HOMECOMING 1989

If you did not come to Homecoming 1989, you missed Linden McNeilus and his wife, Camille, telling us about their widely circulated paper, the Self-Supporting Worker. They have a Christian Book store and Linden conducts a Bible correspondence course under the Minnesota Bible Study Association.

Sabbath School was conducted by the 1964 Nursing Class, with Esther Sutton as superintendent for the day.

Elder O. J. Mills was guest speaker for the worship service. He is a former pastor of the Madison College Church.

Our thanks to Opal Brock and her helpers: Carolyn Heer, Dorothy Vanderboss and her husband, Loys Hubbard, and Jim and Janie Fields. Janie and Jim came all the way from Orlando, FL to help and brought two lovely centerpieces, which have found a home in the Heritage House. Thanks Jim and Janie for brightening up our day to day life in the alumni office.

Sabbath afternoon we heard from those classes which were being honored this year. They were: 1929, 1939, and 1949 which will be reported in this paper, and 1959 and 1964 which will be reported in the next SURVEY.

After the honor classes reported, anyone who wished could tour the Heritage House.

The next very important item on the agenda was supper, with Dorothy Mathews in charge. Dorothy has been a very faithful helper to Miss Mable over the years, and is much appreciated. One of her many duties is getting the SURVEY addressed and mailed. Whew! What a job! Everyone who likes to read the SURVEY says, "THANKS Dorothy."

President Billy Burks, D.D.S., was in charge of vespers and we were treated to a musical program. Dr. Burks is very talented musically. Two of his accomplishments are the accordion and vibra harp, which he played very beautifully. Sabbath Vespers is a well attended meeting, during the year, at the Madison Campus church. Dr. Burks leads out in a country gospel sing, enjoyed by all who attend.

Immediate past president of the M.C.A.A., Bob Sutherland, led out in the Saturday night business meeting. He introduced the book, The Cowee Mountain School. This school opened in 1911, and was patterned after the Madison School. H. B. Allen, the founder, came to Madison in 1919 and, at that time, Sister White made this statement, "Every possible means should be available to help the schools in the South." We have some copies of this book and you may get it through the alumni office for 3.50, plus postage. Mrs. Towery also has reprints of Studies on Christian Education By E. A. Sutherland. Tim Jacobsen reprinted this book, plus the four last pages, which is the article, "My Day," by Eleanor Roosevelt, and an article printed in the Reader's Digest about Madison College. We understand that after that article came out 15,000 applications came into Madison.

Bob talked about having a more informative SURVEY, and said that he would like to get the chapel sermons by Dr. E. A. Sutherland and the san parlor talks on health put into a booklet.

The same officers were elected and the same board except for Charles Gallimore and Dr. Ira Gish. Dr. Gish has been living in Florida and sent in his resignation before Homecoming.

Viola Knight gave the financial report. Some things needed are: a new roof for the Heritage House, and equipment for the office.

If anyone has a copier they are not using or a Dictaphone, which uses large cassettes, please let us know. Our Dictaphone is not usable, and the cost of repairs is exorbitant. It went out during the transcribing of the Homecoming tapes and that is the reason we do not have all the meetings reported in this issue. Our copier is on its last legs and about to topple into oblivion. It is so old that parts may be inaccessible.

ADVENTIST
HERITAGE CENTER
James White Library
ANDREWS UNIVERSITY

T.C.M.C.

by James Culpepper

(Madison Hospital was renamed Tennessee Christian Medical Center in 1985. The new name suggests to the community at large the Christ-centered mission and indicates that a "medical center" helps to keep people well instead of only treating the ill in a "hospital setting". Isn't it nice that the letters for medical center just happen to be "M.C.")

We must begin calling Madison Hospital by its proper name, T.C.M.C. The M.C.A.A. president Dr. Billy Burks suggested that we have an update on T.C.M.C. in each SURVEY and he thought it would be nice to have Jim Culpepper, a former student at Madison College '52-54, to write it. Jim has graciously consented to this. Look for an update on Jim and his family below.)

T.C.M.C. recently adopted a new statement of mission. In part it reads, "We exist to reflect the life and work of Christ."

In conjunction with the new mission statement, T.C.M.C. is in the process of implementing an intensive customer relations program called SHARE. The SHARE program represents Christian work at its best.

On August 20, T.C.M.C. co-sponsored a "Kids Karnival of Health". Health and dental screenings were provided. Booths were operated by T.C.M.C. departments and local health and safety organizations.

In April, T.C.M.C. received word that its accreditation had been renewed for another three years by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations.

UPDATE ON THE CULPEPPER FAMILY

Lester and Linda Culpepper joined the Adventist church in 1945 and moved to Madison to give a Christian education to their four children. Dad, Lester, was in charge of the farm, orchard and strawberry fields, for 10 years. He then went to work for the Madison Hospital Purchasing Department, and retired in 1976.

Mom, Linda (Decker) wrote a book called The New Song, about their conversion. This book was made a reading course book.

Of the four children; Jim, Maurice, Elaine and Rebecca, Jim is the oldest. At age 12, he was working on the farm, with his Dad. He made 15 cents an hour. Now Jim has just been made Chief Operating Officer/Senior Vice-President of T.C.M.C. He went to Madison College from 1952-54. Jim and his wife, Judy (Clark), have two children: Lori Ballew of Moberly, MO, and Greg, who is in the Army and stationed in Korea.

Maurice is living in Rhode Island and has five children.

Elaine is living in Portland, TN and is working for Wilks Publishing. She and husband Kenneth have four children. Their daughter Anita is married to Randy Cox, who is the music director at Madison Academy.

Rebecca is married to Leo Rosenboom. They were going to Madison College when it closed, and are now living in the Elmer Fast house, for those of you who remember. They have three children.

NURSING

A Family Tradition

by Victoria Nenner

Looking back, I was destined to become a nurse because there were so many nurse role models in my family. My maternal grandfather, L.V. Bowen, graduated from a practical nursing course in 1919. I have his handwritten nursing class notes. My maternal grandmother, Elizabeth Bowen, practiced practical nursing for over 60 years; for much of that time she did private duty nursing in the home. She lived in the home and cared for the patient (along with a physician, board-certified in family practice), feeding the family and farm animals and doing the laundry. I have her nursing notes from the early 1920's and 1930's. My mother, DeLayne (Bowen) Corich was a 1942 graduate of Madison College and my uncle, Bernard, married to Dollie Bowen (an LVN), became a Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist and for 30 years was director of an Anesthesia School for Nurses. My two sisters continue the family tradition, with one working as an RN in home care and the other as a physician, board-certified in family practice.

I graduated from Texas Women's University with a "B" and later got my MSN. My career has included two years in medical/surgical nursing, ICU in a hospital in England for a year, five years in the US Air Force as an ICU nurse during the Vietnam war, and 11 years as the director of continuing education in a large acute care hospital. For the past five years I have been the President of Marvik Educational Services, Inc., of San Diego. The company provides continuing education for nurses and health promotion programs for local businesses.

My rich nursing heritage and varied background have been the key to opening interesting career paths in nursing. My family and I agree with Sharon McKerring that "being involved is what it's all about."

RECIPES

MADISON SURVEY Nov. 17, 1920, p.3

(Bread Recipe)

"Nature never made a white grain of wheat."

One cake compressed or magic yeast, 1 heaping tsp. each of salt and sugar, 1 1/2 qts. whole wheat flour. In half cup of luke-warm water, soften the crumbled yeast cake; then add this and the sugar and salt to the remainder of the water. Stir in the flour gradually until the mixture is as thick as can be beaten with a spoon; then beat well, or knead lightly. Put into oiled bread tins; cover and set in a warm place, or in a temperature of about 80 degrees F., until it has raised one-third its size. Bake in a moderate oven for about one hour.

THE OVEN SHOULD BE HOT ENOUGH TO BROWN (a piece of) PAPER IN SIX MINUTES.

That temperature will allow the bread to rise during the first ten minutes it is in the oven. Then increase the heat for ten to fifteen minutes until a crust forms. Decrease the heat, and keep at a steady temperature until the loaf cooks. If using a gas oven, the gas may be turned off for the last ten minutes.

Thanks for sending in your Survey subscriptions.

Please don't forget to send your dues.

HEALTH SUGGESTIONS by Mother D

MADISON SURVEY June 1919

The eating of less cane sugar will solve many ills. Exchange plain white bread for whole wheat bread, and there will be less sickness and more vigorous health.

Fried foods are far less wholesome than the same foods when baked, boiled, or steamed.

One never gains strength by eating more food than can be readily digested, even though that food be the most wholesome and prepared in the most hygienic manner.

Few people sense the real benefit to be obtained by voluntarily abstaining from overeating. Overfeeding may prove as injurious as underfeeding.

Fresh air, by day and by night, is indispensable to health. Sleeping on the open porch may be considered a fad, but it is a good practice. Everybody knows the benefit to be derived from sleeping in the fresh air. Some seem to forget that an abundance of fresh air during the waking hours is just as essential. Health, to be kept, must be used. Do not fret or worry over the thought of losing health, but use what you have to bless others. Like our talents, health should be put out at usury. If laid away in a napkin, it will be lost. "Give, and it shall be given unto you," is a law of life.

Read the 58th chapter of Isaiah, verses seven and eight. Here you have a health prescription.

HOMECOMING

Friday Evening

WELCOME

Dr. Billy Burks--Why are we here? Because we have good memories of Madison. Madison was a unique place. It did not just educate you, it prepared you for heaven. I would like to thank the teachers, those who supported Madison, also the Homecoming speakers, musicians, Bob Santini and Mable Towery.

Bob Sutherland--We want also to thank the Layman Foundation for loaning us a computer and writing a program for us. It has helped immensely. We now need a lazer printer and a new roof on our building.

Linden McNeilus

Friday Evening Speaker

(We are grateful to Ruby Winters M.R.'64 for condensing the tape of Linden McNeilus's, talk.

Camille and I saw a need for a paper to unite self-supporting workers and we tried to get others to publish it. We had no success so we started it ourselves. Some folks ask where we got the self-supporting "Bug". Many got it at Madison. An example of their unselfish spirit was Elder Eric Krey's "Cadillac," as he called a student that he educated in the academy and college. The world has been blessed and is still being blessed by Madison College.

The most prominent prophecy being fulfilled today is the growing influence of the Papacy. What are we going to do when the Sunday laws are enforced? Work? No! The Spirit of prophecy says to do missionary work. Some object to the Spirit of prophecy being quoted from the pulpit. Who objects? The half-way SDA's. (One non-SDA told me the book I quoted from must be a wonderful book.)

Many shocking things are taking place in our world, such as the slaughter in China. Soon there will be a time of trouble such as the world has never known. We need to shape up our lives and do something for the Lord. The most miserable people when probation closes will be those who haven't done their home-work.

From CHRISTIAN SERVICE we read: "It's a solemn statement that I make to the Church. Not one in 20 whose names are registered upon the church books are prepared to close their earthly history and would be as verily without God and without hope in the world as the common sinner." And from the Review and Herald, "A revival of true Godliness among us is the greatest and most urgent of all our needs. To seek this should be our first work."

* Camille (Kendall) McNeilus: "Madison was the stimulus in helping Linden and me to start the Self-Supporting Worker paper. I want to pay tribute to a few of my teachers. I really appreciated Professor James Zeigler and James Rimmer for their thorough teaching, when I took my State boards. Mrs. Sarah Styvesant was my English teacher. She made it so interesting for us.

HONOR CLASS 1929

Elsie (Sanford) Hamerly
Seattle, WA.

My sister, Esther Sanford N'38, had a stroke and now lives with me. She requires a great amount of help with her daily care. I am able to do that for her. I am 85 this year, well and healthy. I always enjoyed nursing. Taking care of Esther still keeps me doing my nursing. I also manage a 16 unit apartment house.

I wish I could have come to my 60th class reunion in June. I had plans to come but could not find anyone I trusted to take care of Esther.

We live five blocks from the church. I take Esther in her wheelchair. Someone takes us to church when the weather does not permit walking. Esther walks with a four prong cane about the apartment. She goes three days a week to the stroke center and is improving.

I came to Madison, September 1926, with $40 in my pocket. I used that to buy my student uniforms. From then on I was "self-supporting" at 10 cents an hour. How Madison did it I will never know. I was free of debt when I finished. I learned so much at Madison besides nursing. God's blessing rested on that place and on us who entered there.

I attended my 50th class reunion in 1979. It was sad to see the old Madison disappearing.

If anyone is there from the class of 1929, say "hello" for me.

M.C. HISTORY NOTES

The earliest record we have of anyone attending the Madison school is in the 1905 Registry book. The first name recorded in this book, for a class in Old Testament History, taught by M. Bessie DeGraw is:

CHARLES ASHTON

HONOR CLASS 1939

Myrtle (Thompson) Ward
Collegedale, TN

Jerusha Johnson called my attention to the class reunion and I hope I will be able to attend.

I sold my home in California and started to Collegedale to be with my youngest daughter and husband, but stopped at Pine Forest to say "hello" to several people and got put to work. It seems that P.F.A. is always needing workers.

I'll give you some money for dues, etc., when I come.

Herb Hewitt
Ridgetop, TN

I married Vera Noss. She graduated two years later from the Nutrition course. I graduated with a degree in agriculture and went into school teaching and the ministry. I grew up in Hammond, Louisiana. There were four boys and all of us went to school here at Madison. Lawrence, Lewis and I graduated. I cherish the memories of Madison College and my days here. Some of my happiest and most cherished memories have to do with some of the Friday night meetings. I always enjoyed Wednesday night, when it was Dr. E.A. Sutherland's time to speak, because he would always stand up there and pick out some student in the front row or nearby that he would like to challenge. He would get on a subject and say, "What do you think, young man?" It was really interesting to me, because whatever subject he was speaking on he got participation. He had some unique expressions and illustrations like, Madison was an old cow, and everybody came here wanting to get milk from that cow. He illustrated it very graphically. But it was true, people came here from everywhere and they would not have received a Christian education had it not been for Madison College. I appreciate the five years I spent here from 1934-39.

There is a lot of discussion about building a new Madison, but I feel that our focus should be on what God has in store for us.

From Madison I went into teaching; I was in self-supporting work for three years. PeWee Valley and Pine Forest Academy at Chunky, MS. In 1943 I was called into our denominational work and served in the Southwestern Union in pastoral work and about 24 years of my time was in educational work. We served the Far Eastern division for six years in the South East Asian Union. Then the rest of the time here in the states, Southern Union and Southwestern Union. I feel that the education I received at Madison College was a real strong preparation for the work the Lord has permitted me to do and I have fond memories of Madison College. But I believe our focus should be on the future, the finishing of God's work in whatever capacity the Lord places us, with whatever talents He has endowed us. I feel that the sermon this morning set the right tone for our alumni meeting here, in 1989. I don't think Madison is dead; I think Madison still lives. I think Madison lives in everyone of us, in the testimony we are able to bear for the Lord and the work that we are able to do for Him in whatever field of service He calls us. I feel that Madison lives in its units, in the institutions that have been established that invoked the name of Madison and are still carrying on the philosophy that Madison had.

Jon Robere
Chattanooga, TN

When I was here at Madison, my name was Robert and everyone stuck an "s" on the end and made it Roberts. I never liked that but I put up with it and so, when I moved to Chattanooga, I changed the "t" to an "e". And since I am a Frenchman, I am now Jon Robere and I make more money that way and I enjoy it.

I went two years to school at Columbia Junior College in Washington. I didn't enjoy it up there and wasn't going to go back. But my father, the artist illustrator for the SPA, being a very fine Christian, talked to me and said, "Don't give up." I came to Madison College and it was a good experience. My two years here were very good and I went on to Peabody and got a Master's degree the next year. Four years were spent in military service, and then I moved to Chattanooga. There I met my lovely wife, Marion, and have been there ever since. All my work has been music oriented. I perform and teach and have been a church organist for about 60 years and still am.

Ferminio Perea
Los Lunas, NM

Before I finished my course, my father died and I had to go back home and take care of my brother and sisters. Then one of my friends was elected superintendent of schools, and asked me if I wanted to teach, and he gave me a good job. Then the Army picked me up and by that time I got married. They sent me to dental technician school and I worked in the Army making dentures. When I came back, I made a mistake by not continuing with dentistry through the G.I. bill, but I kept on with teaching and taught until I retired.

Marvin C. Midkiff
Chattanooga, TN

I attended Madison College 1937-39 and worked in the printshop with A. B. Burdick and Kenneth Tilghman. Later I graduated from University of the Pacific. I've spent most of my career in hospital administration. My last position was administrator of Castle Memorial Hospital in Hawaii.

My wife, Lorabel Peavey, and I met at Southern Junior College after I left Madison. We have two daughters; Vini Robinson, and Viki Little. Vini has a Masters' degree in elementary education from PUC (She taught for ten years before she started her family) and Viki Little obtained her BS in nursing from Southern College and is presently a supervisor of nursing at Charter North Hospital in Macon, Georgia, where both girls reside with their husbands and families.

I am currently confined to bed with Alzheimer. That is the reason I cannot attend the alumni meeting. Enclosed is a small check for office expense. Thanks for sending the MADISON SURVEY. We do enjoy it.

Hans Gregorius

Beverly (Pruette) Gregorius, M.D. B.S.'34 wrote on behalf of her husband Hans. Beverly lives in North Hollywood, CA.

I am sorry that I am unable to come to the 50th anniversary of my husband's class. I'd love to come but I couldn't arrange it. Hans came from Germany in 1933 or early 1934. His father, who was a SDA minister in Stuttgart, had an older brother who went to Madison. The German government, at that time, only allowed a student to take $50 U.S. out of Germany and would not allow his people to send him any money. He spoke very little English when he came. He first worked as janitor in the Science Building and then he worked in the Visual Education Department, where we made all those slides. He first registered for Senior class in Academy so that he would have no problem when he applied for medicine. He worked until fall and then registered for four years of English, American History and Algebra and was Valedictorian and class president at graduation. We married in 1939, in Los Angeles.

I was taking the lab technician's course at White Memorial Hospital. He was always very thankful for the opportunity to attend Madison. I am enclosing $100 in his memory.

Irene (Felice) Osborne
Avon Park, FL.

I would love to come back for Homecoming, but other things stand in the way right now. My husband Wesley has Alzheimer's disease--now in the fourth year--and I find it hard to travel. We are both in good health otherwise.

I'm kept busy with Pathfinders and the Teen Youth of the church. I love what I'm doing and have to pinch myself to remember I'm 72 years old. I'm not old--just on a roll.

David, my oldest, is vice-president of student affairs at Loma Linda, and Academic Dean of La Sierra Campus. Patsy Kirstein is administrator of the Williamsport Nursing Home in Maryland. Judy Crabtree is in Sacramento, CA working for an OB-GYN doctor. Her husband is Youth Pastor of the Sacramento Central Church. John is in T.V. evangelism at Umatilla FL. All our children are working for the Lord.

I miss Madison and can never thank everyone enough for those wonderful joyous years. The experience was invaluable and I loved every minute of it.

HONOR CLASS 1949

Lois (McCurry) Bull
Ola, AR

I finished as an R.N. in 1949. My husband Lelon took some of his premed classes at Madison College but graduated from Peabody College in Nashville in 1948 or the spring of 1949. He went to the University of Arkansas Medical school in Little Rock and graduated in 1953. We moved to Tempe, AZ until 1970 and moved back to Plainview, AR and retired from medical practice in 1983. We live on a small cattle ranch and also have big orchards and gardens.

Carrol Bull is Lelon's brother and lives in Calvert City, KY. He was the barber at Madison College, too.

We are en route to Greeneville, TN to visit Lelon's sister Margaret and brother-in-law, Forrest Pride. We will visit friends in Greeneville, TN, near the Smokey mountains. When we get back I plan to send in our dues and a donation.

I fell and fractured the right femur and greater trochanter in December of 1988. It had three breaks, many fragments and was very serious. He put in many screws to hold the bones in place. I had excellent medical care and I have been walking without even a walking cane for a long time.

I remember you, Maurice Patton, Mr. & Mrs. Henderson, the Estelles and Mrs. Gilmore. I was sorry to read about her death. I talked to Mae Estelle recently and they are OK and live in Tennessee.

I always read the MADISON SURVEY over and over. I read the obituaries first and I am always sad to see them. I am so pleased with the work done.

Maurice Patton
Madison, TN

I took LPN training and was in the second class that graduated. I worked as an LPN for about 17 years off and on. Madison trained me to do a job that I couldn't do otherwise.

Lucy (DePas) Zetko
Crestwood, KY

We have three children, Alan, Lois, and Gary; 12 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

We went to PeWee Valley Hospital and it closed in the 60's, but we still have a nursing home there. I retired in 1985 but I am still working part time at the nursing home. We live about two miles away from it. We go to the PeWee Valley church.

I'm thankful I had the PRIVILEGE of attending Madison College. I have many good memories from here. This little get-together here makes me think of what homecoming will be in heaven. Let's all be faithful.

MEMORIES

Here it is, Readers, your column. Send in ALL your memories of Madison. They can be spread out and some used in each paper. When there are no more memories this column will end.

Now here is a coincidence. This column was put on the computer in June ready for the September issue of the SURVEY. In August a letter was received from Dr. Helen (Bush) van Boer stating that she thought a column should be started for what people remembered from the past and her title for the column was Memories. Do not great minds run the same path!

So won't you help Helen and other Alumni keep this column running in every issue by sending in your memories? Thanks!

Clara (Ingle) Clark
Collegedale, TN

I was a newly baptized SDA in 1951. My pastor brought my son, Douglas, and me to Madison and Madison became home to me those four years we were here. I gained spiritual insight and grew up in Christ while here.

I knew Dr. E. A. and Miss DeGraw. I well remember Dr. E. A.'s chapel talks and the self-supporting conventions held in Helen Funk assembly hall. After Dr. E.A.'s talks you felt like starting your own small S.S. Unit. I was in training when Dr. E. A. died. It was a sad time and loss for all.

I remember Prof. Zeigler and the anatomy & physiology class. When a classmate and I failed a test, he asked us to stay after class. He told us that he knew we could do better, that we just did not understand the questions and for us to restudy the material from which the test was taken and he would give us a new test.... So he did and we passed that one. I have ever been thankful and grateful for his interest in his students.

Marguerite Jasperson, known as "Mama Jasperson" took a group of students to some self-supporting units, Lawrenceburg San and El Reposo, AL, where the Martin brothers were in charge. There were four students and my son that went. On the way back, Mama Jasperson said to stop in a small town at a certain place; so we did, and she treated all to an ice cream cone.... Then she said, "don't you go back to school and tell this."

Lillian (Gray) McKinney
Collegedale, TN

Dr. Sandborn had an industrial arts promotional chapel with all the industrial arts majors involved. Raymond Norris had an English Austin and it was put on the stage of the chapel. To the side was a door that was hidden by the curtain on the stage. The car was filled with students and as each one got out, another entered from behind the curtain; about 25 students got out of that small car. It was hilarious. Mac was an industrial arts major and was a part of that program. A student out in the audience had been given a watch with a broken stretch band and he brought it forward and Mac was the one who silver soldered it together. Many of the students demonstrated the skills they had been learning in that class, even to building a wall on the platform.

Mrs. Kathryn Bertram was special to me. I was young and in love, and Mac and I planned to be married in Aug. 1949. I wanted to make my wedding gown but the academy Home Economics teacher refused to show any interest in my questions for help, so when school was out I asked Miss Bertram, who taught Home Economics in the college if I could use the cutting table to cut my satin wedding gown out. She said, "yes", and even helped me with the train and answered my questions. She was so helpful and kind. I think she understood and cared. Mrs. Edna (Kendall) Manzano helped me with the flower arranging and bouquets. Mr. Walker would not take pay for glads I had ordered from his wonderful flower garden behind the San kitchen. Most people thought of him as a "cranky old man" but Mr. Walker and I were always friends.

Elsie Brownlee fixed a satin Bible cover for my Bible, with streamers. Dr. and Mrs. Perry Webber let us use their lovely Japanese garden for our wedding and Peter Duricheck furnished us with a white runner for me to walk on with my wedding gown and train. Mrs. Eunice May, Esther Miller Barker and Dr. James Schuler sang for our wedding. Edith Shuck took care of the reception and Ward and Katy Shaw took the pictures. To all of these wonderful people and the three years I spent at Madison I attribute 40 years of marriage and a good relationship with Jesus as my constant friend and Savior. (Mack and Lillian celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary, July 30, 1989 at Collegedale, TN)

I worked in the cafeteria and Mrs. Bales was the baker. I was fascinated by her beautiful pies but, try as I might I could not make the flutes around the edge like she could. She took my hands in her hands and patiently taught me to flute pie crusts and make flaky crusts. I am known for my good pies and to her I give the credit. Her patience and kindness to a girl 14 or 15 years old will ever be remembered.

My years at Madison, 1946-49, were years of learning many things and growing in many ways.

Madison meant much to me. I knew Dr. E. A. Sutherland, he was a fine gentleman. I feel that my spiritual life was richly enhanced by the years I spent at Madison. Prof. A. W. Spalding told about visiting Sister White in California. She picked up pansies in her hands and called them the "smiles of God". I thought that was beautiful and I've never forgotten it.

I met my husband, Joe, at Madison. He saw me up front giving a talk and said to himself that he was going to marry me. We were not even acquainted at the time. We were married in Feb. of 1950.

Martha Ann (Reese) Boskind

I graduated from Madison Academy in 1956, took nursing and graduated from Madison College in 1960. After working for Dr. Jean Slate in her office for almost a year, Mary Lou Ward and I moved to Hialeah Hospital in Hialeah, FL.

I married out of the church lived in the Philippines, Thailand, San Salvador and Venezuela. I have two children Kim, age 21 and Evan, age 19.

Dick Boskind and I were married October 1987. It is our pleasure to travel, so we are in the process of visiting as many of the SDA churches in Florida as we can. We saw Georgetta Garrison, whom I had not seen in 35 years. I saw in the SURVEY that you wanted Georgetta's address. She lives in Deland, Florida.

Enclosed is a check for your work with the alumni association. It is great that you help to keep us "one big family".

I'm just recently back from Seoul, Korea. My assignment was to teach in an SDA English Language Institute. I taught in Pusan Korea for a term. Then I was asked to teach the elementary school for missionaries' children in Seoul and also to teach in the Language Institute in evenings. The key work to missionary service is "adaptability"--with the Lord's help fitting into whatever situation and need arises. One Sabbath I was asked to translate for a Korean man as he made a presentation in Sabbath School.

Korea is a beautiful country, and Koreans are lovely, gentle people. In the institutes the students are all university students or business people who consider learning English as a means to improving their way of life so they are eager learners. Teachers and students soon become friends. After that, students join Bible classes, attend Bible lectures and church services and learn to love God. Many of them are baptized into our SDA churches there....It was a genuine joy to be a part of that program.

For the past year or so I've wondered how the SURVEY could afford to be sent to us who paid life time alumni dues 25 years ago, but the thought never got to the level of consciousness to do anything about. I'm so glad Bob Sutherland put it on the line in the June issue of the SURVEY....

I am slowly getting ready to move to the San Diego area to be near a son and daughter.

Thanks for all the good work you have done through the years.

Beatrice Shafer

Dear Bob Sutherland:

The "Madison Survey" arrived yesterday and, as always, I enjoy reading it, even though I did not attend Madison College. $5 is enclosed for a year's subscription.

Sorry we can't attend the homecoming this year. On Feb.4, Mrs. Susan Ard fell and had a hairline fracture in the bone above her right elbow. She wore a sling for about a week. After that was over, when she tried to walk, she couldn't stand up, even with help. She also tires more easily. So, as I said, we won't be coming, but we will miss the fellowship. I am thankful for the two years I did get to come.

Arthur L. White
Yountville, CA

We continue to receive the MADISON SURVEY, and read carefully every issue. After all, our first home was established there a good many years ago. When we returned to California, I joined my father, W.C. White, and in time became secretary of the Ellen G. White Estate. This became my lifework, culminating in my writing the six volumes of the Ellen G. White biography. It was during this ten year period of writing that I retired from my work for the church.

My wife, Frieda, and I have a condominium in Yountville, some 18 miles from Ellen White's Elmshaven home. There is a good church here just around the corner, with a membership of about 400. We get up to Elmshaven and five miles beyond to PUC about once a week. Once or twice a year we go down to Los Angeles, an hour by air, to visit our two older boys: James, a dentist; and William, a physician. James has no children, but a delightful wife, who is an architect and builder. We just returned a week ago from a very pleasant two weeks in the South....

It does not seem possible that 60 years have gone by since we worked together at Madison....

ALUMNI NEWS

Marion S. Simmons, B.S.'43
Hendersonville, NC

I came home from a year's tour of SOS duty in Bangkok the last of November. I plunged into an array of parties, dinners, lunches and brunches plus speaking, teaching and preaching and landed in the hospital for five days. I was just worn out. I am feeling very much better, but I am trying to learn to take it easy.

We wish to thank you (Sister Towery) for your many years of faithful, excellent service in our Madison College alumni office. All the little homey, down-to-earth details, and keep-in-touch items, notices, etc. make it personal and so like a letter from home, that it is levels above and beyond other alumni and class reunion periodicals.

Also, we like the size of the SURVEY, because it can be, on arrival, placed in a binder neatly and placed in the bookcase like a reference book easy for ready use. Madison has been a blessing and comfort in our senior years.

Freda Zeigler N'36 B.S.'48
Collegedale, TN

Jim and I had such a wonderful time at the Madison Homecoming this year. We met so many of our dear friends that we knew through the years and the class of 1964 were vivacious and outstanding. We thoroughly enjoyed the meetings and the report of the work being done at Stone Cave. Mable, We're grateful for your part in making the Homecoming a success.

Don Welch'47
Roswell, NM

We are always glad to receive the MADISON SURVEY. It does my heart good to read the testimonies of those appreciating the counsel they received from my brother Elder Howard Welch.

Two of our children were born at Madison.

Helen Rademann B.S.'34

I'm afraid I've been one of the non-paying subscribers to the SURVEY. Time goes faster and faster, and things tend to slip by me without my noticing.

Enclosed is my check for alumni dues and this year's subscription. I certainly wouldn't want to miss the SURVEY. I also enjoy reviewing the new Madison book, often.

Michael Prelog, 49
Iuka, MS

Recently I was told in church by my very good friend, Dick Frezza, and his wife that my name appeared in the MADISON SURVEY under "address wanted" in the class of 1949. I left Madison College after my junior year and went to work at the Nashville Veterans Administration Hospital. I am retired and am busier than ever at home.

I won't be able to attend Homecoming this year as I am to attend a family reunion in Youngstown, Ohio. I'll be looking to attend the next homecoming.

Enclosed is a check for one year subscription to the MADISON SURVEY.

Bernice (Hiner) Jones, N'38
Simi Valley, CA

Bernice sent in a donation for office help and said, Hope this check will help keep the MADISON SURVEY coming. The SURVEY is the only link we have with some of our friends and acquaintances from the good old Madison days, and every thing stops until it is read from cover to cover. Just hope all you good and faithful people are able to continue the good work.

John, premed'37, and I celebrated our 50th anniversary August 1988. Our kids came from Saipan and relatives and friends from far and near helped to make it a high day for us.

We have been busy writing back and forth on computer with our daughter, Karyl, and family who leave Saipan Monday and are coming home on permanent return from sixteen and a half years on the Island. They will go to Hong Kong and fly either to Russia or Europe. We've been able to get letters back and forth in a matter of minutes sometimes, when we write on the computer; it is just fantastic.

HAZEL PIERCE N'35

To The Friends of Hazel Pierce:

This is to let you know that my mom passed away March 11, 1989. She had been ill for several months with heart problems. We were fortunately able to keep her at home and care for her there. She died very peacefully in her sleep which was a blessing.

I was going through her address book and found several cards, names, etc. and thought it would be a good idea to let you all know. She would have wanted me to let you know. She enjoyed all the letters and cards she has received from everyone over the years. It meant a lot to her to keep in touch with old classmates and friends. Thank you.

For 20 years Tedd was a licensed HAM radio operator. He was part of a Mission Network three days per week and enjoyed putting missionaries in contact with their family in the states via phone patches.
