Barry D. Oliver Collection

Collection 147

Scope and Content

Barry David Oliver was a doctoral student in the Adventist Studies program at the Andrews University SDA Theological Seminary in the last half of the 1980s. His dissertation is entitled, Principles for Reorganization of the Seventh-day Adventist Administrative Structure, 1888-1903: Implications for an International Church. The single most significant source of documentation for Oliver was the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists Archives in Washington, DC, now in Maryland. This collection consists of photocopies he requested from the General Conference Archives. The copies were made, free of charge, on the understanding they would be deposited at Andrews University when he finished his dissertation.

The collection consists entirely of correspondence between Church administrators and other leaders between 1888 and 1905. Included are large amounts of letters to or from Arthur G. Daniells, William C. White, G. A. Irwin, and O. A. Olsen, among others.

Arrangement

The collection is arranged alphabetically by the writer of the letter. Within folders, the arrangement is chronological.

Provenance:

Barry D. Oliver donated the collection to the Andrews University Adventist Heritage Center due to his arrangement with the General Conference Archives and with his professor, George Knight. The donation occurred in 1989/1990.

Use

All users of this collection are required to complete the "Application to Use Unpublished Records," and to observe the regulations specified in the "Patron Agreement" and "Researcher's Code of Conduct." All records in this collection are open and available for research. Citation for this collection:
