mrs. Rabuka goes on to say: "Eugen and wife Janet (Powell) were students at Madison College from 1959-64, with Eugen ready for his last year of Industrial Education and Janet having completed Medical Records, when the college closed. Eugen was employed in the electrical department of Madison maintenance, while Janet worked in surgery at the hospital. From Madison the Domkes went to Hinsdale Hospital, where they spent almost eleven years, with Eugen as assistant superintendent of plant operations, and Janet as secretary-receptionist of outpatients."

In the December, 1974, SURVEY there is an article entitled "Madison's Gift to Loma Linda." This article was very surprising and impressive to me. At a time when the A.M. A. would probably have closed Loma Linda, Madison came to their financial rescue.

I have had a lot of questions about Madison's closing that have never been answered to my satisfaction. After reading this article I now have other questions I would like to have answered. I wonder, when Madison was facing financial closure was Loma Linda notified and invited to reciprocate? If so, what was their answer? If not, was this not a gross oversight? It seems to me that they, as one of our most financially valuable institutions and with such a large alumni potential, would have been glad to have aided Madison financially to the extent that it, too could have been rescued from closure.

Thanks for the wonderful job you are doing with the Alumni paper.

Marie Albarian Aved '43, Fresno, Calif.

Thank you for sending me the SURVEY with its interesting news. I am glad to know that we (the alumni of Madison College) are still alive and active.

I returned to school after raising my family and studied toward a degree in nursing. I graduated two years ago with a B.S. in nursing and a certificate in Public Health Nursing. I received my A.A. degree before that, also my R.N. In other words, I took another complete college course after graduating from M.C. in 1943 with a B.S. in Nutrition. This summer I finished writing my thesis and received a Master's degree in P.H.N. I thank Madison College for accomplishing this. That is where I learned self-discipline and how to study and work. What an invaluable experience that was for me!

My daughter, Barbara, graduated from L.L.U. with B.S., R.N., P.H.N. degrees two years ago, and later a Master's in P.H.N. She is married to Gary Schmidt, a civil engineer. . . . I tried to instill in her the values I learned at Madison, and it seems to have done its work.

I would enjoy hearing from former Madisonites. Write me (or better, visit me) here in Fresno (5449 Columbia Dr., N. 93727) I am living alone now, and do like company.

GEORGE MARSHALL WEST

George M. West died of a heart attack at age 46 on Nov. 2, 1974, at Rockwood, Tenn. He graduated from the nursing course at Madison in 1957 and from anesthesia in 1959, then worked at Chamberlain Memorial Hospital in Rockwood 15 years. According to a newspaper clipping, Mr. West was well known locally, being a member of the Rockwood Civitan Club, and attending the First Christian Church. He is survived by his second wife, Patsy, and three sons, David, Darrell, and Stephen, all of Rockwood; a sister, Mrs. Walter Hunt of Riverside, Calif., four brothers, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. West of Sonora, Calif.

(His first wife was Mary Jane Sparks, who got her R.N. at Madison College in 1953, and B.S. in 1955. She remarried and moved to Kentucky the last we heard. We do not have her new name and address, and would appreciate getting information.)

ROY GLANVILLE

Roy Glanville, husband of Marie Skadshheim (N '28), died on Aug. 14, 1974, at Poplar, Wis. He was a retired Adventist minister.

ELSIE PETERSON BROWNSBERGER

Elsie Peterson Brownsberger, wife of Dr. John Brownsberger, died Nov. 19, 1974, at age 84, at the home of her daughter, Barbara Casteen. She was connected with some phase of the self-supporting work for a number of years, and with Madison for seven years, first as a student and later as a faculty member. In 1920 she married John Brownsberger, also a member of the Madison faculty, who took his premed training at Madison.

She was at one time secretary to Dr. Percy Magan while he was dean at CME, and registrar at the L.A. division while her husband was taking the medical course. She served as secretary of various organizations--secretary of the sanitarium and school at Fletcher, secretary of the Rural Workers' Guild, secretary of the Laymen's Extension League and of the self-supporting workers convention; also as superintendent of nurses and founder of the School of Nursing, Mountain Sanitarium, Fletcher, N.C.

The Brownsbergers served at Fletcher 15 years (1928-1943). In 1943 they moved to the D.C. area, where Dr. Brownsberger was chief of surgery at Washington S-H. In 1961 the Brownsbergers moved to Lakeland, Georgia, where the doctor joined the staff of Louis Smith Memorial Hospital. Later they retired from Lakeland, Georgia, to Silver Spring, Md., to be with their daughter, Mrs. Charles Casteen. Elsie's brother, Raynold Peterson, also a graduate of Madison, preceded her in death in 1972.

STANLEY E. RUDISAILE, D.D.S.

In the Central Union Reaper of January 7, 1975, we learn of the death of Dr. Stanley Rudisaile. He was born in 1937 at Hope, Ark., the youngest of four children born to Claude and Elva Burdick Rudisaile. He attended Madison College and SMC, where he took X-ray and preidental. At Madison he met and married Carol Bloodworth (N '56) and together they worked to finish their education.

He earned his D.D.S. degree at the University of Kansas City, and then spent two years in the U.S. Public Health Service in Washington, D.C., Winfield, Kansas, and Chilocco, Okla. After practicing two years in Santa Anna, Texas, the Rudisailles moved to Farmington, N.M., in 1966.

After his wife Carol's tragic death, he was married in 1969 to Barbara Gerdts. He regularly took a turn doing dental work at La Vida Mission, and in every way faithfully supported his church and its work. He is survived by his wife, Barbara, and their six children; his mother, Elva Burdick Rudisaile, of Jefferson, Texas; two sisters, Dorothy '47, of Keene, Texas, and Mrs. Lila Upton (N '51) of Jefferson, Texas; and Dr. Max Rudisaile '42 of Canada. His mother, sisters, and brothers are all graduates of M.C.

ETHEL PETTIGROVE STEELE

Ethel Steele, wife of Dr. Byron Steele of '38, of Fairmount, Georgia, died of complications from influenza on Dec. 17, 1974, at age 60. After Dr. Steele's graduation from CME, he and his wife went to Reeves, Georgia, where he was medical superintendent of Scott Sanitarium. In the June, 1953, SURVEY, we read: "Dr. and Mrs. Byron Steele, former Madison students, have a privately-owned clinic at Fairmount, Georgia, which is very adequately equipped for lab and X-ray and bone work."

Of the survivors, in addition to her husband, Dr. Steele at Fairmount, Georgia, there are three children and their families: son Byron, chief medical technologist at Madison Hospital lab; son Dennis, in dental practice, Fairmount, Georgia; and daughter, Janet Lockhart, of Chattanooga.

BERNICE ANSLEY JONES

Bernice Jones died at Crossville, Tenn., on March 9, 1975, at age 46, after a lingering illness. She and her husband, Darrell Jones, both graduated from nursing at M.C. in 1951, and he went on to take Anesthesia in 1952. They were married while freshman student nurses at Madison in the sanitarium parlor. Survivors are her husband, Darrell, son Kenneth of Nashville, and daughter Diane Davenport of Kettering, Ohio.

MRS. D. VONCEIL BARNEY

Mrs. Vonceil Barney, 44, passed away in March at Maitland, Fla. Services were held at Garden Chapel Home with Pastor Roy Graves of the Winter Park Church of Religious Science Officiating, assisted by Elder Stanley Dombrosky, lay activities director of the Florida Conference. Interment was in Glen Haven Memorial Park. Mrs. Barney was a graduate registered nurse of S.M.C. She graduated from the Anesthesia course at Madison College in 1957. She was formerly the chief anesthetist at Florida Hospital for 15 years, and had been employed as anesthetist with an oral surgeon's office in Winter Park.

She is survived by her husband, William E. Barney, Jr., headmaster of Barney Academy, Maitland, Florida; two sons, William Edward III, and Darryl, Maitland; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lloyd, Fort Meade, Fla.

GEORGE E. COTHREN

George Cothren died Feb. 28, 1975, after a long illness, at Huntsville, Ala. After graduating from nursing at M.C. in 1929, he connected with Madison Sanitarium and Hospital, and later became supervisor of men nurses. In 1937 he qualified for the work of anesthetist and worked in anesthesia at Madison S-H. In 1939 he received his B.S. from M.C. After leaving Madison, he connected as anesthetist in the following hospitals: Carray-With Hospital, Birmingham, Ala., one year; Perry County Hospital in Morvin, Ala., one year; and Athens Limestone Hospital, Athens, Ala., two years. In 1961 he went to Huntsville, Ala., where he served as anesthetist in the Huntsville Hospital for over eight years, and at Fifth Avenue Hospital from 1961 until he became ill. At one time he was president of the Alabama Association of Nurse-Anesthetists and vice-president of Alabama R.N.'s.

The Cothrens had three children: George T., Lyle Marie Ledbetter, and James F. His wife, Bernice Peterson and children survive; also his brother, Dr. Frederec B. Cothren of Madison.

DORIS POWELL MCKEE

We have very little information on Doris Powell McKee, who graduated from the Nursing Course at Madison in 1959. We were told she died Jan. 30, 1974. Last address was Albertville, Ala.

* An unusual number of deaths are being reported this time. On some of them we have been unable to get much information. Perhaps there are more deaths than we know of. We appeal to our readers to call or write us when they hear of a Madisonite passing away, and send copy of obituary. Thank you.
