Werner K. Vyhmeister Papers (Collection 359)

Biography

Werner Konrad Vyhmeister Bishop (1931–2020) was a Seventh-day Adventist educator, missionary, and ordained minister who served the denomination, even in his retirement years, for just over 60 years. Born in Los Angeles, Chile, on September 5, 1931, he began his service to the Church as a teacher in the Seventh-day Adventist Chile College in 1954, and continued to serve while alternating work and academic studies. Vyhmeister pursued higher education in both the United States and Chile, earning a doctorate in philosophy from the University of Chile in 1968. From that year on, his life became intimately associated with academics in a number of countries as a professor, chairperson, dean, president, and, after retirement, overseer of multiple academic programs internationally. His professional career and ministry included serving in South and North America, Asia, Europe, and Africa. On July 12, 1959, Werner married Nancy Jean Weber with whom he fathered two children—Heidi Annette Vyhmeister (b. 1960) and Ronald Elmar Vyhmeister (b. 1962).

Vyhmeister's denominational service is detailed as follows:

1954, 1956	Teacher, Chile College, Chillan, Chile
1955	Pastor, Santiago, Chile
1959–1960	Vice-president, Chile College, Chillan, Chile
1961–1971	Teacher, River Plate College, Entre Rios, Argentina
1963–1966	Vice-president, River Plate College, Entre Rios, Argentina
1968–1971	Department of Theology, River Plate College, Entre Rios, Argentina
1972–1975	Director, Department of Education, South American Division of Seventh-day Adventists, Montevideo, Uruguay
1975–1980	Associate Professor, Department of World Mission, Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan
1980–1984	Professor, Department of World Mission, Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan
1981–1984	Associate Dean, Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan
1984–1991	President and Dean, Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary Far East, Silang, Philippines
1988–1991	President, Adventist International Institute of Advanced Studies, Silang, Philippines
1991–2000	Dean, Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan.

Of Vyhmeister it can be said that he was an excellent leader and teacher. He succeeded in combining ministerial and academic work in a thorough and well-balanced way. His contributions spanned from teaching in a modest classroom to directing and chairing an entire institution in different countries around the world.

On March 21, 2020, Vyhmeister passed away at the age of 88. At his funeral, Adventist Historian, George Knight, stated that Vyhmeister “was the most influential person in Adventist higher education in the 20th century.” (Lovanomena Zandritiana and Shawna Vyhmeister, “Vyhmeister, Werner K. 1931–2020,” Encyclopedia of Seventh-day Adventists [encyclopedia.adventist.org, 2022]).

Scope

The Werner K. Vyhmeister Papers Collection contains a number of handwritten memorabilia, documents of differing nature, and a variety of images attesting to Vyhmeister's work. Included in this collection are personal documents such as academic diplomas and recognitions from different institutions. The bulk of the collection consists of academic papers and documents produced or collected by Vyhmeister, and a large collection of journal articles and clippings. These were likely used for class purposes. The collection also contains a section of postcards and few photographs. Also included are thousands of photographic slides (2 inch x 2 inch transparencies) of Vyhmeister's trips to different places worldwide. Among the slides are images from a large number of Seventh-day Adventist institutions and other Adventist places Vyhmeister visited over his professional life. The majority of the slides, however, are of non-church related sites.

Arrangement

The material is kept in topical sequence, in much the same order as received. Minor alterations have been made in order to make sense of the collection itself. The following is an overview of some of the logic used to create the collection in an orderly fashion:

- Personal papers were brought together at the beginning of the collection, followed by academic papers, both Vyhmeister's and others he gathered.
- The personal notes (on note cards) has been left as he arranged it. There was some interpretation and movement of cards when it was not clear where they belonged within the existing topics and sub-topics that Vyhmeister himself numbered.
- The series of journal articles and clippings are filed as Vyhmeister did utilizing the Heicher Filing System.
- The image and photographs collection comprises two parts, a small portion containing mainly postcards and a few photographs, followed by a large set of slide photographs (2" x 2") that Vyhmeister took in various places and countries.

As noted above, the material was mostly kept as Vyhmeister arranged it. It should be noted that although in the clipping section of this collection, specifically, Vyhmeister used the Heicher Filing System, not all the contents of the balance of the collection were properly ordered in terms of subject and corresponding number when received. Considerable amounts were unorganized. During processing there was tension between keeping Vyhmeister's order and making sense of the collection. Minor alterations, thus, were necessary but they do not represent a major change from how Vyhmeister ordered his papers prior to its receipt by Andrews University Center for Adventist Research.

V. Works and Material Collected by Werner K. Vyhmeister

For filing his collected materials (mostly clipped articles) of various topics, Vyhmeister used M. K. Heicher's system as found in The Heicher Filing System for Ministers, Missionaries, Church School Teachers, and other Church Workers (1957). The following arrangement was done by Vyhmeister himself (unless otherwise indicated). Topics include scholarly works, sermons, educational pieces, and other similar works and not just clippings. Categories with some of the more notable additional works are listed below under a given topic. Also note that clippings contained in Box 11 Fld 12 to 22 were not sorted by Vyhmeister. They were organized during collection processing into general subjects for preservation within this collection. For Vyhmeister's copy of M. K. Heicher's filing system book, see Box 5 Fld 1.

V. Postcards and Images Collected by Werner K. Vyhmeister

The arrangement of these postcards and images was largely done by Vyhmeister, however they were not divided into envelopes. To facilitate access, they have been placed in numbered envelopes, and the location of the images are specified in this register. Also, many post cards have messages from family members. A researcher would need to review these for additional information about Vyhmeister's life. The post cards are in random order, as Vyhmeister had them when the collection arrived at the Center for Adventist Research. Note that Seventh-day Adventist-related pictures located in Box 12 Env 21 and 22 were removed during processing from envelopes 1 to 20. It was felt that this will be convenient for future research on Adventist places.

VI. Photographic Slides by Werner K. Vyhmeister

The arrangement of these photographic slides was completely done by Vyhmeister. Location or place title names have also been provided by Vyhmeister. During collection processing, the following table was created as an aid to accessing slides of interest to a researcher. An asterisk (*) in the third column marks those places potentially with a Seventh-day Adventist connection. Of the slides in this "Adventist" group, one or more may be Adventist-related. When Vyhmeister was in a city/country and did not necessarily visit an Adventist institution or place, he may have taken only one more general picture of an Adventist related place as he passed by on the road. If he was able to visit the institution and take a quantity of pictures, then that place has its own listing. For example, see Drawer 1 Row 5 in which Concepcion is a city Vyhmeister visited and has one or more pictures related to an Adventist place. CAS is an institution he visited where he has a quantity of pictures. Although Vyhmeister did not indicate on his slides the years in which they were taken, it appears that they were taken during his travels from the late 1950s to the late 1980s.

Please note, the listing of Adventist places of interest—by the inclusion of an asterisk—may not be fully comprehensive. This is especially true for less renowned places. Not all places are specifically noted by Vyhmeister as Adventist. It is difficult for anyone to know all locations/places that are Adventist or Adventist-related. The abbreviations in the following list are from Vyhmeister.
