Voice of Prophecy Radio Broadcast Archives Collection 407

History

The Voice of Prophecy is a religious radio broadcast ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and is one of the oldest and long-lasting religious broadcast in the world. It has a daily and a weekly radio broadcast and a Bible correspondence school. It serves North America plus many other countries through affiliated radio programs and correspondence schools. An official ministry of the Adventist Church, it is supported mainly by direct contributions and a modest subsidy from the Church.

The Voice of Prophecy began as a dream in the mind of Harold Marshall Sylvester Richards (1894-1985). After a few years of public evangelism he became interested in the new medium of radio and debuted on radio in central California in the late 1920s. In the early 1930s, Richards began a fairly regular broadcast on a station in Los Angeles, California. From this small start, the Voice of Prophecy went nationwide in 1942. In that same year, Fordyce Detamore inaugurated the VOP Bible Correspondence School where listeners could request Bible lessons, complete the lesson at home, send them back to the VOP, and get additional lessons.

By 1947, VOP was broadcast in six languages, on over 600 stations around the world, and had correspondence schools in four countries. The following years saw continued expansion, especially outside of North America.

H.M.S. Richards, Jr. (1929-2000) joined the VOP in 1969. His father continued an active role until 1982, which represented 52 continuous years in radio ministry. In 1989, Lonnie Melashenko joined the ministry, and in 1992 he became Director-Speaker, with H.M.S. Richards, Jr.'s retirement.

Scope and Content

The records comprising this collection represent the Voice of Prophecy extent official records. Over the years most of these records were carefully preserved. The correspondence begins in 1960. Previous years apparently are lost. Part of it could be reconstructed by visiting the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventist Archives in Silver Spring, Maryland.

The following is a thumbnail sketch of each major series:

- Box 55 correspondence is the letters received by VOP from listeners to the program. A group of secretaries opened the mail and answered most of the letters. A few were passed on the Pastor Richards to at least see and perhaps respond to.
- Box 1511 correspondence is the potentially more significant area for research since this is where most business mail was sent. Here one will find letters from Church administrators and other leaders who dealt with H.M.S. Richards and the Voice of Prophecy.

- Correspondence with high donors are thank you letters sent to those who contributed over a certain amount of money.
- H.M.S. Richards Memorial Correspondence is an entire box of sympathy cards received on the occasion of the death of Elder Richards in 1985. There is no organization to this box.
- Sunday and Daily sermons contain the text of the sermon presented each Sunday or daily from 1938 to 1993 or the years indicated. This is the sermon only in most cases along with the “Have faith in God” serial poem. The accompanying continuities show all of the other words and music included around the sermon including the introduction, the summary of what will happen during the broadcast, the music performed, and the opening prayer and the closing words. The closing prayer may be a part of the sermon text or a part of the continuities. There is a card index to the sermons, but it is still located at the VOP offices in California (now Colorado).
- Miscellaneous scripts and articles are a mixed group of daily sermon series, special events programs, material prepared by Elder Richards for various occasions, and Portuguese and Spanish program scripts. See the inventory for a more complete list of included titles.
- Bible Correspondence Courses includes an extensive collection of courses in English and non-English languages produced over a span of 40 to 50 years.
- Book of the Month was a small book or pamphlet offered on the broadcast to anyone who asked for it or who sent in a contribution over a given amount of dollars. Many are written by Richards, though many are by others.
- Voice of Prophecy Print Shop Jobs is a sample of everything printed in the VOP Print Shop including office memo pads to Bible Study lessons and books of the month. There is an index to this extensive collection.
- Manuscripts and Music by Others is simply material sent to Elder Richards by people with a burden for some message or by those hoping to get their music or voice on the broadcast. In other cases, Elder Richards or others at the VOP may have collected material which ended up in this series.
- Minutes includes those of VOP, both major and minor committees, plus a few minutes from other committees associated with radio and the VOP.
- Reports are simply documents showing results and summaries for various services or activities.
- Station Information concerns the response received from VOP broadcasts on the various radio stations employed. Based on this information the VOP made decisions regarding which stations to drop or markets to try to get into.

Sadly, much of the real old material appears to be lost, the victim of time and the need for space. As mentioned above, the General Conference Archives has records such as correspondence, minutes, and some reports which may help to fill at least part of the gaps. They hold extensive collections of minutes as well as correspondence between VOP and various GC offices.

The audio portion of the VOP archives was a one time given to the Loma Linda University Department of Archives and Special Collections, in Loma Linda, California. VOP wished to keep the recordings closer to their office than sending them to Michigan. We understand that in subsequent years the recordings returned to the VOP while they were still in southern California. We do not know what happened to them after that time and whether they made the move with VOP to Colorado.

The Center for Adventist Research does hold a large collection of VOP daily and weekly programs that were sent to the radio stations for broadcast. These generally date from the 2000's and forward.

Arrangement

Generally, the files are, within their series, arranged by year and alphabetically within the year. There are exceptions, however. Some files are not arranged at all, such as the H.M.S. Richards Memorial Correspondence. Others may have some organization, but with a lot of misfiling within the group. Some searching on either side of the date or letter you wish to look for may prove profitable. On the whole, the collection is well organized and should be easy to use realizing we were unable to meticulously organize such a vast collection.

In the following Inventory, you will see some lines that look like this:

1989 Cassette tape [Box 288]

This means the series for this record was established and fixed in a previous donation of records. The item shown, in this case 1989, was added from a later receipt. In order to keep like subject matter together, we made this type of entry. This shows that a part of the indicated subject matter is located at a different location than the rest of the subject matter.

Extent

297 records center boxes (237.6 linear feet)

Provenance

This collection is on permanent loan to the Andrews University Center for Adventist Research. In each of the following times when records came to Andrews University, Eldyn Karr, long-time VOP staff member, was the responsible person at the Voice of Prophecy for all of the record transfers to Andrews University. The records arrived in three shipments between 1995 and 1996. Another, smaller amount came in 2010. The last group came in 2016 as Eldyn Karr prepared to retire ahead of the ministry's move to Colorado. In 1995, the Voice of Prophecy faced a move to new offices and could not afford to continue to maintain older files. In 2015, VOP faced a complete relocation from Southern California. Karr was anxious to preserve as much VOP history as possible before the relocation. This last transfer included a much wider variety of records than the previous transfers.

Use

All Voice of Prophecy records are open and available for research for any legitimate research use, except as noted below. All users will be required to read, complete, sign, and adhere to the policies outlined in the Application to Use Unpublished Records, the Researcher's Code of Conduct, and the Patron's Agreement.

“Researchers may read, take notes, and request photocopies of all records, except:

- Correspondence: When using records less than 20 years from the date of origination, researcher's photocopies and notes will be scanned for gross moral problems, chiefly marital infidelity and violent crimes. Financial or administrative misconduct is not necessarily a reason to restrict a record. Where gross moral problems are found, the names and other identifying information will be obliterated or the document/note removed. [No record is newer than 20 years old.] Records more than 20 years from the date of origination will not be scanned for gross moral problems.
- Minutes: Committees which relate to VOP personnel matters will be closed to research.
- Financial Records: Names of individual donors should not be used in most cases.
- Other Records: Some records or portions of a record may be restricted as deemed in the best interest and success of the work of the Voice of Prophecy.”
